STATIONS, CLERICAL OR LAY MISSIONARIES, AND NATIVE CLERGYMEN

SUPPORTED EITHER DIRECTLY BY THE SOCIETY, OR BY NATIVE CHURCH FUNDS SUBSIDIZED OR AIDED BY THE SOCIETY.

JUNE 1, 1890.

* A STATION is the place at which a Clerical or Lay Missionary is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society. The letter (m) means Married.—Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Women; such as cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing the adult women.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers show the date of their first connexion with the Society's Missions.

*This mark * denotes that the Missionary to whose name it is prefixed is in Local Connexion. It includes Europeans who have joined in the Mission, and Clergymen who were born in the country in which they labour.*

The mark ‡ denotes that the Name to which it is prefixed is that of an Agent supported by Native Church Funds aided by the Society. The Native Ministers in New Zealand are supported partly by Subscriptions from Native Christians, and partly from the rents of lands belonging to the Society in the Colony.

The Names of Native Clergymen are printed in italics. The figures after their names show the date of ordination.

All the names under one station or department of work are printed in order of date, without reference to nationality, sex, orders, or other difference, except that in the case of Colleges, &c., the Principal stands first.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society, held at Exeter Hall, London, Tuesday, May 6th, 1890, being its Ninety-first Anniversary—

SIR JOHN H. KENNAWAY, Bart., M.P., President, in the Chair,

AFTER READING OF SCRIPTURE AND PRAYER;

The Annual Report was read, followed by the CHAIRMAN'S Address, after which, on a Motion by the LORD BISHOP OF EXETER, V.P., seconded by the EARL OF HARROWBY, V.P., it was Resolved—

(I.) That the General Review which has now been read, together with the Report, of which an abstract has been presented, be adopted, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of the Meeting be given to the Rev. Herbert James for his sermon before the Society last evening, and that it be printed and circulated; that Sir T. Fowell Buxton, Bart., be the Treasurer of the Society; and that the Committee be appointed for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies; and that this Meeting thankfully recognizes the growing interest in the great Missionary cause which has marked the past year, and is thereby quickened and encouraged to make fresh and strenuous efforts, in dependence on Divine grace, to rouse the whole Church to a deeper sense of its responsibilities towards the non-Christian nations of the world.

On a Motion by the REV. W. ALLAN, M.A., Vicar of St. James's, Bermondsey, seconded by the REV. J. C. HOARE, M.A., Missionary from China, it was Resolved—

(II.) That this Meeting hails with thankful joy the recent developments of work in the Missions of the Society in Africa, and will follow with earnest prayer the progress of the Missionary bands in the East and West. At the same time it recognizes the solemn responsibility of attending to the urgent call for expansion and extension among the teeming millions of China; and of considering what steps to take in view of the rapid development of thought in Japan.

On a Motion by the RIGHT REV. BISHOP HODGES, D.D., of Travancore and Cochin, seconded by DR. S. W. SUTTON, Medical Missionary from Quetta, and supported by the REV. W. H. BARLOW, B.D., Vicar of Islington, it was Resolved—

(III.) That in the judgment of this Meeting, there is no portion of the Field occupied by the Society which presents more paramount claims, and offers a more hopeful sphere for extended labour, than the great Empire of India. Those whose minds are being awakened by the progress of Western thought to seek after Truth, demand the attention of the Educational Missionary; the millions scattered in villages afford scope for bands of Associated Evangelists; the Medical Missionary has opportunities to open the door for the Gospel Message, especially amongst Mohammedans; the Zenanas invite the faithful labours of devoted women; while causes of anxiety as to the development, on pure and simple Scriptural lines, of the Native Christian Church, of which the present congregations may be looked on as the germ, render it more than ever urgent that the Society should be fully and vigorously represented.

At the Evening Meeting, held at Exeter Hall, on the same Day—

THE VERY REV. DEAN OF NORWICH in the Chair,

Addresses were delivered by the Chairman; the Rev. B. Baring-Gould, M.A., Central Secretary, C.M.S.; the Rev. Canon Money, M.A., Kilburn; the Ven. Archdeacon Moule, B.D., Missionary from Mid-China; the Rev. J. Redman, Missionary from Sindh; the Ven. Archdeacon Reeve, Missionary from North-West America; and Captain Dawson (late of the Inniskilling Dragoons).

The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to nominate them to the COMMITTEE, to superintend their instruction, when necessary, to recommend their location, and to correspond with them when sent out, and generally to direct the foreign work of the Society. Subject to the control of the COMMITTEE, the Committee of Correspondence may delegate any of their duties to Committees elected from among themselves, and may authorize such Committees to report directly to the COMMITTEE, and may fix their Quorum.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Finance is, generally to superintend the accounts and financial affairs of the Society, and from time to time to note and to report to the COMMITTEE how far the expenditure corresponds with the sanctioned Estimates.

XVII. The office of the Committee of Estimates is, to prepare and submit to the COMMITTEE an estimate of the probable expenditure of the Society.

XVIII. The Committee of Correspondence shall appoint from among themselves, at their first Meeting in every year, a Clerical Sub-Committee, and may appoint at their discretion other Committees, for the examination of Missionary Candidates.

XIX. The COMMITTEE may make regulations as to the conduct of business by themselves, and by the other Committees, and subject to and so far as not inconsistent with any such regulations for the time being in force, the COMMITTEE shall receive and deal with the Reports of the other Committees, shall decide upon the countries where Missions shall be carried on, and shall superintend and control the affairs of the Society in general. The COMMITTEE may authorize any Committee appointed under Law XII., and with the consent of the Committee of Correspondence, any Committee appointed under Law XV., to deal with and dispose of any matters and classes of matters the consideration of which falls within its province, reporting its action to the next meeting of the COMMITTEE. Subject to the control of the COMMITTEE, every Committee may make Bye-laws for its own government, and may appoint Sub-Committees and fix their quorum.

XX. The COMMITTEE shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject, in the case of the appointment of Secretaries, to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting. One, at least, of the Secretaries shall be a layman. The COMMITTEE shall also have power to acquire property of every description for the purposes of the Society, and to invest the funds of the Society as they may deem expedient, and to vest all or any portions of the property and funds of the Society in such Trustee or Trustees, or corporate body, as they may in each case think fit.

XXI. The COMMITTEE shall meet on the second Tuesday in every month, and oftener if needful. The other Committees shall meet as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on. All Committee Meetings shall be opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy.

XXII. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer and Secretaries shall be considered, ex-officio, Members of all Committees.

XXIII. Five Members shall be necessary to form a Quorum of the COMMITTEE; and Three of each of the Committees provided for in Law XII.; in each case exclusive of the Secretaries. In cases of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote. Every Committee may act notwithstanding vacancies.

XXIV. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three Members of the COMMITTEE, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary, or in his absence by one of the other Secretaries.

XXV. The accounts of the Society shall be audited and reported upon by Public Accountants appointed by the COMMITTEE, and Five Honorary Auditors, members of the Society (of whom not more than two shall be Members of the COMMITTEE), shall be appointed annually by the COMMITTEE for the purpose of considering the Reports of Public Accountants, and of making recommendations thereon, and generally on the Accounts to the COMMITTEE once at least in every year.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXVI. Every offer for Missionary Service shall be referred by the Secretaries either to the Committee of Correspondence or in the first instance to the Clerical Sub-Committee or other Committee appointed under Law XVIII. to which it shall belong under rules laid down by the Committee of Correspondence; and the Committee of Correspondence shall have power to deal with the offer, both as to the training and as to the nomination as a Missionary of the Candidate. Provided that no one shall be sent out as a Missionary without having been approved by the Committee of Correspondence; and without, as a general rule, having appeared before them.

XXVII. Candidates nominated by the Committee of Correspondence, and accepted by the COMMITTEE, shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for their future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVIII. Candidates shall consider themselves engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time that the COMMITTEE shall decide, and be subject to such regulations as may be established by the COMMITTEE for the direction of the Missionaries; respect, however, being had to their personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by them with the Society.

XXIX. Men who have been duly prepared and finally approved for Missionary work shall go out, either ordained or unordained, at the discretion of the COMMITTEE.*

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the COMMITTEE; and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the COMMITTEE, at the Stations committed to their care, until age and infirmity prevent further exertion, such provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable as in the judgment of the COMMITTEE is suitable. The COMMITTEE shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support. The COMMITTEE shall be further empowered in special cases to make such arrangements with those employed by them as they may think fit.

GENERAL.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. All questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between a Bishop of the Church of England abroad and the COMMITTEE, shall, in the absence of any tribunal having legal cognizance of the same, be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the Provinces of Canterbury and York, whose decision thereupon shall be binding upon the Society and its agents and representatives. The proposed reference shall be made by the COMMITTEE, through His Grace the Primate, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the COMMITTEE may deem advisable.

XXXIII. The object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction that, unless He "prevent us in all our doings with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," the Society cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The Bishops of the Church of England under the authority of the law of the land ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] the Society's Missionaries; and in the event of their being appointed by the COMMITTEE to labour at stations within the jurisdiction of a Bishop of the Church of England abroad, it is the practice of the Society to apply to the Bishop for licenses in which are specified the districts to which the Missionaries have been assigned. This is done on the understanding that licenses will neither be refused nor when granted be withdrawn from the Missionaries during their connection with the Society, except for some assigned legal cause.

PRAYER USED AT THE ANNUAL MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETY AND AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE.

ALMIGHTY and most merciful FATHER, we give Thee humble thanks for the light of Thy Gospel. Make us more grateful for this Thy mercy, and more zealous for the salvation of all mankind.

Visit in mercy the Church of Christ; enrich it more abundantly with the grace of Thy Holy Spirit; and bless its endeavours to make known Thy Truth. Unite, as one man, all who are truly labouring for Thee. Disappoint the designs of Satan. Let all Christian Societies live in harmony and love; give them wisdom in all their plans; perfect Thy strength in their weakness; and direct their labours to Thy glory.

The harvest truly is great, but the Labourers are few! O Thou Lord of the Harvest, send forth labourers into Thy Harvest! Fill with Thy Spirit those whom Thou hast sent forth; and enable them faithfully and boldly to preach, among Jews and Gentiles, the unsearchable riches of Christ. Keep them from the snares of the world, the flesh, and the devil; deliver them from all evil; and make them wise to win souls.

Upon all the Native Converts whom Thou hast gathered to Thyself, through Thy labouring servants throughout the world, pour out Thy Holy Spirit, that, as Thou hast begotten them again unto a lively hope, so they may ever be followers of Thee as dear children. Deliver them from all remaining darkness and ignorance; destroy and abolish in their hearts all that remains of Satan's kingdom; grant that their faith, and hope, and love may grow exceedingly; make them to be ready to every good work, and more especially to exert themselves for the salvation of those around them; that so, by their zeal and faithful testimony, by their holiness and fruitfulness, they may glorify Thy name before their countrymen, and bring in unto Thee, from the midst of them, such as shall be saved.

Have compassion, O Most-merciful Father, on all those who have come under instruction, though they be not yet altogether Christians. Convince them effectually, by thy Word and Spirit, of their sinful and miserable state; pour upon them the spirit of grace and supplication, and draw them to Jesus.

Take away blindness from the Jews. Let them receive Thee, O Jesus, as their Messiah, and proclaim Thy saving Name among the Gentiles.

Deliver all Mohammedans from the delusions of the False Prophet! O Thou True Prophet of Thy Church, enlighten them by Thy Holy Spirit, and bow them down at the foot of Thy Cross!

Pity blind Idolaters who are kept in cruel bondage by the god of this world. Turn them from idols, that they may serve the Living and True God.

O Thou Almighty Saviour, who by the right hand of God art exalted, and hast received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, shed forth His light and grace on this dark world!

Cause all Christians, we beseech Thee, to sow bountifully; that they may reap also bountifully. O Thou that lovest a cheerful giver, let all grace abound toward them, that they may minister liberally of their substance to the making known of Thy Name!

With these our humble prayers, we join our praises and thanksgivings for what Thou hast already done in making known Thy salvation; perfect Thy work, O Lord; shortly accomplish the number of Thine elect; and hasten the coming of Thy Kingdom.

Be present with us, O Lord, at this time. Give us all a single eye to Thy glory. May Thy blessing rest upon our meeting; and may all our hearts be this day quickened and encouraged to fresh and persevering efforts in Thy Service.

We ask these mercies for the glory of Thy Name, through the merits and mediation of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; and would ascribe to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Three Persons in One God, everlasting praise. Amen.

OUR Father which art in Heaven: Hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for Thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

PRAYER USED AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

ALMIGHTY GOD, our heavenly Father, who hast purchased to Thyself an Universal Church, by the precious blood of Thy dear Son, we give Thee hearty thanks that it hath pleased Thee to call us to the knowledge of Thy grace and faith in Thee, and to appoint our lot in an age and country, where the true light shineth. We bless Thee that Thou hast awakened us in some measure to feel our responsibilities. We praise Thee for what we have seen and heard of the power of Thy Word among the heathen; we adore Thee for Thy many servants who have gone out from amongst us to toil, and suffer, and die in making known Thy salvation; and we thank Thee that Thou dost allow us, unworthy sinners, to unite together in this work of faith and labour of love.

We humbly confess our past lukewarmness in this Thy service, notwithstanding these Thine inestimable benefits and mercies. For our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, forgive us our past negligences, and so endue us with Thy Holy Spirit, that we may more earnestly seek Thy glory in the salvation of souls.

Grant us, we beseech Thee, Thy very present help at these our meetings. We ask, most gracious God and Father, for a constraining sense of the love of the Lord Jesus, and for wisdom to direct us in all our endeavours. Increase upon us the spirit of power and of love and of a sound mind. Give us faith and courage; give us zeal and patience; give us a single eye to Thy glory, and help us to bear and to forbear. The silver and the gold are Thine, O King of kings! Supply us with what is needful for our great work, and make us faithful stewards of Thy bounty, for proclaiming to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.

We pray also for all who are united with us in the direction of this sacred cause.

May Thine especial blessing rest upon our Committees, with their Secretaries, throughout the world. Bestow on them the help that we feel so needful for ourselves. Enable them to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace, and ever to find favour in the sight of all with whom they may have to do.

Especially we beseech Thee to look, O most merciful Father, upon our Missionary brethren. Draw out our hearts towards them more and more; and while they are bearing the burden abroad, give us grace to help and succour them by our sympathy and prayers at home. Bless every letter written to them from this house, and all our intercourse with them. We pray for them that they may be filled with Thy Spirit. Grant that the same mind may be in them which was also in Christ Jesus. Let them never lose their first love. Raise them above the cares of this world. Help them to deny themselves and to endure all things for the elect's sake. Give them the tongue of the learned. Clothe them with humility. Teach them to follow peace with each other, and with all men. Support them under spiritual distresses, temptations of the adversary, bodily sickness, domestic anxieties, and hope deferred. And so confirm Thy word from their lips by the power of the Holy Ghost, that through them multitudes may be turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto Thee, our God.

We commend to Thee the Missionaries' children entrusted to our charge. Bring them all to a true knowledge of, and faith in Thee. Defend them with Thy heavenly grace that they may continue Thine for ever, and daily increase in Thy Holy Spirit more and more, until they come into Thy everlasting kingdom. Give all needed grace to those who have the direction of the Home in the discharge of the arduous work with which Thou hast been pleased to entrust them.

We most heartily thank Thee, O Lord, for those whom Thou hast already sent forth through this Society; and we pray for a yet larger outpouring of a Missionary spirit on our younger Clergy, on the members of our Universities, on those who are elsewhere preparing for this holy work, on the young men of all ranks and orders throughout our land. And herein do we implore Thy special favour on our Islington Institution, that its numbers may be replenished continually; and that none may go forth thence but such as shall be able ministers of the New Testament, full of Faith, and of the Holy Ghost.

We praise Thee, O Thou God of all grace, for the Converts, the Native Catechists, and the Native Clergy, whom Thou hast granted to us in our several Missions. As Thou hast raised the Native Churches thus far, bring them, we pray Thee, to full ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ. Pour out upon them Thy Holy Spirit. Stablish, strengthen, settle them, and so enlarge their liberality, that they may both maintain Thy word among themselves, and may make it known to the regions beyond them, till all the Gentiles hear the glad tidings of Thy love.

And now, O Lord God, be Thou in the midst of us to-day. Give us a constant sense of Thy presence, and may all our undertakings be begun, continued, and ended in Thee, to the honour of Thy great name, for the sake of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

PRAYERS FOR MISSIONS,

SUITABLE TO BE USED AT MISSIONARY MEETINGS AND IN PRIVATE.

I.—From the Book of Common Prayer according to the use of the Church of Ireland.

Almighty God, who by Thy Son Jesus Christ didst give commandment to the apostles that they should go into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature; grant to us whom Thou hast called into Thy Church a ready will to obey Thy Word, and fill us with a hearty desire to make Thy way known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations. Look with compassion upon the heathen that have not known Thee, and on the multitudes that are scattered as sheep having no shepherd. O heavenly Father, Lord of the harvest, have respect, we beseech Thee, to our prayers, and send forth labourers into Thy harvest. Fit and prepare them by Thy grace for the work of the ministry; give them the spirit of power, and of love, and of a sound mind; strengthen them to endure hardness; and grant that Thy Holy Spirit may prosper their work, and that by their life and doctrine they may set forth Thy glory and set forward the salvation of all men; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

II.—For a Blessing on Missionaries and their Labours.

(By Archbishop Sumner.)

O most merciful Saviour and Redeemer, who wouldest not that any should perish, but that all men should be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth, fulfil Thy gracious promise to be present with those who are gone forth in Thy Name to preach the Gospel of Salvation in distant lands. Be with them in all perils by land or by water, in sickness and distress, in weariness and painfulness, in disappointment and persecution. Bless them, we beseech Thee, with Thy continual favour, and send Thy Holy Spirit to guide them into all truth. O Lord, let Thy ministers be clothed with righteousness, and grant that Thy word spoken by their mouths may never be spoken in vain. Endue them with power from on high, and so prosper Thy work in their hands, that the fulness of the Gentiles may be gathered in, and all Israel be saved.

Hear us, O Lord, for Thy mercy's sake, and grant that all who are saved by Thy Name may be one in Thee, and may abound more and more in prayers and in free-will offerings, for the extension of Thy kingdom throughout the world, to Thy honour and glory, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

III.—For Missions, and for Grace to help them.

(By Bishop Christopher Wordsworth.)

O Lord Jesu Christ, Saviour of Mankind, who hast commanded Thy disciples to go into all the world and to preach the Gospel to every creature, and who hast declared that this Gospel of the Kingdom shall first be preached to all nations, and that then the end shall come; we humbly beseech Thee to raise up men full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and send them forth to do the work of evangelists by spreading abroad the glad tidings of salvation; and so to fill us with Thy love, and to quicken us with Thy grace, that we may labour joyfully with them by prayers and offerings for their work, so that finally at Thy Second Coming to judge the world, we together with them, and with those who have received the Gospel at their hands, may rejoice in Thy presence with exceeding joy, and may praise Thee for evermore, our holy and most merciful Redeemer, our most worthy Judge Eternal, our most mighty Lord and God, to whom, with the Father and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory now and for ever. Amen.

IV.

(By Bishop Cotton, of Calcutta.)

O God, who hast made of one blood all nations of men to dwell upon the face of the whole earth, and who didst send Thy blessed Son to preach peace to them that are afar off, and to them that are nigh, grant that all the people of heathen and Mohammedan lands may feel after Thee and find Thee; and hasten, O Lord, the fulfilment of Thy promise, to pour out Thy spirit upon all flesh, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE ANNUAL SERMON,

Preached at St. Bride's Church, Fleet Street, on Monday Evening, May 5th, 1890,

REV. HERBERT JAMES, M.A.,

RECTOR OF LIVERMERE, BURY ST. EDMUND'S; LATE FELLOW OF KING'S COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE.

"AS THEY MINISTERED UNTO THE LORD, AND FASTED, THE HOLY GHOST SAID, SEPARATE ME NOW BARNABAS AND SAUL FOR THE WORK WHEREUNTO I HAVE CALLED THEM."—Acts xiii. 2.

THIS Book of the Acts is God's own manual for Missions. As such it claims most thoughtful study at the hand of every true worker for Missions.

1. It gives us, for one thing, the expansion (and therefore obligation) of the great Commission.

Very gladly must the Gentile and Gentile-loving St. Luke have dwelt upon those gracious words, the last utterance of Jesus upon earth:—"Ye shall be witnesses unto Me both in Jerusalem, and in Judæa, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth." There was to be no restriction, and no reservation. Whatever thought the Apostles might have had before as to the bringing of the Kingdom to Israel, their view was no longer to be bounded by the horizon of the Holy Land. The stamp of the Kingdom of Christ is its universality. For it is to be a Kingdom over all hearts as well as over all nations. The Gospel, therefore, by which that Kingdom was to be spread and sustained must be a universal Gospel, universally preached. It was to be widened to the width of the world. There was no darkling hint then, as there is sometimes now, as to certain races being non-receptive, and therefore to be passed by. None were to be excluded except such as should exclude themselves. And even then the dust was not lightly or hastily to be shaken off the foot. "God would have all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth."

Such was the comprehensive Commission. In that comprehensiveness it was opened up before the Apostles. In that comprehensiveness they were to open it out to others when they took the field. As the light of the pillar-cloud with which they were familiar was said to shine out and to be seen from the utmost parts of Judæa, so the light of which they were to bear witness was to shine forth and flood the world with its beams of knowledge, purity, and joy.

2. But the Book does more than expand the command. It indicates the true method of carrying it out.

By the living Churches of Christ other churches are to be planted and developed. Spirit-taught men are to be put in charge of the Spirit-taught Gospel. They are to preach it and teach it as the one great lever of humanity—the one unfailing salve for the open sores of the world. With this they are to penetrate and leaven the masses of the great cities—the centres of intellect (such as Athens), or of profligacy (such as Corinth and Antioch), or of superstition (such as Ephesus), or of world-power (such as Rome). With this they are to win over the hill-tribes of Asia and Illyricum, the villagers of the Haurân, the Nile Delta, the Campagna, as well as the solitary wayfaring African, who might in his turn be a source of light to a whole community. And this is to be done, as by their public testifying in temple or street, so by their house-to-house visitation, their often itinerancy, their home instruction of inquirers. Everything, in short, which relates to the conduct of Missions, from their earliest striking in the soil to their full-fruited reproductiveness, lies mapped out here before us.

We can produce nothing new as to method. There may be new developments of Christian activity arising out of a new quickening of spiritual life and energy, but we can show nothing original in the way of plan. The Board of Missions, the working committee, the ordained missionary, the lay agency, the Medical Mission, the women's work, the confirming visit of inspection, the Church Council, the collection of contributions, are all here in their several germs. And it may be that, in our desire to make our work still more effective, we may yet find in a deeper study of the Book some hitherto unobserved but divinely real suggestion on which we may act to purpose.

3. Once more, we have in this Book the fullest evidence of the success of Missions.

It is both a record and a review. It is the answer of the first century to some of the many questionings of the nineteenth. Can these dry bones live? Can these dead hearts be reached? Can these misbeliefs be dispersed?

Can these philosophies be banished to their cave? In a word—Can these nations be converted? What says this great Missionary Report? What is the witness of each returning labourer? Is it not this—that with the centre struck at Jerusalem the concentric circles of effort broaden on and on until land after land is reached, and soul after soul regained for Christ?

All this stands for our encouragement. It assures us that, in spite of difficulties and delays, in spite of temptations of our enemy and mistakes of our own, the Kingdom will make steady advance. The Cross which is in the field will win the field. The story of the Acts should suffice to silence all sceptical cavillings—all dishonouring doubts. For these victories of faith were real. The finger of God which wrought them still points to them as earnests of yet larger conquests. We are assured that the feeblest Mission is no failure, so long as it is God-given, God-directed, God-sustained, God-honouring.

On these grounds, then, because it expands the great Commission, indicates the truest methods of working, and illustrates their success, we hold this Book to be God's own manual for Missions.

But it is more than this. It is a magazine of Mission principles. It contains certain cardinal truths in relation to our work which must have due regard if our efforts are to prosper.

Chiefest among these is the clear revelation of the power required. We find this in the part assigned to God the Holy Ghost in the economy of grace. He is set forth throughout as the great Mission Worker.

To this truth and to some of the consequences involved in it I wish now to draw your earnest, reverent, loving attention. And I do this not only because of its intrinsic importance as a matter of Divine insistment, or because it is one of those first principles to which it is always well to recur, but because, as I humbly conceive, it is a truth which has been, and still is, too much overlooked. Are any of us sufficiently alive to the great issues which hang upon its recognition? We are ready to point out the loss that accrues to the individual soul if the presence and power of the Holy Ghost be either lacking or dispensed in small measure. There is a want of vitality because a want of vital force. But are we equally ready to admit that there is a loss to the Church of Christ if the Spirit be not consciously, directly, believingly sought unto?

The place of that Church is the place of witness to the world. The power for that witness lies in the power of the Holy Ghost. Take away the one, or lessen its volume, and the other suffers proportionately. It must be so, for there can be no motion without a motor. It is so, as a matter of fact; for "all Church history" (as one has well said lately) "bears witness to the fact that with the greater or less recognition of the Spirit's reality and glory, and of our need of Him, flows or ebbs the life and witness of the Body and Bride of Christ."

That this great truth may be increasingly felt, I would, in humble, heart-deep dependence on His promised help, speak now to you, fathers, brethren, fellow-workers, from this sample text. And I would speak of these two things:

I. The special working of God the Holy Ghost in connexion with Missions.

II. Our special duty in view of that working.

I. We cannot, I think, fail to be struck with the large place given to the work of the Spirit in this Book of the Acts. It has been called by some "a defence of the rights of the Spirit." I prefer to call it as it has been called—"The Gospel of the Holy Ghost"—the Acts of the Holy Ghost. He is everywhere prominent. No less than sixty times is His Name brought forward as the great Agent in the spread of the Kingdom. It is His specific and peculiar Office.

Here, however, a caution is necessary. We must not so think of Him as to suppose that He carried on an independent or isolated work, or that He was dissociated in the slightest degree from the other Persons of the Blessed Trinity. As He was not to "speak of Himself" as the sole Originator of any revelation, so neither was He to act of Himself as sole Initiator of any work. As He proceeded from the Father and the Son, so did He promote the glory of both. There was no collision of interests, just as there was no confusion of Personality or Office.

In the Old Testament day—the Dispensation of the Father—He was ever hallowing that Father's name.

On behalf of that Father He strove with the spirits of the men before the Flood; on behalf of that Father He bore and carried Israel in the days of old, when they rebelled and vexed His Holy Spirit. The foundation and framework of the Jewish Church were fashioned by Him in pursuance of the Father's plan, when Lawgiver and Prophet were called out into action. With that Church, for its guidance and restoration, the Spirit of the Father remained, according to His covenanted word. And, when the time had come that the purpose of God should be more fully developed, the Spirit is announced as "the Promise of the Father." In that capacity He reveals to Apostles and Prophets the mystery, the open secret, of the calling of the Gentiles, which had not been made known before to the sons of men. Identity of interest, unity of co-operation, between these two Holy Persons is everywhere apparent. The vivifying waters of the Spirit proceed from the throne of God.

Yes! and from the throne of the Lamb also. As the Father's name is hallowed, so in the dispensation of the Son is that Son's Kingdom advanced by the Spirit's effectuations. He does the will of both, and causes others to do likewise.

For when the sceptre of the world had fallen from the hand of the first Adam, and was grasped by the strong and unyielding hand of the second, it was the Spirit who dwelt in His Humanity without measure, who prepared and fitted Him for his world-Dominion. But while He thus prepared the King, there was no thought of establishing a separate Kingdom for Himself. He was to be, and He was, the Glorifier of Christ, as taking of His things and showing them to men. It was Christ's truth that He blessed, Christ's peace that He imparted, Christ's joy that He conveyed, "as witnessing to His glory, attracting to His Person, communicating His Presence." If, in the power of the Spirit, the Lord Jesus gave commandment concerning the Kingdom, He also sent forth that Spirit to be His Vicar and Representative for the advancement of that Kingdom. "The Lamb stands . . . having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into the whole earth."

In all this again, therefore, the harmony of plan and design between these two Divine Persons was only equalled by the harmony of their action.

The counsels of peace were between the Divine Three.

I touch this point lest any should think that in bringing forward as fully as I may the work of one Blessed Person, I should be thought to sever it, either as to intention or accomplishment, from that of the others. It cannot be held too strongly that the dispensation of grace, from its first conception to its farthest result, is the one product of the One Wisdom, the one achievement of the One Love, the one development of the One Power, for it is the one purpose of the One God.

Nor is this all.

The Church of Christ, and we as members of that Church, may draw comfort and courage from the thought that, in taking up any work for Missions under the guidance of the Spirit, we are absolutely at one with the Triune God. We have fellowship in this matter with the Father, and the Son, by the Spirit; and therefore we undertake no forlorn hope; we represent no failing cause. We are workers together with a whole Godhead, whose purpose, when His promise meets with His power, shall assuredly be fulfilled.

I may not linger on this. Enough has been said to show that the Spirit works co-operatively.

But He also works distinctively. "He has a will and action of His own." This is the point that I wish to emphasize.

He is, if I may say so reverently, the Executive of the Godhead. To Him therefore appertains all that relates to the perfecting and completing the great scheme of the kingdom. He it is who lays its foundation in restamping the likeness-glory of God on the souls of men. He it is who brings forth the topstone in the manifestation of the honour-glory. As at the first. He brooded over the waste of waters, and by a true evolution brought light out of darkness, order out of confusion, beauty out of misshapenness, and the abundantly fruitful out of the abundantly barren, so now He has it for His peculiar office to turn the world-wastes into the very gardens of the Lord. The same "Finger of God" which garnished the material heavens now adorns and beautifies the firmament of the Church with thickly-clustering points of divinely-given light.

Let me, then, lead your thoughts to this His more direct working in its several departments, as illustrated in this Book of the Acts, and throughout the history of modern Missions.

(i.) There is, first, the work of preparation. This has a threefold development.

(1) He prepares the soil for the Sower. Sometimes indeed the man goes before the movement, but the more usual process is that the movement goes before the man. This is brought about in various ways. Doors are closed behind, as in Jerusalem after the death of Stephen, in Galatia or Mysia, where Paul is "forbidden to preach," where "the Spirit suffers them not." Doors are opened, as at Antioch in Pisidia, where the Gentiles besought Paul that the Gospel might be preached to them also, or as at Antioch in Syria, where the hand of the Lord was with the men o Cyprus and Cyrene, and a great multitude believed. Obstacles are removed and hindrances turned to helps, as when the journey to Jerusalem and its enforced imprisonment leads on to the occupation of Rome, where Gentiles were ready to hear. But all this worketh but one and the self-same Spirit in His capacity of Administrator of the Church of Christ.

He has but to speak the word, touch the heart of a people, awaken it to some sense of its needs, and then make these needs known to those who hold the sources of supply, and the electric circuit is completed, the movement is commenced. It has been so ever since. Who but He could have wrought that marvellous work of preparation which surprises us by its vastness and the imperativeness of its demands? Doors are open everywhere. It is true that with regard to some nations that opening has been apparently slow, e.g. East and West Africa. But it is with the mission-field as it is with some other fields They are not all at once ready for the Sower. There is a principle of gradualness running through all the operations of God in the world spiritual as in the world physical. "He takes a step," said a great French statesman, "and lo! it is a thousand years." And we have need to mark this, and so avoid any hasty or presumptuous anticipation of His will. The great adversary of the Kingdom is constantly laying this snare for committees and individual Christians, just as he laid it for the Lord Himself. There is such a thing as premature action which only courts failure. "The price of haste is brief duration." "That which ripens before its time withers before its time." We must bide God's time. It will come to be felt that certain forces were at work preparing those very fields which, it may be, we thought untillable. Processes of persecution, as in Japan and Madagascar, or calamities long drawn out as in the famine-stricken districts of India, have disposed hearts to receptivity. The hardened soil has yielded. The nation is born in a day.

Our difficulty, however, is not so much that which hampered Christian effort at the beginning of the century. It is not so much to find openings as to find men and women who will enter them.

The men of Macedon are many. Lazarus after Lazarus either lies before us shut up in the tomb of superstition and false belief, or stands before us, alive indeed, but still tied and bound by the grave-clothes of old customs and hampering traditions. Each only waits our obedience to the twin commands: "Take away the stone. Loose him and let him go."

Land after land, unbarred at length by sword, or treaty, or traffic, or travel, stretches out its hand unto God, unto us, for liberty and light. "New fields are whitening to the harvest." Africa, West, East, Central, is looking to us for our Gospel and theirs. Palestine, with its Bedâwi, India, with its hill-men, Persia, with its Sunnis and Sufis, ask that the light may shine out on the twilight of so-called religions, or the gross darkness of aboriginal idolatry. China and Japan are beckoning to us that we may Christianize their civilization and purify their culture. There is movement throughout the world—the movement of countless hearts. There is the voiceless but not less eloquent cry of unspoken need, as well as the plain demand. And this call for help is receiving fresh emphasis this night in the wondrous story which our great lion-hearted explorer is now unfolding.* It is articulate enough, even if not actually and personally addressed to us. It summons us to go forward still. "Extension" is the watch-word of the year, and "Effort," effort of grace, must be its living echo as well as its living force.

And as with the objects of help, so with the means and facilities for helping them. Never were they so numerous, never so available. As the Spirit prepares the nations, so does He prepare the way to them. The triumphs of invention are His by which distance is annihilated and man brought nearer to his fellow-man. Every step of science is a summons of the Kingdom. The sources of supply are His, from which the fulness of one people can meet the emptiness of another. Yes! and to speak more particularly of ourselves and kindred races, from Him comes that forcefulness of our Anglo-Saxon character, as well as the fixed bound of our habitation, both east and west, which facilitate action and promise success. The Spirit is preparing the world.

(2) But whilst He thus prepares the world, He prepares also the Church to occupy the openings and act upon the world. We can trace this notably in the Church at Antioch. He brings the members of that Church to "minister unto the Lord" and "to fast." They first set God's service before them, and then set themselves apart for that service. What is the next step? At the bidding of the Spirit they separate their leading members for the express work of Missions. They might have pleaded that they were but an infant Church, and needed all the support that these two pillars might give them. Or they might have thought it enough to spare their less important men for what might have seemed to some a less important work. But no! "Their abundant joy and deep (pastoral) poverty abounded unto the riches of their unselfish liberality." Simeon, Lucius, Manaen shall abide. Barnabas and Saul shall go. And so Antioch, itself a Mission-born Church, shall hold the high honour of being in effect the first Missionary Church. It was the direct result of a whole-hearted consecration to God. The Spirit had made them willing in the day of His power, and that willingness again was accepted in the words, "Separate me now Barnabas and Saul."

* On the evening when this Sermon was preached, Mr. Stanley was received by the Royal Geographical Society at the Albert Hall.

Should we not lay this to heart? Do we not gather that the initiative of Missions must take its rise from the body of the Church itself, and not merely from its official heads? There was no waiting here for Apostolic injunction or direction. The Church moved, and that was enough. And do we not gather what is more important still, that the Spirit works on the Church that He may work through the Church? His quickening power is needed if there is to be any genuinely forward movement on our part. The dead or drowsy heart can devise no plans. The dead or palsied hand can put forth no efforts. There must be life if there is to be action. We do see this, thank God, in some measure now. The quickened intelligence of many on the subject of Personal Holiness has led to a quickened intelligence on the subject of Personal Service. And this service is taking shape not only in a truer support of Missions, but in ready though well-weighed offers for the field.

The Church of Christ, however, and notably our own branch of it, requires still more education on this point. There is indeed a correction of view and a revival of energy. We are talking of new departures. But these must first take the form of new departures in faith, in love, in expectation, and above all in the spirit of self-consecration.

You will observe that the ministering to the Lord at Antioch was accompanied by the fasting. There was severance as well as service. The same principle must obtain now. Nothing short of an increase of holiness and righteousness of life will satisfy the demands of a quickened soul. And nothing short of a giving up to God's service will satisfy the demand of a quickened holiness. Let there be this, and a certain result will follow. The ministry of consecration, leading as it does to more distinct separation from worldly aims and objects, will take the form which it took at Antioch. It will be a ministry for the furtherance of the Gospel. The Church will be ready and anxious to give of its best, and not to place home-work always before foreign work. And you, friends, as individual members, will be stirred and strengthened to give of your best—either yourselves or those who are as dear to you as yourselves. In this way, to this end, the Holy Ghost prepares the Church.

(3) There is yet another department of His preparation-work to be considered, and that is the preparation of the Mission-workers. This also is the peculiar office of the Spirit. If He delegates to the Church the duty of setting apart the men for the missionary ministry, He designates by His special call those who are thus to be set apart. "Separate Me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them."

There are two things noticeable here:—

(a) That no one can engage in mission-work, either hopefully or helpfully, without some direct or indirect calling by the Spirit. This call may come in various ways: through the force of God's Word sent home; through the providential interposition; through the pressing invitation; through the stress of urgent opportunity; above all, through the constraining love of Christ and a deeply-wrought desire to serve Him in the Gospel. But, however conveyed, such a call is indispensable. The Spirit will only be served of His own. And that not only in the case of our Missionary brethren and sisters, but you, my friends, who are members of committees, preachers, speakers, writers, collectors, gleaners, you the whole "noble army" of workers, must, as you may, have through grace this calling, and must through grace obey it if you would in any true sense be fellow-workers with that Spirit unto the Kingdom of Christ. The Spirit of Elijah must rest on each Elisha. There must be this preparation of the Holy Ghost.

(b) But whilst there is this solemn reminder as to qualification and calling, there is an encouraging reminder here as to the character and condition of those so called and qualified. Barnabas and Saul are alike to be separated for the work—the man of loving meekness as well as the man of forceful might. We might indeed have supposed that, with a world of men to be rough-hewn and polished for the temple of God, a host of Pauls would have been selected and sent forth. Was there not an overwhelming call for the boldness, the faithfulness, the discernment of spirit, the tact, the readiness in argument, the fertility of resource, the endurance even unto death which characterized the great Apostle? Would not more consciences be reached, more idols be turned from, more opposition silenced, more wills led captive, more hearts, and lives, and powers devoted to the service of the living God, if another like himself could have been sent forth with him? God did not so judge. There was room, because there was work, for Barnabas as well as Saul. The Gentile world could as little do without the one as without the other. If it needed the energy of Saul to cleave the way for the Kingdom, it needed no less the loving sympathy of Barnabas. That "good man," that "box of healing ointment in a wounding world," is required. He must go forth who could not only be glad when he saw the grace of God, but in his unselfish self-renunciation do his utmost to promote its spread, and would seek Saul that Saul might be successful. The same Spirit prepared them both, for both were filled with the Holy Ghost, and thus fitted for the work to which He called them.

And this, friends, is a point much to be borne in mind at the present time. There is now, and there will be increasingly, a demand for helpers. "Undermanned" is still the lament from every part of the field. The labourers, "the living links," are all too few. Now it may be that some of you now present may be stirred in heart to offer yourselves for this service, but you are deterred by the felt want of anything like Pauline power. There is indeed need of this. These are not days for delegating mission-work to the incompetent any more than to the unworthy. There is a call for the best of the best, for the subtlest intellects, the best-stored minds, the most judicial, statesman-like, far-sighted faculties, just as there is ample scope for their exercise. Ready writer, eloquent preacher, high-souled administrator, the Lord hath need of you. But side by side with Saul there is a place for Barnabas; and if you possess a power of sympathy which is not a mere sentimentalism, and a loving spirit which does not go hand-in-hand with a lack of all learning, and a Christlike combination of firmness and meekness which cannot be set down as pliant imbecility, then you too are welcome in the name of the Lord. If He does not prepare you for one sphere, yet He will for another quite as honourable if more humble. Only be assured that there is nothing in your position which need keep you back if the call has come home to you, and if fitness of character and fitness of attainment have met together in you. As the graces of the Spirit are not confined to any class or condition of men, so neither in His calling. This department of preparation is still His work. Under His hand men and women have offered themselves from all quarters. Our army and navy, our Universities, our drawing-rooms, as well as factory, and shop, and mine and plough, are sending forth their volunteers. The Spirit has a place for each.

Thus far, then, would I speak of His work of preparation in the world, the Church, the workers.

(ii.) I turn now to another department of His office, the work of Evangelization. It is His will that the Gospel shall have free course and be glorified. The world is its sphere of operation, and into the world, therefore, it must go. It may not be confined to particular Churches or to particular localities. It calls for the Evangelist.

There must indeed be the pastor. The Churches founded must be the Churches confirmed and built up in the truth. But this is not to be the only—is it to be the chiefest?—aim of the ministry. Are we not shown in the story of Antioch that whilst the one is done the other is not to be left undone; that the very first duty of a Church, its raison-d'être, is that it should become a Missionary Church, and that in the spirit of fellowship, evangelized itself, it should seek forthwith to evangelize others?

It is here, then, that the direct operation of the Spirit comes out. He evangelizes—(1) by supplying the message for the nations; (2) by clothing it with power.

(1) He supplies the message. What is it? This Book tells us over and over again. It is the "Word of the Lord"—the story of the Father's love, but specially the story of the living, obeying, crucified, risen, returning Christ—Christ taking flesh that He might die, dying that He might live again, living that by Death and Life men might reckon themselves dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God in Him.

With this message He sent the men of Cyprus to Antioch. "They preached the Lord Jesus." With this He sent Paul and Barnabas from Antioch. "They preached the Word." He could not but be true to His high trust, for was He to not testify of Jesus, to take of His things and show them to men? And is it not this same Word which by the Spirit is intrusted to us to bear to the nations and bring men into conformity with the image of Christ? "The Spirit of truth which proceedeth from the Father, He shall testify of Me. And ye also shall bear witness."

It is indeed urged that the circumstances and world-spirit of the times, or the religious bent of various races, require a Word rather less simple or less positive. "This people must have a message of more culture; that, one of more accommodation to existing beliefs. You must make a difference here, must amalgamate there, and in another place must round off corners—must, in short, make your Word all things to all men."

But is this what the world really wants?

No, for it craves for something more real, more really human, because more really divine, than all this.

Consciously or unconsciously it is "athirst for the living God," and nothing but the pure water of the River of Life can quench that thirst. With its sin that is so sinful, its burden which is so crushing, its miseries which are so overwhelming, its oppressions which are so disheartening, its ignorance which is so paralyzing, its death which is so dead, you must give it the Word of the Lord, the leaves of the tree which are for the healing of the nations. You must give it Christ. "It is weary of natural religion, Christianity without Christ; it is weary of the religion of humanity, for what cannot claim reverence cannot command conscience; it is weary of Confucianism, the despotism of the dead and bondage of the living; it is weary of Brahmanism, which is the bane of brotherhood;" it is weary of Buddhism—morality without God; it is weary of Islam—God without morality.

Nothing but the plain, distinctive, incisive, yet ever attractive "good tidings" can reach home to hearts and change them—shape lives, and give them a true aim, and a healthy because a holy course. We must see to it that it be a whole, a concrete Gospel, a perfect and complete Word. We may not, on the one hand, stop short with a Gospel of the Incarnation, or on the other with a Gospel of the Resurrection. It must be the Gospel of the Cross. "Christ as crucified" is to be the burden of the message, with all that leads to it and issues from it.

May we not learn a lesson here from the action of St. Paul in his dealing with the Church of Corinth? It has been strikingly pointed out that, with every inducement to appeal to the ritualistic instinct of the sign-seeking Jew, and the speculative tendency of the Greek, and the passion-driven worldliness of the mixed multitude, he refused to adulterate his teaching in either direction.

With the Jew he first reasoned persuasively of the suffering Messiah, and then, "pressed in the Word," testified that same truth yet more zealously. To the Greek, warned by his comparative want of success just before at Athens, he told the simple "story of the Cross." To the "blended races," with their life of so-called pleasure, and that gross indulgence in vice which indisposes for anything that is pure and true, he proclaimed that which alone could make them dead to the world and the world dead to them. And we know with what result. That which some called weakness, and others foolishness, and others again a sanctimonious mar-pleasure, proved itself to be the power of God and the wisdom of God, the purifier of the uncleanest of the unclean, the spring and source of the deepest and truest joy. That which was its chief offence in each case bore down all opposition, and became its chief glory.

Truly neither we, nor our dear missionary brethren, have any cause to be ashamed of this same Word. If St. Paul was not, why should we be? Our strength personally—our strength as a Society—lies in grasping, maintaining, declaring it. Without it we are but as Samson shorn.

I know that it is the fashion to depreciate the message, to speak of it as worn out and behind the age, good, it may be, for the times of Paul and other pioneers, but hardly adapted to present needs. And it is urged that something more philosophical as to system, more scientific as to facts, more subtle as to arguments, something which should be a real "Light of the world," should be the Gospel of the day. But I have yet to learn that we are called upon to frame a new Gospel or formulate a new Creed with a possibly fallible Saviour, and therefore a possibly fallacious salvation. Are we not rather called upon to proclaim what is already revealed, and to leave the result of that proclamation in the hand of the Spirit of God? He who has given it can surely make it to be not only its own witness, but its own advocate, and carry its cause to victory. "The science of to-day will hardly be the science of ten years hence." "The Bible of to-day will be the Bible of the centuries."

No! If the Gentiles of the present are to be made fellow-heirs, fellow-members, fellow-partakers with the Church of Christ, as were the Gentiles of the past, then must we cause the "unsearchable riches" of Christ to be preached to them, with all their wealth of mystery indeed, but with all their wealth of wisdom and wealth of light. This is the one purpose of God, the one truth which expresses His mind, the one truth which corresponds with the wants of men; and this, therefore, is the message which is ministered by and through the Spirit of God.

With this, with this alone, does He evangelize.

(2) And He clothes this message with power.

The promise of the Pentecost was amply fulfilled in the story of the Early Church. Over and over again the testimony goes forth that in the hand of the Spirit "the Word of God was multiplied," that "it grew mightily and prevailed." The rehearsal at Antioch of all that He had done in partnership with the first missionary band, and how He had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles, was followed by not a few rehearsals of the same kind. It is true that these successes ran in no stereotyped lines, as to the time required for them, or the numbers won. If, on the one hand, the people of Thessalonica could in three short weeks "turn from their idols to serve the living and true God," it needed, on the other, nearly three whole years for "Ephesus and those in Asia to hear the Word of the Lord Jesus." If only "certain men" believed in one city (Athens), the Lord "had much people" in the next (Corinth). The Spirit of God is a free Spirit, and divides to nations as He divides to men, "severally as He wills." But then—He wills to divide. His progress is always one of triumph. It was so to be. It is so still. The witness is with power.

Take the mission-field country by country, and you find that, in spite of all apparent delaying on the part of God, all mistakes on the part of men, all opposition on the part of the great antagonist, success is everywhere. "There is not a race where the Gospel has failed." Africa is letting in the light from every quarter. The Christian of the East will soon join hands with the Christian of the West. India and Ceylon contribute a steadily growing number of additions to the Church. China and Japan are no longer stagnant deathpools. The water of life is streaming in by many channels. Mahometan lands, such as Persia, Egypt, Palestine, give proof that the Gospel can displace the Koran. In New Zealand there are no professed heathen. North-West America shows the brightness of a true and lasting "aurora." In short, we may say that, all boasting excluded, the Report of the Missions will prove to be, as other past Reports have been, a magnificent appendix to the Acts of the Apostles.

And yet men exclaim, "No success!" Can this be said honestly when the Mission of the Great Comforter is being so fully carried out—when so many are being convinced of their unbelief, and turning to Christ for righteousness—when soul after soul once in darkness is now made light in the Lord—when God has shown Himself so mindful of man and his coming dominion—when the likeness of God, once so blurred and defaced by the many-trampling feet of lust, and avarice, and cruelty, and contempt of law, is now being restamped on so many hearts? We cannot admit the idea of failure. Whilst ready to acknowledge, with all regretful sorrow, that more might have been, more ought to be, we may not ignore what is. It is not the want of resultant facts, but rather the want of acquaintance with them, that hinders an appreciative sympathy with Missions.

We may honestly compare the 450,000,000 of Christians now with the 5,000,000 of the first three centuries after Christ, or the few converts gathered from the heathen world at the beginning of this century with the 3,000,000 who now profess the faith of Jesus. We are well within the bounds of truth when we say that there is not one Spirit-prepared, Spirit-sent Missionary brother or sister who cannot point to some seals of their Apostleship in the Lord. For this is the witness of the world at large that the Spirit of God is making the Word to grow. By the message which He supplies, by the power with which He clothes that message, does He persistently and victoriously carry out His Work of Evangelization.

(iii.) Nor does His work end with that. For the work of consolidation (and reproduction) is equally under His hand. Establishment and expansion are His two great laws.

Antioch is not the only Church which is first rooted and then fruits out into the regions beyond. Thessalonica—that model Church in many respects—proves its election by its work of faith and labour of love, whilst the Word of the Lord sounded out from it not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but in every place. Philippi, the sister Macedonian Church, could not only minister to the missionary needs of Paul, but could shine as a luminary in the world, and hold out the word of truth. The Ephesian Missions led to that maturing which marked the Churches of Asia, and could call forth that circular Epistle to the Ephesians, with all its wonderful unfolding of the mystery of grace, and the consequent call to make all men see it. The law of continuous development was thus the law of the Spirit of Life.

Nor is it otherwise now.

The Kingdom of Truth is making good the ground it has won from the Kingdom of Error; and it is not only the longest-planted Churches which, walking in the fear of the Lord and the comfort of the Holy Ghost, are multiplied, for many of those Churches which are yet in their infancy are, with all their weakness, exhibiting their cheering signs of self-support, self-government, self-extension. In one district we can point to a settled native ministry growing in intelligence, capacity, and zeal. In another we can mark the development of that most helpful agency, the raising up of a body of Native evangelists. In another we can trace a yet greater ripeness where our Mission stations are raising their own Church funds, forming their own Church Councils, starting their own Missionary Associations. They begin to show themselves a settled habitation of God through the Spirit. As a consequence their reproductive energies are largely put forth. It is not only true that the Highest Himself has established these various members of the corporate Zion, but that He can make mention with respect to nations proud as Rabab, oppressive as Babylon, antagonistic as Philistia, luxurious as Tyre, dark as Ethiopia, that this and that man was born there. New-born to God themselves, they have become the centres of new birth to others.

Nor is this the only result. We must not ignore the reflex action of this Mission-consolidation on the Church at home. If it stirs our pulse and stimulates our energies to hear of the Conquests of the Cross, there is no less good to be gained from the "Victories of the Vanquished" in the humbling of our spirit, the quickening of our faith, the deepening of our attachment to that Gospel, that Saviour, who has done so much both for them and for us. The simplicity of their confidence makes us more confiding; the consistency of their walk tends to make us more consistent; their zeal for truth, their boldness in confession, their outspokenness, react upon us to the provoking of very many.

What, then, shall we answer these messengers from the nations? This: that we know from them that "Jehovah hath founded Zion, and that the afflicted of His people can find refuge in her."

Such, then, is the working of God the Holy Ghost in relation to Missions. He prepares, He evangelizes, He consolidates. If the Lord Jesus could say, "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work," it may as truly be said of the Spirit of the Father and the Son. He worketh, and worketh mightily, as the promised Spirit of Power. "Everything liveth whithersoever the River cometh." But He does not work alone. As the Spirit whose peculiar grace (and gift) is that of fellowship, He calls us to fellowship unto Him in work as well as in grace. We are all fellow-workers with Him.

II. Suffer me, then, to try and point out our special duty in view of His working, and of our call to share in it.

It is, I conceive, tripartite, and includes (1) personal dependence on His aid; (2) personal use of His various gifts; (3) personal supplication to and for Him as a Personal Spirit.

(1) I place, then, in the forefront the duty of more personal dependence on His aid. That aid and that dependence are of first necessity. For if, as I have tried to show, the establishment of the Kingdom, the uprearing of the great temple, is specially committed to Him, then we are nothing and can do nothing apart from Him. Without Him our purposes are but blind imaginings, our wisdom utter folly, our so-called strength a very byword for weakness. We do but build walls of sand. We spend our strength for nought and in vain.

Who can tell the loss which the Mission-field has sustained through the forgetfulness of this truth? Look back over the centuries. Take Missions in their historical development. To what are we to trace the almost Missionless interval of the middle and later ages? On one side of them there is every token of growth, on the other a revival of forceful life, but between those two periods lies a space of inactivity, stagnation, barrenness. To what was it owing? Was it not to this—that there was a marked want of any acknowledgment of the Personality and Personal agency of God the Holy Ghost? The spirit of darkness brooded over the nations because the Spirit of Light was neither intelligently perceived nor adequately invoked. It was not so much an active striving against Him as a passive silence in respect of Him and His office that proved so deadly. Now let us look nearer at home. Must we not, in all honesty of self-humiliation, trace some of our failures and miscarryings to the same cause? Might not our plans have been more complete, our organizations more effective, our associations better worked, our lack of men and means more readily supplied, our hearts more frequently cheered by the numbers, the vitality, the Christian efforts of our converts, if there had been more distinct and persistent dependence on the Spirit of wisdom, grace, and life? He has indeed permitted us, with all our shortcomings, to plant oases not a few in the desolate wastes of heathen and Mahometan lands. But how much more might have been done if there had been less idolatry of human means, and if we had gone to God's husbandry and God's building with more of the sought-for Presence of the Divine Husbandman, more of the energizing, controlling guidance of the Divine Architect!

I know that this calls for a deeper measure of self-effacement than some of us may have been prepared to give. The Church of Christ is not altogether free from the charge of self-fulness. "I" has not yet been displaced by "I AM," in the denial of self-wisdom, self-strength, self-sufficiency. Have we not all to learn more of the power of that principle that "there must be death in the living if there is to be life in the dying," and that death a death to self and self-dependence? We may put our hand on the bow and draw the arrow to the head, but that arrow will be short of flight and unsteady of aim unless another Hand is laid on ours. Never was it more necessary than now to take that constantly repeated word out of the region of conventional commonplace—"Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

But the call for dependence does not spring only from the necessity for it, but from the blessing which it offers. It holds out to us a promised power. On any right view of our work as a Church or as a Society we cannot but feel our utter insufficiency. Called as we are to no less a dignity than that of hastening the coming of our Lord and Master by helping forward His Kingdom—commissioned as we are to show to principalities and powers the manifold wisdom of God—constrained as we are (if constrained at all aright) to a life of loving service, in return for the love which has given life—we cannot at times resist the cry, "Lord, send by the hand of him by whom Thou wilt send!" We measure the importance of the call by the poverty of our resources, the weakness of our faith, the slenderness of our spiritual attainment, the sinfulness of our hearts, and our hands begin to droop.

Then, looking beyond ourselves, there is no small cause for failing of heart in the criminal apathy of the Church at large, the chilling indifference of many who should be the first to support this great cause, the thick darkness which hangs like a pall over the nations, the disappointments which arise from the stationary character of some of our Mission Churches, and, not least, the removal of tried and trusted labourers. All these things tend to dispirit.

But we need not lose heart. As we must depend on the Spirit as the great Mission Worker, so may we. We can take courage from the remembrance that He is greater who is with us than all that be against us. He is not only the promise of the Father but of the Son. With Him is all wisdom for our direction, all might for our support. There are no hearts which He cannot reach, no perplexities which he cannot unravel, no needs which He cannot supply. We can trust Him to overrule in His own good time all schemes for political aggrandizement or commercial gain; to defeat all the counter-plans of the enemy; to unbar doors which have been barred for centuries; to cheer the drooping spirits of our brethren in the field, as well as to call forth heartier efforts from our fellow-workers at home.

On the Spirit, then, we must, we may, we will depend. It is our first and bounden duty. So doing we may confidently put the Prophet's question, "Is the Spirit of the Lord straitened?" So doing we may confidently make the Prophet's answer, "Truly we are full of power by the Spirit of the Lord, and of judgment, and of might, to declare to nations their transgression and to peoples their sin"—together with the one unfailing remedy for both.

If only in all our ways we will but acknowledge Him, then will He direct our paths.

(2) As a second leading duty I would lay great stress on a personal use of the gifts of the Spirit. In other words, I would urge you, as I would be urged myself, to a deeper, truer realization of our personal responsibilities.

Let us come apart awhile and commune with ourselves. Is not the Lord saying to each true member of His true Church, "Arise, for this matter belongeth unto thee": "In view of the pressing need of the nations, in virtue of My parting commands, as redeemed and rescued yourselves, as no longer your own, but bought and bound over for this special bond-service, arise to the help of the Lord against the mighty"?

There lies our call. We cannot plead ignorance of it, neither can we plead our utter inability to comply with it. For He who has "ascended up on high and led captivity captive has received gifts for men," has distributed those gifts to us. From the mighty main stream of the Spirit He has parted off to each of us some rill for the refreshing of our own lives and strengthening of the lives of others. As God will have no undevoted children, so will He have none unendowed for that devotion. Each has received according to the measure of the gift of Christ, but each has at the very least received a certain gift, some after this manner, some after that. The Church of Corinth was not the only one appointed to share in the bestowments of the Holy Ghost. His manifold gifts are as widely dispensed as His manifold grace. All may not indeed be apostles, or prophets, or teachers, or workers of miracles, or capacitated for governments, or qualified for healings, or with aptitude for acquiring languages; but all may be "helps." For all who are truly His have that gift which is better than the best in the Love which is as ingenious as it is anxious to please. Set, friends, set that Love on work. Let it lead you to see what your special talent is, and in what special line you may occupy for Christ with it. Then as "each hath received the gift even so minister it as of the ability which God giveth, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God." Realize your stewardship. Never mind the size of your gift. Only be faithful in your little, if it is little, for it is God's little, and God will give you His much in which to be more faithful still. He demands only the possible. He accepts according to what we have and use. Take, then, the place which the men of Israel and Judah took when they came to David to Hebron to turn the Kingdom to him. "They came to help him day by day until it was a great host like the host of God." You are come to turn the Kingdom to David's Son, David's Lord.

Bring out your gift, your power, and put it to use. It may be only that form of gift which lies in material contributions, the gift of the wise-hearted women which did spin with their hands; the gift of the rulers of men and others who brought the Lord's offering of gold, and silver, and precious stones, the pick of their possessions, the product of their craft and calling; the Bezaleel gift of skilful devisement and cunning workmanship. Bring it out. If only it be brought with stirred heart and willing spirit it will be accepted and owned.

Or it may be that yours is that higher gift, the gift of influence.

As heads of households you can commend God's cause to your family and servants, and interest them tellingly in His work for the world. As parents you can not only make this Mission work an element in the education of your children, train them directly for it, but be ready to yield them up if God in His good providence should call them forth for this special service.

As heads of parishes and congregations you, my brethren in the ministry, can press home upon your people with ever-increasing diligence the high privilege of helping forward the coming of the King. You can look out and bring on likely candidates for the field, and send them forth as your representatives. Bring out your gifts.

I come higher still, and will suppose that your gift is that of a deep-hearted desire to give your life, yourself, for labour in the high places of the field.

Let that desire have more and more of a tendency to fulfil itself; and whether you be man or woman, in the ministry or out of it, come forward forthwith to render back God's gift to the Giver, with cleansed heart and touched lip, and seek to be separated unto the work whereunto He is calling you. Bring out your gifts.

Is it utterly in vain to make yet further appeal for personal service in the honoured ranks of the great Missionary Host? It is rapidly becoming a too thin red line. Will no one listen to the cry which comes to us from our Nyanza Mission—how much longer to be ours we know not—the cry which has come frequently from the lips as it now comes from the very grave of that dear and honoured brother who kept back no part of his gifts from God, whose persevering energies ever kept pace with his abilities, and whose abilities were ever consecrated to the Lord, who has laid down his life here that he might take it up in heaven.* Will no one arise to be baptized for the dead?

You may remember possibly how on the field of Waterloo one square of our infantry was exposed to the withering fire of the French, and ensign after ensign fell wounded or dead. Again and again the call rang out, "Another man to take the colours," and "another man" was never wanting to step forward and take them.

Will the men of Christ's Church in England be one whit behind those men of Waterloo in readiness of offer, in devotion even unto death? Nay, friends, it cannot be, and therefore now when a standard-bearer—and such a standard-bearer—has fallen, shall there not be the tens, the twenties, nay, the hundreds, to take the place of that one?

* The news of Alexander Mackay's death came a few days before.

I make special appeal to you, my brethren in the ministry, and specially to you, my fellow-workers in the country, of sound health, sound powers, sound hearts—to you who have had some experience of work in England, and can bring that experience to bear on new developments abroad—I appeal to you to offer yourselves for this work. Do not say, "We are wanted for home-work." That home-work will never suffer through a devotion which is not defection. Nay! who can tell how much that home-work will be advanced through your example, your prayers, your labours abroad? Nothing can possibly be lost to you, to the Church, to Christ Himself, when you take up His command, and, in the power of the Spirit, trust yourselves to His guidance, and take your stand in the forefront of the battle. "If Mission-work demands, it also develops, the highest style of man."

Yes, friends, I say again to all, seek to know your gifts and use them. It is the call of the Spirit of God; and if you are not wanting to Him, He will not be wanting to you in their supply, their direction, their prospering, their full and abounding recompense. Bring out your gifts. Pray to be delivered from the memory of a neglected responsibility.

(3) Yet one more duty.

Our dependence on the Spirit, our use of His gifts, must be preceded and followed by prayer directly to Him and for Him.

Do not look on this as a counsel of course, the trite though necessary supplement to all exhortation. We do well to mark that two of the most conspicuous commands to pray are connected with the promise of the Spirit of God. In the Old Testament Ezekiel xxxvi., in the New Testament Matthew vii. Believe me, the Church of Christ needs to be educated on this point as well as on many others if its work is to prosper. It is only too lamentably true that in this special department "we have not because we ask not." Though private petitions are not wanting, and Missionary Prayer Unions have become matters of history, yet still we are straitened—straitened, not in God, but in ourselves. The great and growing need of our day is this: a fresh full baptism of the Holy Ghost.

(a) We need it for ourselves, that our own spiritual life may be quickened. There is more ebb than flow. We are not what we ought to be, what we might be. There is too little perception of God's purpose, too little sympathy with His cause, far too little conformity to His will.

For all this we require more of the indwelling Christ through the indwelling Spirit—a closer union which shall lead to more thorough identity of feeling, of thought, of desire, of action. The Christ-life alone can give the Christ-mind, and the Christ-mind alone can set us on right work for that Christ-Kingdom which is to be our own in Him. We need the baptism of the Spirit of Christ.

(b) That baptism again is needed by the Church that it may rise to its high calling; and that not only in respect of a faithful discharge of its office as the keeper and witness of the Word, but in respect of Unity, for the "unity of believers is the conviction of the world," and one great factor in the world's conversion.

Our internecine warfare is our greatest weakness. Contend for the truth we must, even to the death. Compromise the truth we must not, be the inducement never so strong. But, outside of this concern for truth, there are controversies which are needless, questions which are endless, strifes about very trifles, which separate between brethren, split up churches and congregations, paralyze right efforts, hinder the progress of the Kingdom. Shoulder to shoulder is the secret of success. Heart linked to heart is the power for advance. The men of Zebulon who could "keep rank" were not the least effective of David's helpers.

If we need the baptism of the Spirit of truth, we need no less the baptism of the Spirit of unity and concord.

(c) But if the baptism of the Spirit is thus needed by ourselves and by the Church, it is in no small degree demanded by the world. This lies before us on one side in all its manifold pollution, and calls for cleansing by the Spirit of judgment and the Spirit of burning. Its oppressive darkness requires to be bathed in the many waters of the Spirit of light. Its hitherto unhelped barrenness of good calls for the dew-like operation of the Spirit of Love that its waste places may revive, and blossom, and rejoice. It lies before us, on the other, in all its infantine weakness and unsteadiness of belief, and demands the Spirit of Renewal and Ghostly Strength. Should we not therefore desire with a great desiring that the Spirit be poured upon us from on high, till the wildernesses of our hearts, of the Church, of the world become as fruitful fields, and the fruitful fields be counted for forests? And shall we not turn this desire into action, and cry mightily to the Spirit of God that He may come to us in all the sevenfold energy of His gracious operation? Let us pray that as the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus He will set us free in Him from all that is of death about us; that as the Spirit of Adoption He will give us a childlike desire to carry out the good pleasure of our Father's goodness; that as the Spirit of Regeneration and Renewal He will quicken the conscience of the country, as well as remove the veil that is over the nations, and cause them to be born again to God; that as the Spirit of Grace and Supplication He will teach us what to pray for in relation to the kingdom and how to pray for it; that as the Spirit of Wisdom He will shape our plans and prosper all our counsels; that as the Spirit of Holiness He will purify our aims, and preserve us alike from a vain-glorious confidence and a dishonouring despondency; that as the Spirit of Glory and of God He will so shape our ends, so direct all His providences, that the saved peoples of the earth may not only be our glory and our joy, but live to the praise of the glory of the grace of God. Let us, in short, seek for nothing less than a second Pentecost.

Is it too much to say that the key to it is in our own hands—the key of hearty, humble, honest, united, expectant prayer? There is the closest connexion between the prayer on earth and the power from heaven. "The emphatic spirit of prayer is the best omen of success."

Wait then, friends, wait for the promise of the Father. Wait—in thankful acknowledgment of all His past and present working. It was when "the Levites were as one to make one sound to be heard in blessing and praising the Lord, that then the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord." It is so still. Praise is a mannerly way of begging, and a successful one. Thanksgiving obtains the Spirit.

Wait, but wait in the putting forth of fresh effort. The well of Moab sprang up not only when the people sang or prayed to it, but when the princes laid out pains and digged with their staves. Watch for His guidance. Mark His intimation. Obey His will. Occupy these new fields. Strengthen those languishing stations. Thrust forth more labourers. Open hands and hearts more largely. For God gives the Holy Spirit not only to those who ask but to those who obey Him.

Wait thus, and the waiting will not be in vain. As you ask for rain in the time of the latter rain the Lord will make bright clouds and send full showers. As you cry to the breath it will come from the four winds and breathe upon the slain to their living. As you continue with one accord in prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving and honest effort, you shall be filled with the Holy Ghost and with power, and shall thus do those "greater works" which the Lord has promised. Give due honour, then, to God the Holy Ghost as the Great Mission-worker by dependence on His aid, right use of His gifts, constant prayer for His presence, and He will honour you. The pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in your hand. The three great economies shall be completed. The Father's Name shall be hallowed, the Son's Kingdom come, the Will of the Spirit shall be done on earth as it is done in heaven. For the Spirit shall be poured forth on all flesh, and all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

"Then thro' the ages all along,
This, this shall be our endless song,
Praise to Thine eternal merit,
Father, Son, and Holy Spirit."

Amen and Amen.

REPORT,

GENERAL REVIEW OF THE YEAR.

(READ IN EXETER HALL.)

"If ye will do this thing, if ye will go armed before the Lord to war, and will go all of you armed over Jordan before the Lord, until He hath driven out His enemies from before Him, and the land be subdued before the Lord: then afterward ye shall return, and be guiltless before the Lord, and before Israel; and this land shall be your possession before the Lord. But if ye will not do so, behold, ye have sinned against the Lord: and be sure your sin will find you out." (Numb. xxxii. 20—23.)

Security and success at home dependent upon vigour in waging the wars of the Lord in the regions beyond: such is the plain teachings of these words of Moses to the children of Reuben and Gad. What was the sin which, if committed, would find them out? It was the sin of settling down comfortably in the land already occupied, and not going forward "armed" with their brethren into the battles yet to be fought and won. But the Reubenites and the Gadites were not guilty of it. They took the warning to heart, and this was their response to Moses' challenge—"Thy servants will do as my lord commandeth." Family ties should not stop them: "Our little ones, our wives, our flocks, and all our cattle, shall be there in the cities of Gilead: but Thy servants shall pass over, every man armed for war, before the Lord to battle, as my lord saith." May God grant to His servants in this England of ours readiness, if He calls them, and so far as He calls them, to make a response as loyal and as unreserved!

For indeed it is high time that the Church of Christ buckled on its armour in good earnest, and carried the holy war into the lands where Satan still reigns almost undisturbed. This is the lesson which the Committee of the Church Missionary Society desire that they and their friends should take to heart on the Society's Ninety-first Anniversary. It is with humble thanksgiving to the Great Captain of the Missionary Army of His Church, that they report to the Society at large that Expansion and Extension have been the watchwords of the year that is past, and are also the watchwords of the year on which we have now entered. The number of new missionaries actually sent forth in the twelve months ending to-day is fifty-seven, and although the whole number would have been none too many to reinforce old work, yet as a matter of fact about half of them have gone to work which rightly comes under the description of Expansion and Extension.

Expansion and extension,

Examples of.

By Expansion the Committee designate fresh developments of existing work; by Extension, fresh work altogether, either in new fields or in new departments or agencies: but no hard or fast line can be drawn between them. Among the most noticeable developments in respect of method may be mentioned (a) the continued increase in the Society's staff of Lady Missionaries, sixteen having sailed (or joined in the Missions) during the year, making sixty now on the roll, against twenty-two three years ago; (b) the scheme for the employment of Associated Evangelists, which, though as yet only begun with one small party, promises ere long to supply valuable auxiliaries to the work; (c) the plans adopted by some of the younger missionaries, notably in Africa and China, for working on simpler evangelistic lines,—plans which the Committee have heartily approved, while continuing to recognize most fully the value of the older methods; (d) the arrangements for raising the standard of the Society's High Schools and Colleges in India, the Committee being unshaken in their conviction of the untold value of these institutions to the evangelization of India, if worked fearlessly and faithfully as primarily and directly aimed at the salvation of souls,—a conviction deepened by some striking conversions that have occurred in the past year; (e) the increase of Medical Missions, the Society having now on the roll twenty fully qualified medical missionaries, against six in 1880.

Geographically taken, the recent examples of Expansion and Extension comprise (a) a plan for attaching English missionaries to Sierra Leone for work among Mohammedans; (b) a good reinforcement to the Yoruba Mission, Abeokuta being now occupied as it has not been since the expulsion of the missionaries twenty-three years ago; additional missionaries for (c) Egypt, (d) Palestine, (e) Baghdad; (f) a band of Cambridge men for the interior of Eastern Equatorial Africa; (g) another Cambridge band for the heathen towns and villages of Tinnevelly; (h) the first little band of associated evangelists in Bengal; (i) plans for further extension on the Afghan Frontier; (k) the strengthening of the work in Hong-Kong and in the Kwantung Province of China by the doubling of the missionary force; (l) important extension and development in the populous north-western districts of the Fuh-Kien Province, where pioneers from Oxford and Cambridge have gone forward into large cities hitherto unreached by the Gospel; (m) the occupation by English missionaries of four interior cities of Japan, and (n) the new Bishop Poole Memorial Girls' School at Osaka.

The Niger.

But the most important of recent advances has yet to be mentioned. The River Niger presents the most conspicuous example of Expansion and Extension. In consultation with their venerated friend, Bishop Crowther—never more loved and respected than now,—the Committee have begun to associate English and African brethren together in the work of the Niger Mission. In the Delta and Lower Niger the African clergy and teachers will still bear the chief burden; but three Englishmen have now joined them, two of whom are clergymen from the county of Durham, the first example, in the Society's history, of a Vicar and his Curate going into the mission-field together. The Upper Niger Mission now becomes the Soudan and Upper Niger Mission. The Committee listened with deep interest to the proposals made to them by Mr. Graham Wilmot Brooke, and by their own valued missionary, the Rev. J. A. Robinson, for a Mission to the Mohammedans of the Central Soudan, hitherto untouched by any Gospel effort, and to the recital of Mr. Brooke's previous brave but unsuccessful attempts to reach them. They thankfully enrolled Mr. Brooke himself in the Society's ranks, and accepted also for the new Mission the offers of two Cambridge men long known to them as aspirants for foreign service. And in sending them forth, with Mr. Robinson, and with two ladies (the wife of one and the sister of another), the Committee have felt that the little band was going to the Soudan, not merely with ardent devotion to the Lord, but with plans prudently as well as prayerfully formed. It is a Mission to Mohammedans; and to Mohammedans in organized states where the proclamations of the Mahdi are of more account than the influence of a British Consul, and where the missionary and the convert alike run a risk of death, whether by execution or by assassination. Identification with the people in every way possible is therefore probably a condition of entering the Central Soudan at all, and certainly a condition, humanly speaking, of the missionary's success. The Committee have entered upon this enterprise with humble confidence that the Lord has called the Society to it, and that He guided them and the missionary brethren in their prolonged consideration and discussion of the whole question.

India. The Committee wish that a larger share of the Expansion and Extension just noticed belonged to the great field of India. Taking, indeed, the India Missions as a whole, the missionary staff has been increased by one-third in the last five years; yet it is still utterly inadequate to the growing work, especially in the North-West Provinces and the Bombay Presidency. Evangelistic work of all kinds, however, has been perseveringly carried on among both Heathen and Mohammedans, and has borne fruit in conversions from among all classes, notably in the gathering of the first-fruits from among the aboriginal Bheels. Also from among the rural population in the Punjab. Mr. Wade writes that the number of Christians in the Amritsar District has doubled in the past year, and is four times what it was seven years ago. Then the missionaries sought for inquirers; now inquirers seek for them, and the difficulty is to find teachers. "Our nets," he says, "are full and breaking, and we beckon and call for help." But the past year has in India been more conspicuous for efforts in the direction of developing the Native Church, deepening its spiritual life, and drawing out its energies in the spread of the Gospel. The Committee especially thank God for the important and willing service temporarily rendered in Tinnevelly by their tried friend the Rev. John Barton. Mr. Barton's offer was to go and help Bishop Sargent in his old age; but just before he sailed, news came that the venerable Bishop had been taken to his heavenly rest, after a fifty-four years' missionary career, marked by the exercise of a rare spiritual influence, and by a progress in the Mission which a statistical comparison, striking as it is, cannot adequately portray. The Bishop's lamented death has given additional value to Mr. Barton's work, and the Committee hope much, under God, from his wise and sympathetic guidance of the Christian community in the C.M.S. districts in Tinnevelly. Bishop Sargent's directly episcopal functions have been in part kindly taken up by Bishop Caldwell, of the S.P.G., who has lately confirmed over 1500 candidates at the C.M.S. stations. The Committee must also gratefully acknowledge the important service rendered by the Rev. G. C. Grubb, who, going out with three lay brethren on an independent Mission unconnected officially with the Society, has been the instrument in God's hands of bringing manifest blessing to the C.M.S. Native Christians, both in Tinnevelly and in Ceylon. Of each of his three centres of work in Tinnevelly, viz. Palamcotta, Mengnanapuram, and the S.P.G. station of Edyengudi, Mr. Barton affirms that it may be said, "There was great joy in that city," and concerning the work in Ceylon the strongest testimony has been borne. Similar efforts, though on a smaller scale, have been made elsewhere by the missionaries themselves. Special gatherings for prayer and conference, with a view to the deepening of spiritual life among Native Christians, are reported from the Krishnagar district, from the Santal Mission, from Faizabad, from Mîrat, from Karachi, and from Trichur; while at Allahabad a gathering of Native clergymen with the same purpose has lately taken place.

Dangers.

The Committee feel the importance of movements like these to be all the greater in view of certain tendencies that are very conspicuous in India at the present time. On the one hand, influences are being strongly exerted within the Church of England in India tending to foster both externalism and sacerdotalism. On the other hand, outside the Church, certain missionary agencies are doing much to lower the standard of Christianity, by the increasing practice of prematurely baptizing uninstructed people; while other agencies dispense with baptism altogether and allow caste marks and distinctions, thus causing the offence of the cross to cease. The danger to the Native Church in India from these various quarters is very real. The Committee will not fail to support the missionaries in the defence of the Evangelical doctrines of the Church of England, and of true spiritual principles in the practical conduct of missionary work. They will encourage the Native clergy and teachers, upon whom the future of the Native Church so largely depends, to hold fast the faithful word as they have been taught. They will vindicate the Church of England as essentially Scriptural and Protestant, and the Evangelical body as representing the truest Churchmanship. At the same time, the Committee do not forget that what the Indian Church needs is not merely orthodoxy, but the spiritual life that flows from union with Christ; and they rejoice therefore in every effort to bring the Native Christians, and especially the clergy, into closer contact with Him who came to give life—even "life abundant."

Japan. It is not in India and Ceylon only that special missions have been held. In Japan, a week or a fortnight of what the Japanese call "great preachings" has been found an effectual mode of evangelization, particularly in remote cities where the message is new; but these are mainly for non-Christians. The quickening and revival of Native Christians, however, has been the object of the recent visit

West Africa. to West Africa of the Rev. S. A. Selwyn, Vicar of St. James's, Hatcham. The Committee thank God for the work he has done at Abeokuta, Lagos, and Sierra Leone. The Bishop of Sierra Leone, who has had much to discourage him during his eight years' episcopate, writes most warmly and gratefully of Mr. Selwyn's labours; and they happily synchronized with another event which has much encouraged the Bishop, the acceptance by the Sierra Leone Church of a revised constitution which has been some time in preparation, and which has now received the sanction of the Archbishop of Canterbury and Bishop of London, the C.M.S. Committee, and the Bishop and Church of the Colony.

Palestine. Another "special commission" has been that of Archdeacon Richardson and the Rev. R. Lang to Palestine, where ecclesiastical and other difficulties are impeding the real work of the Mission. The Committee trust that the result may be seen in more united and aggressive effort in the spread of the knowledge of Christ as the Son of God and the Saviour of men.

In the foregoing brief summary of the chief incidents of the year, the Committee have naturally dwelt upon what is exceptional and novel. But they do not forget, and trust that their friends will not forget, the immense amount of quiet, steady work that is always going on, not only in the fields already named, but in other parts of India, China, and Japan; in Mauritius and New Zealand; in the seven vast dioceses of North-West America in which the Society's missionaries are labouring. The Gospel is preached, the young are taught, converts are instructed and baptized, teachers trained, Native Churches fostered, the Word of God translated. The Lord's blessing is constantly sought; and it is constantly given.

East Africa.

One field remains to be noticed by itself, Eastern Equatorial Africa. Last year the Committee described the aspect of affairs as very dark. The Mission had been expelled from Uganda; the work in Usagara was suspended; and the troubles in the German protectorate near the coast had prevented any reinforcement being sent into the interior. But, as Mr. Salter Price reminded the Annual Meeting in this Hall, though the aspect was dark, the prospect was bright. And when at last communications were reopened, and letters from the Nyanza arrived, there stood revealed a strong body of professing Christians of Uganda, both Roman Catholic and Protestant, able to hold their own, and ready to fight the dominant Arabs. The Society's missionaries rightly declined to give support to warlike enterprises, but it is impossible to withhold sympathy from the Christian party, which has, after a severe struggle, delivered the country from the Mohammedan usurper. These Christians now have the government of Uganda in their hands, and they invite Christian teachers to come and occupy the whole land. While in exile, they were encountered by Mr. Stanley, on his return march after his wonderful achievement in penetrating the recesses of "Darkest Africa" for the rescue of Emin Pasha. In them he saw the fruits, after fourteen years, of his own invitation to the Christian Church to send the Gospel to Uganda. The Committee would express an earnest hope that, in God's own time and way, results as notable may follow from this later marvellous journey of the great traveller.

Mr. Mackay.

These brighter prospects have now been darkened by the mournful tidings of the death, from fever, of Alexander Mackay, who was the only remaining member in Africa of the first missionary party sent out, and who had throughout the whole fourteen years borne a leading part in the Mission, not only in the necessary secular work for which his engineering experience especially qualified him, but in preaching, teaching, and translating, as well as in the care of the converts. In all that he did, he displayed a devotedness, a courage, a resourcefulness, and a practical ability not inferior to that of any of the great men who have given their lives for Africa. With the Uganda Mission, his name, alongside those of Shergold Smith and Hannington and Parker, will ever be identified. Very touching is his last response, received since the news of his death came, to the suggestion that he should come home and enlist recruits for the Mission himself:—"What is this you write, 'Come home'? Surely now, in our terrible dearth of workers, it is not the time for any one to desert his post. Send us only our first twenty men, and I may be tempted to come to help you to find the second twenty."

Bishop Tucker.

But God buries His workmen and carries on His work. With thankfulness and hope the Committee have bid God-speed to the new Bishop of the Church of England in Eastern Equatorial Africa, the Right Rev. Alfred Robert Tucker, who started ten days ago, immediately after his consecration, for his future sphere of labour. They rejoice that, after two years of waiting, it has pleased God to give the Mission one so well qualified to be its leader, both physically and spiritually. Bishop Tucker will find a very different East Africa from that which even Bishop Parker saw. He will find Mombasa the busy headquarters of a powerful British Company, from whose beneficial influence upon the material and social progress of the country the Committee hope for much. He will find Frere Town happily provided with the very band of Christian ladies which his predecessor so earnestly desired. He will find the Cambridge party before referred to ready to accompany him into the interior. He will find a new route to the Lake, wholly in the British sphere of influence, rapidly opening up. If he is able to visit Usagara, he will find the faithful brethren of Mpwapwa and Mamboia at their posts, despite the destruction of their houses by Bushiri, grateful for the kindness of the German commander, Major Wissmann, and able to report large gatherings of Natives week by week to hear of the true God and His Son Jesus Christ. Clouds there are, no doubt; but, upon the whole, Mr. Price was right, and the prospects are distinctly brighter than a year ago.

Home matters.

The Committee must now turn to Home matters. They thankfully acknowledge that a real interest in the grand cause of the Evangelization of the World is distinctly growing in the country. Not only are Foreign Missions more generally recognized as the duty of the Church; not only do they receive more public notice than formerly;

but, what is of far greater importance, they are occupying a more prominent place in the thoughts and sympathies and prayers of the people of God. The Church Missionary Society has never lacked a constituency of whole-hearted praying people; but that constituency is perceptibly expanding, and, in particular, there is month by month a larger infusion into it of the ardent life of young Christian men and women. This is manifest in the now numerous Missionary Exhibitions and Sales of Work, large and small, that are being held in various towns and parishes; in the Farewell Meetings held in large centres in October; in the growth of the different new Unions, notably the Gleaners' Union; in the multiplication of little Missionary Bands, or companies of friends, meeting regularly for mutual instruction and united prayer, and ready to work actively in the promotion of the cause. It is a special and a hopeful feature of these new agencies that they are all spontaneous. They rise up without official initiation, and work in their own several ways, with scarcely any direction or even suggestion from Salisbury Square. Where they are locally fostered, started or supported by the parochial clergy, but worked by the young laymen or ladies themselves, the Local Association and its funds quickly feel the benefit of the fresh and youthful energy thrown into the cause. But the large majority of the parishes supporting the Society are still without any fresh effort, however humble, to increase interest and to band the workers together. The Committee would affectionately remind their clerical friends that if the number of missionaries in the field is to go on increasing at the present rate, there must be a general advance in the contributions throughout the country; and this can in the present day be most effectively secured by enlisting the younger brethren and sisters into the army of missionary home workers.

Missionary interest.

Ten years ago, in the spring of 1880, a Special Committee on the financial position of the Society reported that, to avoid debt, the expenditure must be limited to 185,000*l.* a year. The actual expenditure at the time was about 195,000*l.* The Society is now expending about 215,000*l.*, and the number of missionaries has risen from 257 to 390. How is this great increase being provided for? Not by the ordinary contributions of the Associations; that is to say, what is raised by the ordinary machinery of sermons, meetings, subscriptions, boxes, &c. An examination of the returns shows county after county sending up to the General Fund not a penny more than ten years ago; several sending up considerably less; and only five showing any substantial advance, viz. Bedfordshire, Devon, Middlesex, Somerset, and Surrey. The Associations have altogether advanced only some 6000*l.* in the ten years, and this is more than accounted for by the increase in London, in Ireland, and in some particular towns, mostly in the southern counties, where the fresh energies just referred to have been utilized. This, the Committee would observe, is not the expression of an opinion. It is the statement of a fact, patent to any one who examines the evidence. But the larger part of the contributions which have enabled the Committee to extend the Society's work have come in the occasional gifts of individual friends, either for the General Fund or for particular objects. These gifts are often the fruit of Association work; but they come almost entirely from the smaller circle of instructed and praying friends.

Income of the year.

The Committee, with humble gratitude to God, are enabled to present a financial account this year which is satisfactory beyond expectation. The total Ordinary Income has been 208,517*l.*, only 2800*l.* behind the quite exceptional figure of last year, which was swollen by 7000*l.* of gifts to meet the preceding year's deficit, and which also included the 4000*l.* given "in confidence," in response to certain outside criticisms. The Associations stand for 146,771*l.*, the highest figure on record by over 2000*l.*, which is accounted for by an increase of that amount from Ireland. Other satisfactory increases have only availed to cover the decreases in very many Associations. Benefactions stand for 26,385*l.*, also the highest figure on record; legacies for 23,862*l.*, which is below the average. Over and above the Ordinary Income are various Funds which, though called Special, really support the Society's regular missionary work, such as the Extension Fund, Nyanza Fund, Soudan Fund, &c. For these, 12,192*l.* has been contributed. Other Special Funds, such as gifts for investment and the interest on them, have brought in 39,573*l.*; and the grand total of receipts for the year is 260,282*l.*

Expenditure.

The Expenditure has been less than was estimated, owing to several Missions not having yet drawn the whole of the grants made to them. It is, after charging about 8000*l.* to Special Funds, less than the Ordinary Income by 1487*l.*, which sum, with some miscellaneous receipts, restores the Contingency Fund—the Fund that moves up and down with the annual credit or debit balances—to 8954*l.*

But if the Committee report on the funds with thankfulness, with still greater thankfulness do they report on the accessions to the missionary ranks. The number for the year is sixty-six.* This includes nineteen graduates of Cambridge, four of Oxford, one of London, and one of Dublin; making seventy-nine University men in the last four years, of whom forty-eight were from Cambridge. Of the brethren accepted in the past year, nineteen were already in holy orders (including one from the London College of Divinity, and one former missionary from Islington who has rejoined); and several of these were men of ministerial experience. Eleven Islington men have been ordained and added to the roll, one of them again reading the Gospel at St. Paul's Cathedral as first deacon; and five non-University laymen. Twenty-three ladies have been added, making fifty-six in three years. The supply, however, for systematic training, of young men of spiritual power and force of character, though of insufficient education, is still below what is required. Missionary candidates.

The increasing number of ladies coming forward for work in the Society's mission-fields is not to be measured by the number who join the C.M.S. The three auxiliary societies which send out only ladies add many who become virtually members of the missionary bands in those fields. In the past year, the C.E.Z.M.S. has begun operations in Ceylon; the I.F.N.S. is expanding its work in connexion with this Society in the North-West Provinces of India; the F.E.S. has added some devoted ladies to its staff in Palestine and elsewhere. Lady Missionaries.

But against these additions to the missionary forces must be set the removals of the year by death or otherwise. Eight times within the twelve months has the telegraph from far-off lands brought to Salisbury Square the tidings that a labourer has fallen. Edmonds of Japan, Valentine of Mid-China, the venerated Bishop Sargent of Deaths.

* The method of counting is rather different from that of former years. The custom has been to include all accepted, whether for service at once or for a long period of training. But in the case of the latter class of candidates, the real addition to the roll is those whose acceptance is ratified after training, and only these will be reckoned henceforward. The present enumeration, therefore, a little overlaps those of former years, but it affects the resulting figures very slightly.

Tinnevelly, Nevill of Sierra Leone, Kelsey of the Niger, Griffith of Ceylon, were taken one after the other; and now, within the past few weeks, the Society has had to mourn the loss of the young master of Merchant Taylors' School, E. J. Perry, who had gone out to Ceylon as Principal of Trinity College, Kandy, and (as already stated) Alexander Mackay of Uganda. Of missionaries' wives, Mrs. Rebsch, Mrs. Rowlands, Mrs. Eustace, and Mrs. Downes Shaw have been removed; of retired missionaries, F. F. Gough, Isaiah Wood, A. Morgan, and Miss E. G. Henderson; of Native clergymen, Piari Mohan Rudra and Jacob Biswas of Bengal, Charles Kushalli of Mauritius, and six Tinnevelly pastors, including their senior, Jesudasen John, son of the once famous John Devasagayam. Coming to home friends, the Society has lost, of Vice-Presidents, Bishops Lightfoot (Durham), Mackarness (formerly Oxford), and Bernard (Tuam), and Archdeacon Smart; of Honorary Life Governors, Canons France-Hayhurst and Roberts, James Vaughan of Brighton, and William Knight of Tiverton (formerly Secretary of the Society); of Honorary Life Members, Mrs. C. Kemble. The Rev. H. Hall-Houghton, the generous benefactor of some of the Society's Colleges, must also be mentioned.

New V.P.'s, &c.

The following new Vice-Presidents have been enrolled:—Ex-officio, being members of the Society, the new Bishops of Chester, Reading, and Eastern Equatorial Africa, and the Bishop-designate of Sydney (Dr. Saumarez Smith);* and appointed by the Committee, Lord Reay, G.C.S.I., late Governor of Bombay; Sir R. Temple, G.C.S.I., M.P., late Governor of Bombay; Sir Charles U. Aitchison, K.C.S.I., late Lieut.-Governor of the Punjab; and the Very Rev. W. Lefroy, D.D., Dean of Norwich.

To fill six vacancies in the list of One Hundred Honorary Governors for Life, the Committee have nominated the following friends, all of whom have amply fulfilled the condition of having rendered essential service to the Society:—The Rev. J. H. Acheson, of Chester; the Rev. F. Baldey, of Southsea; the Rev. Canon D. D. Stewart, of Coulsdon; W. Blakeney, Esq., late R.N.; Philip Vernon Smith, Esq., of Paddington; and Martin H. Sutton, Esq., of Reading.

* The Bishop of Durham, Dr. Westcott, was previously a Vice-President.

To the list of Honorary Members for Life (ladies) the following names have been added:—Mrs. W. H. Barlow (Islington), Mrs. R. Fry (Sec. of Ladies' Union for London), Mrs. G. F. W. Munby (Turvey), Miss Murray (Whitehaven), Miss Roberts (Sheffield), and Mrs. Ripley (Norwich).

Lay Secretary.

Two business matters have to be mentioned. (1) Shortly after the last Anniversary, the Committee nominated to the vacant Lay Secretaryship General Clennel Collingwood, late of the Royal Artillery, and they now submit his name, in pursuance of Law XX., for formal appointment by this Annual Meeting.

Day of Meeting of General Committee.

(2) With a view to facilitate the attendance at the monthly meetings of the General Committee of country members who are desirous to give the Society the benefit of their more active co-operation, the Committee recommend that the day of meeting be changed from the second Monday in the month to the second Tuesday; and they propose shortly to summon a General Meeting of the Society for the purpose of altering Law XXI. accordingly.

Conclusion.

In conclusion, the Committee, instead of further enlarging on the great theme themselves, desire to quote from three recent letters three striking sentences, praying the Lord of the Harvest to use them to touch many hearts, so that more labourers may be thrust forth into His harvest, and more earnestness thrown into the work of arousing sympathy, and prayer, and self-denying effort at home.

(1) A young missionary in the Bombay Presidency writes:—

"I have just received an account of a meeting for the Bishop of London's Fund. I see the report states that a clergyman is required for every two thousand of the population, and that in England where the work has been going on for so many centuries. I, a young and inexperienced missionary, have an itinerating district whose population, I believe, is about 700,000."

(2) The Vicar of St. James's, West Hartlepool, who has just gone forth to join the Niger Mission, thus writes of his first glimpses of the West African coast:—

"I have been struck during my voyage [along the coast] how one's eyes are opened more and more to the needs of the Heathen World. At whatever place we touch, we find the Heathen still in utter darkness, and what little Mission work there is seems only but to touch the fringe of the great gloom. I feel as I have never felt before the widespread and terrible power of Satan in this land, and how little, how very little the Church of Christ is doing to cope with it."

(3) The Rev. S. A. Selwyn, writing from Abeokuta, not to the Society, but to his own people at Hatcham, says:—

"Never talk about Home Heathen any more in the same breath with dark Heathenism as it is here."

These last are the words, not of a missionary, but of a London clergyman who knows what "home heathen" are, and has worked nobly amongst them.

What shall we then say to these things? The Church Missionary Society is in the last decade of its century of existence. The nineteenth century itself will begin its last decade within a few months. Surely it is high time to awake out of sleep, and to bend the best energies of the Church to the greatest of all the works given her by her Divine Lord, the Evangelization of the whole World. The time may be very short. The coming of the Lord draweth nigh. "Behold, I come quickly; and My reward is with Me, to give every man according as his work shall be."

Missions.

WEST AFRICA MISSION.

Sierra Leone, 1816; Port Lokkoh, 1876.

It seems desirable to explain that the Society's use of this term "West Africa" in the nomenclature of its Missions differs from its accepted general meaning; and further, that the latter is considerably limited within the full signification of the words. As usually understood, the expression "West Africa" does not apply to the whole of the vast western seaboard and contiguous countries of the continent, from Morocco to the Cape of Good Hope, as might naturally be supposed. On the contrary, its application is confined to that part of the continent which stretches along the coast from the River Senegal to the Cameroon Mountains, the aspect of which is indeed south, as to its main extent, and not west. Inland, it includes all the basin of the Niger; the Great Sahara bounds it on the north; and the 15th degree of west longitude, which crosses Lake Tchad, may be regarded as its limit eastward. Recently the country further south, watered by the Ogowé and the Congo, has sometimes been included under this designation.

"West Africa."

But in the Reports of the Church Missionary Society, the West Africa Mission is confined to the Colony of Sierra Leone, and its immediate neighbourhood. The continued use of the term in this very limited sense serves as a witness to the hope, which has always animated the Committee regarding Sierra Leone, that it would be the base for missionary operations in the interior. And in one sense this hope has not been disappointed, but may rather be said to have been realized beyond the most sanguine anticipations of the Founders of the Society, whose pious expectation probably was to evangelize first one tribe and then proceed to the next, until the whole of West Africa should have heard the Word. It has pleased God by His providence, overruling the measures of statesmen and the practices of men-stealers, to provide a quicker way for the enlightening of this thickly-peopled corner of the Dark Continent, and the Natives of the Yoruba country and of the Niger basin, having been converted and instructed at Sierra Leone, have returned to their fatherlands to proclaim spiritual liberty to their countrymen.

Sierra Leone.

State of the Church.

But the human stream which has flowed back from the Colony has not been wholly pure or purifying. The Christian profession has not always been adorned by Sierra Leone men, as, alas! it is not always by Englishmen, at Lagos and on the Niger. Moreover, the spiritual agents sent forth from the parishes of Sierra Leone have not invariably by example and conversation and preaching manifested and set forth the sanctifying and self-effacing grace of the Gospel. And, it must sadly be added, the prevailing spiritual tone of the Christian congregations in Sierra Leone itself fully accounts for these things. In making these reflections the Committee have no desire to repudiate a measure of responsibility for what they deplore; and they have certainly spent many anxious hours and days during the past year in endeavouring to devise plans, in humble dependence on Him Who has the seven spirits of God and the seven stars, with the view to strengthening the things which remain.

Some of these plans relate exclusively to the Niger Mission, and will be referred to more at large thereunder. But, as regards Sierra Leone, the Committee have been greatly encouraged by the offer of his services, temporarily for the present, of the Rev. Sydney Augustus Selwyn, M.A., of Caius College, Cambridge, whose labours as Vicar of St. James', Hatcham, have been greatly blessed during the past four years. The Bishop of Rochester having granted him six months' leave of absence from his parish, the Committee thankfully assigned to him the work of visiting Sierra Leone and the Yoruba country, for the purpose of holding Special Mission services for the quickening and deepening of spiritual life in the Native Christians. Mr. Selwyn was commended in prayer by the Committee to the protection and favour of Almighty God on November 19th, and on May 20th they welcomed him upon his return, and heard his deeply interesting, and in many ways very encouraging, account of his experience and work. He informed the Committee that he had brought a thank-offering amounting to nearly 100*l*., given unsolicited by the churches of Abeokuta, Lagos, and Sierra Leone.

Rev. S. A. Selwyn.

The same day on which the Committee welcomed Mr. Selwyn's offer of service, they received the mournful tidings of the death of the Rev. Frank Nevill, the Principal of Fourah Bay College. Mr. Nevill, who was a graduate of Trinity College, Cambridge, and had been Curate of Emmanuel Church, Maida Hill, went out to Sierra Leone in 1884. He died from fever, consequent on exposure, on November 2nd. Mr. Nevill took a prominent and valuable part in all work connected with the welfare of the West African Church and people, and exerted during his short period of missionary service a deep and wide influence for good. Unequivocal testimony to his untiring, conscientious, and courageous labours, and to the generosity and innate kindliness of his nature, was received by the Committee from prominent West African friends in Sierra Leone. A touching account of his last hours was communicated by the Bishop :— Death of Rev. F. Nevill,

> He arranged for a telegram to be sent to you saying he was dead, and asking for a new Principal at once. Then he called all around him, servants and all, and bade them good-bye. Then he said, "I believe that Jesus Christ died for the sins of the world." "I believe that all my sins are forgiven for Jesus Christ's sake." The last moment of consciousness that I can feel sure of was when, on the Saturday morning (after this night), he said a very clear and intelligent "Amen!" to a prayer I offered by his bedside.

Miss E. G. Henderson, who laboured in this Mission as Principal of the Annie Walsh Institution for a short time in 1887 and 1888, and who had previously been Principal of the Alexandra Girls' Boarding-school at Amritsar under the C.E.Z.M.S., died at Edinburgh in April. and of Miss E. G. Henderson.

The Rev. H. McC. E. Price was obliged to come home owing to ill-health in July, and medical opinion gave him no encouragement to return to West Africa. He offered to do so, however, temporarily, on the receipt of the news of Mr. Nevill's death. Miss Nevill, also in somewhat feeble health, came home in November.

The Rev. E. Leversuch, an Islington student, who was admitted to Deacon's Orders by the Bishop of London on Trinity Sunday, June 16th, was assigned by the Committee to this Mission, and arrived at Sierra Leone early in November ; so also did Miss Ellen Dunkley, whose appointment to the principalship of the Annie Walsh Institution was mentioned in last year's Report. Miss H. Bisset returned from a few months' furlough at the same time.

The acting-secretaryship of the Mission necessarily devolved upon Mr. Leversuch immediately upon his arrival.

SIERRA LEONE.

Fourah Bay College.

Bay College was written a few days before his fatal illness commenced. Indeed, his Annual Letter, which contains this report, although it commences with an expression of thankfulness for health and strength established by his visit to England in 1888, was sent home unsigned, and apparently not quite finished. Since his death, the Rev. S. Spain, the senior tutor in the College, who has lately passed his final examinations at Durham University for his B.A. degree, has assumed, by the Committee's appointment, the duties of Acting Principal, pro tempore. Mr. Nevill referred to him in his last letter as "a backbone of strength" in the College. Mr. Spain had a similar charge in conjunction with Mr. M. Wilson, another Native tutor, for a few months in 1886. The latter has been ordained during the past year to a curacy in connexion with the Native Church, and Mr. D. J. Coker, a graduate of Durham, and a Second Class Licentiate in Theology, who entered the College as a student on a C.M.S. scholarship soon after Mr. Nevill became Principal in 1884, has been appointed to his place.

Scholarships.

The interest of Durham University in its affiliated institution has been shown by the opening of a "Durham Scholarship," supported by subscriptions of members of that University. The student elected to this scholarship will, if spared, devote himself to the missionary work of the Sierra Leone Church at Bullom. A second scholarship has been founded, with the Committee's consent, by means of savings in the College disbursements as compared with income. And the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge has generously granted, through the Bishop, two sums of 30*l*. a year each for five years, for the training of schoolmasters. Hitherto the Mission has been almost entirely dependent on such scholarships for the training of its agents; but a very gratifying feature of the past year has been the readiness shown by some parents to provide the whole or the larger portion of their sons' training for ministerial or missionary service. Five such students have been at the College during the year.

Progress in education.

Mr. Nevill, in his Annual Letter, instituted a comparison between the curriculum in 1840, before the College was enlarged, and that of 1889:—

In 1840.

Monday.—Reading, writing in copybooks, principles of music, arithmetic, singing.

Tuesday.—Infant schools, Bible history, writing from dictation, Latin (first class), English grammar (second class), arithmetic.

Monday.—Hebrew Psalms, Macaulay's Essays, Tacitus, 1 Samuel, logic, mechanics, Arabic, Greek, and Latin grammar.

Tuesday.—Biblical criticism, Greek Testament, St. John, St. Luke, Irenæus, Plato's Republic, arithmetic, algebra, and English history.

He added:—

The fact that students can now pass the Durham University B.A. and L.Th. standards in these and similar subjects shows, I think, more clearly than anything else, the progress made in education in this colony. For instance, this year three students passed their B.A. final, two their first year, and one his first year L.Th.; and now five are sitting for their first year B.A., two for their final, and three for their L.Th. final.

The work among the Timnehs in Cline's Town, which is attached to the College as an evangelistic sphere, has been continued. The attendance of heathen at the Sunday afternoon services has averaged thirty-six, and one was baptized by Mr. Nevill, after careful instruction by the Native evangelist, Mr. Turner.

Grammar School.

The Grammar School was re-opened, enlarged by the addition of a new wing, on April 30th. There were 155 pupils in September, when several left to enter the College. The Native Principal, the Rev. O. Moore, refers to the thankworthy change in the attitude of parents towards ministerial work alluded to above. He says:—

In former years, boys educated in the Grammar School at their people's expense invariably followed secular callings, especially when talented, leaving the missionary work to those emphatically called "missionary boys," those that the Society educates for its work. Of late, parents have begun to give up their sons after having educated them. Two of those who left us this year for the College were educated entirely at their fathers' expense. They are lads of bright abilities and good parts, and could easily have secured secular offices by means of their family influence; but they offered for the work. One such left us last year in the same way for the College. One who was a parlour-boarder is now in the Port Lokkoh Mission, working under the Rev. J. A. Alley, the Society's missionary. This is hopeful.

The Bible Union has seventy members among the boys, and Mr. Moore believes, with good reason, that at all events many of the members regularly read the appointed daily portions of the Word of God. An interesting gathering of "old boys" was held in the school in December last. Mr. Moore's description and remarks must be quoted:—

"Old boys."

On the 19th inst., just before we broke up for the Christmas vacation, we gave a "Re-union Concert" to the "old boys" of the school. We would foster an esprit de corps between the old and present generation of our boys. There were present in our hall that evening about 200, all old pupils of the School, who happened to be in Freetown at the time and could accept our invitation. It was a remarkable gathering. One old pupil is a Native pastor, another is Acting Principal at the College, another a minister in one of the Methodist connexions; there was the Acting Queen's Advocate, the Postmaster, an Assistant Colonial Secretary (the first Native holding such a post under Government), the Acting Colonial Surgeon, the Army Schoolmaster, doctors and lawyers in full practice, besides others in other walks of life,—all were in the hall, answering to the call of "old boys." Men speak captiously about the fruit of missionary efforts. Taking education as a side-issue in the great work, here is result, here is good fruit surely. The work is singularly successful and fruitful, a single branch of which, in a small place like Sierra Leone, can point out to so many useful men come together after a short notice, high in the service of the Government and in the Church, and rendering useful services in various ways to their country. With the exception of very few who finished in England, all these had their entire education at the Society's Grammar School. To have trained them all is cause enough to thank God and take courage.

Annie Walsh School.

Miss B. H. Nevill was without the assistance of a European sister at the Annie Walsh Institution from June, when Miss Bisset left, until November, when she herself left. The Native teachers, however, undertook cheerfully the extra work which devolved upon them, and Miss Dunkley found the School "in excellent order" upon her arrival, when she immediately succeeded to the charge. The number of girls on the roll in October was sixty-three, of whom thirty-five were boarders.

Bishop's charge.

The condition and the needs of the Sierra Leone Native Church cannot be more fitly stated than by extracting a few passages from the Bishop's Second Triennial Charge, delivered in St. George's Cathedral in May. Of the events of the three years, 1886-89, the Bishop gave the following epitome:—

Retrospect.

General Retrospect.—This three years' interval has been marked by events, some important and closely affecting us, which claim at least a passing word. Let me then mention: the joint jubilee of our Queen and centenary of our colony in 1887; the completion and opening, after painful and protracted delays, of the Wilberforce Memorial Hall; the cessation of the anomalous condition of the ministry of this Cathedral, by the appointment at length of one of our African pastors to its care as Assistant-Chaplain; the appointment of a first African Archdeacon of Sierra Leone; the enlargement and reopening of the Grammar School; the erection and opening of the long-desired Cathedral School; the building of a C.M.S. Sanatorium on Leicester Mountain; the official visit (the first since 1816) of a member of the C.M.S. Committee; the consequent decision of that Society to undertake missionary work amongst Mohammedans in Freetown, and to send a missionary also to the Sherbro district; the decision of the home authorities to grant a Bishop to the Yoruba country, thus setting me more free for this important region; the final withdrawal of C.M.S. aid, complete this year, from the Sierra Leone Church; the disestablishment by Government of the Colonial Chaplaincy at Bathurst, Gambia; and the so far successful effort to plant an African pastorate there—a movement which bids fair to establish the Church more firmly than before; the appointment of one of our African pastors to Cape Coast Castle, after a fruitful term of service at Accra, and the appointment, for the first time, of a European chaplain to Accra.

Regarding Missionary Work, the Constitution of the Church, and Heathen Ceremonies, the following paragraphs will convey some sense of the Bishop's faithful and affectionate address :—

Missionary Work.—It must still be said of us that, as a Church, we do little more as yet than recognize the principle that a Church of Christ must be aggressive and missionary. But our little Missionary Society is as active as we will allow it to be! Enthusiasm is a sine quâ non in such work as this. My brethren, such work as must be done, if Christianity is to be planted in surrounding countries, will require, not only in those who control the work here, but in those who go to do it, a self-sacrifice, an enterprise, a devotion, which have hitherto (I say it in all loving faithfulness) been all but absent. I cannot help feeling it unfortunate, that the Church Missionary Society, having once obtained such a splendid base of operations as this mountainous peninsula, did not at once work forward from it north and east and south. I trust that, even now, these regions are not altogether to be kept waiting for the Sierra Leone Church to win them. I am far from wishing to spare you such honourable work, but I do not consider that you as yet fulfil the conditions under which alone such work can be successfully done. The message going forth from you must be an overflow of your own strong and true life. When the tide rises, the overflow will come, and the message will go. In the power of the Spirit there will be a going forth of love and sympathy, of earnest desire and of readiness to endure hardness, towards our less favoured brethren around. Oh, that I might witness such a time!

Missionary work to be done

Church Constitution.—I thus come directly to speak upon the necessity for an immediate revision of the Articles of Arrangement. The necessity lies in the fact that we have outgrown the old ones for many a year, that they never were intended to be a final, much less a legal, document, but merely a bonâ fide experiment, and that our present position, without some revised agreement between yourselves and the Bishop and the C.M.S., is dangerous to good order and edification. There seems to be no doubt that a large majority desire a revision, but there is also no doubt that a small minority are against it. The matter has been delayed, with the hope of obtaining some unanimity in so important a matter, and I shall deem last year's misunderstandings not unfortunate, if I discover a more general disposition now to unite for so good an object.

Articles of Arrangement.

The revised Articles of Arrangement referred to by the Bishop have since been forwarded to England and sanctioned, with slight modifications, by the Committee, and approved by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of London; and, finally, to the great relief and thankfulness of those chiefly concerned, were accepted by a representative committee in Sierra Leone in March last.

Special Mission.

The Rev. J. A. Selwyn commenced his labours in Sierra Leone on February 16th with a three days' Mission to the students of Fourah Bay College. On Ash Wednesday, February 19th, special services were commenced at the Cathedral, which were continued during the following twelve days. Then the parishes of Kissey, Wellington, Waterloo, Hastings, Benguema, Regent, and Kissey Road, were visited; and services at Sherbro, from April 10th to 14th, concluded a Mission which the Bishop believes will prove a turning-point in the spiritual history of this Church. "Mr. Selwyn has been used," Bishop Ingham writes, "to soften men's hearts as I have never seen them softened here before."

While the Mission was proceeding the Bishop issued an appeal in behalf of the Pastorate Fund of the Sierra Leone Church, which was considerably in debt, and the salaries of the pastors, in consequence, were in arrear. The response was prompt and generous, nearly 400*l.* being contributed within four weeks.

PORT LOKKOH.

Port Lokkoh.

The work at this station is under the Rev. J. A. Alley, who reports the baptism of five adults, about whose conversion he has no doubt. One of these, a woman, has been a regular church attendant for several years, and a second is an aged blind slave, who heard the Gospel in a neighbouring town. The number of baptized Christians is sixty, and of unbaptized adherents thirty, and there are nineteen communicants. In the two schools twenty-nine boys and thirteen girls receive instruction.

The Rev. S. Taylor was transferred temporarily, on medical certificate, from Makori to Sierra Leone in June, and Mr. Turner, the lay evangelist labouring at Cline's Town, took up his work. A second out-station at Makomp, about seventeen miles from Port Lokkoh, was opened in January last year. Two lay agents, Mr. Cole and Mr. Elba, are stationed there, and report encouraging attendances at the Sunday services.

Translations.

The Book of Leviticus was translated into Timneh during the year, and the MS. has been received at Salisbury Square.

Reinforcements.

In the safe return of the Rev. J. B. Wood, accompanied by Mrs. Wood, who is a daughter of Canon Green, formerly Principal of the Society's College at Islington, and in the arrival of a further reinforcement of four European missionaries (three others were reported last year), this Mission has received a welcome assurance that its needs and opportunities are remembered by the Church, and a pledge, it may be humbly hoped, that the Church's Lord is about to visit and refresh it. The Rev. S. S. Farrow, of the Islington College, who had been ordained on Trinity Sunday by the Bishop of London, and Miss Mary Tynan, sailed in company with Mr. and Mrs. Wood in October; and the Rev. Herbert Tugwell, B.A., of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, Curate of Petworth, Sussex (a nephew of Canon Tugwell, and cousin of a former C.M.S. missionary at Metlakahtla), and Miss Aimée Laura Wright, in company with Bishop Crowther and the Niger party, left in February.

Ordinations.

The Bishop of Sierra Leone spent the greater part of December and January in this Mission, at Lagos and Abeokuta. On January 12th, at the latter place, he admitted the Rev. S. S. Farrow to Priest's Orders, and Mr. D. O. Williams to Deacon's Orders.

The visit of the Rev. S. A. Selwyn happily almost synchronized with that of the Bishop. He reached Lagos on December 30th, and Abeokuta on January 4th, and conducted a ten days' Special Mission at each place, at Abeokuta first and then at Lagos. He left the latter place for Sierra Leone, together with the Bishop and Mrs. Ingham, on January 29th.

LAGOS AND THE COAST DISTRICT.

Lagos.

The Rev. J. Vernall came home on medical certificate in the autumn, and the Rev. T. Harding has temporarily succeeded to his duties, which include, besides the Secretaryship of the Mission, the pastoral charge of Christ Church, Faji. At this church—with the exception of two addresses by interpretation at Breadfruit—the services of the Special Mission were held. Regarding these services, the Rev. S. A. Selwyn wrote before leaving Lagos:—

Mr. Selwyn's Mission.

The Mission here has been, thank God, a time of blessing. All through the week the congregations have increased both in the morning (7 a.m.) and evening, and about fifty each evening have openly given themselves to Christ. Each day, from Saturday, the 18th, till yesterday, I have preached twice, besides after-meetings; and on the two Sundays and last Saturday (when I conducted a Quiet Day for the clergy) I have preached three times. This morning (7.30) I went to another church, the Rev. James Johnson's, and preached to about 600 Christian people, through an interpreter, and they listened attentively.

And the Bishop wrote:—

The Mission began on the Saturday evening, January 18th. The Governor and his wife came to the opening service, and a good congregation. The congregations increased and became more and more attentive. There was some very close dealing with individuals, and all felt the freshness of the appeals made, and the power. The Mission lasted ten days. It was all in English except two addresses at Breadfruit. A special feature was two Sunday afternoon addresses to men only, at Christ Church. The Governor came each time, and a good number of white men, who seemed to like it.

Training Institution.

The Rev. J. Brayne has had charge of the Training Institution, except during a few weeks after Mr. Vernall left, when the Rev. R. Kidd came down from Abeokuta to take up the work and enable Mr. Brayne to discharge the duties of the secretaryship. No report has been received, and the only fact of interest which has been communicated is that in December a "Valedictory Dismissal" was held, when seven of the students were taken leave of and commissioned to posts as teachers and catechists at different stations in this Mission.

The Lagos Finance Committee have sanctioned the issue of an edition of the Rev. H. C. G. Moule's "The Christian's Victory over Sin," translated into Yoruba, from the Printing-press, the expense to be defrayed from the profits of the book-shop.

Female Institution.

The Female Institution has had a prosperous year under Miss Goodall and Miss Higgins. The report of the Government Inspector on the examination held in November is even more satisfactory than that of the previous year, when the first class was presented for the first time. The reading was declared to be "the best on the Coast," and in plain needlework the girls were far ahead of all others. Six prizes were taken by the Institution. Miss Goodall wrote:—

Our dear girls have worked really well throughout the year; we knew that before he told us, but it is as well to have it from a stranger; it does good in many ways, and, I hope, will encourage the parents to send their girls at a younger age. The Governor and his wife were present at the public examination, and he was very interested. He was so pleased with the cooking that he has offered us a prize of 2*l.* 2*s.* for the best-cooked dish. We have not yet decided what is to be cooked. I suggested that he should divide his prize and give half to a Native dish and half to an English dish; and I think he will do so. Mrs. Denton wrote to me afterwards to express her pleasure and interest. She says, "How much every one admired their general demeanour and the good tone throughout." I know you will be glad to hear this, and that they deserved it. I find them very ready to take any word I may have dropped about their dress, &c., and a set of girls more neat and simple in attire you could not have seen; no finery, no jewellery. The Bishop and Mrs. Ingham have remarked on this also; also on their manners.

Grammar School.

The Rev. Isaac Oluwole, the Native Principal of the Grammar School, reports a year of much outward prosperity. There were seventy pupils at the end of the year, the largest number yet attained to during the thirteen years of the school's history. Mr. Oluwole says, "As years go by I feel more and more my great responsibility to those who come within our walls." He believes that Mr. Selwyn's Mission was made a blessing to some of the boys.

Badagry.

The Rev. D. Coker, of BADAGRY, dwells, in his Annual Letter, on the excitement prevalent in the neighbourhood in consequence of the fighting between the Dahomians and the people of Porto Novo, the latter assisted by the French, under whose protection the town is. He reports a slightly improved attendance at the services.

Native Pastorates.

The thirteenth Annual Report of the Lagos Native Pastorate Association for the year ending March, 1888, was not received until late last year. The number of enrolled members in the several pastorates, viz. Breadfruit, Aroloya, Ebute Ero, St. Peter's, and Ebute Meta, was 1703, of whom 1373 were communicants.

The Rev. James Johnson conducted a Special Mission in Breadfruit Church in May last year; the services held in his church by Mr. Selwyn have been already alluded to. A Temperance Society was formed at Lagos soon after Mr. Johnson's return from his visit to England in 1888, and mainly through his efforts, of which several branch associations have sprung into existence.

The Lagos Church is raising a fund, in memory of the late Rev. C. A. Gollmer, the interest of which will be expended in providing scholarships at the Lagos Grammar School.

The Bishop confirmed 264 candidates in the several pastorates, including Christ Church, in January.

INTERIOR MISSION: ABEOKUTA AND IBADAN.

Abeokuta.

The Rev. T. Harding was in charge at ABEOKUTA throughout the year, his residence there being interrupted by a six weeks' itinerating tour in the autumn, and by occasional visits to Lagos to attend meetings of the Finance Committee. The Rev. R. Kidd's language studies have been somewhat impeded by an enforced visit to the coast, rendered necessary by the state of his health, in May, and by his summons a few months later to occupy a temporary vacancy in the Lagos Training Institution. He has, however, made a good beginning in this important matter. December saw this station materially strengthened by the arrival, first of the Rev. S. S. Farrow, and later of the Rev. J. B. and Mrs. Wood and Miss Tynan, who accompanied the Bishop and Mrs. Ingham.

The Rev. W. Moore, after thirty-three years of ministerial service, has retired from the pastoral charge of Ikija, and the Rev. D. Williams has been transferred thither from Ake. The Rev. D. O. Williams, the newly-ordained deacon, is appointed to Ake, where he will have the privilege of Mr. Wood's supervision.

Confirmations.

During his three weeks' stay, the Bishop visited the pastorates of Ake, Igbore, Ikija, and Osielle, also the farm villages of Agbawon and Ofada, where agents are supported by the Abeokuta Church Missions, and confirmed 253 candidates. He wrote :—

> I had a rather unusual supplement to my Abeokuta confirmations this time in the shape of a magic-lantern. I had some beautiful Scripture slides which, with the lantern, were the gift of the S.P.C.K. for the diocese, and I think the exhibition of them gave great pleasure, and I hope a fuller realization of the Bible facts and scenes. The audience was rather overwhelming on one or two occasions, but it evidently took well.

The Bishop opened a new church at Igbore, with which he was greatly pleased, as he was also with the heartiness of the congregation under their pastor, the Rev. S. Doherty. The church was crowded on the occasion, and there was almost as large a congregation outside.

Preparation for the Special Mission.

The Special Mission commenced on Sunday, January 5th. In preparation for it, the Bishop had gathered together daily since his arrival the pastors, catechists, their wives, and other workers, for prayer, which all felt to be helpful. The services were all held at Ake Church. Of those of the first Sunday, Mr. Selwyn, writing to members of his own family, said :—

I began the Mission here last Sunday. At 7 a.m. we had Holy Communion, when 220 came, the Natives being admitted by ticket. It was the first Holy Communion I had been to since I left home, and, though the service was in Yoruba, yet it was difficult to keep the tears from coming. And, oh! the sight of these poor people, with their half-naked bodies, many of them kneeling down like little children, and responding so earnestly. It was the most impressive sight I have ever seen. Some of the mothers came to the Holy Communion rail with their babies tied to their backs with a shawl. And the great savage-looking men, with their cheeks all marked, some with spear-cuts, and some with the particular three-stripe mark of the Egba tribe; there they were, like lambs, and in their right mind, by the power of the Holy Spirit. Of course there were both men and women who had European dress, but the majority were dressed in Native fashion, and had very little on.

The Lord's Supper at Abeokuta.

Then came the 10.30. a.m. service. The church, I should say, holds 1000, and it was simply packed with Christians of all sorts, and a good many heathen and Mohammedans. It was my first sermon to heathens, though, of course, I spoke much more to the Christians. I took the three hills in Psalm cxxi., Calvary, Moriah, and Olives, and pleaded with the heathen to give up Shongo, Oro, and Obalata, and all their other gods, and turn to Him who loved them and gave Himself for them, and begged the Christians to consecrate themselves more fully to Him who gave Himself as a free-will offering for them. Of course every sentence had to be interpreted. At first it was very tiresome, but I am used to it now; and I know the dear Master has been with me, and has helped me.

In the afternoon, at four, we had an evening service, and again the church was packed, heaps of people standing by the twelve large windows, and kneeling just when we knelt, though many were heathen. I took as my text, "What shall I do with Jesus?" and at the end meant to have finished with the question, "Which will you have, Satan or Jesus, who died for you?" But the congregation shouted with one great voice, directly the interpreter had spoken, "Jesus, Jesus!"

"Which will you have?"

We had an after-meeting. It was most difficult to get the people out, but at last we got about fifty inquirers round us, whom I left to Mr. Wood and the catechists. One man came to Mr. Harding, and said he wished to give up "Shongo" (the god of thunder), and serve Jesus.

The Bishop's impressions of the services and the results were thus stated to the Committee:—

If crowded congregations, extreme attention, and a good thanksgiving offertory prove anything, the Mission took hold. But there was more than that. There were searchings of heart about polygamy, and many requests for prayer. The most striking part of the Mission week at Ake was the zeal and heartiness of the catechists of the various districts, who threw themselves into the work with a completeness which won Mr. Selwyn's heart. I will only add that, since we left Abeokuta we have heard of seven men from an outlying township who had been inquirers for some time, who have since come to Mr. Wood to apply for baptism, expressing their willingness to give up wives, &c. Indeed I understood that the wives took the initiative, and hearing their lords sought baptism, offered to release them.

Heartiness of the catechists.

Looking at the whole Abeokuta visit, I am disposed to say that I think it looks now as though the chiefs of Abeokuta were feeling that Christianity is bound to take hold. I think they feel that the Christians are getting too strong for them to be other than friendly, and I am of opinion that a little bold aggressiveness now on the part of the European missionaries might be attended with lasting results. I am more certain than ever that a loving, wise, and firm bishop, to travel constantly from station to station, taking a strong oversight, is a great necessity.

Attitude of the chiefs.

After seeing something of the superstition and ignorance and misery of the heathen in Abeokuta, Mr. Selwyn, who is by close personal contact well acquainted with the masses of South London, where it is said that "Christianity is not in possession," remarked, "Never talk about home heathen any more in the same breath with heathenism as it is here."

The home heathen and the heathen in Africa.

Owing to the unsettled state of the country through protracted and devastating wars, and to the consequent closing of the roads, IBADAN has been left of necessity since 1877, when the Rev. David Hinderer finally returned to Europe, to the care of Mr. Hinderer's special protégé, the Rev. Daniel Olubi, and his helpers. Only once or twice during this period have European missionaries reached so far into the interior In August last, however, Mr. Harding, travelling first to the coast and then through the Ijebu country, succeeded in visiting not only Ibadan, but also Oyo (pastor, Rev. S. Johnson), Ogbomosho, and Iseyin, spending twelve days at the first-named place and eight at the second. He was very warmly welcomed by the Native clergy, teachers, and Christians, and the heathen showed much readiness to hear the Word. But at all the stations visited Mr. Harding desiderated a more devout and aggressive spirit in both agents and people, and his report concludes with a request for earnest prayer in their behalf.

Ibadan. Visit of Rev. I. Harding.

ONDO MISSION.

The Rev. C. Phillips refers to many difficulties which beset his work at ODE ONDO and its outstations, Ayesan and Itebu. But he has also experienced encouragements. Some of the communicants at Ode Ondo evidently prize united prayer, and, in addition to stated weekly prayer-meetings, he has found that others have been privately held by some of the young men of the congregation. He baptized six adults on Easter Day.

NIGER MISSION.

Onitsha, 1857; Lokoja, 1865; Bonny, 1866; Brass, 1868; Asaba, 1875; Kipo Hill, 1876; Gbebe, reoccupied, 1879; Okrika, 1884; Ida, 1887.

The Committee's hopes and plans in 1857,

WHEN, in 1857, the Society initiated this Mission, and in response to the personal invitation of Mr. Macgregor Laird (the owner of the Pleiad, which had made so successful an ascent of the Niger and Binue in 1854) undertook to send "a select band of acclimatized men" to accompany the expedition which, in conjunction with the Queen's Government, he had organized, the Committee had in view, in prayerful dependence upon the Divine blessing, the Soudan as the ultimate sphere of their efforts, and Sierra Leone as the immediate source of their agents. They probably underrated the difficulties, and perhaps they generously over-estimated the spiritual force for such an aggressive and prolonged warfare which the Church of Sierra Leone had received. In consequence of the death at that time of Bishop Weeks and of two Sierra Leone European missionaries, the "band" which accompanied the Rev. Samuel Crowther consisted of only one Native clergyman from Sierra Leone, and an interpreter who was subsequently engaged as a catechist. Leaving these to occupy Onitsha and Gbebe, Mr. Crowther proceeded further up the river, in obedience to the Committee's instructions, with the intention of visiting the great Mohammedan city of Sokoto, in the Soudan; but the wreck of the Dayspring, near Rabbah, arrested his journey, and Sokoto has not to this day been visited by a missionary. The Mohammedans residing at, or who have visited, Lokoja and Kipo Hill have had opportunities of hearing the Gospel, and of possessing themselves of the written Word in Arabic, Hausa, and Nupe; but no open active efforts have been made for their conversion, and none of them have been baptized. The work that has been done at these stations has been among the Pagan people.

But the aim of reaching the Mohammedans of the Soudan has never been abandoned, and the Committee have no thought of relinquishing the hope that in the main the evangelization of the Niger regions will be effected through the instrumentality of converted Africans. In the light, however, of the past thirty years' experience, and aided by the representations and the arguments of the Rev. J. A.

Robinson, the Committee have arrived at the conclusion that in order to give effect to these aims it is desirable to give stronger prominence than hitherto to the work among the followers of Mohammed, and also to introduce European missionaries to labour side by side with their African brethren, and endeavour to lead them on to more vigorous and spiritual methods of work. The latter course, viz. the introduction of European labourers, has frequently been urged by Bishop Crowther, and the Committee were very grateful to him for responding to their invitation to return again to this country in order to assist them in conference regarding the details of a scheme for the improvement and re-organization of the Mission.

New Divisions of the Mission.

It is proposed, for the future, that the Mission shall be divided into two sections by a line running east and west through Beaufort Island. The northern section will be known as the "Soudan and Upper Niger Mission," and will be principally to the Mohammedan tribes speaking the Hausa and Nupe languages; Lokoja will be its headquarters. The southern section will be called the "Delta and Lower Niger Mission," and will be mainly directed to the evangelization of the Pagan population speaking the Idzo and Ibo languages, having Bonny and Onitsha as the headquarters of the Delta and main river respectively.

The seal of God's approval of these measures, as the Committee humbly believe, was bestowed, even while they were under consideration, by His giving the labourers required in order to carry them into effect. The return home at this time of Mr. Graham Wilmot Brooke from the Upper Niger, where, at Lokoja, he had spent several weeks in the study of Hausa with the view to labouring among the Mohammedan tribes of the Soudan, and his offer of his services in immediate connexion with the Society as an Honorary Missionary, materially assisted and encouraged the Committee in their deliberations; and the spontaneous offer for this Mission of Mr. Charles Forbes Harford-Battersby, B.A., M.B., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P., son of the late Canon Battersby, Vicar of Keswick, enabled them to add a medical auxiliary to the Soudan Mission, from which the Committee hope much may result in the way of allaying the prejudices of the Mohammedans, and for which the Preparandi Training Institution building at Lokoja provides an excellent hospital ready to hand. The other labourers accepted for the Soudan and Upper Niger Mission were:—Mr. Eric Lewis, B.A., of Corpus Christi College and

European Missionaries to the Soudan and Upper Niger Mission,

Ridley Hall, Cambridge, a friend of Mr. Brooke's, who was admitted a few weeks later to Deacon's Orders on Sunday, January 19th, by Bishop Crowther, at Trinity Church, Cambridge; and Miss Lucy Ward Lewis, sister of the last named. Mr. Wilmot Brooke was married in December to his cousin, Miss Margaret Graham Brooke, a granddaughter of two of the early missionaries of the Society, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jetter, who laboured in Bengal and Smyrna.

and to the Delta and Lower Niger Mission.

The Rev. Frederick N. Eden, M.A., of Pembroke College, Cambridge, Vicar of St. James's, West Hartlepool, in response to the Committee's invitation, accepted the post of Secretary of the Delta and Lower Niger Mission. The Committee also welcomed the offers of service of Mr. Eden's Curate, the Rev. Henry H. Dobinson, B.A., of Brasenose College, Oxford; and of Mr. Philip Alfred Bennett, who has spent several years in South Africa, and who has recently been engaged in spiritual work in the parish of St. James's, Bermondsey.

The Secretary and leaders of the Soudan party.

By his own desire, the Rev. J. A. Robinson, M.A., of Christ's College, Cambridge, whose two and a half years' services in the difficult post of Secretary of the Mission have been so valuable, has been assigned to take a part in the direct missionary work among the Mohammedans; and, though much against his own wishes, as he desired the entire conduct of this section to be entrusted to Mr. Brooke, he has been appointed Secretary of the Soudan and Upper Niger Mission, in which capacity he will represent the Committee's views in the Mission and will conduct the official correspondence with the Committee. At the same time, in deference to Mr. Robinson's strongly-expressed wishes, and in recognition of Mr. Wilmot Brooke's varied experience in different parts of Africa, his long-felt desire and reiterated attempts by various routes to reach the Soudan, and the knowledge he has acquired at Lokoja of the conditions of life and the prospects of Christian work in the adjacent countries, the Committee have appointed Mr. Brooke joint-leader, with Mr. Robinson, of the Mission. It was indeed a task of unusual difficulty, when each refused to be first, to determine the relative position of these two brethren, and the Committee entertain no doubt that the perfect understanding between them will, by God's blessing, make them as one man in the practical direction of the work.

Adopting the words of the Rev. Handley C. G. Moule, the preacher at Mr. Eric Lewis's ordination, the Committee confidently anticipate that there await the brethren of the Soudan party bright surprises of peaceful triumph. Going with the deliberate resolve in every possible and lawful way to live among the tribes not as their visitors but as their equal brethren, and watching always to speak the divine truth in love, and to witness to its power in a life of self-sacrificing kindness, the Committee believe that they will have to tell in due time of unexpected welcomes for themselves and glad recognitions of the glory of their Lord and of His Cross. He who was with Martyn at Shiraz, and who in later days has stood by His servants in Mohammedan India and in the towns and villages of Persia, and given them acceptance and hearing and respect by the power of truth in love, will be with the missionaries of the Niger and the Soudan, and will give them entrance and find them favour where the enemy seems to threaten most to withstand or overwhelm.

Death of Mr. H. E. Kelsey.

Bishop Crowther sailed with these reinforcements in February, but Mr. Robinson had been obliged to leave a month earlier in consequence of intelligence received by telegram early in January of the death of Mr. H. E. Kelsey, the young engineer who went out in August, 1888, for the Henry Venn steamer, and of Mr. G. F. Packer, the other lay agent in the Mission, who had been Acting-Secretary since Mr. Robinson left, having started for England on account of his state of health. Mr. Kelsey was one of the "Mpwapwa" band of missionary helpers connected with St. James's, Holloway, which has given several candidates to the Society. His spirituality of mind and missionary zeal were constantly manifested during his brief period of service. The Bishop and his party overtook Mr. Robinson at Teneriffe, where he was detained nursing Mr. Packer.

Under the new arrangement, which will place Lokoja and the Upper Niger under European missionaries, subject to the Bishop's supervision, instead of under a Native Archdeacon, the services in this capacity of Archdeacon Henry Johnson will not be needed, and he has been invited to return for the present to Lagos. In the present review of the work, however, the old divisions of the Mission will be observed, viz. the Archdeaconries of the Lower and of the Upper Niger.

Immediately after opening the new church at Bonny, St. Stephen's Cathedral, at the end of January last year, Bishop Crowther proceeded up the river as far as Bida, visiting all the stations of the Upper Archdeaconry, with the exception of Obotshi. He had returned to the Delta by the beginning of April, but after a few active weeks at Tuwon, Brass, and Bonny, he again ascended the river as far as Egan and Kipo Hill. The Committee's telegram inviting him to England was received soon after his reaching the coast from this second fatiguing journey, and he immediately sailed for this country. Bishop Crowther's "journeyings often."

ARCHDEACONRY OF THE LOWER NIGER.

Archdeacon D. C. Crowther and the three Native pastors who formed the clerical staff of the Delta stations, are distributed as reported last year. The Archdeacon resides at Bonny, and the Revs. J. Boyle, S. Peters, and J. D. Garrick, are at Bonny, Tuwon, and Ogbonoma, respectively.

No report of the year's work at BONNY has been received. Bonny. Interesting accounts, however, of a visit paid by the Bishop and Archdeacon and Mr. Boyle to several market-towns up the Opobo River in May prove that the Bonny Christians have been letting their light, though somewhat a dim one it may be, shine when they have been absent from home. Through the network of zigzag creeks, Ura-ta, Ura-Afon, and Ura-wada, bordering on the Kwa district, and where the Kwa language as well as the Ibo is spoken, were first visited, being about seventy miles distant from Bonny; then Azumiri and Akwete, about ninety miles distant. At each of these places, with which the Bonny people trade in palm oil and palm kernels, they found chapels, some of them large enough to accommodate 300 worshippers, which the converts had recently erected to supersede the prayer-sheds originally put up by the Bonny converts for their own use while staying at the markets. The Bishop solemnly set apart several of these buildings, and his journal mentions that at Ura-Afon the congregation numbered 183 Bonny people and 75 Kwa people. The chapels are thus described:— Chapels opened at distant out-stations.

> Where the land is high and dry, they are built with wattle, well bedaubed with clay, which made them appear like mud walls, ventilated with sufficient windows for the comfort of the attendants. The doors and window-shutters were made of native split-boards where they could be got, or with boards of broken-up packing cases, in which goods were brought to the markets for trading; with such materials, such of them as understood something of carpentry constructed reading-desks, tables, and benches for the furniture of the chapels, which will not disgrace any like places of religious worship in country places in a Christian country.

The Bishop's journal gives several painful glimpses of African heathenism and cruelty. In one place human skulls were exhibited by hundreds as objects of special respect, because they represented those who had been sacrificed to idols, or killed to be buried with deceased masters and mistresses. One sad instance should especially call forth prayer and effort for the Niger—"black" indeed. The Bishop says:—

Heathenism and cruelty.

About four days before our arrival at Ohambele, an old rich woman died and was buried. The proceedings of the burial were stated as follows. When the grave was dug, two female slaves were taken, whose limbs were smashed with clubs. Being unable to stir, they were let down into the grave, yet alive, on mat or bed on which the corpse of the mistress was laid, and screened from sight for a time. Two other female slaves were laid hold on and dressed up with best clothes and coral beads. This being done, they were led and paraded about the town to show the public the servants of the rich dead mistress whom they would attend in the world of spirits. This was done for two days, when the unfortunate victims were taken to the edge of the grave, and their limbs were also smashed with clubs, and their bodies laid on the corpse of their mistress, and covered up with earth while yet alive. We can only imagine what would be the feelings of these unfortunate victims. Some of the Bonny converts attempted to rescue these last two females by a large offer of ransom to buy bullocks for the occasion, but it was refused them. Can there be any doubt as to the urgent necessity of sending Christian teachers among this poor ignorant people, who are slaves to Satan, and yet glory in their shame? After these atrocious deeds were performed, volleys of trade cannons were fired for days in honour of the dead. I counted ten of these cannons in the street opposite the house of the dead, about four or six pounders each.

Tuwon.

Tuwon is the trading port of Brass, and is situated at the mouth of the Brass River. Twenty-four adults were baptized here by the Rev. S. Peters during the year, and forty-seven, viz. nineteen men and twenty-eight women, have turned from heathenism, and are under instruction as candidates for baptism. The number of communicants varies between ninety and one hundred and twenty. Prayer-meetings in connexion with the Universal Week of Prayer were held, as usual, in January last year, and were attended by large numbers, on the first day over 200. The time of these meetings was 4 to 6 a.m.

Nembe.

Nembe is the capital of the Brass district, and is ruled by two kings, each governing one of the two divisions of the place, viz. Obolomambiri and Bassambiri. Mr. J. N. Grant, the lay agent in charge, reports that a Christian, Frederick William Koko, has, by the unanimous request of the chiefs, been called to the throne of the former division, presumably in succession to the chief whose death was mentioned in last year's Annual Report, and who, after a life spent as a juju-worshipper, testified with his dying lips to his household, "The God of the Christians is the only true God, whom all men ought to worship." The new king is a leader and a churchwarden, and has continued regular in the discharge of these offices, notwithstanding strong temptations to resign them. The average Sunday morning and evening attendance at church is 400 and 350 respectively, and thirty adults were baptized during the year. Mr. Grant's efforts to prevent the occurrence of juju dances on the Sabbath have exposed him to some violence, but they have been attended with success. He also mentions two old women, members of the congregation, who, in order to avoid vain and distracting conversation on the Lord's Day, remain in the church between the morning and afternoon services engaged in meditation and prayer.

The king a churchwarden.

Mr. Wilmot Brooke kindly resided at OKRIKA for a fortnight, during his visit to the Niger last summer, pending the arrival of Mr. J. A. Pratt, the catechist now in charge, who was formerly a schoolmaster at Bonny, and has recently been through a course of studies at Fourah Bay College. A few sentences from Mr. Brooke's journal must be quoted:—

Mr. Wilmot Brooke at Okrika.

June 9th (Sunday).—Conducting the Church of England service was no easy matter. The custom has been to employ the Ibo language solely in the morning, and the Idzo in the afternoon. So at daybreak our Ibo interpreter came to talk over his work, and have prayer with me. We had 192 present at morning service, quiet, simple folk apparently, all slaves with the exception of two or three, and very, very different in manner from the typical church attendants along the coast. The service had to be worked thus: as my powers of reading Ibo were not very highly developed, I read the service in a low voice to the interpreter, who repeated it aloud sentence by sentence, with right pronunciation, to the congregation. The lesson I had already written out in broken English, and explained to the interpreter. The leaders of the Church adherents seem to be really saved men, with thoroughly changed hearts, though they are all absolutely ignorant of Scripture, as far as I could make out; but their warmth and sincerity, and desire to learn, make them charming people to work amongst.

11th.—Heard many voices in the direction of the church at daybreak, and, looking out, saw some three dozen of the Mission adherents, who had come together by private arrangement among themselves, and were hard at work repairing the church. They had bought a quantity of thatch, and had cut logs, and brought all their tools, while one nice old Christian woman was directing a small band of children who were hoeing and clearing the ground. Spent most of the morning at work with them.

12th.—The Ibo interpreter came at daybreak, to announce that the chiefs whom we saw coming in yesterday had passed a resolution, which had been announced by public criers, that no one was to come to church any more, on pain of having to subscribe to a fine of about 400*l.*, which would be laid on all church-goers. I said what I could to encourage him, and he went off; and in two hours the Church adherents turned up in greater numbers than yesterday, and worked hard till after sunset, completing all the needful repairs of the church. I worked with them all day—sometimes at making thatch, sometimes hoeing with the children, or with axe or pickaxe.

Threats of persecution.

The last quotation refers to an edict passed by the chiefs, that the Christians should be called upon to pay the balance of forty puncheons of palm oil, still due, of the fine of 120 puncheons imposed by the British Consul on the town as a punishment for the barbarities alluded to in last year's Report. The heathen attributed the Consul's interference to the Christians having reported the facts, and thought their cheerful bearing and cleanly appearance, especially on Sundays, evidenced a want of sympathy with them in their troubles. The chiefs also decreed that the Mission should be removed to an uninhabited forest several miles from Okrika. But they have not attempted to enforce either of these decrees. Mr. Pratt states that eighty-four of the 130 baptized converts attend the weekly instruction classes with more or less of regularity, and the inquirers' class numbers twenty. Day and Sunday schools opened by Mr. Pratt average respectively twenty and fifty pupils, both young and grown-up people being "very anxious to learn."

Church-going prohibited at Ogbonoma.

At Ogbonoma, where the Rev. J. D. Garrick is the pastor and evangelist, an attempt was also made last summer to prohibit church-going. The Bishop related the circumstances in a letter:—

> In this case the chiefs kept aloof, and saddled the old women in the town with the prohibition against their younger fellow-women going to church, to adopt different modes of action to what were the old customs with them. To give a colour to this prohibition, it was stated that a priest, who was also a doctor, had told the old women that if they did not hinder their younger companions from going to church, two most respectable and influential chiefs in the town would die shortly; so the old women acted under this pretended divination of the doctor-priest. The chiefs tried to screen themselves, as if they had no hand in the matter.

A few women attended notwithstanding, and, after a few weeks, the chiefs were persuaded to withdraw the interdict, and in August Mr. Garrick's anxiety was how to provide seats for the increasing congregation.

ARCHDEACONRY OF THE UPPER NIGER.

The same staff of workers has remained at the same stations as reported last year, but the Rev. P. J. Williams has been relieved of the pastoral work at Lokoja by the appointment to that charge of the Rev. S. J. Smart, and has thus been enabled to devote his energies to itinerating and translation work, for which especially he was located at Lokoja in 1887.

Abo, the importance of which was recognized so long ago as 1841, and an interpreter left by the first expedition to teach its people the Word of God, was occupied by a catechist and schoolmaster in June, viz. Messrs. Allen and Akpom, transferred from Alenso. Abo occupied.

Two adult baptisms are reported by Mr. D. John, the catechist at Osamare.

The agent at Alenso, Mr. J. O. Mba, Archdeacon Johnson says, is the first Native of the Niger who has been promoted to the rank of catechist, and his more perfect knowledge of the language gives him a great advantage over other labourers in the Mission. His services as an interpreter were borrowed for several days by Major Macdonald, a Special Commissioner sent out by the Government.

The report from ONITSHA is more discouraging than ever. Those who were formerly members and communicants of the Church, but who have relapsed into heathenism, have proved the too-successful instruments of the Tempter, and have by charges of disloyalty and by threats of violence carried nearly the whole body of professing Christians into complicity with idolatry. The Royal Niger Company, in prosecuting war with Obotshi, to which reference will be made under that station, invited the help of the neighbouring tribes, and in responding to this request the pretext for persecution was found. Archdeacon Johnson summarizes the facts as follows:— Onitsha.

> Some of the leading men at the waterside, polygamists and idolaters, formerly professed members of the Christian Church, held a meeting among themselves, where they were advised by a heathen priest to offer sacrifice, of which all should partake, in order to give courage to the young men to proceed to the war. In this the Christians were clearly aimed at, and the resolution was taken to compel all either to drink of the sacrifice or to quit the town. Mr. Strong used all his endeavours to keep up the courage of his people. They met and prayed together, and took counsel with each other to stand fast as witnesses for the truth of God against a rank and degrading superstition. At the first summons they went, but returned without drinking. Seeing this, their enemies became exasperated, and, a week after, they again summoned them to the ordeal, and determined, in case of refusal, to execute the threat of expelling them from the town and breaking down their houses. In spite of the strong language used when by themselves, having come to the spot, on seeing some of the local police, with the Diplomatic Agent of the Royal Niger Company at their head, standing as if prepared to enforce the decree of the idolatrous heathens with the point of the bayonet (on the flimsy pretence that the sacrifice was merely a harmless Native custom), courage oozed out at the extremities of the converts, and they failed entirely to maintain their defiant attitude. They ate of the sacrificial kola-nut, and drank of the "devil's cup," and caused the enemies of the Gospel to blaspheme!

Not all, however, were thus unfaithful. Two of the Christians, a woman and her daughter, boldly refused to drink the cup, and left the town for Asaba.

Obotshi has had an eventful and disastrous year, but the Christians have not in these troublous times belied the good opinion expressed of them under more peaceful circumstances. In September the anger of the heathen townspeople was excited by the preservation of the surviving twin-child, the other having died, of one of the Christians. The child was carried to Onitsha. The father was apprehended and exposed in the stocks under the burning sun, and the ultimatum was pronounced at an excited meeting of the kings and chiefs that unless the child was surrendered within two days the converts must quit the town. No hesitation was shown by the Christians regarding these alternatives. On Sunday night, September 15th, they all removed to Onitsha, but were allowed to return the following day. A few weeks later they left again en masse by their own request. A foul murder of an Onitsha woman was committed by a man of Obotshi, and the Royal Niger Company, having in vain demanded the surrender of the murderer, declared war on the town. The converts sought the protection of the Company and left Obotshi. Most of these at the close of the year were living on a bank, a sort of "no man's land" opposite Onitsha, where they received much generous assistance from the Christians of the neighbouring town of Asaba.

At Obotshi, to save an infant the Christians risk the loss of all.

Asaba.

At the last-named place, ASABA, the Rev. H. S. Macaulay refers to the slaves whose liberation by the Royal Niger Company from their dreadful bondage and more dreadful doom was mentioned in last year's Report. He says, "They have been attending church for the past eighteen months, have all given up their idols, and are trusting in God alone." Their presence created a difficulty for a time, as Mr. Macaulay proceeds to relate:—

Former slaves attending church.

> The freeborn, who consider themselves superior to the slaves, would not condescend to attend the same place of worship with the slaves, unless we would prepare them separate seats or conduct separate services for them. Every encouragement was given to them, and as many separate seats as could be obtained were got for them, and every opportunity was seized in pressing upon them how Christianity teaches that all men are one in God's sight, freeborn and slaves, kings chiefs and subjects, and that in God's house we make no difference, all are on a common level. And it is marvellous to see how in so short a time they are getting over this unfortunate notion, so that now freeborn and slaves sit together to hear the glad tidings of salvation. Eight kings have visited the services, and two kings are now regular attendants on Sundays.

Kings and subjects, freeborn and slaves, all one in God's house.

These former slaves still live in the slave villages near the town, in three of which they have put up small prayer-rooms, where they assemble morning and evening for prayer. Largely through the influences of the officers of the Royal Niger Company, the people in Oye, a district of Asaba, were induced at the beginning of last year to assent to defer their market, which occurred once in five days, till the following day on all occasions when it would fall on Sunday. This has been since observed, to the great advantage of the Christians.

Market day and Sunday.

From Asaba to Ida, the next station up the river, is about seventy miles, and the banks on both sides of the river are somewhat thickly inhabited. Mr. J. B. Coker has not yet acquired such a knowledge of the Igarra language as to give him much power or influence with the people.

Nothing of special interest is reported from Gbebe, Lokoja, Ega, and Kipo Hill. The Rev. P. J. Williams, in a report of his itineration, mentions an incident which shows that the medical skill and kindness of Dr. Percy Brown, who laboured at Lokoja during 1883 and 1884, is not forgotten, and the fact is encouraging in view of Dr. Battersby's future work in the same place. In reply to the argument, "The custom of our fathers should be followed," Mr. Williams asked why they had flocked from towns far and near bringing their sick to be prescribed for and treated by the white doctor, rather than entrust them to Native doctors. This elicited immediate ejaculations of assent, both to the appositeness of the illustration and to the pleasant reminiscences of benefits widely enjoyed and appreciated. "The Mohammedans are real scourges in these parts," Mr. Williams remarks. The more need for the "balm of Gilead," and the scourgers themselves may welcome it, as they sorely need it.

Dr. Percy Brown's work remembered.

"Being sent forth by the Holy Ghost." These were the words chosen as their texts by the Principals of Ridley Hall, Cambridge, and of Wycliffe Hall, Oxford, on two recent distinct but closely related occasions. The former occasion was the setting apart, in January, to the work of the ministry of a young Cambridge graduate, one of a missionary band who were about to advance, viâ the Niger River, to the Western Soudan. The latter occasion was the consecration to the episcopal office of an Oxford graduate to be the missionary leader and counsellor and friend of a band who were waiting on the opposite coast to go forward to the confines of the Eastern Soudan. The Committee have no doubt that on both occasions the words were justly applied. For a year and a half, since the receipt of the intelligence of Bishop Parker's death, they had prayerfully sought for one whose name they could submit to the Archbishop of Canterbury to be appointed as the third Bishop of the Church of England in Eastern Equatorial Africa. Meanwhile, through the blockade of the Coast and the subsequent disturbed state of the country, the route to the Lake and to the Missions of Usagara was closed; and during most of this time the missionaries were shut out from Uganda. On the very day on which the Committee learned of the wonderful chain of events which had led to the return of the Revs. E. C. Gordon and R. H. Walker to the north side of the Lake, three young University men presented themselves to the Committee, in response to Mr. Douglas Hooper's appeal, and were accepted, to return with him as an associated band of lay evangelists to East Africa. When they sailed, at the end of January, their instructions were to abide at Frere Town for a few months, making all inquiries as to the feasibility of advancing to Uganda, both by the old route through Usagara and the new one through the Ulu country. It was known that, irrespective of political events, the physical conditions of the country would make it very unadvisable for a reinforcing party to leave the coast before May, and prayer was again earnestly made for a clergyman who could accompany this band as their leader. And not in vain. The same Divine Spirit by Whom the Church at Antioch was instructed to separate Barnabas and Paul, did, the Committee have no doubt, make known to all concerned the one whom He had called to His work; and, on St. Mark's Day, April 25th, the Committee had the joy of seeing the Rev. Alfred Robert Tucker, M.A., of Christ Church, Oxford, consecrated to this Bishopric, in succession to Bishops Hannington and Parker, at Lambeth Church. Bishop Tucker was previously Curate of St. Nicholas, Durham, under the Rev. H. E. Fox. After his consecration, the same evening, leaving his wife and child at home, he started on his journey to Frere Town.

Consecration of Bishop Tucker.

It was on the same day fourteen years before, April 25th, 1876, that the Committee took leave of five members of the first missionary expedition to the Victoria Nyanza, and were reminded by one of them that they must expect to hear soon and often of deaths in the missionary party. Three years later the one who uttered this anticipation, having in the meantime stood by the graves of four of his companions, was left the only member of the original band of eight in Africa. He has since witnessed two other deaths, and now he himself has been taken. Mr. Alexander M. Mackay died on February 8th, from fever, at Usambiro, after nearly fourteen years of uninterrupted labours in Africa. To review his missionary services would be to relate the history of the Uganda Mission, with which, in all its troubles and triumphs, he has been most closely identified from its commencement. It is only possible here to allude briefly to the leading events. Mr. Mackay was by profession a civil engineer, having studied both at Glasgow and Edinburgh Universities. He had a good knowledge of the classical languages, as well as of German, and this knowledge was most useful to him in translating the Gospels into Luganda. On the first journey up country, in 1876, he was sent back from Ugogo by his friend, Dr. J. Smith, and ordered to return to Europe; but he disobeyed the latter injunction, and occupied himself in constructing a road to Mpwapwa from the coast. He reached Uganda in November, 1878, and continued there, except for two short intervals, until he finally left, on July 21st, 1887. This period witnessed the arrival of the Roman Catholic missionaries in 1879, the vacillations of King Mtesa the same year and subsequently, the return of the Native envoys from a visit to this country in 1881, the first baptisms in 1882, the death of Mtesa in 1884, the burning to death of three converts and the murder of Bishop Hannington by the order of King Mwanga in 1885, and the persecution and slaughter of many Christians in 1886. The Rev. R. P. Ashe, who was in Uganda during the three most critical years, from 1883 to 1886, has written of him:—

> The missionary work done in Uganda could never have been accomplished if it had not been for his determination to hold on at all costs. He had learned the secret of being steadfast and immovable; he had his temper wonderfully under control. Sometimes the Highland fire would flash out, but never betrayed him into unworthy deeds. I remember him especially during our times of cruellest trial in Uganda. How on that first miserable day of persecution, when the bloody Mujasi seized us and our followers—how Mackay, though only just recovering from fever, was perfectly cool and collected, and seemed not to feel the fatigue of the long and harassing march back; how clearly he stated our case before the unjust judge; how wise he was in council, how prudent in his dealings with the fickle Mwanga. And I believe that had it not been for Mackay's influence with the old chiefs the Mission would hardly have weathered the three distinct storms of persecution which burst over it in Mwanga's first years as king.

When Mr. Mackay expressed to the Committee in 1876 his forecast of death, to which allusion has been made, he added, "But what I want to say is this: when that news comes, do not be cast down, but send some one else immediately to take the vacant place." And a letter which he wrote in January, a few weeks before his death, concludes, with reference to a suggestion that he should come to England for rest: "What is that you write—'Come home'? Surely now, in our terrible dearth of workers, is not the time for any one to desert his post. Send us only our first twenty men, and I may be tempted to come to help to find the second twenty."

"Send some one else immediately."

These words, had he lived, would have doubtless excited admiration and thankfulness for his heroic missionary devotion. Coming after his death, they must convey to the Church at home a message of urgent and thrilling import. The Committee's plans for strengthening the interior Missions in 1888 were frustrated by the political events which detained the missionaries at the coast; and they feel conscious that the reinforcing party which will now, God willing, proceed with Bishop Tucker to the Victoria Lake, is very small when compared with Mr. Mackay's requests, or when compared with the parties sent up at frequent intervals by the Church of Rome; but, while they regret that it should be so, they recollect that "God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty," "Yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are." This party consists of Mr. Douglas A. L. Hooper and the following recruits:—Mr. George L. Pilkington, B.A., of Pembroke College, Cambridge; Mr. George K. Baskerville, B.A., of Corpus Christi College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, son of the Rev. C. G. Baskerville, Vicar of St. Silas', Birmingham; Mr. J. W. Hill, B.A., of Corpus Christi College, and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, who was accepted for Missionary work in July, but was not located until May; Messrs. J. W. Dunn and J. V. Dermott, both Islington students, who completed their course of studies, and passed the Oxford and Cambridge Preliminary Theological Examination, Mr. Dunn in the first class and Mr. Dermott in the second; and Mr. F. C. Smith, who had been under training as a lay-evangelist at Clapham and Islington.

Reinforcements for the Lake.

Circumstances of peculiar and solemn interest occurred in connexion with some of these names, and that of another, which must be mentioned. As already stated, three young graduates responded to Mr. Douglas Hooper's appeal, and were accepted by the Committee in December. They were the above-mentioned Messrs. Pilkington and Baskerville, and a third, Mr. Joseph D. M. Cotter, B.A., of Trinity College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge. These four sailed at the end of January. On Monday, May 5th, the day of the Society's Annual Sermon, and the day before the Anniversary, a telegram was received from Mr. Hooper at Frere Town, announcing the sorrowful news that Mr. Cotter was ill and was forbidden by the doctor to go into the interior, and begging that further reinforcements might be sent by the French mail, which would necessitate their leaving within a week. This telegram was read out at a prayer-meeting held the same afternoon, and special prayer was offered that, if God so willed, that which seemed almost an impossibility might be done. At the service in St. Bride's Church, the same evening, again the telegram was read. Immediate was the answer to believing prayer. Four offers of service were received by 10 a.m. on Tuesday, and five more by Wednesday night. From these the four whose names are given last in the above list were selected as ready and qualified to go forth at once, and after a specially solemn valedictory meeting at the Islington College, Saturday, May 10th, they started that evening to catch the

French steamer at Marseilles. Four days later another telegram was received from Frere Town—"Cotter at rest." Death of Mr. J. D. M. Cotter.

The Mission has also gained the following reinforcements:—The Rev. Albert R. Steggall, M.A., L.Th. Durham, and Curate of St. Thomas's, Islington; the Rev. F. Burt, an Islington student, who was ordained deacon at St. Paul's Cathedral by the Bishop of London on June 16th; Miss Mary R. Gedge, daughter of the late Rev. Sydney Gedge, of Birmingham and Northampton, and sister of Mr. Sydney Gedge, M.P., an old and regular member of the Committee; and Miss Mabel Barton. Mr. Bailey, an accountant for Frere Town, has been sent out this year. Other reinforcements.

Mr. Hooper was married during his visit to this country to Miss Edith Baldey, daughter of the Rev. F. Baldey, Vicar of St. Simon's, Southsea. Miss Baldey had previously been accepted as a missionary of the Society, and assigned to this Mission.

The Rev. A. Downes Shaw, who laboured in this Mission since 1881, resigned last year, having accepted a chaplaincy in Mauritius. The Committee have heard with much regret of the recent death of Mrs. Shaw, who was a niece of the late Miss Frances Ridley Havergal. Dr. S. T. Pruen also, who came home from Frere Town in August, has felt obliged, by the state of Mrs. Pruen's health, to retire.

I. MOMBASA MISSION: FRERE TOWN AND RABAI.

The Rev. H. K. Binns returned to Frere Town in December and took up the work of the secretariat which Dr. Pruen had left three months before, and which the Rev. A. G. Smith had carried on in the interval. Miss Mary W. Harvey returned in July. The Rev. E. A. Fitch and his sister, Miss Caroline Fitch, came home in August, but returned again in May; and the Rev. W. E. Taylor left by doctor's orders in October. Mr. Reid, the engineer of the Henry Wright, and Mr. A. F. Pratley, the young printer, having completed their terms of service, have also come home.

Frere Town has naturally been considerably affected by the new life and energy and wealth introduced by the Imperial British East Africa Company on the neighbouring island of Mombasa. The establishment of a new line of steamers calling at Mombasa has expedited communications and imported a nearly constant current of European visitors. The demand for labour at a considerably enhanced rate of wages has tempted many of the Africans to leave their Frere Town.

shambas on the Mission settlement; so much so, that one of the missionaries in October wrote that Frere Town looked deserted. The spiritual agents, as was to be expected, have not wholly escaped the infection of desiring higher salaries, to which cause, in part, is due the discontinuance of the Divinity Class, all the original members of which have left Frere Town. Colonel Euan Smith, the Consul-General, and Mr. Stanley, the African traveller, visited Frere Town on the last day of the year.

Boys' School.

The Boys' School, under the Rev. H. T. Robson, who had a severe illness from sunstroke in the summer, presents a sphere of no small difficulty. From time to time new parties of freed-slave boys, invariably in a most wretched condition, and usually representing many tribes, are received. Nevertheless the boys are attentive and diligent, and corporal punishment is very rarely called for; moreover, evidence of spiritual blessing is not wanting. Mr. Robson says:—

My work in school has proved to be of a most happy character. Religious instruction is, of course, the leading feature in the school. The boys are better acquainted with Scripture truths than most boys in our elementary church schools at home. They have a very good acquaintance with the words of the Bible itself, and can quote passages with great facility. On the whole, I believe they strive earnestly to carry out in the spirit what they are taught. In the higher classes there are a few very earnest little fellows—boys who know practically what it is to feel deep sorrow and repentance for sin,—what faith and peace in Christ Jesus mean. On one day of the week I follow Mr. England's plan of turning evening prayer into a kind of prayer-meeting for the boys—and most earnestly do some of them pray.

Yet the moral tone of the school is not high. On all sides in the settlement the boys are surrounded by a people of lazy habits and of very low moral tone, and it is impossible that they should not be affected by such influence. Their animal passions are strong, and it is difficult to train the boys to have purity of thought and action. The sins of lying and stealing are common—the tendency to such is hereditary. The boys come from different tribes, and the characteristics of the tribes manifest themselves to a high degree in the boys, both with regard to intellectual and moral attainments.

The boys in school are attentive and fairly diligent. There is little strain in keeping up good discipline. Corporal punishment is administered by myself alone, but that extreme measure has rarely to be resorted to. For some months I kept a strict account of the number of punishments inflicted, and found that the average (counting impositions, &c.) was one case in three weeks. It is now a much lower average.

In intellectual attainments they are a little below the standard of an English elementary school. The subjects taught are the same as in an English elementary school. The first-class boys learn English. A Swahili teacher is engaged to teach the whole school to read Kiswahili in Arabic characters.

The boys look well after the cleaning of the schools and dormitory, the drawing of water, and carrying wood. On one day of the week they clean up the main road of the settlement.

Miss Gedge received an affectionate welcome from the lady missionaries in Frere Town, Miss Harvey, Miss Ramsay, and Miss Barton, and she wrote home in warm terms of the work the ladies are doing among the women and girls, but no Annual Letters have been received from any of these workers.

Printing Press.

The Printing Press has issued St. John's Gospel in Kigogo, hymn-books in Kigogo and Kiswahili, a catechism in Kigiriama, an arithmetic book and a collection of Kinyika words made by the Rev. W. Jones, of Rabai, preparatory to reducing that language to writing. Mr. Pratley has trained two Native boys to work the press, and their efficiency greatly surprised and pleased the Rev. H. Cole, who visited Frere Town at the close of the year, and saw the above-named Kigogo editions through the press.

Mombasa.

The medical work at MOMBASA is under Dr. C. S. Edwards. He reports the chief men, Arabs, as willing to assist him, and the rich Hindus as being very accessible. But the larger number of his patients have been from among the slaves of the Swahili population. Some difficulty was experienced at first in inducing the slave-owners to allow their slaves to be taken to the Frere Town hospital, but that has been overcome, and there is an average of over thirty patients. Dr. Edwards is sometimes called to visit professionally within the precincts of one of the mosques. He says:—

A medical missionary in the cloisters of a mosque.

The nicest place I go to, I think, is the cloisters of one of the mosques; the little boys are reading, squatting at curious book-desks, and the patient, sometimes a missionary, at others a mendicant brother, has a good room to himself, and every care is taken of him. They take great care of their priests when ill, several people coming independently to call me, and one sheikh wanted me to doctor his chest while another doctor attended to his toe.

The Native medical assistant, James, is much respected, and uses his influence to recommend the Gospel.

Rabai.

No letters are to hand from RABAI, where Mr. J. Burness is in general charge, and Miss E. C. Scott and Miss M. L. Holmes labour among the women and girls. The Rev. W. H. Jones is the Native pastor of the congregation.

The Rev. J. E. Beverley and Dr. E. J. and Mrs. Baxter resided at SHIMBA throughout last year. The former left in January to accompany the Rev. H. Cole to Mpwapwa. Much of Dr. Baxter's time was spent in superintending the building of a house, &c., the only one which existed on their arrival being a simple room of corrugated iron. Mr. Beverley says :—

A wide field.

> There is a wide field here for real, hard, uphill work. I have begun itinerating among some of the Wadigo villages (many of the men understand Kiswahili). They seem glad to see one, though exceedingly superstitious, and absolutely indifferent with regard to the truths one tries to teach. They will not yet allow their children to come to school. Could one but speak their language fluently, he might expect results quicker. It is certainly the time of sowing now, and if this be done faithfully, the reaping must come.
> I have been teaching some of the adults in our settlement to read, and to commit to memory texts of Scripture. Some have made satisfactory progress.

Mwaiba, in the Giriama country, seems likely to be deserted, the people showing a disposition to migrate northwards to the Sabaki river in order to be near the probable route to the Ulu country of the Imperial British East Africa Company. Robert Keating having resigned, Andreas, one of the original converts, and Paulos are the catechists. The Rev. W. E. Taylor itinerated in this district for several weeks before he left for Europe.

Owing to the absence of water it has been found expedient not to retain Mbungu as a station. The Imperial British East Africa Company have also retired from Gulu Gulu.

II.—TAITA AND CHAGGA.

Sagalla.

Mr. J. A. Wray was alone at Sagalla last year, the Rev. W. Morris having left in December of 1888. Mr. Wray has now come home, and the catechist Jeremiah is left in charge. The number of attendants at the services has not increased, except on rare occasions when the rain has failed. Of one of these occasions Mr. Wray says :—

"Earning rain" by attending church.

> It appears that as soon as day broke all the women in the village assembled at an old man's house—one of our adherents—with the intention of pulling it down, because he was keeping back the rain. However, while they were there our bell rang for morning prayers, and one of their number proposed that they should adjourn to church and try if that would not bring them the rain; then if the rain did not come within three days, that they should march straight to me and demand an explanation. Well, within the time stated it happened to rain, and I was spared the ordeal; but they, having got the rain, considered they had earned it by coming twice to church, for not one of them appeared again until some eight or ten days had elapsed, when they wanted more rain.

Taita was wholly unaffected by the political disturbances which troubled the districts further south. When informed by Mr. Wray of the excitement on the coast, and of the Consul-General's wish that he should return to Frere Town, the Sagallas begged him to remain, and promised to stand by him if he should be molested by the Arabs.

Chagga.

The reports in the newspapers that Mandara, King of CHAGGA, was dead were unfounded, but his health is undoubtedly very precarious. He gave the Rev. W. Morris and the Rev. A. R. Steggall a cordial welcome when they arrived, the former in April and the latter in September. He has not, however, fulfilled his frequent promises to send boys to be taught. Several visits to more or less distant districts have been made by the brethren. In August Mr. Morris went to Mworang, a tributary state to Mandara, and the chief Miliari was most eager to have a European resident among his people, and requested Mr. Morris to write to the Committee to send him a teacher, promising to send many pupils. It may be feared that the presumption of this request in Mandara's view and the ambition it was thought to betray of rivalling himself in dignity and greatness, helped to influence Mandara a few months later to make a most destructive and bloodthirsty raid upon this district. This was in January. The following month a German caravan arrived at Mochi under Lieutenant Ehlers, and the German flag was hoisted. Mr. Morris treated over 1500 patients during the early winter months. The people have shown themselves exceedingly friendly, and Mr. Morris is assured that but for the fear of the king there would be a good attendance of children and also many adults seeking instruction. During February and March several boys, averaging as many as five daily, attended secretly for instruction.

The German flag.

III. USAGARA, U-NYAMWEZI, &c.

Communications interrupted.

THE year under review has been one of great uncertainty and anxiety regarding the brethren in Usagara and Usambiro, in consequence of the irregularity of communications. For four months, from June 26th to October 25th, no letters were received from Mpwapwa, while from the more distant stations at the Lake none were received between April 22nd and November 23rd; since the latter date, except a short letter in January, none came to hand until April 24th. The letters from home were naturally subjected to the same delay. At Mpwapwa those of February, last year, and subsequent months were not received until the end of October. Curiously, however, letters of February and March reached the Lake in July; but after this an interval of nearly five months passed without intelligence from the coast. The activity in the region between the coast and Mpwapwa of Bushiri and Bwana Heri, the Arab chiefs of Bagamoyo and Saadani, in hostility to the Germans, has been the disturbing cause. But God has been the refuge and strength of His servants, a "very present help" when all other help was far removed, and the rare communications have always brought matter for praise and thanksgiving, as the long intervals of silence had provoked fervent intercession.

USAGARA MISSION: MAMBOIA AND MPWAPWA.

The Rev. A. N. Wood, after the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe to the coast in April, 1889, went to Mpwapwa to confer with the brethren there, the Revs. J. C. Price and H. Cole, regarding the action to be taken upon Colonel Euan Smith's urgent request that they should go down to the coast. The decision arrived at was thus communicated by Mr. Price:—

An anxious question.

I don't know whether you will think we have done wrong in deciding to stay on in spite of the arrival of the Consul's escort. I know very many are praying for us, and those prayers are being heard and answered. I believe I have been honestly willing to know and do the Lord's will, and feel confident He has been leading us.

When the Wagogo heard we were talking of leaving, they were very vexed, and said they would all turn out and fight for us if any one came to hurt us. But of course one reason in favour of leaving was the desire to avoid bloodshed. The chief said, "Why are you running away? If God wants to take you (i.e. if you are to be killed) let Him come and find you here!" Not a very heathenish suggestion, after all, thought I.

"If God wants to take you let Him come and find you here!"

I don't think we need fear. God is for us, and He is more than all that are against us. We must not leave Him out of our reckoning. Then there seems to be quite as much danger in going to the coast as in staying here; and if we are to be killed, I think all of us would rather die at our posts than in the act of running away. And if we die here, it will let the people see that we love them more than our own lives. So my point is gained.

And Mr. Wood wrote:—

Apart from any other consideration, I consider the wonderful way in which my life was preserved a short time ago a guarantee that God means me to stay here and work for Him. I did feel that even if all went, I ought to stay in one of the villages near, if only to work the mails for our brethren up country. Are we, I thought, to run away, and leave our dear brethren up there alone, who have already been turned out neck and crop? Surely not. Shame on us for thinking of such a thing! I feel I may be thought obstinate by the Consul, but I sent down no request to be removed, nor did I complain of any inconvenience.

The instance of God's protecting care, referred to by Mr. Wood in the above quotation, had occurred at MAMBOIA. He relates it thus :— Mamboia.

One day I went out with my man Lusega to visit a chief named Masali, living at a place called Mabonta, about eight miles away from the Mission station. Passed a few coast-men on the way. After having had a long talk with Masali about "the good things" (zimbuli riswamu), I returned, and had only got about halfway back when I was met by a few of our Mamboya Mission men, who were in a state of great excitement. Their story was soon told. The coast-men whom I had met had stopped at a village by the side of the road and divided their powder, intending to shoot me as I returned. They were from Bwana Heri of Saadani. Our men having heard the news, at once came to meet me, and informed the people in the surrounding villages. The result was that the Wangwana ran for their lives, and each village sent out its contingent of armed men to my rescue, and quite a large army conducted me to a place of safety. Psalm xxvii. 1—3, came with refreshing power to my soul the same evening. "The Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?"

The following quotations from Mr. Wood's journal in June and July, when Bushiri was in the neighbourhood, give pleasant glimpses of the work at Mamboia :—

Thursday, June 20th.—Abdullah, the head-man of the fort, sent up with the important news that Bushiri was at Mukondogwa, and was purposing to kill both the Germans at Mpwapwa, and to take us English prisoners to the coast.

Friday, 21st.—About 4 a.m. was awakened by some one knocking at the shutters of my bedroom. "Surely," thought I, "Bushiri has not yet arrived." I called out "Nani?" (Who?) and found that Abdullah and his companions had come themselves to see me. They said that the news had come to them through two of Bushiri's men, who came the other day from the Mukondogwa Valley. Bushiri's men report him to be on the road to Mpwapwa, and collecting an army of Natives on the road.

Sunday, 23rd.—Very good attendance this morning; several leading men present. Several people also from the valley. Spoke on Daniel iii., "There is no other God able to deliver after this sort." Service in afternoon, and catechizing in the evening.

Friday, July 5th.—Am having some powerful times in the tembe in the evening. Last night it was full, and the women and girls standing in the porch. Spoke on "Light and Darkness." I trust the Lord will bless my stay here. Many are hearing about the truth who have never heard about it properly before. "Powerful times."

Sunday, 7th.—Went down at early morning, and had usual service with a house full of people—crowded. Lot of visitors in the afternoon. In the evening met a man with a note from Lieutenant Giese, who was encamped at Inonga, about two miles at the back of the mission-house. Went over to see him.

Monday, 8th.—Busy building; my friends at the village helping me gratuitously. In the evening was sore troubled with toothache, so summoned up courage, and got two stumps out with my knife! Excruciating pain, but relief afterwards.

By the request of the Mpwapwa brethren, Mr. Wood went thither again in the middle of July, leaving Tofiki in charge during his absence. A very joyous reception was accorded to him on his return in February, and he wrote a few days afterwards that five Wamegi had come forward for instruction, with a view to baptism.

Mpwapwa.

The MPWAPWA mission-house and church buildings were destroyed by the Arab chief Bushiri on the night of July 8th. A fortnight before messengers had arrived from Mr. Wood of Mamboia, giving warning that Bushiri, having been defeated by the Germans at Bagamoyo, was proceeding up-country to attack the Europeans at Mamboia and Mpwapwa, intending to kill the Germans, and capture the English. The day after the receipt of this intelligence, which was not credited, Bushiri arrived, and the same evening (Sunday, June 23rd) entered the house of Lieutenant Giese, the German officer in command, whose companion was unfortunately shot by the Arabs, but he himself escaped through a window and got safely to the coast. Mr. Price was providentially at Kisokwe that night. Bushiri retired for a time, but returned on July 5th, and sought an interview with Mr. Price, whom his earnest assurances of friendship deceived into a sense of security. The latter, however, was secretly informed by one of Bushiri's men (a convert of the Mission, whom he had baptized in 1885, but who had subsequently left Mpwapwa to live with his friends in Usagara) that he had heard Bushiri offer a reward to ten of his men if they could succeed in catching him, Mr. Price, and the chief of Mpwapwa. Mr. Price says :—

A providential warning.

Regarding this as a providential warning, I came off with all our Mission people (about a dozen, including wives and children) by moonlight to Kisokwe, which we reached about 3.30 a.m. (Tuesday July 9th). At 11 a.m. some men came from Mpwapwa to tell us that the Arab's men had broken into the house. They had thought of trying to catch me "with guile." They borrowed three tusks of ivory from a caravan which had arrived at Mpwapwa the previous day, and intended to come and ask me to weigh it for them, when they would be able to bind me. Finding the bird had flown, they sent back word to their camp, and soon a large body arrived with flags and shouting.

Mission buildings, &c. destroyed.

They burnt every building belonging to the Mission—church and all—except the house at Vyanje (which they possibly did not know of). Everything is gone. I saved nothing but some bedding, and three small boxes containing clothing, some of my translations, and a few books, which I had put in a friend's tembe the day before we fled.

Mr. Price added :—

I am quite happy, having learned to "take with joyfulness the spoiling of our goods," and, having given up all to the Lord long ago, it was no real loss—only the acceptance of the offering. But of course I remember, too, that I am not the only one interested—many of Baxter's goods were there, as well as much C.M.S. property. One thing I have made up my mind upon—that if I am spared to live out here, I will have as little as possible of this world's goods about me. Having so much of it at Mpwapwa in the big house has been a curse to the Mission, as it only excites the avarice of these people, and makes it more difficult for them to understand our real motive in living amongst them. "Quite happy."

From this time until November Mr. Price resided at Kisokwe, but he then returned and occupied a Native tembe (hut) pending the restoration of the mission-house, in which work the Wagogo gave him ready assistance. Kisokwe.

The Rev. H. Cole, of KISOKWE, was bereaved of an infant daughter in June. In October he accompanied Mrs. Cole, who had suffered much from ophthalmia, and their young daughter, to Frere Town, en route to England. He himself, after seeing his Kigogo translations of St. John's Gospel and a hymn-book through the press, returned in February, accompanied by the Rev. J. E. Beverley. During this interval Kisokwe was in charge of the Rev. A. N. Wood. The unsettled state of the country prevented itinerating, but visiting, preaching, teaching, and catechumen's classes were kept up. Nine adult baptisms are reported, one of the converts having been a Mohammedan. Mr. Beverley wrote a few weeks after his arrival:—

The work at Kisokwe is the most encouraging I have seen. On Sunday mornings the little church is most uncomfortably crowded, the benches, stools, and floor being packed with people. A new and larger church is absolutely necessary. Last Sunday morning [March 2nd] the church was as full as it possibly could be, and as soon as the service was over there came over ninety more people, who made a second congregation, and we had to have a second morning service for them. A second morning service.

The Society is much indebted to the German officers, especially to Major Wissmann, for unfailing kindness and consideration to the missionaries. It was Major Wissmann who brought Mr. and Mrs. Cole and child safely to the coast.

Mr. Stanley and Emin Pasha and their party passed through Mpwapwa en route for the coast in November.

U-NYAMWEZI MISSION.

From the beginning of last year until August, the Rev. E. C. Gordon and Mr. A. M. Mackay were at Usambiro, and the Rev. R. H. Walker and Mr. D. Deekes at Nasa.

Arabs.

During this time the Arabs at Magu, on the Speke Gulf, the headquarters of the Arabs on the Victoria Lake from which the trade with Uganda was carried on, were doing their utmost to injure the missionaries and destroy their influence by spreading false reports, and by endeavouring to instigate Native chiefs to expel them. Rwoma, a powerful neighbouring chief, and even Kalema, King of Uganda, were appealed to to drive them from the country. A document was exhibited which, it was explained, reported a general massacre of Europeans at the coast, even detailing the numbers slain at each port—the total being 265! These efforts and inventions were, happily, of little avail, but Mr. Mackay and Mr. Gordon could not divest themselves of anxiety regarding their brethren at Nasa, who were living some twelve miles from the village of the chief under whose protection they were, and in whose immediate neighbourhood an Arab coastman had lately settled who had threatened to kill the Nasa missionaries in revenge for the destruction of his Native town near Saadani.

But in reply to requests to remove to Usambiro, Messrs. Walker and Deekes sent word that they had no fears for their safety, and thought it best to remain. They were most reluctant to give the Natives occasion either to think that they mistrusted their willingness to protect them, or to suppose that they depended on guns and coastmen for their defence.

Deputation from Uganda Christians.

In April a deputation from some of the Uganda Christians in Usagala arrived at Usambiro. They brought a request for books, and for advice as to whether the Protestants should unite with the Roman Catholic adherents in an effort to restore Mwanga to the throne. About the same time Mwanga sent messengers from Ukumbi, where he was living with the French missionaries, soliciting Mr. Mackay's assistance to take him back to Uganda. To both these parties the missionaries discouraged the undertaking, to Mwanga on the ground that it would be attended with great risk, and to the Christians because it would be a religious crusade for the purpose of superseding a Mohammedan by a Christian Government by force of arms.

On July 27th other messengers from the north of the Lake, viz. Henry Duta, Thomas Semfuma, and Mika Sematimba, all members of the Church Council, arrived, conveying a letter from Mwanga, who had crossed the Lake at the end of April, earnestly entreating the help of the missionaries to restore him to the throne. The remarkable course of events which these messengers bore witness to had, it seemed, rendered possible a return of some of the missionary party to encourage and instruct the Uganda Christians, who had been so long bereft of teachers. Accordingly, Mr. Gordon went in August to Nasa, accompanied by Mr. Stokes, in the latter's boat, to bring Messrs. Walker and Deekes to Usambiro; and it was decided in conference that Mr. Gordon and Mr. Walker should return with the Uganda messengers. Two French priests crossed at the same time in company with Mr. Stokes, who was conveying a considerable quantity of guns and ammunition. To avoid all appearance of intention to take part in the fight, as well as to identify themselves more closely with their old pupils, Messrs. Gordon and Walker decided not to make the journey in Mr. Stokes' company, but to go in the same canoes in which the Native envoys had arrived, and to take no firearms, not even weapons of defence. They left Usambiro on August 27th, and were not overtaken by a messenger sent by Mr. Mackay to delay their progress.

Messrs. Gordon and Walker cross the Lake.

The occasion for attempting to do this was the arrival from the north-west on the following day, August 28th, of Mr. Stanley and his great caravan, who received a hearty welcome at the Mission station. During the intercourse of the few days spent at this grateful asylum Mr. Stanley formed the high opinion of Mr. Mackay's character to which he gave expression a few weeks later in a letter to Mr. A. P. Bruce, son-in-law of Dr. Livingstone, which concluded with the words:—"These missionary societies certainly contrive to produce extraordinary men."

"Extraordinary men."

Among the Natives of USAMBIRO and neighbourhood very little encouragement has been experienced. Mr. Gordon wrote in March:—

Usambiro.

> It is hard work here. It is the first work to beget in the mind of the people an interest in their own salvation. Many of the people about here wear charms, and seem to be, to a certain extent, religiously disposed. However, they are many, many years behind the Baganda, and it will be a long time before their minds are brought to see the importance of better things. Conversation with them on the most solemn subjects often only excites a burst of laughter. It is only the power of God's Spirit that can move the dry bones. We do need the breath of the Spirit of God to breathe upon these lifeless souls and to make them live. There must be many who are weary of sin who will listen to the voice of the life-giving Saviour.

"Hard work."

During an illness of the chief, Makolo, in the spring of the year, several persons were accused of sorcery, and these were put to death before the missionaries were apprised of their arrest; but, somewhat later, a sub-chief who was being dragged to execution was rescued by Mr. Mackay, who appealed to Makolo and induced him to detain the man in custody until his own recovery.

Most of the work done at this station has had reference to Uganda. Several of the Baganda converts who were scattered abroad in the persecutions of the autumn of 1888 fled across the Lake, and provided Mr. Mackay with the help he was greatly needing in the revision of his Luganda version of part of St. John's Gospel, and in completing the translation. Both Mr. Mackay and Mr. Gordon spent one or two hours daily in instructing these converts, who showed a great desire to learn and applied themselves diligently to the study of the New Testament. On Sunday, June 6th, two of these and another Baganda, who had been sent as a messenger from Usagala and had asked to be allowed to remain, were baptized by Mr. Gordon. Much of Mr. Mackay's time was occupied in building a boat. When he found that the engineer who was sent out to assist him could not proceed up country, with remarkable perseverance, and with an ingenuity which never failed in finding or making what he required, he plodded on, cutting down huge forest trees, conveying them on a waggon over ten miles to the station, fitting the three-cylinder steam-engine, and putting together the segments of the boiler. This last proved a most formidable task, as the segments had been taken out and carried up country by the first party in 1876, and had since been subjected to every kind of vicissitude and rough treatment and the corroding effect of the climate at Kagei and in Uganda. Mr. Mackay's own words, written last December, will best describe the difficulties which he successfully overcame:—

Baptisms.

Boat-building.

> Want of proper accommodation here has also added to the damage already done to the plates, while now, after all this knocking about, I found to my amazement that what was once soft iron of "best" quality had developed into a material of a steely, brittle nature, which cracks and splits on the first touch of the hammer. I have therefore had to resort to the process of annealing the whole—a tedious operation where no annealing furnace exists, and the best I have is a tiny portable forge. As was to be expected, too, every section has been so much thrown out of shape that much patient labour has had to be done to fit the joints accurately. Now, however, the worst of the work is done, and both fire-box and outer shell are securely riveted together.

Mr. Mackay's letters frequently referred to the number of Roman Catholic missionaries at the Lake. In March they had three stations occupied by twelve Europeans, two near together in Ukumbi, on the east of Jordan's Nullah, and one in Western Usambiro. In July their number had increased to sixteen by the advent of four who had been expelled through Arab influence from Unyanyembe. Mr. Mackay's comments deserve thoughtful consideration. He says:—

A shameful ratio.

> Thus within the same area the Romish agents are to the Protestants as four to one. I sincerely hope that this is not the ratio which the Church of England, which has taken in hand the Christianization of East Africa, means to maintain. Shame upon her if she can do no better than that!

Mr. Mackay's death in February has been already mentioned. Before his illness, which only lasted a few days, Mr. Deekes, whose health had been indifferent for several months, was about to leave for the coast, but he decided, after that mournful event, to await the arrival of reinforcements.

Nasa.

Mr. Walker's letters from NASA were very interesting. He thought the people less removed from animals than any he had met with before. That the missionaries' presence was tolerated for the calico, beads, &c., and for these only, was a fact which no one tried to disguise. "We are allowed to live here much as their own fowls are in their villages, for the sake of the eggs they lay." His careful observation had not discovered anything to indicate that the people had any conscious need, any regrets or griefs or sorrows. Comparing this sphere of labour with his former one among the London poor, he wrote:—

Missionaries tolerated.

Freedom from care a cause of difficulty,

> I have neither seen nor heard of any grief or lamentation. The terrors of death, the pains and sorrows of life, seemed in London to be a sort of preparation for the glad tidings of everlasting life, and the comforts of the Scriptures. Therefore this is one of the great difficulties I want you to understand, and to sympathize with. I am not in any way discouraged or inclined to predict failure; but I want you to know the ground on which the seed has to be sown, and that if people impatiently ask for the harvest, or the first signs of the springing seed, let them remember the kind of hearts to be dealt with here. When we or our successors report success, to have known the insuperable difficulties that have been overcome will only add to the glories of the triumphant Gospel.

And again, regarding a danger arising from this state of things, he wrote:—

> The danger is of growing accustomed to the kind of lives these people live, and of making so much allowance for them, that after all one does not feel their lives to be so very displeasing to God. And again, as we consider their easy lives, and the apparent immunity from the intense mental and physical suffering endured by, say the London poor, one is at times tempted to think the need of the Gospel is more at home than here.

The place was found to be exceedingly healthy, the food good and plentiful, and the people were gradually learning to trust and to understand better their strange guests, when they were summoned away. A few days before they left Mr. Walker wrote:—

The children's confidence won.

Deekes has put up a swing for the boys, which causes them and the Natives a good deal of amusement. The way in which the Native children and women come and play about our little village is a cause for much thankfulness. At one time the children used to run away from us and scream and cry if we came on them suddenly. This was because they have been told that white men eat children. I fancy they are beginning to disbelieve this. Yet our white faces are strange to them, and the puppies that our boys have, and the cattle we meet in our walks, all look on us suspiciously and run away from us.

The Mission property was left in the custody of Natives in August, and Mr. Mackay learned later that the buildings had not been injured by a party of marauding Masai, who had despoiled the neighbourhood of its cattle.

IV. UGANDA.

It is rarely that the Society's Reports dwell largely on secular events, whether political, military, or commercial. But the history of Uganda during the twelve months from Friday, October 12th, 1888, when the Christian officers of Kiwewa were attacked by the Arabs in a cowardly manner, and caused to flee from their country, to Friday, October 11th, 1889, when Mwanga was reinstated on the throne by his Christian army, is so intimately connected with the Society's Mission in the country that it seems as necessary here to narrate at some length of kings and of battles, as it usually is felt desirable in missionary publications to refrain from so doing. The Committee are truly thankful that the Society's missionaries have uniformly, and in a specially pronounced way, kept aloof from any participation in these martial events. They were counsellors of peace before war was commenced by the Mohammedan Kalema, and subsequently they encouraged and assisted the Christians in their troubles.

A narrative of secular events.

The Christians in Usagala.

The Christians who fled from Uganda in October, 1888, found refuge under Ntale, King of Nkole, in Usagala, a country to the west of the Victoria Lake. Happily they were accompanied by several members of the Church Council, all of whom seem to have escaped in safety. These were men who had filled high offices during the short period of rest at the beginning of Kiwewa's reign, and they retained something of the respect due to the positions they had briefly enjoyed. One of these, Nikodemo, was chosen by the Christians to represent them and their cause at the court of the heathen king who had generously afforded them asylum. Henry Duta, Paulo, Samwili, Sembera Mackay, Thomas Semfuma, Lakaruja, Mika, and other elders, supported Nikodemo in his difficult post. Their presence and influence were of the greatest moment to the Christians in the months that followed their flight. Owing to the excessive violence of Kalema, acting under Arab influence, many of the heathen Baganda left the country and joined the Christian exiles, with the result that the land allotted to them became inadequate for their support, food became scarce, and some were even dying from hunger. Another source of trouble was pithily expressed in a letter, of Sebwato, one of the leaders, to Mr. Mackay:—"When we left Uganda we came in two crowds, we and our brothers the followers of the Pope. But we do not pull well together." And, alas! it is added, "They are always wanting to fight with us who are in these troubles and difficulties." One matter on which opinion was much divided was the question of returning at once to Uganda to renew the struggle, regarding the policy of which the Protestant elders were dubious. The latter so far prevailed as to obtain a postponement of the enterprise until the advice of the missionaries at the south of the Lake should be obtained, and Henry Wright Duta and Mika Sematimba were deputed in January to carry letters to Mr. Mackay. But they were unsuccessful in the attempt to reach the missionaries, and in March other messengers were sent, whose arrival at Easter at Usambiro has been already referred to, as has also the nature of the reply sent back. They returned with letters of counsel and encouragement, and a box of books, both Kiswaheli and Luganda, and writing paper; also, as the exiles were destitute of clothing, with a bale of calico, "the cost of which," Mr. Mackay wrote, "we charge to the Tinnevelly fund." The messengers sent at the same time to Ukumbi returned with a very different answer, namely, they were accompanied by Mwanga himself, supplied by the Frenchmen with rifles and ammunition, and by Mr. Stokes. These sailed from Ukumbi at the end of April.

The Tinnevelly Fund.

But before Mwanga's arrival, and before the messengers' return, the Christians in Usagala had been drawn into war. Kalema had received news of the communications with the south of the Lake, and, assuming that the object in view was to bring Mwanga back, he lost no time in sending an army to punish the people of Usongara, by whom the canoes had been lent to convey the messengers. The Christians chivalrously went to defend their friends, and Kalema's army was routed. After this success the Christians crossed the Katonga River into Uganda, and encountered a second army sent by Kalema under his Katikiro. After a fierce battle, in which many leaders of Kalema's army were slain,—among them three of the bitterest enemies of Christianity in former days, viz. Chambalango, the Pokino, who decreed Bishop Hannington's execution; Serukoti, who murdered the Christian admiral Gabunga; and an Arab, Masudi, who used to translate falsely letters from the Consul-General and the Sultan of Zanzibar—the Christians were again victorious. The officer in command of the Christians, however, a pupil of the French missionaries, was also slain; and the Christians, somewhat disheartened by this fact, returned to Usagala, where they received intelligence of Mwanga's arrival at Dumo, on the west of the lake. Kalema, enraged by these successive defeats, and fearful lest the Christians should obtain possession of one of the royal princes, who were all prisoners in the capital, had every one of these (his own brothers and sisters, and even including his own children) burnt to death in the huts where they were confined. Soon after this act of unnatural cruelty he heard of Mwanga's arrival, and despatched a third army, with Arab leaders, to meet him. In the engagement which followed Mwanga's people were defeated, which seems to have been due in part to the Christians taking flight in consequence of dissensions beween the Roman Catholic and Protestant leaders. Mwanga then took refuge on one of the Sesse islands, and many of the Christians returned to Usagala. The Basesse people, mostly fishermen, and devotees of the goddess Mukassa, had already rebelled against the Mohammedan Government of Kalema, and they now swore allegiance to Mwanga, placing at his command all the canoes belonging to Uganda. Thus secured against attack by water, Mwanga proceeded with his fleet along the coast, advanced up Murchison Bay, and made his camp on a small island named Bulingunge, about half a mile from the mainland, opposite to his former temporary capital, Munyonyo. From this place his letter to Mr. Mackay was written on June 25th; and here Messrs. Gordon and Walker were welcomed in September. Their arrival was very opportune. The enmity which had previously shown itself from time to time between the Roman Catholic and Protestant Christians had again manifested itself on this little overcrowded island, and threats of forsaking Mwanga were frequently heard from one party or the other. The missionaries laboured to promote unity, and the threatened crisis was averted. Arrival of Messrs. Gordon and Walker.

Shortly before the arrival of Messrs. Gordon and Walker, a dhow, laden with guns and powder and manned by Arabs, sent from Magu to reinforce Kalema, was captured by the Christians, partly owing to an explosion on board, and all the Arabs except one were killed.

Mwanga now sent instructions to the Christians in Usagala and in Budu, who were about 3500 strong, and consisted mostly of those who regarded themselves as "readers" connected with the C.M.S. Mission, to cross the Katonga River. This they did, under Kagwa Apollo (formerly a pupil of Mr. Mackay's), and were met by a force of Kalema's, over which they obtained a complete victory, slaying the Katikiro and sending his gun as a trophy of war to Mwanga. This Katikiro was the man who superintended the plundering of the Mission property in October, 1888. At the end of September, in advancing on the capital, Kagwa suffered a defeat, owing to the failure of Mwanga's followers on the island to support the attack. The effect of this was very dispiriting, and an extract from Mr. Walker's letter, written on the day the tidings reached the island, shows how critical the position was, and how small a matter, humanly speaking, would have determined the issue of events. Mr. Walker wrote:—

A critical time.

News has come to-day (September 27th) that Kagwa has been defeated; the party here is full of fears, and a general panic is not unlikely to take place; Mwanga has no leader; every one is as good as his neighbour, and all are cowards. We are asked to write to Usambiro and endeavour to get Stanley to help us. It is hoped that if he cannot come himself, still he may be able to send help. No confidence can be put in the canoe-men, and if they run away the end of this adventure may be uncomfortable. We are all crowded together on a small island. Orders are given and then contradicted. Nothing but a decisive victory could give this party heart, and they have just had instead a defeat. Stokes talks of throwing up the whole affair and going to the other side of the Lake. We came not to fight—we have no guns at all—but to be with the Christians, and to help them in their troubles. This we are doing; and if they run away to Busagala we shall go with them. We are living in a dirty, wretched way, but I am well, and Gordon has recovered from an illness of four days. We know you pray for us, and we try to deserve your prayers.

Mr. Stanley and the Baganda Christians.

The reference in this extract to Mr. Stanley shows that his being in the vicinity of the Lake was known to the missionaries. They had first learned this from a party of Christians whom they met with in the middle of the Lake, crossing on their way northward; and the news had been confirmed by the arrival of Zachariya and others at Mwanga's camp, who brought full accounts of Mr. Stanley's interview with the Christians who had been deputed to solicit his help when he was passing through Usagala, of which deputation Zachariya appears, from Mr. Stanley's own account, to have been the leading member.

After vainly urging Mwanga's people to leave their position of security on the island, and to join forces with Kagwa, Mr. Stokes went himself in his boat to take assistance to the latter. This example inspired them with the needed courage, and the army crossed over. Under separate leaders the two wings made a united advance; on October 4th and 5th the decisive battles were fought; the capital was taken; and Kalema and the Arabs, closely followed for two days by the Christians, fled towards Unyoro. The triumphant return of Mwanga to the capital, and the redistribution of the offices and chieftainships in equal proportions between the Roman Catholics and Protestants, and the improved relations between these two parties, is related by Mr. Gordon:—

Mwanga on the throne.

The Christians returned from the pursuit after Kalema, and came to the island to bring Mwanga in triumph to the capital. On Friday, October 11th, exactly one year after the expulsion of the Christians by the Arab party, the Christians escorted their expelled king to a temporary capital and re-entered their country of Buganda. We crossed over to the mainland of Buganda on the same day, and accompanied Mwanga to his restored kingdom. The next four or five days were occupied chiefly with the business of division of the country among the victors. The Christians have divided the whole country amongst themselves. The Roman Catholics and Protestants shared the most important chieftainships equally. The division appears to have been most amicably settled amongst the two Christian bodies, but the numerous heathen body have hardly got anything.

A Protestant Prime Minister.

An agreement had been made between the Roman Catholics and Protestants while in Usagala, before Mwanga had crossed the Lake, not only that the chieftainships should be equally divided, but also, seeing that Mwanga was, nominally at least, a Romanist, that the Katikiro must be a Protestant. Kagwa Apollo, the successful commander of the forces, was elected to this important office. He was formerly a page of Mwanga, and was baptized in February, 1886. The fact of his refusing to commit a shameful sin in the May of that year (see Annual Report for 1886-7, page 48) brought upon him a merciless beating with a spear, from the effects of which, it is mentioned by Mr. Mackay, he has not yet entirely recovered. His faithfulness was one of the causes which provoked Mwanga to instigate the bloody persecutions in May and June of that year.

A few weeks of quiet followed. A piece of land about four acres in extent, some three miles from the old station, Natete, was given to Messrs. Gordon and Walker by the king; and Mr. Walker wrote:—

A trusty Christian whom we have known a long time now, James Kabuga, has been taken into our regular employ, to live with us, and look after our place. We have no Wangwana (Mohammedan coastmen) with us now, I am glad to say. We throw ourselves upon the Christians, and expect them to help us. James may be called the "gardener." He has had a house built for himself on the "Estate." We expect the Christian chiefs to build for us. At present, when all are wanting to build for themselves, and when there is still fighting to be done, we cannot expect them to give us many men. Yesterday, four men were at work building for us. A temporary place is to be put up first, a thatched roof, and reed-cane walls. A church will be built in the same way.

The Mission "Estate."

We go for a two hours' walk every day, and as we are free to go just where we like, we are seeing a good deal of the country, and of the people in their own homes. I like to walk about just as if we were at home, and sit down by the road-side, or salute the people at their work in the fields. It makes one feel so friendly and happy here.

But new troubles were at hand. The Katikiro, Kagwa, towards the end of October, had taken an army in order to complete the discomfiture of Kalema; but on Sunday, November 24th, at midnight, news reached the capital that, instead, Kagwa's army had been defeated and scattered, Kalema having received help from Unyoro. In a few days Mwanga and the missionaries and a large number of the people were back again on the island of Bulingunge, and Mr. Walker and Mr. Gordon were busy doctoring and nursing the many wounded, among whom was Kagwa, shot in the shoulders. Mr. Walker again must be quoted:—

New troubles.

The poor chaps look to me for advice and surgical skill. Alas! I know more about rabbiting than I do about extracting bullets. Still, the principles of both are perseverance and common sense.

Some little success I have had has magnified my reputation. A man was brought to me shot in the throat; it was supposed that the bullet could be felt below his right shoulder-blade. I examined him, and felt sure the bullet was there, only a little uncertain how it had come such a long way from the point of ingress without finding an exit for itself. I have no surgical tools, but want of skill is a much greater want. Nor have I got over the repugnance one feels to cutting living flesh.

I asked the poor chap if I should try and get the bullet out. He said most cheerfully, "Yes." With a pocket-knife I gave him a "hasty" gash in the back. It is wonderful how tough the black hide is, and how little they seem to feel pain when they do not see the operation! Just imagine my joy when, instead of seeing my knife coming out at the poor fellow's chest, I heard it grate on the bullet. As in rabbiting the hole must be a good size at the opening, so I made my hole roomy, and was able to lay hold of the bullet with a pair of forceps and haul it out. In the midst of this operation, which took nearly half an hour, because though I quickly came on the bullet, it was difficult to get hold of it, the poor chap asked for a rest. I begged him to listen as I struck the bullet with the point of the knife. He then asked me to go on, and when I gave him the bullet into his hand, he turned round and thanked me most warmly. The bullet was a piece of iron an inch long and a quarter of an inch in diameter, I should suppose.

Attending to the wounded.

I daily go to wash the wound of the Katikiro; he has been shot through the shoulder. I get the water to flow in a good stream through the tunnel. This is considered a great success, and I think it ensures cleanliness, and encourages healing. An india-rubber ball syringe is our water projector; it does well, but shows signs of giving way soon. I have mended it with rag.

As early as June of last year reports of white men being in Usoga, the country adjoining Uganda on the east, reached Mr. Stokes at the north side of the Lake, and he and the Christian leaders sent messengers thither with letters to inform them of the course of recent events. Later, in September, it was reported that the white men were Englishmen, agents of the Imperial British East Africa Company, and that they had nearly reached Usoga, but had not yet entered that country. But in November, on the very Sunday which terminated with the tidings of Kagwa's defeat, two men arrived at Mwanga's capital bearing letters from Mr. F. J. Jackson, of the British Imperial East Africa Company, in reply to the June letters of Mr. Stokes and the Christians. The letters were dated from Sundu Kavirondo, about six days' journey from Uganda. An earnest request for help was sent back to Mr. Jackson; and in the latest letter from the missionaries, dated December 19th, when they were still on the island, Mr. Walker says:—

Imperial British East Africa Company's Agents.

Mwanga accepts the British flag.

On Sunday, December 15th, letters came from Jackson and Gedge, the Imperial British East Africa Co.'s agents in Busoga. Their letters are dated December 6th. . . . They have sent Mwanga one of the Company's flags, and say if he accepts it, then he puts himself under British protection, and the Company must help him. Mwanga has accepted the flag. . . .

In forwarding this letter of Mr. Walker and others in February, soon after Mr. Mackay's death, Mr. Deekes referred to still later news, which had reached him through the French missionaries, to the effect that Mwanga had returned to his capital, and that Kalema was dead. A telegram, dated Zanzibar, April 30th, which appeared in the Times of May 1st, and which had probably reached the coast by the more direct route through the Masai country, seems to lend some confirmation to the report mentioned by Mr. Deekes. The telegram was as follows :— Report of Kalema's death.

> Letters received here report that the caravan of Mr. F. J. Jackson, one of the officers of the British East Africa Company, who left the station of Machakos last August for the north-eastern end of Lake Victoria Nyanza in order to open up the country and possibly assist Mr. H. M. Stanley's expedition, has reached Uganda. It is added that Mr. Jackson has concluded treaties with Mwanga and his chiefs, placing the king and his country and all the Uganda territory and possessions exclusively under the influence of the British Company.

Treaties with Mwanga.

Messrs. Gordon and Walker, upon their arrival in September, found many of the Christian adherents anxiously desiring baptism, and on Sunday, September 29th, more than twenty were baptized. Mr. Gordon says :—

> They had waited a long time in many cases, and some wanted to be baptized before the great battle should be fought, when some might be killed. They were brought by the Church Council for baptism. Many young lads were presented, and probably for the reason lest the Roman Catholics should get hold of them. So on one Sunday more than twenty were baptized. All repeated the Lord's Prayer, the Creed and the Ten Commandments. Their answers to the questions asked in the Baptismal Service were distinct and sincere. It was a solemn service. The baptized were placed in the hands of their witnesses, who are responsible for their after-conduct and instruction. We shall hope in time to have classes for regular instruction.

Over twenty baptized.

Mr. Mackay wrote to the Christians in December strongly urging them to regard it as their duty and privilege to contribute according to their ability towards the support of the Mission. In a letter home, he said, and the Committee fully share his conviction, "I feel sure that the future permanence of the work will mainly be secured by the Native Christians themselves realizing the fact that the Church in Uganda is their own, and not something foreign." Self-support.

On December 27th Mr. Mackay despatched 500 sheets of large-type syllables and words to Uganda, which he had printed at the Mission press, speedily put together for the purpose. Writing on the following day, Mr. Mackay said:—

A short time ago forty canoes came from Buganda to Ukumbi to take a party of French priests to Mwanga's capital. Their Bishop and two others have availed themselves of the opportunity. Two priests had already gone to Buganda. Now they are five. They have besides eight men at Ukumbi, only a day's journey from this by water. Thus far Rome.

A few days later, January 2nd, Mr. Mackay wrote home a powerful appeal, which concludes with these words:—

Mr. Mackay's appeal.

You sons of England, here is a field for your energies. Bring with you your highest education and your greatest talents, you will find scope for the exercise of them all. You men of God who have resolved to devote your lives to the cure of the souls of men, here is the proper field for you. It is not to win numbers to a Church, but to win men to the Saviour, and who otherwise will be lost, that I entreat you to leave your work at home to the many who are ready to undertake it, and to come forth yourselves to reap this field now white to the harvest. Rome is rushing in with her salvation by sacraments, and a religion of carnal ordinances. We want men who will preach Jesus and the Resurrection. "God is a Spirit," and let him who believes that throw up every other consideration and come forth to teach these people to worship Him in Spirit and in truth.

"Forget also thine own people and thy father's house;
So shall the King desire thy beauty.
Instead of thy father's shall be thy children, Whom thou shalt make PRINCES in all the earth."

EGYPT AND ARABIA MISSIONS.

Cairo.

The Egypt Mission has been strengthened by the transference to it of the Rev. W. F. Connor, of the Palestine Mission. Having already a knowledge of Arabic, Mr. Connor was enabled, soon after arriving from England with Mrs. Connor in October, to take charge of the evangelistic work and of the schools. The Rev. F. A. Klein, relieved of this part of his labour, has, in addition to the work of correspondence as Secretary of the Mission, devoted himself to translating useful devotional and other books into Arabic, for which there is a great need. He also has charge of the Bible and book depôt. Dr. F. J. Harpur has found ample scope for his medical work in Old Cairo, where he resides, and in Cairo. A dispensary was opened at each of these places, but that in the latter was closed after a few months; it is proposed, however, to reopen it. The numbers visiting these have gradually increased; in the month of August the attendance was about fifty a day, and thirty-five surgical operations were performed. The numerous female patients are visited at their homes by a Bible-woman. Bishop Blyth, who visited Cairo in January, was much interested in the work of the Medical Mission; he addressed the patients, and declared them to be very unlike the Mohammedans under Turkish rule. Village work has also presented encouraging opportunities.

Visit to Sinaitic Peninsula.

No work has been carried on by the Society in Arabia during the year, but in September Dr. Harpur made a visit to the Sinaitic Peninsula, and received a hospitable welcome from the Bedouins. He was the guest of a powerful sheikh at Wady Feiran for four days. This sheikh had some 1500 followers, not one of whom could read. These listened with apparent interest to the Gospel.

PALESTINE MISSION.

Jerusalem, 1851; Nazareth, 1852; Salt, 1873; Nablûs, 1876; Jaffa, 1876; Gaza, 1878; Hauran, 1883.

While the Society's work in Palestine is mainly designed for the evangelization of the Mohammedan population, the congregations connected with the Society are mainly composed of those who have in past years voluntarily separated from the Greek and other Oriental Churches, and have been received into communion with the Church of England in accordance with the principle agreed upon between Archbishop Howley and Bishop Gobat. The Committee observe with thankfulness that some respite has been enjoyed during the past year from the pronounced and persistent opposition on the part of the local Turkish authorities which so greatly hampered the school and colportage work of the few years immediately preceding. Under God, this is mainly due to a change of pashas at Jerusalem. On the other hand, very active efforts have been made by the priests of the Greek and Roman Churches in several places to empty the Society's schools, and to keep women from attending classes for instruction. At the same time the missionaries' letters painfully illustrate the urgent need which exists among the members of these communities for Bible-teaching. One relates a conversation with a young man attending a Latin congregation.

Difficulties from without,

> He said he had been to school as a boy, and learnt to read, but had now forgotten. I said to him, "Do you know what Jesus did for you?" "No, sir. It's a long time since I was at school, and I've forgotten everything." "But, do you never go to church?" "Oh, yes; I go every Sunday morning." "Does the priest never speak or preach to the people?" "Yes; sometimes." I talked for some time with him, and found that he had scarcely the slightest knowledge of anything about our Lord.

In the presence of Mohammedans whom it is desired to win to the Gospel, and in juxtaposition with Christian teachers and congregations so ignorant regarding the faith they profess, it is a consideration of the first importance that the Society's agents should be such as are well instructed in the Scriptures and decided in their Evangelical convictions, and men whose example and personal influence tends to unity and love among Protestant believers. The Committee regret that in two instances during the past year Native pastors have not manifested these essential qualifications. In one case a congregation has been thrown into much confusion owing to contentious opposition to the Native Church Council system. In another case the Committee found it necessary to accept the resignation of a pastor, because of his having adopted and sought to propagate views regarding the Christian ministry and the Sacraments which, even if not exceeding the wide limits allowed in a great and comprehensive Church, the Committee cannot sanction in connexion with the Church Missionary Society. and from within.

The action taken in both these instances by the respective superintending missionaries in temporarily suspending the pastors, was disapproved by the Bishop, while at the same time he frankly and fully admitted the Committee's right to dispense with the services of agents whose views may be divergent from their own. It seemed desirable that some discussion should take place between the Bishop and representatives of the Committee upon one or two points raised by the above cases, and the further advantages to the Mission in general which might be hoped for from a visit of delegates from the Committee led the Committee to invite their friend Archdeacon Richardson and the Secretary who is specially charged with the administration of this Mission (the Rev. Robert Lang) to go thither. Mr. Lang reached Jaffa on February 21st, and Archdeacon Richardson on March 3rd. The latter's visit could not be extended, and he left on April 8th, but Mr. Lang visited all the stations, and all the out-stations also except one, on both sides of the Jordan, and carefully inspected the work and greatly cheered the workers. The visit of Archdeacon Richardson and the Rev. Robert Lang.

Four Native catechists were admitted to deacon's orders at Jerusalem by Bishop Blyth last year; three on Trinity Sunday, June 16th, viz. Messrs. Hanna Musa, Hanna Dimishky, and Yusef Zorab; and one, Mr. Selim Gomri, on December 22nd. Ordinations.

Miss E. Newton and Miss E. Armstrong spent a few months in this country for the benefit of their health, leaving the Mission in June, and returning in October; and the Rev. H. Sykes came home, on account of his mother's serious illness, in November, but was back again at the beginning of March. The transfer of the Rev. W. F. Connor to Egypt has been mentioned under that Mission. On the other hand, Palestine has gained by the transfer of the Rev. and Mrs. C. H. V. Gollmer from Additions to the staff.

the Yoruba Mission. They were accompanied, in October, by a lady recruit, Miss Elizabeth C. Wardlaw Ramsay, niece of the late Marquis of Dalhousie, Governor-General of India, and sister of Miss A. Wardlaw Ramsay, of East Africa; and were followed a few weeks later by Miss Hester Campbell, sister of Sir Archibald Campbell, Bart., of Edinburgh; both as honorary missionaries. Mr. Henry J. Bailey, M.B., C.M., Edinburgh, son of the Rev. W. Bailey, Rector of Colney Heath, and formerly a missionary of the London Jews' Society in Jerusalem, sailed in March; he was accepted for missionary service in 1888, and spent the interval in theological and other studies at the Islington College.

The Rev. J. R. Longley Hall is the Secretary of the Mission. In January last he had a providential escape from poisoning, a Native compounder having given him a corrosive and poisonous mixture by mistake. Happily, he did not swallow any, or the effect would have been fatal, but his lips and mouth were badly burnt. The Committee were very thankful to God for his escape.

JAFFA.

For a few months in the summer the Rev. and Mrs. J. R. L. Hall were alone at this station, but in the autumn it was fully occupied by the return of Miss Newton and Miss Armstrong, and by the arrival of the Rev. and Mrs. C. H. V. Gollmer and Miss E. C. Wardlaw Ramsay. In December Miss Hester Campbell was added to the busy united hive of workers, as Mr. Lang described them a few months later.

A busy united hive of workers.

No Annual Letter has been received from Mr. Hall.

Miss Armstrong sends a bright and encouraging account of her work among the women. Her visits to the houses in the town and its vicinity are gladly welcomed, and neighbours are frequently called in to share the privilege of her instructions. On such occasions questions are freely asked, and "often they want to know how they can find the Saviour." Miss Armstrong says:—

> On one occasion lately, when several Moslem women were together, and our Bible-woman was speaking to them about Jesus being the Son of God, one of them started up and asked her how she dared to say He was God's Son; when the others all answered together, "Because He really is the Son of God, and she comes to tell us how we must be saved."

"He really is the Son of God."

Miss Armstrong has two meetings weekly specially for Moslem women, though the attendance of Greek women is not forbidden, as "they are quite as ignorant as their Mohammedan neighbours." She also has a class of from twenty to fifty girls, who at first were quite unmanageable, but have been considerably tamed, and now often give thoughtful answers to questions asked.

Ramleh. The Rev. Yusuf Zorab, one of the newly-ordained deacons, is stationed at Ramleh, which, he says, is known by the Natives as Gath. The population consists of Mohammedans, Roman Catholics, Greek Orthodox, Armenians, and Protestants (about thirty), 6000 in all. Of the nature of the influence held over the people by the Greek Churches, Mr. Zorab says :—

> Many of the houses in which the Christians are living belong to the convents, and you can hardly find one who has a house of his own. For this reason the poor of the Christians are obliged to submit themselves to the chiefs of the convents. If any one from the Greek Orthodox, or from the Latins wishes to be a Protestant, the chief of the convent drives him out from the house of the convent, and because many of them have no money to buy or rent houses, they will be obliged to remain in their churches, even if their thoughts were Protestant. Sometimes the Greek Orthodox and Latins help them in paying their taxes for them, and they help them also in their matters with the Government, if needed; and on account of the poverty of the people, they follow the worldly benefits.

Power of the convents

Many members of the Greek Orthodox Church, however, have been taught in Protestant schools, and, Mr. Zorab says, "believe in the Protestants."

Lydd. At Lydd the Rev. H. Dimishky is now the Native pastor, he having laboured here as catechist for over twenty-five years. He refers to opposition from the Greek priests, to whose dissuasions from attending the meetings the women replied that he was not justified in forbidding them, as they heard the Gospel preached, and were taught not to swear, but to love each other, and to know the Redeemer to be their own Saviour.

JERUSALEM.

Jerusalem. The European staff at Jerusalem remains the same as reported last year. The Rev. C. T. Wilson has general superintendence of the evangelistic work in the city and neighbourhood; the Rev. J. Zeller has charge of the Preparandi Institution, the Bishop Gobat Boarding-school (in which Mr. Frank T. Ellis is the head-master), and the Printing Press; Miss Vidal and Miss Elverson labour among the women; and Mr. G. Nyland works in the villages, residing at Ramallah. The Rev. Ibrahim Baz assists in the Preparandi Institution, and the Rev. H. Musa takes part in the village work, residing at Tayibeh.

Preparandi Institution, &c.

The Preparandi Institution again sent out five students, as in the previous year, to fill schoolmasters' posts in Jerusalem, Acca, Nazareth, Bir Zeit, and Jifna. There were twenty-two under training in December. The Bishop Gobat School has fifty-four pupils. From the Printing Press has issued a catechism on the "Thirty-nine Articles," with Scripture proofs, and Proctor's "Introduction to the Book of Common Prayer," &c. The Congregation at St. Paul's Church continues about the same, viz. rather more than 100 baptized Christians. There are six boys' and girls' schools in the city and villages, with 355 scholars. A book depôt has been opened at Ramallah, and during the first three months about 3*l.* were taken for Bibles, Testaments, and portions, which is more than Mr. Wilson had ventured to hope for, considering the extreme poverty and heavy taxation of the villagers and their ignorance. But the number who can read increases every year. One man, a Moslem, to whom the depôt-keeper had taught the prayer, "O God, give me Thy Holy Spirit, for Jesus' sake," returned after a month, and told him he had offered the prayer every day. Tayibeh is nearer to the Jordan valley, and is often frequented by Bedouins. The Rev. H. Musa has visited some of these at the Ghor, and been well received.

GAZA.

Gaza.

No report of the Rev. Dr. Elliott's medical work at Gaza is to hand, but the Committee heard incidentally that in February he had over 200 patients, and from the Bishop of Mauritius, who visited Palestine on his way home in the autumn, that he (the Bishop) was much impressed with the work. The Rev. J. Huber reports on the congregation, bookshop, &c.

NABLOUS.

Nablous.

Samaritans.

The Rev. C. Fallscheer refers to the settlement of Samaritans, numbering about 190, who are still found at Nablous. With them and with their priests he has much intercourse, but the latter prevent the people from sending their children to the school. Many of the Greek Christians attend the services and meetings, and have ceased to observe the fasts and feasts and kiss the pictures. Mr. Fallscheer relates a touching story of the death of a former pupil of the Rafidieh school:—

> In summer-time he had to work with his father in the field, and only in winter-time he came to school, where he especially liked to learn the Word of God, who opened his heart, and by little and little he got power to walk uprightly before God and men. He had always his pocket Bible with him in the field, so that he could study it when his business allowed him to do so. Many of the Christians of the Greek and Latin Churches sneered at him; but he was not ashamed, as many are when they read the Holy Word, but rebuked them, and preached the Gospel to them, as well as to the Mohammedans, who mocked him and his piety. This he did with such power that they had no courage again to sneer at him.

He contracted asthma, and died from the rupture of a blood-vessel at Jerusalem, whither he had been taken to attend the hospital.

The next morning they intended to go to the hospital. After the boy had dined a little, a great stream of blood came out of his mouth. He lost consciousness. After a while, when he came to himself again, he said, "I have a desire to depart, and to be with Christ, which is far better." Then came another attack, during which he fell asleep. Between the two attacks his father, who is a member of the Greek Church, and who could not lift himself up to the faith of his son, asked him, "Shall I call an Orthodox priest?" He answered, "Jesus is present with me; this is enough."

"Jesus is with me; this is enough."

NAZARETH.

The chief and almost the only encouragements, in a year of special trials and difficulties, which the Rev. T. F. Wolters mentions are the devotion of Miss Newey at the orphanage, Miss Lee in her day-schools, and Miss Smith in domiciliary visitation at Nazareth, and the advent of Miss Gage-Brown and Miss Townsend to Shefa Amr, whose zeal and unaffected piety are overcoming the opposition of the Roman Catholic nuns. All these are ladies of the Female Education Society. He says:—"Under present circumstances, women may be able to accomplish what men cannot." At Kefr Yasif, a village near Acca, many of the men have long been diligently searching the Bible, and the principal man of the place, who was formerly a great enemy of the Mission, has left the Greek Church and declared himself a Protestant.

Ladies of the F.E.S. at Nazareth.

Mrs. Low, at Haifa, reports "ups and downs" in the work since her return at the end of 1888. The opposition of the Greek priest reduced the number of girls in the school, but more Moslem girls joined. At Acca some of the leading Mohammedans send their daughters to school.

SALT AND THE HAURAN.

The Rev. H. Sykes visited the Hauran in the summer. The schools in the Jebel Druze were closed during 1888 in consequence of Turkish interference. He wrote:—

The conviction left upon my mind by this visit was that there is a thorough appreciation on the part of the Druses of our schools, and a wish to have them; at the same time, alongside of this, there is a feeling of not wishing to be brought into collision with the Government. All were pretty unanimous in this. It is on account of this evident reluctance to have a quarrel with the Turkish authorities, I think, that we must base our present inability to continue our work there. All our teachers were well spoken of, and I was entertained with distinct kindness. It was an interesting fact that, at Ara, Sheikh Shulti al Atrash had begun to build, at his own expense, a little school-house; its half-finished walls were standing when I was there; but for the Government interference with our work the building would long ago have been finished. The Druses evidently like the English—why I can hardly say. I believe they think there is something akin in our religion to theirs, which I should imagine is a complete mistake.

The Druses' religion.

I was much struck with the mysticism and mystery of their belief; in trying to speak with them they at once evade pointed questions by mystic or misty answers. I am told they never pray. Their worship consists in reading their sacred books, and, I believe, in preaching and exhorting at certain times. From all this, and the extreme secrecy of their worship, I can imagine the Druse adults would be a most difficult people to work amongst. Humanly speaking, school work would be much more likely to give results. But however the case, there must be no shrinking from difficulties if the door for work amongst them is open. Just now I cannot but believe it is shut, both from the side of the Government, in the suspicion with which it views our presence amongst them, and also from the sheikhs themselves, who now are not disposed to have us back at the expense of a quarrel with the authorities in Damascus.

* Last Year's Return.

European Ordained Missionaries, 9; European Lay Missionaries, 3; European Female Missionaries, 7.

PERSIA MISSION.

THE additions made to the staff of this Mission during the year have been all for Baghdad. They are the Rev. C. H. Stileman, B.A., Trinity College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, late Curate of St. Peter's, North Shields; Miss Arabella H. Wilson; and Miss F. Valpy. The Rev. Dr. Edward F. Hoernle, who laboured with much earnestness as a medical missionary at Julfa from 1879 to 1888, when he came home, has accepted the post of Assistant Superintendent in connexion with the Edinburgh Medical Mission.

JULFA.

The three European missionaries labouring at Julfa have been the Rev. Dr. R. Bruce, mainly engaged in literary work, and in the general superintendence of the Mission; the Rev. H. Carless; and Dr. Marcus Eustace. The chief work of the two latter has been the study of the language, but Mr. Carless has made two evangelistic tours, and Dr. Eustace has diligently carried on the hospital work of the Medical Mission. Miss Eustace joined her brother in the autumn, and at the same time Miss A. E. Vansittart, in connexion with the Female Education Society, arrived.

Persecution of Jews and Babis.

Julfa has been the scene of severe persecutions directed by a Mullah in authority against the Babis and the Jews, some 13,000 of the latter being at Ispahan. Dr. Bruce, writing in November, said:—

> Last autumn, a short time before our return from England, a very respectable elderly man, a native of Abadell, was put to death by the Mohammedan priests in Ispahan in a most cruel manner for being a Babi, and the poor body most barbarously mutilated and burnt.

And again, regarding the prospects of the spread of the Gospel in view of this aggressive and intolerant spirit, he wrote:—

> In no year since my arrival in Persia, in 1869, have I seen so many reasons to hope that God's time for blessing this dark land is drawing near. There has been a greater unrest manifested by the people on both sides (on God's side and that of Satan). Weary, hungry souls, groaning under the terrible yoke of Islam, and seeking a Saviour, on the one side, and the Mohammedan priests on the other, never more active in persecuting all who do not agree with them, and doing their utmost to crush the spirit of inquiry and longing for liberty of conscience which they see increasing on all sides.

A few months later several Babis belonging to a village near Julfa were murdered with clubs by their fellow-villagers. Sir Drummond Wolff took up the case, and the chief Mohammedan priest and two others were summoned to Teheran. The sympathy and shelter shown to the survivors by Mr. Norollah, a lay agent of the London Jews' Society, and by the C.M.S. missionaries, naturally softened their hearts towards the Gospel, and Mr. Carless wrote in March that several were applying for baptism.

Translations. Dr. Bruce has completed for the first edition the Books of Genesis, Exodus, and Psalms in Persian; has revised Leviticus and half the Book of Joshua; and has prepared for the press a second edition of the Four Gospels. He has also half completed a translation of the Book of Common Prayer into the Armenian dialect of Julfa, and has rendered into Persian a book entitled The Gospel in the Old and New Testaments, by Major Giberne.

Schools. There are 177 boys and 164 girls in the two Schools. At the distribution of prizes to the boys in April last year the Armenian arch-priest was present. Dr. Bruce wrote:—

An Armenian priest presiding at distribution of prizes.

> We had a most successful and blessed distribution of prizes to our boys' school this week. We have no Armenian Bishop in Julfa at present. I was much pleased to find the Armenian arch-priest on the platform, and put him in the chair at once. The pupils and teachers acquitted themselves better than I have ever seen them do before. Our pastor, Rev. Minasacan George, opened with an earnest prayer for the school, the Shah, and the Armenian Church; I then made a few remarks, and the arch-priest followed with a most earnest, spiritual, loving speech; and when the proceedings were over he closed with a still more beautiful address, full of grace and love, and then offered an extempore prayer for a blessing on us and the school, and added the blessing.
> I cannot tell you how thankful I feel to our Heavenly Father; my heart yearns for union with these dear Eastern Christians. I felt it was a time of solemn worship and communion with the Father of Spirits, and a step forward towards the fulfilment of our Lord's prayer that we may be one, and that the Moslems may believe that He has sent His Son to be their Saviour.

Hospital. By the removal of the Orphanage to new buildings, increased accommodation has been found for the Hospital, which can now receive thirty patients. Dr. Eustace says:—

> We cannot report baptisms or converts coming boldly out for the Master; but we can tell of the work of the Holy Spirit, convicting men of sin, and making helpless sinners look up to God and ask to be led in the right way. Only to-day a young Mullah, a friend of mine, came to see me. He told me that he knew he was a sinner, and needed salvation, that for fifteen years he had been seeking for it in the dark and had not been able to find it. He asked me to tell him of Christ and of the Father's love. I told him all I then could, and bid him good-bye; he first promising to come every week for instruction. Such cases are not few and far between, but occur almost every day. If the fear of man was only removed, we should have many more to tell of.

Itinerations.

In August, September, and October, Mr. Carless made two interesting itinerating journeys. The former was in a northerly direction, when the towns of Ardistan, Natanz, Kompsar, Gulpaigun, Khonsar, Nedjefabad, and numerous villages were visited. Very little outward opposition was experienced, and several encouraging incidents occurred. The following was one:—

Waiting three years for a Gospel

We came to Abiana, another lovely place, where we encamped in a grove. We saw a beautiful instance of the Lord's guiding here. Our brother Paul, the colporteur, was walking through the village with the Bibles with him, when quite an old man put his head out of a window, and said he had been waiting three years for a Gospel of Jesus; he was old, and the world had done him no good, and he wanted to read about Jesus before he died. Surely that dear old man will see the same bright light that gladdens our hearts!

The second journey was to Shiraz, different routes being taken going and returning. His companions on this tour were a young Armenian and a Persian. The latter was baptized in Baghdad about two years since, and has been greatly persecuted by his countrymen in consequence, and has lost all his property. A door was opened unto them at Shiraz. Mr. Carless writes:—

Visit to Shiraz.

The Armenians have a church of their own, but it is shut up, as their priest died two years ago, and no other will come. On my last Sunday in Shiraz they lent me their church, so I had Persian service there in the morning (my first public attempt in the Persian language, though I preached through an interpreter), and about forty were present. They were most anxious for us to stay in Shiraz, and would lend us their church permanently. There are many Jews here also, and they have suffered much persecution of late; they entreated us to stay and help them, to protect them from the Mohammedans and to teach their children.

"A wonderful time" among Mohammedans.

Among the Mohammedans themselves we had at first a really wonderful time. Many most earnest inquirers came to see us; one or two specially bright cases, intelligent men, who would sit up all night to read the Bible to see if what we said was true. If there were only liberty, many would soon become Christians. Several asked us to open a school for their children.

One Christian Persian we found who had been baptized in Bombay a year ago. I had eventually to bring him away with me to Julfa, as his life was in danger.

But an adversary appeared, and their stay was brought to a premature end. A Mullah, hearing that Bibles were being sold in the bazaar, sent for the colporteurs and destroyed some of their copies of the Scriptures; and this man's subsequent violence so alarmed the Prince-Governor that he telegraphed to Ispahan, and Mr. Carless received a telegram from Dr. Bruce advising him to leave Shiraz at once. Ispahan was reached early in November.

Baptism of a Persian convert.

A young Persian inquirer, who followed Mr. Carless from Shiraz, was baptized at Julfa by Dr. Bruce on April 13th.

BAGHDAD.

Baghdad.

Cholera raged at Baghdad in the summer and early autumn, but it abated in September, and in October Dr. Sutton felt justified in telegraphing "Come," in response to an interrogation regarding the reinforcing party. Accordingly the Rev. C. H. and Mrs. Stileman, Miss Valpy, and Miss Wilson, reached Baghdad in December. Dr. Bruce paid his third visit to this city in January, and wrote home with much thankfulness for the increased staff of European missionaries, the Native agents, and the general prospects of Missionary work among the Mohammedans. He said: "What hath God wrought! There is a door open on every side. There are very many most hopeful inquirers—far, far more than in Ispahan. There is also much more religious liberty here than in Ispahan." From the events which immediately followed, it would seem that Dr. Bruce may have taken too cheerful a view of the measure of religious liberty. On January 19th, one of the inquirers he had spoken of, a Persian Mullah, was baptized by him. He was soon afterwards arrested, by order of the Persian Consul, and thrown into prison. Subsequently the catechist Yusef was apprehended, beaten, imprisoned, and then banished to Bitlis by the Turkish authorities. For merely visiting the dispensary a number of Mohammedans were put in prison. A colporteur who had been dismissed, and who has been heard to declare that he will ruin the Mission, had stirred up the authorities to institute this persecution. Dr. Bruce had returned to Julfa before these troubles began, and Dr. Sutton, seeing that the hospital work was temporarily suspended, took the opportunity to bring Mrs. Sutton and his family to England, hoping himself to return in a few months.

INDIA.

THE Society's work in India is on a scale of ever-increasing magnitude, and involves problems of ever-increasing complexity. It is far from being the case—as the missionaries more particularly need to be affectionately assured—that the Committee's interest in India has abated, or that India's claims have been overshadowed by those of Africa, China and Japan. On the contrary, it will be found that relatively the proportion of the Society's ordained missionaries assigned to India tends to increase, and that absolutely the number of C.M.S. Indian missionaries is now 163 as compared with 122 in 1885, i.e. it is greater by one-third. During the past year fifteen ordained missionaries and two ladies have been sent to India, while nine missionaries, including Bishop Sargent, have been removed from the staff, owing to death and other causes, making a net increase of eight in the year.

Importance of the Indian field.

The position which the Society occupies, in the Providence of God, among the numerous Protestant Missionary Societies which are seeking to win India to the Lord Jesus Christ may be gathered approximately by reference to the Decennial Missionary Statistics of 1881. In that year there were 648 Protestant missionaries on the Indian staff of over twenty English, Continental, and American Societies. Those of the C.M.S. numbered 108, more than double the next highest number, and just one-sixth of the whole. The Committee's object in drawing attention to these statistics is to emphasize their appeal for continuous and fervent prayer in their own behalf and in behalf of the missionaries in view of the opportunities and responsibilities which the position which they indicate involves.

The Society's position in India.

From various circumstances the Committee have recently taken occasion to assert their conviction regarding the precious and peculiar heritage which is enjoyed by the Evangelical members of the Protestant Reformed Church of England; and they realize with increasing force the privilege which the Society enjoys in being the channel chosen to impart to Indian Christianity the influences of this connexion. The Committee do not forget, however, that in the Mission-field, to the thoughtful and provident labourer who considers the far-reaching effects of his teaching and example, the position of an Evangelical Churchman presents practical problems both anxious and varied. What attitude shall he maintain on the one hand toward brethren of his own Church who teach what appears to him inconsistent with the plain meaning of the Church's authorized doctrinal standards, and who introduce ceremonies in Divine Service which he believes the Church has put aside on account of their superstitious tendency; and what, on the other hand, shall be his relations with brethren who are at one with him on most important doctrines, but are separated from him by totally different usages in respect of Church government and worship, and still more by the fact of connexion with different Christian communities at home? And, again, what attitude shall he encourage the Native Christians who are the fruit of his labours, to assume towards those other Native Christians who are the fruit of these brethren's labour? For the solution of these and kindred difficulties the missionary needs constantly the "spirit of power and of love, and of a sound mind," that he may be enabled, as regards his personal conduct, to cleave fast to the Word of God, and to combine with unflinching loyalty to the truth, humility, patience, and self-restraint towards those who differ from him; and, as regards the Native Christians, that he may promote amongst them unity and mutual sympathy, keeping them as far as possible from the atmosphere of controversy, fixing their minds upon the essentials of the faith, and building them up in positive truth, so that they may learn to judge of questions in their relation to the glory of Christ and the extension of His Kingdom; that he may seek, in short, to bring them "unto that agreement in the faith and knowledge of God, and to that ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ, that there be no place left amongst them either for error in religion or for viciousness of life."

and anxious duties.

NORTH INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived, 1816).

When Bishop Wilson, the fifth Bishop of Calcutta, went out in 1832, the charge to which he had been appointed comprised the whole of India and Ceylon, and extended even to Australia and the Cape. There are now thirty-nine dioceses within these boundaries, and yet the area left to the present diocese of Calcutta is scarcely less than 400,000 square miles. During the past year the missionary diocese of Chota Nagpore, a district in Bengal lying about 200 miles West of Calcutta, and inhabited by the Kols, among whom the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel has a flourishing Mission, has been formed; and the conditional sanction of the Secretary of State has been given to the appointment of a Bishop of Oudh, to whom the oversight of the North-West and Central Provinces will probably be transferred. This latter subdivision awaits the fulfilment of certain financial conditions. Calcutta Diocese.

Pending this prospective change, the Society's North India Mission still consists of the following four groups, viz.:—(1) Lower Bengal, comprising Calcutta and its environs, Burdwan, and the Krishnagar district; (2) the Santal Mission, with Bhagalpur; (3) the North-West Provinces, comprising Benares, Gorakhpur, Allahabad, Lucknow, Faizabad, Agra, Aligarh, Mirat, &c.; (4) the Central Provinces and Rajputana, viz. Jubalpur, and the Gônd and Bheel Missions.

The Calcutta Corresponding Committee, by whom this extensive Mission is ably administered, consists of the following gentlemen:—The Bishop of Calcutta, ex officio, the Rev. S. B. Taylor, Colonels W. L. Knyvett and J. M. McNeile, Major J. Broadbent, and Messrs. J. N. Stuart and J. B. Braddon. Major Broadbent and Mr. J. B. Braddon are now in England. The Rev. A. Clifford is the Secretary.

Reinforcements.

The following reinforcements arrived at Calcutta in the autumn:—The Rev. Ilsley W. Charlton, M.A., of St. Catharine's College, Cambridge, Curate of St. Benet's, Stepney, accompanied by his wife, who is a daughter of the Rev. T. Richardson, his former Vicar, the Secretary of the Bible and Prayer Union; the Rev. W. Wallace, M.A., Trinity College, Dublin, Curate of Pontaferry; the Revs. C. F. Etheridge and F. B. Gwinn, students of Islington College, who were ordained deacons by the Bishop of London on Trinity Sunday, June 16th; and Miss Eliza M. Hall. Mr. Charlton is a brother of Mrs. Redman, of the Sindh Mission; and Miss Hall has three first cousins at work in the C.M.S. Mission-field. The latter was accepted for the charge, after learning the language, of the Agarpara Orphanage, and. Messrs. Etheridge and Gwinn were appointed by the Committee to the Santal Mission.

The Rev. A. J. Shields, who came home in the spring of 1889 to accompany Mrs. Shields, who was in delicate health, and the Rev. C. H. Gill, who was ordered to Australia by the doctors at the beginning of the year, returned to the Mission in November; and the Rev. W. H. Ball, who came home by special leave in September, returned with Mrs. Ball in December. The Revs. A. J. Santer, H. Williams, and G. H. Weber, with Mrs. Weber, have come home; the first and last named on furlough, and Mr. Williams by medical orders.*

The Bishop of Calcutta admitted Babu P. Thomas Biswas to deacon's orders, and the Revs. H. Brown and E. T. Butler to priest's orders, on June 30th.

Death of Rev. P. M. Rudra,

Two of the Native clergy have been removed by death. The Rev. Piari Mohun Rudra died in June at the age of fifty. He was a convert from Hinduism. When a young man he came under the influence of some members of the noble band of converts whom Dr. Duff had brought to Christ, and was introduced to Dr. Duff himself, by whom he was baptized in 1860, at the age of twenty-one. Four years later he entered the service of the C.M.S. as head-master of the Garden Reach School at Calcutta, and in 1874 he was ordained to the charge of Trinity Church in that city by Bishop Milman. From 1882 to 1887 he was stationed at Burdwan, where he laboured with much zeal, and exercised a wide influence. In 1887 he was appointed Superintending Missionary of Krishnagar, and the success of the Special Winter Mission of 1887-8 in that district was largely due, under God, to his preparatory labours. The Bishop appointed him one of his Honorary Chaplains in 1884. The Rev. A. Clifford wrote regarding him:—

> There was a simplicity, a manliness, a lovableness, and a spirituality about him, as well as a zeal and intellectual vigour, which, in combination, presented a type of Christian character which would be recognized as a noble one anywhere. Pyari Mohun Rudra has now fought the good fight; he has finished the course; he has kept the faith. Delivered from the snares of sin and the mazes of Hindu superstition, he has won his crown of life. Almost the last word that he gasped out as he lay dying in great pain and weariness was, "Redeemed!" One such redeemed life and death is a sufficient vindication of Christian Missions to India.

and of Rev. J. K. Biswas.

The Rev. Jacob K. Biswas died in September. He was tutor in the Divinity School, where he did excellent service, and was ordained in 1887. He was distinguished for his literary work, especially for the Bengali translation of Dr. Pfander's famous Mizan al Haqq, and for an original work on the same subject, Islam Dorsham. Mr. Biswas was an able preacher, and also had the gift of poetry; no less than 231 hymns in the Bengali Church Hymnal are his, either original or translations and adaptations.

CALCUTTA.

Calcutta staff.

The European labourers of the Society in Calcutta number nine, including the Rev. A. Clifford. The Divinity School, which trains Native pastors and evangelists for the Bengal work, is under the Revs. Philip Ireland Jones and W. H. Ball; the Old Church, for Europeans and Eurasians, with an extensive district, has the Rev. A. H. Bowman for its minister; the charge of Trinity Church, Mirzapur, and Christ Church, Cornwallis Square, as well as of the evangelistic work in and around Calcutta, carried on by the Calcutta Church Missionary Association, is under the Rev. J. W. Hall; the Principal of the Boys' Boarding-school at Mirzapur, in the heart of the city, is the Rev. C. H. Bradburn; and the Girls' Boarding-school, very inadequately accommodated at present in Christ Church parsonage, is under Miss H. J. Neele, assisted by Miss Margaret Hall. Miss Eliza M. Hall is residing at present at Burdwan, with the C.E.Z.M.S. missionary ladies, while studying Bengali, and the Agarpara Orphanage is meanwhile being generously superintended by Miss Harte without charge to the Society. Miss Harte was on the staff of the S.P.G. as an honorary missionary. The Rev. Jani Alli continues single-handed to carry on his important educational work among the Mohammedans.

Divinity School.

The Rev. P. I. Jones gives a good account of the sixteen students whom he had under training during the whole or part of last year in the Divinity School. One of them was Babu P. T. Biswas, who was ordained in June, when both the Archdeacon and the Principal of the Bishop's College commended his papers. Among the men were also two deacons reading for priest's orders, and two preparing for the diaconate, while three other candidates for orders were expected to enter the class after the Christmas vacation. The rest of the students were to become catechists, and three left at the end of the year to labour in that capacity in the Calcutta, Burdwan, and Nuddea districts. Of the diligence and success of the students in their studies, Mr. Jones says:—

> Some of our men have done extremely well in the recent annual examination—e.g. one student in a paper on the Thirty-Nine Articles, gets 89 out of 100; the same man, for papers on St. John's Gospel, 92 out of 100, another 84, a third 82, and so on. Omitting Greek, the work of some of the men would bear comparison with that of many divinity students at home.

The convenient position of the Divinity School among the University Colleges gives good opportunities for reaching the young men which are eagerly embraced. On Sunday evenings, during term-time, a service is held in English for non-Christian students, of which Mr. Jones says:—

Services for non-Christian students.

> This service is one way of reaching a large number of men. Mr. Ball and I sally forth into College Square about forty minutes before service, with printed papers of invitation, and chosen tracts which we can distribute widely, adding vivâ voce a word of welcome to the service. In the chapel our students seated on the floor near the Holy Table have meanwhile begun singing Bengali hymns, with accompaniment of Native music, and each visitor is provided with a printed hymn-sheet, one of a series of four prepared for these services. The chapel is generally full, and we have singing, prayer, Bible-reading, address, and, if occasion arise, brief discussion.

Mr. Jones gives an interesting account of various members of a Sunday Bible-class for non-Christians which he holds. The average attendance is about three, though twelve are on the list of members. One of them is a member of the Children's Scripture Reading Union, and is "almost persuaded, but afraid of consequences." Another is a Kulin Brahmin, a graduate of Calcutta University, who once remarked epigramatically, in reference to social subjects, but expressing both his own attitude and that of many others towards the fundamental subject of the confession of Christ as God and Saviour, "We want the maximum of result with the minimum of disturbance." Another wrote to say how keenly disappointed he was that his friends had prevented his attending the class. Yet another, a Brahmo, at the close of the Bible-class was overheard to say in a low voice, "May God guide us to His truth!" Twice a week the Gospel is preached in the open air by the masters and students in the northern part of the city.

"Maximum of result with minimum of disturbance."

Mr. Jones was present last year at an address given to students by a well-known Christian pleader, Mr. Kali Charun Banerjea, on "The Outlook for Young Men," when a leading Brahmo, Principal of the Ripon College, occupied the chair. Mr. Jones' remarks on the occurrence will be read with interest. He says:—

Lecture to College students.

A number of Christian missionaries were present, and could not but rejoice at the signs of change which such a meeting so plainly indicated. A Christian lecturer and a Hindu (or Brahmo) chairman addressed a meeting of 400 or 500 students, urging a disregard for popular Hinduism and a reverent service of the true God, and their words are received with hearty approval! Under such circumstances, is there not cause for hope and prayer?

Old Church.

The congregation of the Old Church has considerably increased. Mr. Bowman mentions that the number of communicants on Easter Day last year was upwards of ninety more than in the previous year. In the various parochial agencies Mr. Bowman has the assistance of two Bible-women and a Native catechist. An agent of the Church Army has lately been added to his staff. The weekly Temperance Meetings are especially well attended.

Mohammedan Mission.

The Rev. Jani Alli carries on the Mohammedan Mission. Two Hindustani services are held on Sundays, at 8.15 a.m. in the Old Church, and at 4.30 p.m. in the Welland Hall, and out-door preaching is done, as time and strength allow, at suitable centres in the city and at melas in the neighbourhood. Mr. Alli, himself a convert from Mohammedanism, frequently visits, as an evangelist, the homes of well-to-do Muslims. He says:—

Visit to the Mujtahed.

Amongst others I visited the Mujtahed (highest authority amongst the Shiahs), who had come from Lucknow. He received me very politely, though his manner was cold. This was not to be wondered at. His consenting to see a "renegade" was a great concession; and his doing this publicly in the presence of some who almost worship him, shows that a great change has come over Mussulmans.

At the Garden Reach School, out of 273 boys, 68 are Mohammedans; while at the Matyaburj School 98 are Moslems out of 103. The prize distribution in connexion with the latter took place at the house of the widow of the late Prime Minister of Oudh, two of whose nephews attend the school. One incident at the prize-giving was specially gratifying. Mr. Alli says:—

Mussulman boys ask for Bibles as prizes.

There were two prizes for Scripture, and the recipient of one of these asked for a Bible. He and another boy received reference Bibles with maps. This is the first time that Bibles have been given away as prizes. Though this in itself is not a circumstance worth mentioning, yet when one bears in mind that this school is specially for Mussulmans, who are religiously taught to regard the Christians' Bible as a spurious book, that the school was opened only three years ago, and that a year ago there was the greatest opposition to Scripture lessons, he has every reason to be thankful for this public testimony: boys in the presence of their parents and friends asking for and receiving Bibles as prizes for diligence in the study of the Scripture.

A Mohammedan convert, Mr. Masih Manzar, a graduate of Calcutta University, has lately been appointed headmaster of this school. He is a native of Patna, was baptized at Delhi, and took his B.A. degree from Bishop's College.

Boarding-schools.

The report of the Calcutta Church Missionary Association, which is usually so full of interest, has not been received. No report of the Boys' Boarding-school is to hand, for which omission the state of the Rev. C. H. Bradburn's health, which compelled him to take three months' leave to the hills in the winter, no doubt accounts. The Rev. E. T. Butler, who was married in November to a sister of the Rev. H. Brown, of the Burdwan Mission, took Mr. Bradburn's place during his absence, and assistance was also rendered for several weeks by Mr. Le Feuvre.

The Girls' Boarding-school has seventy-nine pupils. Of three sent up to the University Entrance Examination, one was successful and was placed first in the second division, obtaining a Government scholarship of Rs. 15 per mensem. Sir Charles A. Elliott, the Minister of Public Works, presided at the prize distribution in February, and Lady Elliott presented the prizes. Two difficulties were experienced, both instructive in their way. Miss Neele says:—

Two difficulties at a prize distribution.

> The conduct of our girls has been very good, especially of the elder ones. Indeed, at our prize distribution for last year (held on February 7th this year) we had much difficulty in deciding who should receive the special good-conduct prize given by Miss Harding. Five girls had full marks in conduct, so we were obliged to reckon order marks in with the conduct, and this gave a decided advantage to the girl to whom the prize was awarded.
> We were disappointed in the non-arrival of a piano, which had been promised. Among the items on the programme was a trio on the piano, the "Hallelujah Chorus;" two of the performers were to be our two Karen pupils, probably the first of their country who have learned this accomplishment. They both hope to devote themselves to Mission work on their return home; one in hospital work.

One of last year's pupils has gone to Umritsar to study medicine under Miss Hewlett, and one or two others have taken up work at Mission schools. The Gleaners' Union in the school keeps up its numbers.

BURDWAN.

Burdwan.

The Rev. H. Brown, the young Islington student who went out in 1887, and the Rev. Râj Kristo Bose, labour together at this important town of 33,000 people, and in the district of which it is the centre with 1,391,730 people. A young Brahmin of good family, named Kedar Nath Chowdhury, of the village of Maimansingh, was baptized at Burdwan in the summer. During the hot weather Mr. Brown had daily classes of young men, non-Christians, students in the Maharajah's College and in the Municipal School, for reading the Word of God; and he expresses his assurance that many of them are convinced of the truth of the Gospel. Preaching in the courts, &c., and visiting all classes at their homes, have been carried on as in former years. At Raneegunge, about sixty miles westward from Burdwan, a place noted for its coal-mines, a woman was baptized whose sister had previously embraced the Christian faith. Also westward from Burdwan, but much nearer than Raneegunge, are found the Bowries, an agricultural people, among whom a remarkable movement took place in 1882 (see Annual Report for 1882-3) through the efforts of a Christian fakir. Seven adults and their families were baptized from these people during the year, and fifteen others are under instruction for baptism. Three new out-stations, at Sitarampur, Sarakdihi, and Mahishamura have been opened. Mr. Bose says he hopes soon to see seven churches amongst them. Of the five catechists, &c., who are at work here, three are themselves Bowries. Mr. Brown says of the work:—

Baptism of Bowries.

> It is one of the few Missions in India that have been founded and carried on entirely by Natives. The heathen in these parts soon noticed that every time I came it rained; so they thought that my name must have something to do with their god "Brun" (the Hindu god of rain), so that in their superstition they heartily welcomed me. Some of the workers in the Mission went with me to preach in the evenings, and it was soon evident that the best man to talk to a Bowry is a Bowry: the best way of setting forth the Gospel—phrases, tone, and expression—belongs only to Natives; even the Bengali preacher with me seemed in a strange land.

Bowry catechists

Mr. Brown was married in November to Miss Rosa Skinner, of Harrow.

KRISHNAGAR DISTRICT.

The year commenced with a stronger staff in this Mission than it has had for many years past. The Committee especially rejoiced that they were enabled to increase the number of evangelistic missionaries in this district, with its exceptionally dense population, exceeding two millions. But sickness has made inroads upon this band; the Rev. H. Williams, as already mentioned, has come to England; and the Rev. C. H. Gill has found the anticipations of his Australian and Calcutta medical advisers correct, and, after spending the winter months in the company of his three young lay friends, has been obliged to leave the humid climate of Bengal for the Central Provinces. The senior of the lay evangelists, Mr. Sidney W. Donne, has been appointed temporarily thé leader of the community, which consists, besides himself, of Messrs. A. Le Feuvre and P. H. Shaul. The Rev. W. Wallace, while studying the language, is residing with them at Shikarpur. The Rev. A. J. Santer had charge of the Training School, Krishnagar, until he came home for furlough, when the Rev. E. T. Butler succeeded him. The Revs. I. W. Charlton and F. B. Gwinn are also at Krishnagar, studying Bengali. The Rev. G. H. Parsons is the superintendent of the district, and chairman of the Krishnagar District Church Council. Although he has been out over ten years, Mr. Parsons volunteered to defer his furlough when Mr. Williams' illness became known, and in the emergency was allowed to do so, though not without misgivings on account of his own health.

Nuddea District.

Training School.

Twenty-three youths are in the Training School, all Christians, five being converts sent thither by different missionaries. The fresh faith of these converts acts invigoratingly, Mr. Santer observed, on the others who were born Christians. In the early part of the year there were a few heathen boys in the school, six altogether. Mr. Santer wrote of these lads:—

> It grieves me to think of the loss of my Hindu lads. I began with six; but three left after a time, as they could not make the scholarships allowed them suffice for their keep. The other three held on, and gave me great delight by their wonderfully keen appreciation of the truths of our holy religion. Often when taking a parable, or miracle, or teaching, of our Lord with them, I would ask, "What is there like this in Hinduism?" And they would reply, "Nothing, indeed!"

Hindu lads' knowledge of the Bible.

> These boys entered the Scripture examination, and I was simply astonished, not only at the accuracy of their knowledge of historical facts, but also at their deep grasp of spiritual truth underlying the Scriptural narrative. I do not think any of our Christian boys could have answered better than they.
> When handing these boys their school certificates, the most advanced of the three asked me also for a certificate of his knowledge of Scripture! I took the opportunity of explaining to him how solemn a thing it was to have gained such knowledge, and that unless he followed it up with further search and real practice in life, this certificate would be but a warrant of condemnation for him. They all three promised to read their Bibles carefully.

Mr. Santer expressed emphatically his conviction, founded on experience, that time spent on the study of the Scriptures is not time lost, even from the point of view of good attainments in secular knowledge. He wrote:—

Secular studies not hindered by Scripture lessons.

Last March we sent up ten boys for the Government Normal School Examination—seven Christians and three Hindus—and six out of the ten passed—five Christians and one Hindu. I am glad to say that besides a good percentage as regards numbers, the quality of work has risen to a higher scale. At first, when the Government standard was begun, I felt relieved when the candidates were able to get through in the lowest division; but now our boys are beginning to take their places among the foremost in the higher division. One of our boys took the fifth place in the higher standard out of forty-three candidates; and another in the lower division took also the fifth place out of eighty candidates. The others of our school were well placed. This result is encouraging, and it shows that with Scripture lessons in addition to the secular work there need be no drawback to fear.

On the other hand, to show that the high standard of secular work does not affect the Scriptural work, I am glad to be able to report that those boys did well in our Scripture examination, and in another held by the Sunday School Union (to which our boys belong) out of nine candidates eight passed; one obtained a very nice prize, and all the rest gained certificates.

Two outgoing students were sent, with prayer and exhortation, to their work as teachers in the district on St. John the Baptist's Day. The Revs. G. H. Parsons and J. W. Hall gave the special addresses. Mrs. Santer has access to the wife of the Rajah of Krishnagar, who resides at the town of Krishnagar. Mr. Santer says of this open door:—

Visits to the Ranee of Krishnagar.

Mrs. Santer had been teaching the Ranee up to last October, when a little daughter was given to them. For what reason it is difficult to say, but after that event the Raja opposed my wife's going there any more, and the instruction begun so well, and carried on so hopefully, was peremptorily stopped. The Raja was even averse to my wife merely visiting the Ranee, and when at last she did gain admittance, she was not allowed to see the baby. But in August the child died. I wrote to the Raja, and my wife to the Ranee, to comfort them as best we could. A few weeks ago the Raja, of his own accord, asked if my wife would visit and instruct the Ranee again! Surely we may say, "This is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes." The lessons are now going on merrily again, and my wife has far more freedom than formerly, for she is not watched as she was, and is permitted to teach in the zenana, where before she gained no entrance.

Associated evangelists.

The Associated Evangelists' scheme was sorely tried by the enforced absence of the Rev. C. H. Gill; and all the three young laymen, who arrived in March, suffered from illness within the first few months, Mr. Donne being obliged to take a sea voyage to Ceylon. Notwithstanding these misfortunes, good progress has been made. The new brethren have worked well and successfully at the language, and the experience gained so far has proved the perfect feasibility of the economical financial arrangements, which are an important part of the scheme. Mr. Gill wrote in February:—

Feasibility of the scheme.

Hitherto the community has been in existence only one year, but already the experience gained points to the perfect feasibility of the plan, and more—to great benefits likely to accrue both to the Native Church and to the heathen. I am sure I am the mouthpiece both of European and Bengali brethren when I write this; and I take this opportunity of earnestly urging the Committee at home to give a prominent place to this scheme, and to post it up before the eyes of the many young men in our Y.M.C.A.'s, Church Institutes, and parish churches, as well as in colleges, who are just longing for some such opening as this in connexion with their own Church of England.

The Mission buildings at Shikarpur, which is the site chosen for the "home" of the associated evangelists, have been generously presented by an anonymous friend of the Mission, and are now practically finished. They were taken possession of in December. Previously the party had resided at Bollobhpur, and at Chupra. Interesting first Annual Letters have been received from all the lay brethren. Mr. Shaul describes the landscape:—

The landscape.

The district in which our work lies contains a dense population of husbandmen, and some parts are so overcrowded that the inhabitants can with difficulty find land to cultivate. The ordinary landscape is a flat stretch of rice-fields, fringed round with evergreen masses of bamboos, date, and other palms. This densely-peopled tract seems at first sight bare of villages, for each hamlet is hidden amidst its own grove of plantains, jack, and other wealth-giving trees. The crops also change as we walk from village to village; rice is the staple crop and universal diet, but wheat, barley, sugar-cane, cotton, oil-seeds, and many precious spices are seen growing in great abundance.

Mr. Le Feuvre attributes most of his knowledge of Bengali to his daily chats and games with the children. His observant interest in his youthful tutors is shown by the following extract:—

A Native boy's education.

The education of a boy is divided into three periods. From one to five years of age he is taught to walk and talk, from five to ten he is taught reading, writing, &c., from ten to fifteen he is formally introduced into the mysteries of caste and all its attendant evils, while after that age he is treated as a friend and equal by his fellow-men, commences his married life, &c. Up to this age he is treated as "ignorant and only fit for play;" so his parents deliberately tell you that he cannot be taught anything about sin, or God, or prayer, except what he chooses to glean from what he sees going on around him in his home or elsewhere. If you ask boys about these things, you are generally answered by some such remark as this, "I am only a child, what do I know?"

Whatever the people themselves may think of their boys, I have found them to possess bright, happy, intelligent and affectionate dispositions, with remarkably good memories, and a splendid capability of blurting out all they know and hear.

One boy used to bring eight to ten boys every day to my tent, and as I was quite alone, these lads, just out of school, would come in and listen to me, ask and answer questions about religion and what it meant,—sin and its punishment, Jesus and His life, works, and death,—until it was time to go out for our evening preaching. Needless to say, the boys reproached us for leaving so soon at every station. Two little fellows took to arguing with me and proving conclusively to themselves that I ought to stay. "Look, Sahib, I take one week to remember things. If you stop, I shall remember what you have taught me. If you go, I shall forget it all. You must stop." A case of Q.E.D.!

"A case of Q.E.D."

Mr. Butler made an itinerating tour in August and September, following the course first of the Jelinghee and then of the Matabanga rivers. He visited 79 villages, addressed 740 audiences, and sold 139 books in this tour. He was accompanied by four Native catechists, of whom he says:—

Their zeal for the Lord's work, readiness to undergo fatigue and privation, were most pleasing to behold. Often the whole day would be taken up with preaching and conversation with visitors; and meals, study, or sleep, were willingly given up in order to point inquirers to the Light of the World.

Zeal of Native catechists.

In October, accompanied by Mr. Le Feuvre, Mr. Butler went for a week's preaching to Nuddea. Mr. Ireland Jones, with Messrs. Shaul and Le Feuvre and six Bengali preachers, spent December itinerating in the district. Mr. Shaul wrote of this tour:—

Our daily routine ran as follows:—Morning prayer, 6 a.m.; breakfast, 6.30 a.m.; preaching, 7 to 11 a.m.; Bible-reading, by Rev. P. Ireland Jones, 11.30 a.m.; bath and tiffin, 12.15 p.m.; talk and prayer over the work, 3 p.m.; devotional reading, 3.30 to 4.30 p.m.; tea, 5 p.m.; preaching, 5.30 to 8 p.m.; dinner, 8.30 p.m.; evening prayer, 9.30 p m.

It was often hard to tear ourselves away from our evening congregation, so manifest was the real seeking of many after truth. One meeting I well remember, when, after we had sung many hymns and all our preachers had spoken, the cry, "Tell us more about Jesus," led us to begin the meeting again; and, after all our men had spoken a second time, the people were still anxious to hear more, and many accompanied us in our walk back to the tents.

"Tell us more about Jesus."

The New Year saw all the lay evangelists together in camp. Mr. Donne wrote from the scene of labour:—

The itinerating work is certainly the nearest to one's ideal missionary work—preaching the Gospel to the heathen,—and this our first tour has opened our eyes to the extent of the "land to be possessed," the "whiteness of the field unto the harvest," and the Dense population.

"paucity of labourers;" the whole tour of this camp having encompassed about 250 to 300 villages, with a population of something like 30,000 inhabitants, in about three months. There has been much to encourage us, and there is every reason to believe that the good seed has been sown on good ground in very many instances; and besides that, we have sold about 600 Gospels, thirty Testaments, and a few Bibles.

Pastorates.

The Rev. G. H. Parsons reports on the work of the Pastorates in connexion with the Krishnagar Native Church Council, viz. Chupra, where the Rev. P. T. Biswas, the new deacon, is located, Bollobhpur, Solo, Kapasdanga, Rattanpur, and Joginda. The staff consists of six Native pastors, 6 catechists, 10 readers, 2 evangelists, 14 Bible-women (exclusive of C.E.Z.M.S. agents), 45 teachers, and 17 female teachers. Meetings of the District Council were held on May 1st, at Bollobhpur, and on December 4th and 5th at Joginda. At the latter meeting, in response to a suggestion of the Committee, the Council decided to send one of the agents supported by the William Charles Jones Fund, if one could be found willing, to labour as an evangelist in Santalia. Babu Gorachand Biswas immediately offered his services, and was accepted for this work. Two Conferences for the promotion of the spiritual life have been held at Chupra, one for the male and the other for the female agents. The former took place in March, from the 25th to the 28th, under the direction of the Rev. W. H. Ball, and all the agents invited, with one or two exceptions, were present. An account of these happy and profitable meetings appeared in the Calcutta localized C.M. Gleaner, from which the following is an extract:—

The District Council sends a catechist to the Santals.

Devotional meetings for agents.

On Tuesday morning we gathered round the Table of our Lord, Mr. Ball having bidden us welcome in the Saviour's name to come apart and rest awhile, urging us to take Samuel's words upon our lips in prayer—"Speak, Lord, for Thy servants hear." There were thirty-three communicants at that early first service.

At 9 a.m. Mr. Ball gave his first Bible-reading—on "The Kingship of Christ." All had their Bibles, and very numerous were the references looked out from all parts of the Book, all illustrating the subject, and each contributing its quota of glory to the King. If space were allowed me, I could give full analyses of those delightful Bible-readings, but I must be content with the bare mention of the subjects. At 12.30 noon we had an intercessory prayer-meeting and Missionary Litany. A goodly number of requests for prayer had been sent in. Breakfast followed at 1 p.m. At 3.30 the second Bible-reading, subject, "The Power of the King." At 6.30 p.m., "The Grace of the King."

The second day commenced with a prayer-meeting, chiefly of self-humiliation and confession. The subjects of the three Bible-readings the second day were—"Children of the King," "The Privileges of the Children," "A Glorious Inheritance."

The third day there were only two Bible-readings, on "Serving the King" and "Failure and its Causes," and in the evening we again met at the Lord's Table, all joining together at the close of the service in saying the prayer of self-consecration to the service of the King, in the words, "Here we offer and present unto Thee, O Lord, ourselves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy, and lively sacrifice unto Thee."

The Conference for female agents was conducted by Miss H. J. Neele, on December 11th and 12th. At the closing service there were forty-eight communicants, most of them being agents of the C.M.S. and C.E.Z.M.S.

Bollobhpur.

At Bollobhpur two adults, both from the same village, Gopalpur, were baptized in May and June by the Rev. K. C. Biswas. One of them, Zender Biswas, was a Mussulman, and the Guru Mohashoy of his village; the other, Norendro Kumar Chowdhury, was a Brahmin, the eldest son of one of the principal families in the district. Mr. Butler supplies an account of the baptism of the latter:—

Baptism of a Brahmin.

His baptism took place in the River Bhoyrob on June 2nd, and was an event long to be remembered by all present. After the second lesson of the evening service, the first part of the Baptismal Service for adults was read, and then in a most quiet and orderly manner the whole congregation transferred themselves to the river-side. The women and children stood on the top of the bank, while the men were scattered about on the slope. Away in the distance the people of Ramnagar village poured out of their houses to watch the proceedings, and on the opposite side the people of Bhobanipore formed quite a chain from their village to the river. In a voice which might have been heard by all the lookers-on our faithful pastor asked for our new brother's name, and then uttered the solemn baptismal words. The baptism over, the Christians immediately sang "Joy Probhu Jesu" ("Victory to the Lord Jesus"), and we slowly returned to the church. Here we found that a large company of heathen had assembled. The pastor preached upon Noah and the Flood in such an earnest and beseeching manner that I feel sure the hearts of the heathen must have been touched. The service over, we perambulated the village and marched through the adjoining heathen village, singing Christian hymns.

Six months later Mr. Butler wrote of these two converts, "They remain firm, and continue to adorn the doctrine of God their Saviour."

SANTALIA.

This Mission has been carried on under considerable difficulty, owing to the reduced staff, the causes of which were explained last year. The Rev. F. T. Cole has had the charge of three districts, viz. Taljhari, Barharwa, and Hirampur, in addition to the responsibility of forming and developing the District Church Council, of which he is Chairman. The Rev. J. Blaich is engaged in the Taljhari Boys' Boarding-school. The Rev. A. Stark is at Bhagaya, where he has been lately joined by the Rev. J. A. Cullen, who, having passed his first examination in Hindi, is now devoting himself to the study of Pahari. Mr. Stark was also responsible for the charge of Godda until the Rev. A. J. Shields returned at the end of the year, accompanied by the Rev. F. Etheridge, who is temporarily residing at Godda while studying Hindi. The Rev. F. B. Gwinn is studying Bengali in Krishnagar with the view to service in this Mission.

Meetings of Santal District Church Council.

The Santal District Church Council held its first meeting in June, and the second in October. Eight pastorates have been formed in the three districts of Taljhari, Barharwa, and Hirampur, but only three at present have ordained pastors, viz. Taljhari, Chuchi, and Lakhipur. At the first meeting the Rev. Bhim Hansdah, the pastor of Lakhipur, read a paper on "How shall we establish a Native Missionary Society?" And it was announced at the second meeting that each pastorate had formed a missionary association. Mr. Cole attributes largely to the formation of the Council the fact that the work has been maintained notwithstanding the paucity of European labourers.

The Taljhari Pastorate is the most important, and contains 795 Christians. By these an agent is supported in the district of Poraspani, where three adults have been baptized as the firstfruits of the Native Missionary Society. These consisted of a man and his wife and younger son. Some opposition was made by the man's two brothers, but the baptism took place in their presence. The sequel is related by Mr. Cole :—

Destruction of household gods.

After the service was over, Surja said to me, "Now I want to clear out all the deotas (demons and household gods) from my house and village." The two elder sons (who had not been baptized) at their father's bidding then brought a ladder and took down from the roof inside the house two huge bundles of bark, each as large as a man, in the centre of which were some carved sticks. These had been kept in the house more than twelve years, and were covered with soot and cobwebs. They are supposed to be the deities who bring riches and health. After this were produced some mysterious-looking baskets and pots, one of which contained something wrapped up in a rag. The youngest son opened this with great glee, and showed me a small quartz stone covered with vermilion. This was supposed to be the charm of the house. Surja then brought fire and set light to all these abominations in the presence of his brothers and the villagers. The elder brother looked as if he could kill Surja: they were both mad with rage. Whilst these were burning, Surja went to the centre of the village where the guardian deities of the place were supposed to reside, and began pulling down the tall bamboo flag that marked the spot. The villagers opposed him with all their might. The Sordar (headman of the district) said, "Our father fixed this bamboo here." But Surja said, "No, I planted it on this very spot about two years ago, my father has been dead more than twelve years." So down came the bamboo and shared the fate of the household gods. Then Surja said, "I have one more abomination to get rid of." He then led the way to a grove outside the village and began taking up the large stones. The heathen appealed to me to stop him in his iconoclasm. At last a compromise was made. Surja said, "I will show you that I will have no more to do with them." He then took up the two sacred stones and threw them on one side, saying that if they liked they could put them back again, but that he had had his way. The heathen afterwards carefully replaced them. All this was done without a word from me. I stood by in utter amazement, and thanking God for the wonderful things that were happening; I thought to myself, "We have seen strange things to-day."

In the Chuchi Pastorate are 410 Christians. Mr. Cole calls this "a bright spot." Testimony was afforded during one of Mr. Cole's visits to this district to the profitableness of godliness for the life that now is. He says:—

One Sunday, when visiting in a distant part of the district, I saw the heathen ploughing, taking advantage of a heavy shower of rain that had fallen after a season of drought. I remarked to the pastor, who accompanied me, "The Christians have a cross to bear at such times, not being allowed to plough and sow on the Sabbath; but God will certainly reward them for it in the next world." He said to me, "Do not trouble yourself, the heathen themselves, if you ask them, will tell you that they are no better off than the Christians. They say, 'We heathen work seven days in the week, and yet we are not so well off as the Christians, who only work six days and rest the other day.'" God blesses the Christians assuredly; in most places they are the rising men.

Not losers by keeping the Sabbath.

The Christians of this and of the Lakhipur Pastorate support a Native missionary in the district of Telo; while those of the Dharumpur pastorate entirely support one who labours in the district of Raganathpur. In this latter pastorate there is a boarding-school with seventy-five Santhal girls and young women. Mr. Cole says of the liberality of these people in promoting missionary work:—

It is most cheering to see how liberally they contribute their rice on the third Sunday in the month for the support of their missionary agent. Each class of girls, too, in the boarding-school, has its own missionary box, made by themselves of clay, with a tin lid and a slit in it. During the harvest festival lately held, the Native missionary himself gave as an offering a whole month's pay, in the name of his family. Truly these people have shown a wonderful enthusiasm for missionary work amongst their heathen brethren. In many houses a pot for rice is kept by the stove, and every time they cook they put into it a handful of rice for Christ. This is collected on the third Sunday in the month in the church.

In the eight pastorates the whole amount of rice contributed at the Harvest Festivals was almost 110 Santali-maunds (= 60 lbs.), or nearly three tons.

Mr. Stark has baptized fourteen adults at BHAGAYA, of whom ten were Paharis, three Hindus, and one Santali. An interesting inquirer, a Jogi from Muttra near Agra, is referred to by Mr. Stark:—

A Jogi inquirer at Bhagaya.

He has spent many years of his life in pilgrimages to many Hindu shrines, seeking peace. In his wanderings he heard the Gospel somewhere in Bengal. As he was passing through Phulkia, he came to the portion of the village occupied by the Christians, and was so pleased with their conversation that he remained some days with them and attended their chapel. He felt at peace, and expressed his desire to join them, on which they brought him to me. He has been here about a month, and I do feel that God has opened his heart to receive His truth.

Five Pahari lads have been sent up for the first time to the Upper Primary Examination, marking a step in their intellectual growth.

BHAGALPUR.

The Rev. G. H. and Mrs. Weber have laboured on at this station, with few encouragements, until April last, when they came home on furlough. The Boys' School has 125 on the rolls. The Girls' School and Orphanage are worked by pupil-teachers under Mrs. Weber. The tone in both schools is "decidedly high," Mr. Weber says. The congregation numbers eighty, but consists chiefly of Mission workers and domestic servants. The need of more labourers for evangelistic work is very apparent; Mr. and Mrs. Weber found everywhere an open door when they were able to itinerate.

NORTH-WEST PROVINCES.

Agra, commenced 1813; Mirát, 1815; Benares, 1817; Gorakpur, 1823; Azimgarh and Jaunpur, 1831; Lucknow, 1858; Allahabad, 1859; Faizabad, 1862; Aligarh, 1863.

THE Committee cannot refrain from expressing their earnest sympathy with the labourers in the North-West Provinces, engaged in the high places of the field, who have seen their thin ranks still further reduced by various causes, and to whom the autumn did not bring the hoped-for recruits. Three missionaries have been removed from the staff of the Mission by retirement, viz. the Rev. John Treusch, who has been placed on the disabled list in consequence of the failure of his health; the Rev. Dr. Hooper (who, on account of family circumstances, is obliged to reside in New Zealand); and the Rev. J. T. H. Hoernle. A fourth name should perhaps be added, that of the Rev. E. Droese, who is now on the retired list, being over seventy years of age, and having lost his voice; but he continues to reside in the Mission, and to do valuable translation work. The Rev. G. B. Durrant has been temporarily transferred to the Central Provinces. The Rev. F. E. Walton was transferred to the Japan Mission, but he has been sent home on medical certificate after a very short sojourn in that country. The Rev. P. M. Zenker was admitted to priest's orders by the Bishop of Calcutta on June 30th.

BENARES.

Benares.

This, the "most sacred" city in India, with its 2000 temples and half a million of idols, has been lately shown to be also one of the most drunken cities in India, the amount of strong drink consumed being about nine times as large proportionately to the population in this city and district as in the neighbouring district of Gorakhpur. The work has been divided among the Rev. Brocklesby Davis, who is especially responsible for the management of Jay Narain's School; the Rev. J. J. Johnson, who is the evangelistic missionary; and the Rev. G. Litchfield, who superintends the Normal School for girls. The Committee have lately learned with regret that Mr. Davis has been ordered a sea trip to Australia for the benefit of his health. The Rev. D. Solomon is the pastor of the Native congregation.

Jay Narain's School.

The students of Jay Narain's School have done well in the entrance examination of the new Allahabad University; one, the same who had previously on three successive occasions headed the list in the Sanscrit Examination of the Punjab University, being placed first in the first class, and two others obtained the seventeenth and twenty-fourth places respectively, with Government Scholarships. Several others came out in the second and third classes. In the Punjab University one of the students took the first place in the Initial Sanscrit Examination. Jay Narain boys also obtained the first and third places in the Open Scripture Scholarships Examination, the second and fourth places being won by boys from the Jaunpur C.M.S. High School.

The Society is much indebted to the I.F.N.S., and to the Berlin Ladies' Society, for the help rendered by their missionaries in connexion with the Girls' Normal School and the Orphanage. Mr. Litchfield refers to the interest shown by the Normal School girls for Medical Mission work. He says:—

Normal School.

> No less than three recruits having gone from us during the year who are now being directly trained for that purpose. One of them, the daughter of a C.M.S. Native pastor, successfully passed the Matriculation Examination of the Allahabad University in March, obtained a scholarship at the Lahore Medical College, and is now studying there for her degree. Another girl was selected from our Normal Class by the Benares Municipality, and sent at their expense to the Medical School at Agra, where she has since gained a scholarship, and freed them from the cost of her maintenance; while a third is being trained as a nurse at the Victoria Hospital for Women in Benares, in connexion with the Indian Female Normal Society.

Girl candidates for Medical Mission work.

GORAKHPUR.

Gorakhpur.

For the past thirty-seven years the Rev. Henry Stern has continued at this station, including short intervals of furlough, and he is still in charge of the work both in this city and in the out-stations of Basharatpur, Dharmpur, Sternpur, and Basti. Basharatpur and Sternpur are agricultural settlements, occupied by Native Christians. The former name means "town of joy," and the town is built on a tract of what was waste land, which was allotted to this Mission by Lord W. Bentinck before the Mutiny. The latter place was built in 1883, and bears the name of the missionary in charge. There are 585 baptized Christians at these places, of whom 321 are communicants. In the schools 1028 boys and 328 girls are under instruction. Good educational results are reported, 11 having passed the Allahabad University Matriculation, 25 the Anglo-Vernacular Middle Class, and 26 the Vernacular Middle Class Examinations. The Lieutenant-Governor of the N.-W. Provinces, Sir Auckland Colvin, lately visited the station and inspected the school. In September the Bishop of Calcutta confirmed 96 candidates in the Gorakhpur Church. The Bishop, in addition to addresses to the candidates and the Native congregation, also gave an English lecture to English-speaking Native gentlemen in the hall of the Mission school on "the Problems of Life."

Mr. Stern says, "There are many secret Nicodemuses among the Natives of this country," and he gives the following examples :— "Secret Nicodemuses."

Not long ago I went to see an old acquaintance, a deputy collector and magistrate, a Hindu, who was very ill; he asked me to pray for him. I did so in the presence of several of his friends, Hindus and Mohammedans, and it was quite surprising to see how they all joined in the prayer, often calling out "Amen, Amen!" and one of them, also a Government official, afterwards thanked me, and said, that this was just the sort of prayer for one who was dying. I visited the poor man subsequently; he was then unconscious, but I was requested by one of the attendants to offer up prayer, which I did, and all were most reverent. The sick man has since died. He had often heard the truth; his sons read in the Mission school, and his Zenana is visited by our Zenana teachers.

A Bengali lecturing on "Jesus Christ."

The other instance of encouragement is the following:—Not long ago I got a letter from a former pupil, a Bengali, who is now in the railway office, asking me to preside at a lecture which he wished to deliver to the young students of our school and the Government school, and that his subject was to be "Jesus Christ"! I consented, of course, most willingly, and was curious to know what a Hindu gentleman would say about Christ, thinking that he who is not against is for Him. Printed notices were issued, and on the day appointed I took the chair, and was very much pleased to find over a hundred young men present, and still more pleased and gratified at the lecture. My young friend gave a very good account of the life of Christ, in English, speaking for nearly an hour; and I could not help thinking that he is not far from the kingdom of heaven. He took great care, however, to say, that no one should suspect him of being secretly a Christian, but he was bold enough to affirm that he must accept the truth wherever it is found. He insisted on the fact that Christianity had been a blessing to the world in general, and that Christian missionaries had proved a great blessing to India in particular.

ALLAHABAD.

The Revs. H. M. M. Hackett and A. E. Johnston are the European missionaries at Allahabad, the capital of the North-West Provinces, the former being Principal and the latter Vice-Principal of the Divinity School. The Rev. David Mohun, after fifty years of service and thirty-one as an ordained minister, is unequal to much active work, but does what he can.

Allahabad Divinity School.

Sixteen students have been under training in the Divinity School. Three of these, having completed their course, passed out during the year, one to labour at Mirat and another at Lucknow. One student has returned, after a year's course, to Secundra, and another, Yaqub (the Mohammedan convert referred to in last year's Annual Report, pp. 119, 134) has returned to Bombay.

The Rev. Mark Drummond has been in the class preparing for Priests' Orders, and Isaac Vincent has been studying for Deacon's Orders. Of these last two Mr. Hackett says:—

> Where all our students are diligent in study, these are remarkable for their perseverance. Their knowledge of their Bibles is remarkably good, and their spiritual tone above even that of the ordinary spiritual agents. We hope that they may be ordained next Easter, and I believe that they will prove effective labourers in the harvest-field.

Lectures to non-Christian students.

Weekly lectures were delivered in the school hall during July and August, especially for the non-Christian students of the Government College. The subjects were, "Is National Unity possible in India," "Inspiration," "Indian Female Education," "Conscience," "Geology," "Memory," "Religious Progress," "Father Damien," and "The Problems of Life;" and the lecturers were, Mr. M. N. Chatterji, Rev. G. J. Dunn, Saiyad Mustafa, B.A., Mr. J. D. Cameron, Rev. W. H. Biggs, M.A., Mr. Awadh Behan Lal, B.A., Rev. A. E. Brown Constable, and Mr. Ram Chandra Bose.

Lord Radstock and Canon Wilberforce at Allahabad.

In December the Bishop of Calcutta gave an address to the Divinity students, Lord Radstock spoke on two occasions to Christian workers, and the Rev. Pandit Kharak Singh, of the Punjab, delivered lectures in Hindi in the city on "Arya and Bauddh Religions" and "Creation."

In the same month of December Canon Basil Wilberforce visited Allahabad, and excited much enthusiasm in the cause of temperance by a speech in the railway theatre, on the occasion of the opening of a branch of the Gospel Temperance Union, a Total Abstinence Society for all denominations, of which Mr. Hackett was elected Secretary, and the Rev. J. Alexander, of the American Presbyterian Society, Treasurer. A Hindustani branch of the same was formed in January, when 120 Native Christians joined.

Devotional gathering of Native clergy and others.

By the invitation of Mr. Hackett seven of the ten Native C.M.S. clergy in the North-West Provinces and two from the Punjab assembled in Allahabad in November for a ten days' devotional gathering. Mr. Hackett says:—

> We commenced with Holy Communion at 11 a.m., Wednesday, November 20th, when I gave the address. The Rev. F. A. P. Shirreff, Principal of the Lahore Divinity School, undertook the real burden of the work, but Dr. Hooper sent three most valuable papers from New Zealand upon "The Attributes of God," "Man created in the Image of God," and "The Incarnation." The Rev. J. P. Ellwood, of Jabulpur, contributed some practically useful paper upon "Prayer," "The Study of Scripture," and "The Responsibility of the Ministry;" and I myself gave a lecture upon "Miracles."

Besides these, some of the clergy gave useful lectures upon practical points; the Rev. D. Mohun on "The Mutual Relations of the Clergy," the Rev. W. Seetal on "Reading," the Rev. A. M. Levi on "Pastoral Visitation" and "Parochial Tracts," and the Rev. Kharak Singh on "The Arya Samaj." After each paper was read, or at intervals in the reading of it, a pause was made for discussion. Many useful suggestions were elicited in this manner, and the exact meaning of the lecturer was brought out.

Each morning we had service in our chapel at 8 a.m., when a series of addresses was delivered by Mr. Shirreff upon the Epistles to the Seven Churches. Evening service was at 6.30 p.m., after which each of the visitors in turn gave an account of his work, which was followed by prayer for the special objects brought forward.

One day, Wednesday, November 27th, was set apart as a "Quiet Day." We commenced the day with Holy Communion, at which service I gave the address. We sang a translation of the well-known hymn, "And now, O Father, mindful of the Love," which has only lately been rendered into Hindustani by Miss Fallon of Faizabad. The other services during the day were Morning Prayer at 11 a.m., Litany at 3 p.m., and Evening Prayer at 6.30 p.m., at all of which Mr. Ellwood gave the addresses.

Our Retreat came to a close on Friday, November 30th, with a service at one o'clock, at which I gave a short address, summing up the work of the preceding ten days, after which we all recited together the Nicene Creed and Te Deum.

After the last lecture had been delivered, one after another of the clergy present rose and testified to the profit which he had received. Not only were we all drawn closer together, but European and Hindustani fellow-workers were lifted up nearer to their common Master. It is the testimony of all that "it was good for us to be here," and we confidently believe that a special blessing came to those who "feared the Lord, and that thought upon His Name."

Muirabad.

Most of the Native Christians connected with the Society here are found in the Christian village of Muirabad, called after Sir William Muir, who, when Lieut.-Governor of the N.-W. Provinces, took a deep and active interest in their temporal and spiritual welfare. The Principal of the Divinity Class will now be responsible for the pastoral charge of the congregation, which will provide a suitable sphere in which to exercise and develop under the Principal's observation the ministerial gifts of the students. The Rev. Mark Drummond is curate under Mr. Hackett.

LUCKNOW AND FAIZABAD.

The Rev. G. B. Durrant was in charge of Lucknow throughout last year, but it has been necessary, to the Committee's great regret, to transfer him temporarily to Jabalpur, and the Rev. A. I. Birkett is for the present the only European missionary of the Society in this city of more than a quarter of a million of inhabitants. The Rev. A. W. Baumann labours at Faizabad, the Revs. Aman Masih Levi and B. Tobit are the Native pastors at Lucknow and Faizabad respectively, the latter having been transferred from Jaunpur.

Lucknow. At LUCKNOW and neighbourhood there are 242 baptized Christians. Of the High School and two branch schools, Mr. Birkett says :—

> We have been encouraged this year by the baptism of one boy. He had read in the S.P.G. School at Cawnpore, and came to us as a pupil-teacher about a year before he asked for baptism. I have sent him to St. John's Boarding-school, Agra, where he will live with other Christian boys, and go on with his work. The Bible is systematically taught in every class every day, and all the younger boys learn by heart the Lord's Prayer, the Ten Commandments, and a catechism on the elements of Christianity.

The following account of a sermon on "Self-sacrifice," by a Brahmo Samaj preacher is given by Mr. Durrant :—

> In the earlier part of the year, in April, Mr. Birkett and I were present at an interesting service held in the Brahmo Samaj church here. A day or two previously the following notice was put into our hands :—"In connexion with the Lucknow Students' Association, Babu Protap Chunder Mozoomdar has kindly consented to deliver a sermon on 'Self-sacrifice,' in the Ajodhya Brahmo Mandir, Golaganj, at 7 p.m., on Thursday, the 11th instant. The public is cordially invited to attend."
>
>
> In accordance with this we made our way to the Mandir on the appointed evening. The room was well filled with an audience, the majority of whom were young men. The service commenced with a hymn in Bengali, sung by two men who seemed to constitute the choir. The Babu then read extracts from various religious books, including the Bible, from which he selected Psalm xlii., and Job i. and ii., after which he offered prayer, and then commenced his address, which, together with the prayer, was in English. It contained many good thoughts, and was delivered with much apparent earnestness. How to be saved, he said, was the problem which had from the beginning exercised men's minds. Had it been solved? He then sketched the history of Buddha, and described his attempt at a solution. Was it satisfactory? No! it was no real solution, for it enjoined a course of conduct impossible for ordinary men. But, he continued, 500 years later came one of humble birth, Jesus Christ, Son of God, Divine, who has solved the problem by teaching us, through His life of entire self-sacrifice, how to do God's will in all the various callings and relationships of life. Jesus Christ, he went on to say, was no European, but a true Asiatic—the King and Prince of Orientals. It was a misfortune that He had been brought to India by Europeans, and more or less in the guise of a European. Would that Indians could approach Him directly!
>
> "Jesus Christ has solved the problem."
>
> There was, of course, much lacking. What to us is the very essence, indeed, was not there; and he especially declared his inability to regard our Lord in the light in which so many of his "honoured Christian brethren" regard Him. But with many of the sentiments expressed one could heartily agree, and for the rest, pray that one who seemed so near the kingdom of heaven might, through God's mercy, enter it before it be too late.

The number of baptized Christians at FAIZABAD is 141. In October a series of meetings for the deepening of spiritual life and growth in grace were held. The subject of the addresses was "With Christ." One of these was delivered by Babu Nathaniel Prem Das, whose baptism at this station was mentioned in last year's Report. He is now a student in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Saharanpur.

Mr. Baumann baptized three adults in 1889, and three more were baptized on New Year's Day. The first of these was a Mohammedan, Istifan Amir Khan, who has since gone back, it is feared, to his former friends and his former life. The second was met with at Ajudhya. He was a Native of Cochin, and was not acquainted with any of the North Indian languages, and, as none of the Mission agents knew Malayalim, it was necessary for him to learn something of Hindi before he could make himself understood. He was baptized in September, afterwards confirmed by the Bishop of Calcutta, and then "sent back to his own country to tell his own people, in his own language, how Christ found and saved him from the evil meshes of heathenism and the power of Satan." The third was Pyari Begum (now Esther Bibi) the wife of a Mohammedan at Ajudhya, and the first-fruits of Zenana work at that place. The other three were the female attendant of the last-named, Mr. Baumann's aged Mohammedan bhisti (water-carrier), and a young Hindu aged eighteen.

A Native of Cochin baptized at Faizabad.

The congregation at Jaunpur consists of 25 adults and 24 children; their contributions amounted to Rs. 160 in the year. The High School has 211 on the rolls, of whom 131 are Hindus, 76 Mohammedans, and 4 Christians; 6 passed the Allahabad Entrance Examination, and 15, the whole number presented, the Scripture Scholarship Examination. "The boys take a real interest in the study of the Bible, especially the higher classes," Mr. Baumann says.

AGRA, MATTRA, AND ALIGARH.

No change has occurred in the distribution of the European labourers at these stations. The Revs. E. A. Pargiter and J. F. Robathan are Principal and Vice-Principal of St. John's College, Agra; the Rev. J. Erhardt is at Secundra; the Rev. P. M. Zenker and Miss Zenker are at Mattra; and the Rev. J. W. Stuart is at Aligarh.

Agra.

The Bishop of Calcutta visited AGRA in November, and distributed the prizes to the boys in St. John's College. The venerable Mr. George Müller, of Bristol, being in Agra at the same time, the Bishop and he addressed an assembly of all the Christian workers of the various denominations in that city, whom Mr. Pargiter had invited to his bungalow. "All were glad," Mr. Pargiter writes, "to find so much unity of the Spirit in the midst of ecclesiastical diversity."

St. John's College.

St. John's College has obtained for the third successive year honourable mention by the Director of Public Instruction on account of the success of the First Arts classes, six of the students having passed, five at Allahabad and one at Calcutta. The College Department contains 29, 15 in the first year and 14 in the second. Ten of the latter number are Christians. Of his first-year class and the Scripture teaching, Mr. Pargiter says :—

Scripture teaching.

I have devoted nearly one hour every day to this Scripture work, and need not say found the time thus spent the happiest part of the college day. I have tried in every way to make all as simple and easy as I could, and to show all that the Bible reveals and teaches in its practical bearing upon daily life; and looking back upon the year now gone, I can see most distinctly God's presence with us, and His blessing upon the work. The first-year class, when it was formed in July last, hardly knew anything of any religion, and nothing at all of the Bible, as twelve out of the fifteen lads came from non-Mission schools. At first they were stolidly indifferent to all the teaching, and did not seem in the least to realize its importance or its intrinsic interest. Then as time went on some got restive, and did not at all like the showing-up of the absurdities of the popular Hinduism and the monstrous actions of their gods. Soon after this they came to me in a body, and asked me not to say anything against their gods or religious customs. I replied that as students we were in quest of truth, and so must exercise our reason and conscience upon all around us, and through a just and fair criticism arrive at the knowledge of what is true. I told them that I loved them, and so, out of very love, must do all I could to "open the blind eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light." After some more conversation they left me, and since that time I have found them on the whole attentive and interested in the Scripture hour. Their whole tone has wonderfully improved since joining the College, and in the private conversations which I have with them from time to time I have heard much to cheer and gladden me. During the last two months I have had three of them living in the empty bungalow in my compound, and have taken the opportunity to see more of them, and to talk very solemnly to them of Christ and their salvation.

The boys in the School Department number 350. Out of fourteen candidates presented for the University Entrance Examination, ten were successful. In the Christian Boarding House, which is under Mr. Robathan's superintendence, the average number has been twenty-eight, of whom nine are undergraduates. A new wing of the Hostel was opened in January of last year. Twelve of the boarders were confirmed during the year by the Bishop of Calcutta, and a Communicants' Union has been formed. Of the Bazaar-preaching, Mr. Pargiter says:—

Our plan is the same as in former years. The Christian masters, the senior Christian students, and Mr. Robathan and I go out together once a week for two hours. On Good Friday, all the masters, students old and young, together with the male members of the Native congregation, and Mr. Robathan and I, walked through the principal streets of the city, singing hymns, and halting at various places to tell the story of Christ's dying love. It was a fairly strong demonstration, and I think showed the people of Agra that the Christians were becoming an important element in the city.

Bazaar-preaching on Good Friday.

Mr. Erhardt superintends the large orphanages for boys and girls and several village and Zenana schools at SECUNDRA. The ladies of the Berlin Ladies' Missionary Society, viz. Miss Schultz, Miss Reimpell and Miss Tillich, render help in the schools, &c., for which the Committee are very grateful. Eighteen young women have been under training for village work as Bible-women and Zenana workers.

Secundra.

Mr. and Miss Zenker residing at MATTRA, the traditional birthplace of Krishna, superintend seventeen Native evangelists and eight Bible-women in their endeavours to make Christ known in Mattra, Brindaban, Karaila, Agra, Tundla, Firozabad, and in the district lying between. Mr. Zenker's Annual Letter contains the following reference to the surprise entertained by the people at the regular observance by Christians of the Sabbath day:—

Mattra.

The people who live in such remote and lonely parts of an Indian district know, of course, nothing of the Christian Sunday. The only way in which they become practically acquainted with it is when they have a case in court, and find the court is closed on Sundays. In their villages they work all the seven days of the week, for if field labour is pressing at particular seasons, they often continue to toil even when one of their idolatrous festivals is on. Now there had been, some years ago, a most destructive murrain about that part of the Muttra district, which had carried off thousands of the people's cattle. One of those wandering devotees, so numerous in India, happened just then to appear on the scene, and he proclaimed an entire stoppage of all agricultural operations on the day of the new moon of that month. Whether the stoppage coincided with the cessation of the murrain I cannot say, but the people certainly thenceforth stayed away from their fields on that day. Now the evangelist had leased a plot of ground to raise a crop of fodder for his bullocks, and when that day of the new moon was approaching, the people told him he would have to stop his field-labour in honour of that devotee's god. Thereupon the evangelist argued the point with them, telling them, among other things, that whereas they gave their beasts rest only on that one day, he, according to the command of his God—the God of the Bible—was doing so every week on the first day, i.e. Sunday. This seems not to have struck them till they were told, and now they began to watch him. They were unanimous in declaring the fields would be ruined if they let their bullocks rest every week a whole day. The evangelist, of course, quietly keeps to his word, and the villagers wonder, and listen to his and his wife's preaching, and they look at his field and at his bullocks resting every Sunday, and shake their heads.

Aligarh. Mr. Stuart, of ALIGARH, has been encouraged in his itinerating work by large and attentive audiences. The concertina and the magic-lantern have been helpful auxiliaries. The enlarged church has been opened by the Bishop of Calcutta, who confirmed eight candidates on the occasion. Mr. Stuart says of his six primary schools:—

Our ambition is not high—the three R's—but the important point in our programme is to get each child to commit a number of verses of Scripture to memory; thus so far training up a child in the way he should go, and believing that God's holy Word will not return to Him void. The Bulandshahr school is the largest of the six. The roll shows close upon seventy boys. Most interesting they are. Their conversations with me on the subject of Christianity are of the most pointed, free kind. They have got up the whole of the Miracles during the past year, and have the Ten Commandments at their fingers' ends.

MIRAT DISTRICT.

The Rev. A. E. Bowlby is in charge of the work at Mirat, to which a valuable accession was brought by his marriage, in February last, with Miss Lilian Dickinson, a lady missionary of the Indian Female Normal School Society; and the Rev. T. Carmichael has relieved the Rev. E. Droese of the charge of Annfield. The latter still resides at Mussoorie, and is most usefully engaged in translating books into the Malto language for the benefit of the Santali Christians; while Miss Droese continues her good work among the women. The Rev. D. Jeremy, though often ailing through the infirmities of age, takes part as he is able in the work at Mirat, and is invaluable, Mr. Bowlby says, in helping with advice whenever difficulties occur. The Rev. J. Richard is Native pastor at Annfield.

Mirat. At MIRAT and out-stations Mr. Bowlby has little to report that is encouraging. He has sought to strengthen the things that remained, that were ready to die, and in January an eight-days' mission was conducted by the Rev. A. W. Baumann of Faizabad, which seemed to be attended with much blessing. The High School, under Mr. Bose, has done exceedingly well in the Government examination, and five new branch schools were opened during the year. There are sixteen boys in the boys' boarding-school, mostly children of the catechists. The evangelistic catechists have been stirred up, and their work more systematically supervised; and several necessary changes have been made in the out-stations. Ikla, twenty miles from Mirat, once a very prosperous agricultural village, with a neat church and Native pastor, has become so nearly deserted that Mr. Bowlby proposes to withdraw the catechist. At Ghaziabad a new head-master, Mr. Bazu, has been appointed to the middle-class school, and the aged catechist has been exchanged for a younger man. Kenker Khera and Malyana have solid, pretty little churches, which have been thoroughly repaired, and the District Church Council has undertaken to supply a pastor for these villages.

Annfield.

Annfield, in the Dehra Dun Valley, is an agricultural Christian settlement situated 150 miles from Mirat. The estate, which was formerly owned by an Englishman, has lately become the property of a Hindu Rajah, and much apprehension prevailed for a time that the Christian colony would be obliged to disperse. The canal water on which the people depend for the irrigation of their land was cut off, and the Christians' crops were in danger of failing. Happily the intervention of the canal officer restored the water supply, and the Rajah showed his changed disposition by making a donation towards the restoration of the church. Mr. Carmichael says:—

> We thank God for the improvement that has already taken place. The Sunday services are well attended; we have usually about 230 in the morning, and 170 in the evening; whereas, during the sad period of alienation, the church was nearly empty.

CENTRAL PROVINCES AND RAJPUTANA.

Jabalpur, 1854; Mandla (Gônd Mission), 1879; Kherwara (Bheel Mission), 1880.

The Rev. H. D. Williamson returned to the Gond Mission in the autumn; and the Rev. G. B. Durrant has been temporarily transferred from the North-West Provinces to Jabalpur to take the place of the Rev. J. P. Ellwood, who has lately come to England on furlough. The Committee had assigned the Rev. Herbert Knott, M.A., of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, Curate of St. Simon's, Southsea, to reinforce the Gond Mission, but his departure for the Mission was prevented by serious illness.

JABALPUR.

Jabalpur. As already mentioned, Mr. Durrant is now residing at this station during Mr. Ellwood's furlough. There has been no Native pastor at Jabalpur since the death of the Rev. Madho Ram in 1888; but Mr. Isaac Vincent, a catechist of many years' standing, has been under preparation for ordination at the Allahabad Divinity Class with the view to succeeding to this charge. The District Church Council sent the Rev. N. R. Baksh, of Agra, in December, to supply the immediate need. The help of the senior catechist, Babu Christchitt, in ministering to the Native congregation has been much appreciated. Mr. Ellwood gives Inquirers. a long and interesting list of inquirers—two orphans, a Gond boy and a Brahmin girl (both picked up in an Indian fair, and brought up and instructed by a European family); two Brahmins; a young Afghan; a Mohammedan ayah; and others—whose baptism he has deferred for further instruction and probation. Unhappily, the Brahmini accidentally swallowed some poison, which proved fatal. The ayah has been for some years in Mr. Ellwood's service, and she was much influenced in desiring to become a Christian by hearing Mr. Ellwood's little daughter say her prayers.

As an illustration of the remarkable readiness of the people in the villages to listen to and consider the Gospel message, Mr. Ellwood describes his reception at a village some thirty miles from Jabalpur, which he had visited for the first time the previous year. He says:—

On approaching the village all the head-men came out to meet us, and at once said they had recognized me as the same gentleman who preached to them last year. There was evident pleasure in seeing me again. With great ceremony they conducted us to the courtyard of the head-man, and asked us to sit down and give them further instruction in the Gospel. Then women and children gathered round us as we sang a Christian bhajan, or hymn, and listened with breathless attention to two addresses. We showed in simple Hindi that Jesus Christ is the true Saviour of mankind, that He has provided in Himself a remedy for all our sorrows, that He is a Friend in

"We feel it is true." need. "This is true," they said; "we feel it is true. Jesus Christ is the Saviour of mankind." "Then accept the Gospel, dear friends," we said. "We should be willing to accept the Gospel," they at once replied, "if you would instruct us; but you cannot expect us to receive what to us is so comparatively new on such a short acquaintance with it." They promised to think over the matter, and said if we would pay them a visit before the hot season sets in, they would tell us their decision. We arranged that Babu Christchitt, our head-catechist, should visit them again in a couple of months.

MANDLA (GOND MISSION).

From March, when the Rev. F. T. Cole went back to the Santal Mission, to December, when the Rev. H. D. Williamson returned from furlough, the Rev. E. P. Herbert was alone in this Mission to the Gonds.

A missionary's house among the Gonds.

Since the close of 1888 Mr. Herbert has not resided at Patpara, but at Dinari, where there were several converts and inquirers. His abode was at first "a little shanty, called a Musafir Khana, or rest-house for travellers;" and later he resided in the school-building, "a thatched two-roomed house with mud walls and floors." This school-house was built by the villagers themselves from materials found on the spot, and they were in consequence the more willing to visit it, and be instructed through the large R.T.S. pictures which adorn its whitewashed walls.

The bhoi baba.

At Marpha the bhoi baba, Paulus, "has been a power for good," Mr. Herbert says, "in keeping the scattered flock together." He adds:—

> He continued his earnest efforts to reach outsiders, especially trying to bring babas (devotees) like himself to the feet of Isa Masih. He is seldom long at home, but travels about on foot all over that part of the district. We would ask for special prayer on his behalf (with thanksgiving) as he has such wide influence for good, and is exerting it so successfully for the Master.

Two lepers baptized.

Two lepers were baptized last year, both weavers, one by Mr. Cole and the other by Mr. Herbert. The latter says:—

> The one baptized by Mr. Cole is a well-to-do Pankha, or weaver, a caste which has yielded several converts: they act as village watchmen, and are generally followers of Kabir, the Hindu reformer who renounced idolatry. The other, Manihar, whom I baptized, at Dinari, is also a Pankha; he is an exceptionally intelligent man, can both read and write well, but he has been a leper many years, and is very poor. He asked for baptism two years before, but we were afraid of lower motives, and kept him waiting. But he gave assurance of his faith and patience under sore trial, so on February 13th I baptized him in the River Burmer. The Rev. F. T. Cole and several Native Christians were present, also a few onlookers. Poor Manihar has received little from us but a few books, and though the disease is spreading, when I saw him lately he seemed cheerful, and I believe he is doing good by confessing Christ where he goes.

KHERWARA (BHEEL MISSION).

The Bheel Mission is worked entirely, with the exception of Kherwara itself and a few miles round it (which is British), in Native State territory, chiefly that of Marwar and Irdar. These States are ruled by Native princes, advised by English political officers. The Bheels are noted as a wild and turbulent race, decidedly preferring to get their living by acts of plunder rather than do so by hard work. The pacification and civilization of these people has proved a most difficult problem to the British Government.

Kherwara. The Rev. C. S. Thompson and W. B. Collins are the missionaries labouring at Kherwara; the former went out to commence this Mission in 1880, the latter arrived in 1888. Mr. Collins' first annual letter expresses his experience under the heads of praise, patience, and prayer; and he mentions among the matters for praise, "that the people, in the depths of their ignorance, and in spite of their timidity, are so attractive and lovable."

First-fruits. The past year witnessed the ingathering of the first-fruits of the soul harvest, by the baptism of a family of six—a man, his wife, and four children—on December 15th. "It was a day of great joy to the reapers," Mr. Thompson says. Sukha is the man's name, and Mr. Thompson writes regarding him:—

> Sukha was a bhagat, or devotee. It was touching to see him give up his mala, or string of beads, when he was being baptized. He was one of the first to come near me when I arrived in Kherwara nine years ago, and he has been with me every year since then in some of my itinerating tours. Sukha is a fine old man, commands respect, and is, I believe, a true disciple. Before his baptism, the Bhils said to him: "If you become a Christian your fellow-countrymen will disown you, and the Padri Sahib may leave India." The old man replied: "My friends must do just as they please. The Padri Sahib will never cease to be my friend so long as I live the Gospel. But even if he does, I shall still have all I really need—my Saviour." Then they tried to frighten him by saying that he would be persecuted. He answered: "I have made up my mind once and for all to confess Christ publicly," and, drawing his hand across his throat, added, "you may kill me after that if you like."

Four stages. Mr. Thompson marks four definite stages in the history of the first nine years of the Mission. He says:—

> It has taken nine long years for the "good seed" to take root, spring up, and bear fruit. There have been four clearly-marked stages in the Mission. First, 1880 to 1882, the difficulty of getting the confidence of the hillmen; second, 1883 to 1887, the convicting of sin as an offence against a Personal Holy God, and Righteous Moral Governor; third, 1888 and 1889, believing in Jesus secretly; and fourth, at the end of last year, public confession by baptism. You now have a Bhil Christian Church—small, young, and dependent. It needs much prayer.

There were two inquirers when Mr. Thompson wrote in January, viz. one of the youths in the Boarding-school, and a headman.

The numbers in the Boarding-school are maintained without difficulty. Ten of the twenty-six were sent to their homes at the end of the year, having completed the course of study, and were promised the pay of schoolmasters on condition that they would open schools in their several villages. The vacancies were immediately filled up by others. The age of the youths varies from ten to twenty-four, the youngest being generally sons of men of influence. Three Services are held for Natives on Sundays, one for Christians only, one for non-Christians, and one for all who choose to attend. About sixty usually are present at the one for non-Christians. A daily prayer-meeting is held at the mission-house, and a Saturday evening prayer meeting in the schoolroom. Boarding-school.

At Lusaria, thirty miles south-west of Kherwara, Mr. Thompson has erected a two-storied two-roomed cottage, a school-house, small dispensary, and servant's house. Thirty-five names are on the roll of the Boys' School, with an average attendance of nineteen. Bhagatism (see Annual Report for 1887-8, p. 111) is steadily waning. Mr. Thompson mentions an instance of the ignorance on the part of the teachers of this sect:— Bhagatism waning.

> Mr. Nathabhai, assistant to the political agent of the Mah Kantha, whom you will remember as a "fellow-labourer," when riding past a Bhil hut, one day last month, overheard somebody reading aloud. He drew up his horse and listened. Then he rode round to the entrance into the hut, and there saw a Brahmin apparently reading, with a furious energy, to a Bhil woman. The Brahmin took no notice of my friend's presence. Mr. Nathabhai, growing inquisitive, went up to the man, and found him feigning to read a treatise on "The Fortunate Conjunction of the Planets," with the book upside down! An ignorant teacher.

Bilaria is eighteen miles west of Kherwara. Dita, one of the youths trained in the Boarding-school, is schoolmaster here, and has succeeded well in keeping up the number of boys. The average attendance is forty-seven. Schoolboy strikes have perhaps never had so creditable a cause as one which occurred here. Mr. Thompson says:—

> Some of the boys are very eager to learn. Though the school is not opened till ten o'clock, some of the little fellows may frequently be seen reading their books in the verandah at 6.30 a.m. There was a strike among the scholars in July. I had examined about twenty of them in the First Book, and refused to pass them. They left, and said they would not return until I promised to allow them to begin the Second Book. I simply sent them my "bahut, bahut salaams," or very many salutations, with the message that I was master in the school, and could not for a moment tolerate their dictatorial manner, A schoolboy strike.

and that they might just please themselves whether they came again or stayed away. Next morning every boy was in school. A Bhil young man began to learn the alphabet here eighteen months ago. He can now write fairly well, and is reading the Third Book. For the last four months he has been teaching from twelve to fifteen boys daily in his own village, which is four miles from Bilaria.

FRONTIER MISSION: Quetta, 1886.

THE Bishop of Lahore delivered his Primary Charge in the Lahore Cathedral in November last, and in the course of it referred to recent aggressions in the Punjab on the part of the Church of Rome. Until 1886 the missionary organization of that Church was under the superintendence of Vicars Apostolic; but in that year the Pope formally established a territorial Roman Catholic hierarchy in India and Ceylon, consisting of 8 Archbishops and 17 Bishops, in all 25. Bishop Matthew remarked:— Romish Agression.

> The Roman Catholic Bishop of Lahore, on his arrival, took the first opportunity of claiming an universal and exclusive pastorate of souls within the limits of his diocese, and has since illustrated the precise significance of the claim by opening a mission in a district of the Punjab which had already been for years the object of solicitude to more than one religious body, and contained a considerable number of baptized Christians, converts of Anglican and Presbyterian missionaries. Had the heathen and not these converts been the object of the Bishop's missionary zeal, this particular spot would assuredly not have been selected for his first operations. In a province which, alas! still offers abundant scope for the evangelist among Hindus, Sikhs, and Mussulmans, without touching ground already broken by any Christian organization, I deem it my duty to protest against this marauding policy, this wanton aggravation of bitterness and of those divisions which we deplore.

The presence of a common danger has served to unite the missionaries of the different Protestant Societies, and a joint committee, consisting of missionaries of the Church of England (including some of the S.P.G., the Cambridge Delhi Mission, and the C.M.S.), Baptist, and Presbyterian (both Scotch and American), has been formed to consider and report upon the best way of resisting the aggression.

Other thankworthy instances of union among Christian workers in the Punjab, in prayer, in conference, and in effort, are noted with satisfaction by the Committee. In April last year, as also in the previous year, by the invitation of the missionaries of the Cambridge Delhi Mission, a number of missionaries and others met at Lahore for united prayer, and for hearing addresses by some chosen brethren of recognized spiritual gifts. In 1888 the Rev. H. U. Unity of Protestant missionaries.

Weitbrecht, and last year the Rev. A. Clifford, the Secretary of the Society's North India Mission, conducted these devotional services and meetings. They were held each time in the Lahore Divinity School and the chapel belonging to it. On the latter occasion sixteen clergymen were present, of whom one was a Native pastor, four were chaplains, five Cambridge missionaries, and six were missionaries of the C.M.S. Last year, also, a united Missionary Conference was formed at Lahore, which has been joined by missionaries of the American Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal Societies, by those of the C.M.S., by the railway chaplain, and by others. The Rev. C. W. Forman, the veteran missionary of the American Presbyterian Society, was elected president, and the Rev. F. A. P. Shirreff, of the C.M.S., the secretary. The Rev. H. E. Perkins has succeeded Mr. Shirreff in the latter office. And, lastly, a new paper for educated Natives, called the True Light, jointly planned by the Cambridge Delhi and the Presbyterian missionaries and those of the C.M.S., has been started at Lahore, the editors of which are the Rev. S. S. Allnutt (Cambridge Delhi) and the Rev. Dr. Ewing (Presbyterian).

Reduction of the staff through retirement.

The year has been sadly marked by an abnormal reduction of the staff of missionaries through retirement and sickness. The Rev. Robert Clark, the veteran Secretary of the Mission, wrote in August, counting up the prospective losses and gains, which have since been realized, "The Mission will then have lost, temporarily or permanently, eleven experienced men, and received three new men!" Three missionaries have retired permanently from the staff —the Rev. Arthur Lewis, owing to domestic reasons and the state of his health; the Rev. A. G. Norman, who has joined the American Presbyterian Mission; and the Rev. A. W. Bailey. The Rev. Worthington Jukes has felt obliged to return home for, in all probability, a lengthened absence from the Mission, as Mrs. Jukes' health precluded her from rejoining him at Peshawar, as it was hoped she would when he returned last year. The following have come home on sick leave:—The Rev. E. Guilford, who was allowed by the doctor to return in the autumn, at his own earnest request, on the condition that he should not continue out during the hot season; the Rev. W. Thwaites, whose health has been below par for several months; Dr. S. W. Sutton, who had a severe attack of enteric fever in October, and who had planned, notwithstanding, to remain out after a few weeks' change of air, but he was constrained to come to Europe this spring; the Rev. T. Bomford, who had refused to avail himself of sanctioned leave on account of the paucity of labourers, but whom the Corresponding Committee, in view of the opinion expressed by medical authorities, persuaded to come home. To this long list of unwilling absentees must be added three other names of missionaries who were obliged to come home, but were able to return after a few months spent in this country: viz. the Rev. Rowland Bateman, who was summoned home by telegram in June, in consequence of the serious illness of Mrs. Bateman, who was in England, and returned in October; the Rev. A. E. Day, who came home in September for urgent family reasons; and the Rev. H. G. Grey, who, having had fever at Quetta, after nursing his friend Dr. Sutton, left the Mission in January; these last two both returned in April. By special arrangement, the Rev. R. J. Kennedy, who went out in 1888, and has passed in the meantime his first language examination, has come home this spring in order to present himself for the London University B.A. Examination; he will return to the Mission (D.V.) in the autumn.

Reinforcements.

The additions to the staff have been only four in number, three to the Punjab, and one to Sindh. The last will be referred to under Sindh. The others were the Rev. Carl Gustav Däuble, the veteran missionary of the North India Mission, transferred to this Mission with a special view to literary work, because his state of health requires a hill station; the Rev. Donald J. McKenzie, of the London College of Divinity, Curate of All Saints', Derby, who was married a few weeks before he sailed to Miss E. Askwith; and the Rev. H. J. Hoare, of the Society's Islington College, who, with seven other Islington students of his year, passed in the first class the Oxford and Cambridge Preliminary Examination, and was appointed to read the Gospel at the Bishop of London's Examination on Trinity Sunday, when he received Deacon's Orders. These arrived in the autumn, and the Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Perkins returned to the Mission at the same time.

Ordinations.

On Trinity Sunday, June 16th, the Revs. F. Papprill, W. E. Davies, and R. J. Kennedy, and on March 2nd the Rev. H. E. Perkins, were admitted to Priest's Orders by the Bishop of Lahore. On the latter occasion the Rev. T. R. Wade preached the ordination sermon, and the Revs. Dr. Imad-ud-din, Sahib Dyal, and S. S. Allnutt (Cambridge Delhi Mission) took part in the service. "It was specially interesting," the Rev. R. Clark wrote, "to witness in our Native church, in the presence of a large congregation, the ordination of one who had a few years ago held the high office under Government of Commissioner of Amritsar."

The wife of the Rev. W. Rebsch, who retired from this Mission in 1881, died last year.

The Lahore Corresponding Committee which administers this Mission consists of the Bishop of Lahore, ex-officio, the Rev. F. J. Montgomery, Colonel J. B. Hutchinson, Majors J. A. L. Montgomery and J. A. Fergusson, and Messrs. Baden Powell, W. P. Dickson, H. Garbett, W. B. Harington, R. Maconachie, and W. Mackworth Young. Mr. Baden Powell is now in England. The Rev. Robert Clark is the Secretary of the Mission.

AMRITSAR.

Amritsar. The superintendence of various agencies, pastoral and evangelistic, in the city of Amritsar, has devolved upon the Rev. T. R. Wade, who has also been appointed Secretary in Reserve, to take part with the Rev. R. Clark in the duties of the Secretariat. The Rev. D. J. McKenzie has been temporarily appointed to the charge of the High School and its branch institutions. The Rev. H. E. Perkins has the oversight of the work in the villages in the immediate vicinity of the city. Dr. H. M. Clark carries on the Medical Mission in Amritsar and surrounding district. The Rev. Rowland Bateman has charge of the itinerant Mission, in which the Rev. F. Lawrence, residing at Narowal, and the Rev. E. Guilford, residing at Tarn Taran, have assisted him; the latter, however, only during the cold months, as already explained. Mrs. Grime conducts the Middle-class Girls' Boarding-school; and the Society's Alexandra Girls' Boarding-school is ably superintended for the Society by Miss Cooper, Honorary Missionary of the Church of England Zenana Missionary Society. The ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S. also superintend the Lady Lawrence Girls' Schools. The Rev. Imad-ud-din, D.D., is assisted by the Rev. Diwan Sahib Dyal in the pastorship of the Native congregation. The Rev. T. Holden has succeeded Mr. Beutel in the charge of the Christian village of Clarkabad. Mrs. Holden and family have come to England by doctor's orders.

Only two Annual Letters have been received reporting upon the varied work in this city of 152,000 people, and its neighbourhood; but they show that the Lord has been working mightily while the human instrumentalities have been exceptionally feeble and sorely tried. Mr. Wade says:—

Christians more than doubled.

The number of Christians now in connexion with Amritsar and its out-stations is more than four times what it was seven years ago, when I came to Amritsar, and they have more than doubled in number during the past year, and the increase is still going on.

He mentions several hopeful inquirers:—

Inquirers.

A Brahmin and his wife have just been sent away for a time, so that they may receive further Christian teaching without molestation. He hopes to become an evangelist among the Hindus. Another Brahmin is reading the New Testament, and preparing for baptism. There are most interesting details connected with these cases which it would be unwise to give now. A Mohammedan was compelled to leave his situation as soon as it was known he was an inquirer. In several cases those who were formerly active opponents have laid aside their open opposition and have remained quiet, or are secretly studying the evidences of Christianity. There are young men now reading in the Government and Mohammedan schools here who secretly peruse the New Testament.

There were three baptisms in connexion with the High School while under Mr. Norman. One of these, who was baptized in February, after reading seven months in the Mission School, was a high-born Sikh, twelfth generation from the great Sikh Guru, Ram Dass. Mr. Norman wrote,—"He is clever, well-educated, and well-born, but poor. He had no ulterior motives, and would have done better in this world if he had remained with his relatives." In July an old pupil of the Amritsar School, who left it eighteen months before, a high-caste youth, was baptized, having been brought to a decision by a serious illness; and the same month a low-caste pupil received baptism. Other youths in the school declare themselves to be Christians at heart, and say that they are only waiting until they come of age to confess Christ openly in baptism. Mr. Wade expresses the general feeling of the missionaries regarding Mr. Norman's resignation:—

A great blessing has rested during the past year on the Amritsar Mission High School, and we were all deeply grieved when the Rev. A. G. Norman, the late superintendent of the school, announced that, on account of conscientious scruples, he felt it to be his duty to sever his connexion with the Church of England, the Church Missionary Society, and his work in Amritsar.

Native congregations.

No report has been received regarding the Native Congregation. The numbers appear to be well maintained. It is mentioned in one letter that 240 were present on New Year's Day. Twice a week evangelistic services are held in a mission-room known as the San Sangat Sabha, viz. "Fellowship with the Virtuous," at which the ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S. render help by singing, and the Rev. Diwan Sahib Dyal takes an active part. The Committee heard with regret of the loss Mr. Dyal sustained in August by the death of his wife, regarding whom Mr. Perkins wrote :—

An exemplary Native pastor's wife.

Their home was a model of all that a Christian pastor's home ought to be. The mother had overcome the immense drawbacks of her early surroundings in heathenism, she ruled her children with love and power, and was the centre of the tender affection which united all the members of that happy family to each other. Now it has pleased the Lord to call her to Himself; as her bereaved husband writes, "She fell asleep while I was holding her, and softly praying with her, going to the peace which her name of Ruth indicated, to the rest of the Lord on His holy day of rest, Sunday, August 18th. For seventeen years of Christian life she was with us; I shall go to her, but she will not return to me."

Would that all our Indian sisters could emulate the example of this unostentatious Christian mother and exemplary wife! so different was her home to the large majority of Indian Christian households in its neatness, simplicity, perfect order and discipline, the obedience of the children, the industry of the schoolboys, the refinement of every member of the family. We bless the name of our God for giving us such examples of the renewing and transforming influence of the Gospel, and pray that many more may be raised up to copy the pattern which our quiet retiring sister presented to us, and that the Lord will make up to those she has left behind all that they have lost in losing her.

Medical Missions.

Hospitals in connexion with Dr. H. M. Clark's Medical Mission work have been established at Sultanwind, Jandiala, and Narowal, as well as at Amritsar. The number of new patients treated in the year was 23,152, and 2818 operations were performed. The in-patients have numbered 230, of whom 199 were cured, 16 were relieved, 13 left prematurely, and 2 died. The hospitals at Jandiala and Narowal are under the care of two Native doctors, whom Dr. Clark has trained at Amritsar, viz. Dr. Yuhanna at the former place, and Dr. Fakhr-ud-din-hahiz, eldest son of the Rev. Imad-ud-din, at the latter. Of Yuhanna, Dr. Clark says :—

Popularity of a Native Mission doctor.

Yuhanna is extremely popular. The inhabitants of the city, the Hindu portion that is, are most exclusive and bigoted. These are not Hindus, but Jains, and are the most influential portion of the community. When the Brahmin doctor was discharged, and the Christian put in his place, great excitement prevailed. The opposition was very fierce, but Yuhanna has won his way in wonderful style. Patience, kindness, and courtesy, have made him a prime favourite with all classes. He is respected and loved in the city and neighbourhood, and has a great influence. The very Hindus who declined to have anything to say to him are now his good friends, and take him to their houses to treat their women-folk. A Brahmin in the city has built us a new hospital, on condition of our renting it for five years, and we are now occupying it. The ground was overshadowed by a huge branch of a pipal tree. The tree was holy, and could not be cut, and yet, unless this were done nothing could be built, and at last, despite much opposition, our Brahmin friend cut off the holy tree's branch, much to the disgust of the Hindus (for in their view of it the transaction was "one Brahmin killing another"), and built us our hospital; and all this in the very Jandiala where we could hardly get a house for money, much less for love. The Jandiala dispensary is spoken of repeatedly in very appreciative terms by the district officers who have periodically visited it.

A large number of inquirers have been met with. One patient said, "Sir, I am not a learned man, and cannot reason about religion, but this I know, that you have washed my wounds with your own hands for the last half-hour in a way my father wouldn't do. Christ must be true and His love a reality, or why should you?" Eight were baptized in connexion with the Medical Mission. One of the converts was a Mohammedan faqir. His first drawing towards Christianity was the result of a European gentleman's fidelity in keeping a promise made to him. He had accompanied the gentleman to Guiana on the verbal understanding that he should be sent back whenever he wished to return, and this condition was faithfully fulfilled. "A Mohammedan wouldn't have done it," was his reflexion. On learning something of the Gospel narrative, he was astonished that some parts were already familiar to him. Dr. Clark explains this, and also gives his subsequent history:—

"You have washed my wounds with your own hands."

His mother, a faqir woman, ostensibly a Mohammedan, had a book, out of which she used to read to him when he was a little boy. She also read to other women sometimes, but she always shut it up very carefully when she saw any man coming, and never would show it or speak of it. "This is the book, sahib," he said, as he recognized the miracles and parables of the Gospel of St. Matthew. He was baptized, great commotion resulting amongst the Mohammedans. He lost everything. He did well for a time, but the faqir life had fostered in him a headstrong, roving spirit, which led to his fall. He quarrelled with brother Christians, went off in high dudgeon, and finally apostatized. After wandering in Jammu for a time he was found in Narowal, brought to a right mind, and sent to me. He went to his own town, and, in the very place where he had apostatized, declared his shame and sorrow, his faith in Christ, his abhorrence of Mohammed; and he stayed there for a week, patiently bearing all revilings and persecution—nay, rejoicing under them. The roving spirit after a time again overcame him: he joined the Salvation Army, and thereafter wandered about for a while. He came across one of the workers of the American Presbyterian Mission at Jagadhri, who did him much good; a few months under the Rev. Mr. Chatterjee, of Hoshiarpur, consolidated the good work. He is now a firm, happy Christian.

A convert followed 1100 miles by his friends.

Another of the converts was followed to Karachi, 1100 miles, whither he had fled from them, by his friends, but succeeded in evading them, and was baptized at Hydrabad by the Rev. R. Clark.

Of his itinerating in the villages Dr. Clark says:—

I have as usual itinerated extensively in the district. Space fails me to give particulars. It may suffice to say that every year the work gets more and more full of promise. There is no end to it. Hundreds upon hundreds of willing hearers can be found all over the district; there never was a time when prospects were brighter.

Bright prospects.

Mr. Wade's testimony regarding the present openings in the villages entirely accords with that of Dr. Clark. He says:—

In the villages there is a widespread spirit of inquiry. We can hear plainly "the sound of going" amongst the people, proving, I trust, that God has gone forth before us. A few years ago we sought for inquirers, and the difficulty was to find them, now inquirers seek for us, and the difficulty is to find time and teachers for them. When I was in Narowal a short time ago, I asked Mr. Bateman if he could spare me a half-dozen men from his class of Christian evangelists to go and live in villages where there are inquirers asking for instruction, and all he could say was that he wanted more workers himself. I know several poor men who now walk some ten miles on a Sunday in order to learn more about Christ. The state of unsettlement in so many places can perhaps best be described in the words of an old pandit from a village in this district. He said, "There are 700 houses in my village. A few of the men have become Christians, but of the rest, all I can say is, that the Hindus are no longer Hindus, nor the Mohammedans any longer Mohammedans." This feeling of indecision and uncertainty is very general, naturally begetting carelessness and unbelief, and leading too often, alas! to a life of sin.

"Now inquirers seek for us."

"The Hindus are no longer Hindus."

The number, power, and variety of the wonderful influences continually at work over such wide areas, amongst so many millions, so rapidly undermining and disintegrating their religions, of all human systems some of the most ancient, subtle, captivating, and satisfying, are probably without precedent in the history of the world; and such wide-opened doors, such opportunities, such calls to the Church of Christ to enter in and take possession, are probably without precedent in the history of the Church; certainly, a new era has commenced in this land, and may the light which now shines be as the morning light, which shineth more and more unto the perfect day.

Unprecedented events.

A large number of Christians, about 1150, found in seventy-five villages, have been transferred to the care of the Society by the missionaries of the United Presbyterians, as they belong to the district of NAROWAL. Mr.

Narowal.

Bateman has found the charge of these uninstructed converts a very heavy one. Fourteen schools are included in the transfer. A training school at Narowal, with a senior class of seventeen men of all ages, and a junior class of fifteen, is under Mian Ihsan Ullah, whose services in superintending the agents during Mr. Bateman's absence in the autumn were invaluable.

Mr. Bateman's return in November was the occasion of a most enthusiastic demonstration of sympathy and affection. The Punjab Mission News * reports as follows:—

> The Rev. R. Bateman was greeted with a very warm welcome on his return to our midst. He was met on the further side of the River Ravi by Mian Nikku Shah. A large number of Christians waited on the Kotlee side of the river, and lined the path from the river to the village nearly a mile or so.
> No sooner had he landed safely than he was surrounded by an enthusiastic chorus of eager welcomes, which was continually being swelled by further additions from those who lined the road. The progress to Narowal was like a triumphal march. Narowal reached, the enthusiasm became intense. Mr. Bateman was conducted at once to the hospital. The neighbouring streets were brightly and beautifully illuminated. The large hospital open square had been roofed in for the occasion with shawls, by Dr. F. Lahiz, and was bright with lights. Amidst breathless attention, in the presence of a crowd so dense that there was not even standing-room available, Mr. Bateman was presented with an address of most hearty and sympathetic welcome. The circumstances under which he had left them and those in which he returned were very feelingly alluded to. In addition, he was presented with a very fine green shawl by the Christians. Two days later the Municipality of Narowal held a great meeting in the Christian serai to welcome Mr. Bateman back to the town. The arrangements were very grand—lights, music, and a brilliant assembly of the élite of Narowal. A number of appropriate speeches were made by various town councillors; Moulvie Ilm-un-Din, Sub-Registrar, in particular, made a long speech, in which he dwelt with great force on the perils of the seas, and the monsters to be found therein, through all of which dangers their honoured friend had returned scathless to them. At the close a New Testament, stamped with the municipal seal, was presented to Mr. Bateman.

Welcome accorded to Mr. Bateman.

The following description of a Christian mela held at Kotli, an out-station at Narowal, is taken from the Punjab Mission News:—

> The mela was much like other melas, and yet most unlike. There was the usual tom-tom being banged furiously, the usual dust, the usual shops where digestibles and indigestibles of all kinds were being sold for the delectation of the people, the usual eating and drinking (the latter confined to water and tea only) and laughter and merry-making—but the unusual feature was, it was all being done to the glory of God. The mela was a mela of Christians. Here and there were parties singing bhajans (hymns) to various Native accompaniments, in another part of the field a Christian bhangra was going on. The bhangra, be it known, is an indigenous dance, to the accompaniment of a drum, with an impromptu song, the dance being in keeping with the cadence of singing. Usually the song is, to say the least of it, of an extremely foolish nature. In the present instance Christian hymns and Gospel truths took the place of the old songs, and the result was a most effective preaching in a most decent and orderly way to very large crowds. Here we have perhaps an undeveloped mine for Gospel work.

* The Punjab Mission News is a very useful paper, edited by Dr. H. M. Clark, but is not to be regarded as an official organ of the C.M.S.

A Mohammedan boy first in religious knowledge.

By-and-by it became time for the chief function of the day. There is a large number of Mission Schools, about nineteen, if we remember right, in the villages. Each school had sent its best boy in each class to compete for the championship in religious knowledge. Nothing could be more cheering than the extent and depth of the knowledge displayed by the eager candidates—each one the representative of much religious knowledge in his village and section of the district. It was a long work to get through the competitors, but the attention of the delighted crowd never flagged for a moment. Mohammedans, Hindus, Sikhs, Christians, listened with rapt attention, and were most interested in the way their children acquitted themselves. The proud honour finally passed to a Mohammedan lad from Mandranwala, and a Christian boy from Firozeki came in an excellent second. Distribution of prizes, races, and high jinks generally, then became the order of the day. As evening began to close in, very successful preachings were held all over the ground. In the evening about 500 Christians assembled for public worship in the open air. The field was prettily lighted up by earthen pans filled with oil and cotton seed. The service was conducted by Mr. Bateman.

Lectures by Rev. Kharak Singh.

The Rev. Kharak Singh, the remarkable itinerant Native evangelist, the "faqir missionary," as he is often called, who resides at Uddoke when at home, has lectured over a wide field on the Arya Samaj, the society most bitterly opposed to Christianity (which Dr. Clark says is "certainly decaying"). Immense crowds have attended his lectures at several of the great cities of the North-West and Central Provinces. In February and March he was seriously ill. To an invitation to attend a Committee meeting of Native workers he dictated the following reply:—

"The Lord's Committee."

I cannot come to the Church Committee meeting. Since February 15th I have been attending the Lord's Committee. His orders have not yet gone forth. I am waiting for them, and when His orders come, I shall say, Amen, Amen, with all my heart, and gladly close my eyes.

Mr. Kharak Singh lost his wife last year. He was married again in January, before his illness commenced.

BATALA.

Batala.

The Rev. Dr. H. U. Weitbrecht continues in charge of the evangelistic work in and around Batala, where he welcomed Mrs. Weitbrecht in November, whom he had left in England on his return in 1887.

High School

The Rev. E. Corfield has the superintendence of the Baring High School, which is a boarding-school for Christian boys. It was established in 1878 by the Rev. F. H. Baring, and made over by him to the Society, with a generous endowment towards its maintenance, in 1884. Mr. and Mrs. Baring visited Batala at the beginning of last year, and Mrs. Baring laid the memorial stone of a new school building which will provide ample and suitable accommodation for the class work, leaving the old house free for dormitories, dining-room, and Principal's dwelling. The old boys of the school have promised to contribute about Rs. 200 per annum towards the expense of supplying another Christian master. Two of the three prizes given in the senior division of the examination for the General Lake Memorial prizes fell to Batala High School boys. The number of pupils is forty-nine, about twenty of whom are paid for entirely by their friends. Seven of the boys are converts, all of high-caste; one is a descendant of Guru Nanak, one of the great Sikh Gurus. Another, who was in the school for a short time, was Kunj Lall, a Brahman pundit of the age of twenty, who was baptized in November from the City Mission School, which is supported by Miss C. M. Tucker, honorary missionary of the C.E.Z.M.S. (not of the I.F.N.S., as was inadvertently stated in last year's Report, page 119), who contributed the following account of the baptism to the pages of the Punjab Mission News:—

Baptism of a high-caste boy.

Notice having been given of the intended baptism to the family of the convert, and the tidings spreading through Batala, a crowd gathered before Anarkalli (the Baring School for Christian boys), in which the young convert had to bear the ordeal of an interview with his father. A much larger crowd assembled at the church. A barrier had been hastily made to divide off the part into which the heathen are admitted from the rest of the church, but this portion was so densely crowded, one line of turbaned heads rising above another, that but for the energetic efforts of two or three young converts who acted as amateur policemen, the slight barrier would have been crossed by numbers. Both the side doors were thronged with spectators; on either side of the bench on which sat K. L., the candidate for baptism, was a former pupil from the "Plough" (viz. the City Mission School), one rescued from Mohammedanism, one from Hinduism, both we believe faithful soldiers and servants of Christ. On the same bench was B., also formerly a Brahmin, the first man who had dared to be baptized in bigoted Batala, and who had to endure terrible trials afterwards. To him the service must have had peculiar interest.

This convert is now engaged at the book depository at Lahore.

In Batala and surrounding district Dr. Weitbrecht says there are now 700 Christian adherents, distributed in thirteen villages, in six of which Native catechists are resident. Most of these adherents are from among the low-caste Chuhra population, and Dr. Weitbrecht remarks that Christianity is spreading among them mainly through the work of the people themselves. In many cases this work is done from mixed motives, but instances of genuine voluntary evangelistic effort are mentioned. At Talwandi Rama the headman, a former opponent, has been baptized, and has applied for confirmation. Dr. Weitbrecht says:—

"How had he learned it?"

> When I hesitated, he said he had learned the whole of Mr. Bateman's catechism, and to my surprise he repeated it all with substantial correctness. I asked him how he had learned it, seeing he could not read. He said he had got the Mohammedan school-teacher (a very friendly young man) to repeat it to him in the evenings so as to fix it in his memory, after he had sat with the boys who were learning it. I admitted him to instruction, and he has been confirmed since the beginning of this year (1890).

This man's influence has led to the erection of a school-church in his village. Another has lately been erected at Shampura.

Much remains to be learned, Dr. Weitbrecht says, by the adherents, of the Christian virtues of purity, truthfulness, and charity, but favourable testimony is sometimes received from outsiders that in respect to these qualities the Christians are easily distinguished from their heathen fellow-villagers.

Instruction of the women.

The work of the ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S. is gratefully referred to by Dr. Weitbrecht. Early in 1889 Miss Hoernle and Miss Key settled in a little house at Fathgarh, sixteen miles from the nearest European, and devoted themselves to the instruction of the Christian women and children. The women have been found in some instances better instructed than the men, which, to those who know the status of women in the Chuhra community, speaks volumes for the success of their labours. Mrs. Weitbrecht, since her return, has taken her full share in this work.

LAHORE.

Lahore.

The Revs. F. A. P. Shirreff and T. E. Coverdale conduct the Divinity Class and superintend the Hostel in this city, the old Mohammedan and Sikh capital of the Punjab, and still the seat of government.

Divinity Class.

An interesting account of the six students who have studied theology in the Divinity Class during parts of the year is sent by Mr. Shirreff. Four of these had before their conversion been Mohammedans, and two Hindus. Two of them did not prove good students and did not remain, but of the other four Mr. Shirreff writes in unqualified praise. One, an Afghan, besides the subjects he took up for his catechist's examination, made considerable progress in Hebrew, and read Isaiah i. to xxxix. with Mr. Shirreff in the original. He has been appointed to labour at Peshawar. Of another, Rahmatu'llah, Mr. Shirreff says:—

> He has a great thirst for learning, especially for the study of the Bible and of divinity. I think I mentioned last year that we had some difficulty in persuading him to go up for the Entrance Examination of the Calcutta University because he wished to devote himself entirely to theology. However, he did go up, and passed. Then he had a period of temptation. Other young men—Christians, I am sorry to say—said to him that now he had passed this examination he had every hope of a prosperous career, and ought not to injure his prospects by entering Mission service. But he stood firm. To him the brightest prospect he could have was that of serving Christ in the ministry of His Church.

Hostel.

Mr. Shirreff does not mention the number of students in the Hostel, but Mr. Clark, in his able Review of the Mission for 1888 to 1889, stated that there were twenty-two, viz. four divinity students, eleven medical students, four of whom were pledged to Mission work, one student of the American Mission College, one of the Government College, four of the School of Art, and one of the Central Training College. Lord Radstock, during a nine days' visit which he paid to Mr. Shirreff, delivered several impressive addresses to the hostellers.

Mr. Shirreff was on the Syndicate of the Lahore University during most of the year, which took up not a little of his time, but which in the interests of missionary work he thought it incumbent on him to give.

KANGRA, KOTGUR, AND SIMLA.

The Rev. C. G. Däuble has been assigned to Kangra, and he and Mrs. Däuble arrived there at the end of the year. Mr. Beutel has succeeded the Rev. T. Holden at Kotgur, Mr. Holden having taken Mr. Beutel's old station of Clarkabad. The Rev. Thomas Edwards is the pastor of the Native congregation at Simla.

PIND DADAN KHAN.

Pind Dadan Khan and Shahpur, stations on the Jhelum

River, are under Mr. Shirreff's and Mr. Coverdale's supervision, and each paid two visits to the former place and one to the latter during the year. The Rev. Thomas Howell, the deacon evangelist, is making his influence felt in and around Pind Dadan Khan, and both he and Paras Nath, the catechist at Shahpur, are showing great perseverance and self-sacrifice, Mr. Shirreff says, in the midst of circumstances which would have damped the ardour of most men.

MULTAN.

Multan. The return home of the Revs. T. Bomford and R. J. Kennedy, the former in consequence of his state of health, although his furlough is overdue, and the latter for a few months only, has been already mentioned. The Rev. W. E. Davies has taken charge of Multan temporarily, until Mr. Kennedy returns. The Rev. Brij Lall Datt has been transferred to Kangra. One adult was baptized by Mr. Bomford—Rahmat Masih, who had been an inquirer for several years, and who had shown much zeal in bringing his friends under the influence of the Gospel. The Multan school is under the management of Mr. W. Khem Chand, that at Bahawulpur under Mr. Lala Runal Das; both the schools have a high character for efficiency.

Mr. Bomford made two tours in January last year, the former to the Muzuffergarh district, the latter up the right bank of the Chenab into the Jhang district. On the latter tour large audiences assembled, as many as 1000 being present in one night.

DERA GHAZI KHAN.

Dera Ghazi Khan. The Rev. A. Lewis left Dera Ghazi Khan in November. Dr. Andrew Jukes and the Rev. W. E. Davies, with the Rev. Malik Ishaq for the Native congregation, have occupied this station; but Mr. Davies is now stationed at Multan. Dr. Jukes' report has not been received. Mr. Davies endeavoured to carry out the object of this Mission by visiting the Hill Beluchees. He wrote:—

The Hill Beluchees. The summers of 1888 and 1889 were spent among the Sulaiman Hills, where I had special opportunities of making myself acquainted with the Hill Beluchees. This year, after paying personal visits to several of their leading men, I went about amongst the people generally. I found them to be a people living in an almost primeval rusticity of life. The majority display an intense apathy towards spiritual things, their chief concern, as a strictly nomadic race, being how they might obtain their daily wants. During the day it is impossible to meet with them in any numbers. In the early morning the men, each with his own flock, go off to find a suitable pasturage, and, after roaming over the hills hither and thither, only return at nightfall to their several encampments. Thus, so far as the men are concerned, the missionary can only meet them singly. It may be, perhaps, that this individual dealing may be productive of better results than if the Word of Life were delivered before larger audiences, only prompted to listen through motives of mere curiosity. Certain occasions, however, do occur when opportunities are given to preach to the mass. In seed-time and harvest, at the close of their day's work, groups of men gather for conversation. It is to such groups that the missionary can address himself. This has been done, but with what results we at present know not.

August last saw us in the Khetran country. After visiting a few of the larger towns, we struck farther west, and came amongst a tribe of Beluchees, who most hospitably received us, and listened with rapt attention to the reading of St. Matthew's Gospel—the only book of Scripture as yet translated into the language. Retracing our steps we came to Duba, where we were met by the chief men of the place, who implored us to read again what we had read for them before, viz. the second chapter of St. Matthew. They wanted, said they, "to learn the poetry about Hasrat Isa."

"The poetry about Hasrat Isa."

DERA ISMAIL KHAN, BANNU, TANK.

By the return home of the Rev. W. Thwaites, and by the Rev. D. J. McKenzie being detained at Amritsar, the Rev. F. Papprill is again left alone at Dera Ismail Khan. The Rev. Mulaim-ud-din is the Native pastor. The Rev. John Williams is the Native medical missionary at Tank.

The High School at DERA ISMAIL KHAN, with its 300 boys, has been the special charge of Mr. Papprill. The former head-master, Mr. Ephraim Bhan, who had risen from being a boy in the school, has been appointed a Treasury clerk in the Government office in the town. Mr. Papprill says he fully believes he will be a witness for Christ in his new surroundings. A hostel gives accommodation to twenty-four boys whose parents live in the villages. The Lieutenant-Governor paid a brief visit to the school during the year, and recorded his good opinion of its efficiency, and of the arrangements of the hostel in the visitors' book. Mr. Papprill was married in February last year to Miss Alice Jane Smith, and Mrs. Papprill has entered with much zeal into the work among both the Christian and heathen women of the city and neighbourhood. She finds the knowledge of medicine which she acquired before going out most useful. Mr. Papprill says of this branch of his wife's work:—

Dera Ismail Khan.

Medical work by a missionary's wife.

> Four days in the week the dispensary is open, and the other two my wife visits the patients in the city who are too ill to come for advice and medicine. The average number of patients daily is about forty. We are often reminded of the paralytic in the Gospel who was carried by four men and brought to Christ for healing, for sick women are often brought into the compound on their Native beds, some of them in the last stages of disease, in the hope of obtaining some relief from the Mem Sahib. Others are brought on camels, oxen, donkeys, horses, and so forth. One of the Bible-women is always present, and reads to the patients while Miss Middleton (C.E.Z.M.S.), whose heart is thoroughly in her work, assists my wife by preparing medicines, &c. The women are very grateful, for the most part, for the help that is given them, and they listen attentively to the Scripture teaching.

Sick women brought to the Hospital.

The houses in the city are always open, and no difficulty is experienced in gaining an entrance to the homes. No doubt the medical relief given is the key that opens the door; be that as it may, one thing is certain, the Gospel message is proclaimed even if medicine is the forerunner.

The Zenana Mission work has not been unfruitful. Mr. Thwaites relates the case of a Mohammedan woman who heard the Gospel through this means, and who persevered in her determination to confess Christ in spite of the influence of relatives and friends. She has been sent to Miss Wauton's class at Amritsar.

Mr. Thwaites made several tours in the district, and found the people generally not unwilling to hear the message of salvation, and in some instances much interest was manifested, and the messenger was treated most hospitably. The one Christian family at Esa Kheyl has had to endure severe persecution and loss, and the second son has apostatized for the sake of quiet. Mr. Thwaites says of the old man and his wife and youngest son :—

Steadfast under persecution.

The father and mother have held to their faith nobly; once their house has been destroyed by fire, their crops have been stolen, their oxen maimed and killed, but they would not give up Christ. Their youngest son is a fine, high-spirited youth, and the persecutions they have all had to undergo at the hands of Mohammedans have only confirmed him in the teaching his mother gave him, that Mohammed is no teacher sent from God, but that Christ is one for whom one should be ready to bear and to do.

Tank.

Of TANK, and of Dr. Williams' work there, Mr. Thwaites wrote :—

I spent some days this month with Dr. John Williams at Tank. He is working on in faith and patience. I trust his reward is near, that reward which all missionaries long to receive, though they may have to wait long for it. I had several days' intercourse with the men he has taught, men who seem ready, but who shrink from the last step. The teacher and the taught there need your prayers; it is a hard place; but God's blessing on dear brother Williams' patient, loving labour is softening it, and God may soon grant us the sight of a Church in that frontier outpost.

A hard place being softened.

The Christian congregation has not grown very much in numbers during the year, but it has, thank God, most certainly grown in spiritual tone and character, and there is less of envy and jealousy shown. There is also improvement in other ways. One member of the congregation is a Naib Tahsildar in the district, and another is Treasury Clerk at Dera Ismail Khan. Both have a good report among the people, and they are in a position where true Christian character must have a great missionary influence. They are both natives of Dera Ismail Khan.

PESHAWAR.

Peshawar.

The Rev. Worthington Jukes was in charge of the work in this important city and great military post, the headquarters of the Society's Afghan Mission. The Rev. W. A. Rice has superintended the High School since September, when the Rev. A. E. Day came home, and the Rev. H. J. Hoare joined the staff in December. The Rev. Imam Shah is the Native pastor. Mr. Jukes' Annual Letter gives a valuable report of the Mission for the years 1887-89. Of the Afghan Mission workers he says :—

Mission workers.

The foremost and oldest, in the point of baptism, is Hazrat Ali Shah, a lineal descendant of Muhammad, belonging to a most respectable family, possessing land in the tuppa of Hashtnagar, a district of Peshawar. He was baptized some ten years ago by Mr. Hughes, and has at times filled the appointment of Assistant Revenue Officer. I have no doubt that in time he would have passed the necessary examinations, and have risen high in the Department, but he has given up all these prospects in the desire to use all his power and influence for bringing his fellow-countrymen to a knowledge of the truth. He is an able controversialist, and has a kind and winning way, which is most helpful to the work. He has just married the daughter of our long-tried and experienced Native pastor, and has now taken her to his home, where he formerly suffered much persecution, but has succeeded in winning much respect by his quiet, conciliatory nature.

Able controversialists.

The next man, Maulvi Hamidullah, is more elderly, and was formerly Hazrat Ali's teacher. It was in his house that Hazrat Ali first heard of the truths of Christianity, but the teacher was more backward in receiving them. Although a bigamist for some years, he was baptized, and after giving up his employment of contractor on the Swat River Canal, his knowledge of Arabic enabled him to help us in translating God's Holy Word into Pushtu, the language of the Afghans, of which much remains to be done. He is most helpful to me when in the district, in combating the arguments of Mullahs which he does most ably, cutting the ground from under them by proving from the Qurán many points which go against theories which they would fain believe.

The third is Azizudin, who also belongs to the Mullah class, and, had he remained a Muhammadan, would now have been the Imam (Vicar) of his village; on becoming a Christian, he had to seek other employment, which took him to a village where there were no Christians, no one knows what he had to go through and the many sleepless nights he had to spend. He eventually gave up a good appointment in the Revenue Survey, and would have by this time occupied a responsible position, but he preferred the lowlier position of a preacher of the Gospel. He passed through the Divinity School at Lahore under Mr. Shirreff, and is now able to derive much blessing from the study of the Bible in the Hebrew and Greek originals. His critical study of the Bible, and the deep questions he puts, show how much of its precious truths he has imbibed. His one object now is, to go about the mosques and discuss Gospel truths with thoughtful men, and he succeeds in impressing them with his earnestness and deep spirituality.

A student of the Bible in Hebrew and Greek.

The last one will be recognized as one of last year's Lahore students referred to under that station.

The attendance at the Services in the beautiful church of All Saints is good, Mohammedans and Hindus being frequently present. The congregation has lost three adult male members by death, one a convert from Sikhism, one who had been a Mohammedan, and one an old soldier, a havildar in the Guards, the oldest of the Afghan Christians. Mr. Jukes says of him:—

"A simple-hearted Christian."

He had been much influenced by the late Subadar Dilawar Khan when in the Queen's Own Corps of Guides, and was baptized much about the same time. He learned to read after he took his discharge from the army, and remained a simple-hearted Christian to the day of his death. He had served in the second Sikh War, and had obtained the Order of Merit for conspicuous valour.

Mr. Jukes had frequent discussions with Mohammedan Mullahs in his journeys in the district. Of one of these he gives the following account:—

Only the other day, in a village where I have never been before, we met a young chief who is a great sportsman, his steward is a fairly well read man, and brother of the village Mullah. The chief and his steward, finding themselves worsted in argument, and unable to continue the conversation with my catechists and myself, about the sinfulness of Muhammad and his inability to intercede for mankind, good-naturedly demanded that time should be given them to examine into the two subjects, and that should we in the morning be beaten in argument, we should all become Muhammadans; and should they be beaten, they should become Christians. We gladly accepted the challenge. They at once wrote an urgent letter to the neighbouring Mullah, to come in the early morning, but before he had had time to answer our salutations, or before we could offer him tea, the steward told him the terms which had been suggested, and immediately demanded proof from the Qurán. With the greatest interest the young chief sat down and listened to this religious teacher trying to prove his points, but before long, feeling dissatisfied with his answers, and unhappy about the possible consequences, he jumped up and said to me that he was going out shooting, but would be back to breakfast. He did not return till 1.30 p.m.; the time, however, was spent most profitably, and we had the most interesting conversation I have ever had with a Mullah, who listened most attentively to all we had to say, and plied us with the most searching questions. I have no doubt that his many followers were much distressed at his acting so much on the defensive, the listening attitude he displayed being so contrary to the unreasonable assertions they so usually ply us with. We felt most thankful that he showed no bigotry; on the contrary, he manifested the greatest interest in the truths we put before him. On his return, the young chief, accompanied by his servant, laden with sand grouse and gun, was anxious to know the result of the argument, but we deemed it politic to tell him that the discussion had been carried on in a most friendly way, and that we would not hold him responsible for the terms he had made the night before.

High School.

Mr. Rice, after his few months' experience of the charge of the Edwardes' High School, states his conviction of its value as a means of making the Gospel known.

Visit of the Viceroy.

Lord Lansdowne, the new Viceroy of India, lately visited the school, and in reply to an address presented by Mr. Jukes in the names of the missionaries, said, "It gives me very great pleasure to receive this address at your hands, and to become acquainted with the schools of which I have heard so much, and which have achieved for themselves so well-deserved a reputation. I am glad, as head of the Government of India, to express my appreciation of the good work which the Afghan Church Mission has performed in this connexion." Turning to the scholars, his Excellency added:—

> If I could venture to give you a word of advice on an occasion like the present, I should be inclined to ask you to remember that education in the true sense of the word means a good deal more than book-learning, and that your object should be to obtain, while you are studying here, that larger kind of education which consists not merely in proficiency in your school work, but in the acquisition of those qualities which are indispensable in order to make either a good schoolboy or a good citizen. Loyalty, respect for authority, modesty and self-respect, truthfulness (I see the words honour and truth written upon the scroll which decorates the wall above your heads), and a keen sense of honour—these are lessons which no amount of reading will teach effectually unless it be supplemented by other influences.

Syad Shah's return from Kafiristan.

Syad Shah returned in safety from his second visit to Kafiristan, to which reference was made in last year's Annual Report. He left Peshawar in August 1888, and was welcomed back again on August 22nd, 1889. The peril encountered from the fanatical Mullahs on his former visit, when he took the direct route through Chitral, led him on this occasion to travel viâ Kashmir, which is more than double the distance. Srinagar was reached August 18th, and Chitral, October 22nd. The first Kafir village, Husun, was reached, after travelling through thick forests, on October 28th. Syad Shah travelled about the villages, reading and explaining God's Word (his knowledge of the language gradually increasing), and using largely a supply of medicine with which a lady missionary had thoughtfully equipped him. His life was frequently in danger from Kafir outlaws, who lurk about the roads ready to plunder and kill travellers; but in the towns and villages he was on all sides kindly treated, and earnest invitations were sent to him from tribes whom he found it impossible on that occasion to visit. On returning to Chitral, the ruler, Aman-ul-Mulk, inquired what he had brought from the Kafirs. He reports, "I told him I brought my life, and that I preached to them the Word of God."

"I brought my life, and I preached to them the Word of God."

KASHMIR.

Visit of Rev. R. Clark to Kashmir.

The Rev. R. Clark, who was one of the earliest workers in this Mission, visited Kashmir in May last year, and he wrote:—

"Improved times."

My present visit to Kashmir has been more encouraging than any other of the eight visits which I have made to this country. The whole valley seems opened out now to missionary work. No longer are soldiers posted round the hospital to prevent the people from coming to it, or from visiting the missionaries. No longer are mobs ordered to attack Mission premises, or converts beaten and imprisoned, or parents threatened with banishment or death for sending their children to school. No longer are English people required to leave the valley for the winter. The crowded hospitals and schools all speak of improved times and circumstances.

The Rev. J. H. Knowles and the two medical missionaries, Drs. A. and E. F. Neve, are the staff at Srinagar, the capital of Kashmir. For nearly nine months of the year Mr. Knowles held a daily service in the "quaint little rustic church," as he describes it, within the hospital compound, expounding a portion of the Word of God; and he has reason to believe that the prayerful endeavour to convey the truth to the minds and hearts of the nondescript congregation has not been in vain. On Sunday afternoons a service for beggars is held, which sometimes as many as 150 attend. He says of these services:—

Service for beggars.

There are many encouragements, but not any baptisms. We believe that more than one hand has been checked in stealing, and more than one pair of feet from rushing on in a path of shame, by the remembrance of words heard at these services. Now and again one notices a tear steal down some dirt-begrimed face when we tell them of Jesus' great love towards sinners; and now and again one catches the words coming from some desolate soul, "Lord, save, or I perish."

The number of boys in the Schools, viz. the city school and the branch school at Islamabad, an important town about thirty-two miles south-east from Srinagar, increased during the year from eighty to 300. The Book-shop is a very prosperous and most important auxiliary. The sales during the year realized Rs. 800. For Gospel portions about Rs. 20 was received, which represents a sale of several hundreds, as they are sold for about a pice each. About Rs. 260 was taken for Bibles and religious books. Mr. Knowles says that he has found by personal inquiry that most of the wealthy Mussulmans of the city possess a copy of the Bible, and that many of them read it. One told him that he was "going through it for the eighth time, and liked it more and more."

Going through the Bible for the eighth time.

Of the visits to the Hospital wards Mr. Knowles wrote in February last:—

We go to the poor patients as their friends, and they know it. We are assured that these Christian chats by the bedside, or squatting beside them on the ground, are appreciated. Many an hour has been spent every week thus. At even, and at morning, and at noon-time, whenever we have had a little leisure, and felt the heart to it, we have "popped in," and always felt the better for doing so. One of the results of these ward-visits during the past year has been the conversion of two of our lepers. "It was something you said, sahib," they replied, in answer to our inquiries, "about there being only one true God, and therefore only one way, one true religion, and we have come to the conclusion that Christ is that way, and His the only true religion, by which men must be saved. So please baptize us." "God be praised! This is finding fruit after many days!" we exclaimed. Only two poor lepers, minus most of their fingers and toes, their bodies covered with sores, one of them hardly able to speak, and the other hardly able to walk; but the Lord Jesus sees of the travail of His soul, and is satisfied, and the holy angels in heaven rejoice. (This was written a week ago. Since then another of our lepers has confessed Christ, and we trust will be baptized shortly.)

Leper converts.

But the evangelistic work among the patients of the Hospital is by no means the exclusive privilege of the ordained missionary. Dr. Ernest Neve writes:—

A special feature this year has been the work amongst in-patients. Every morning a Gospel portion is read and expounded. These portions have been carefully selected so as to bring out as many of the sides of Christianity as possible. The life of our Saviour is taken up—His claims—His Divinity—His miracles and teaching—His works—His death and Resurrection—Ascension—second coming and Old Testament prophecies concerning Him. A complete cycle is arranged for each month, so that nearly every patient has a chance of hearing, and those really interested are instructed. Each month, however, the cycle is raised a little. Thus, those who are in-patients for more than a month, hear fresh Gospel truths. Dr. Arthur Neve, Services in the hospital wards.

R. B. Thomas, Syad ulla Khan (a converted Mohammedan), and myself, take turns in conducting the above service in the wards. Just at present, however, my brother has gone out itinerating. The in-patients are most attentive, and apparently enjoy the little talks. Often the address is quite informal, and I stop and ask questions all round, and generally satisfy myself that all are listening and understand.

The Gospel has been widely proclaimed in the Valley of Kashmir. Dr. Ernest Neve took three journeys, to the extreme west, to the east, and, in the summer, to the north as far as the Zoji La Pass, which leads over to Lesser Thibet. He mentions the following obstacles to the progress of Christ's kingdom :—

Obstacles.

Firstly,—I think worldliness and actual sin have a deeper hold on the heathen and Mohammedans than on the careless in Christian countries. For, to a certain extent, vice is sanctioned by Oriental religious systems. Secondly,—Ignorance is a terrible obstacle. When people's minds are untrained they cannot listen, they cannot follow an address, their attention wanders, they are like very young children who cannot grasp more than one simple idea at a time. Hence the need for Mission schools. And thirdly,—Caste, which exists in Mohammedanism perhaps even more strongly than in Hinduism, is deeply engraven in their lives. To eat with a Christian is a terrible sin in Kashmir. To become a Christian is to become a hated outcast—even the little children know this. Fourthly,—Their religious teachers keep close supervision over them—some for Demetrius-like reasons, others actuated by purer motives.

A woman's hospital.

A donation has been made to the Society, through Dr. A. Neve, by Mrs. Bishop (the lady so well known as a traveller and writer under her maiden name of Isabella Bird) to build a women's hospital to accommodate thirty patients at Srinagar, in memory of her late husband, Dr. John Bishop. An excellent site has been given by the Maharajah, at the request of Sir F. Roberts (the Commander-in-Chief) and Colonel Nisbet (the British Resident). The hospital is to be worked by the C.E.Z.M.S. The death of Dr. Fanny Butler, whose medical skill and Christian gentleness had already effected much in winning the confidence of the women of the city, was a sorrowful inroad on the staff of four ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S.

QUETTAH.

Owing to the illness of both the Rev. H. Grey and Dr. S. W. Sutton, and their visit to this country in consequence, no Annual Letters have been received. Many friends of the Society had an opportunity of hearing Dr. Sutton give an account of the work at the Annual Meeting in Exeter Hall, and his speech was printed in full in the C.M. Intelligencer for June.

SINDH.

The Rev. W. J. Abigail, an Islington student, who was ordained Deacon on June 16th by the Bishop of London, joined this Mission in the autumn. The Rev. A. E. Ball has come home on furlough.

KARACHI.

The Revs. J. J. Bambridge and R. Heaton, the former in general charge, the latter specially responsible for the school, were together at Karachi until November, when Mr. Heaton was transferred to Hydrabad, and the Rev. W. J. Abigail took up his temporary abode at Karachi while studying the language, giving some assistance daily in the school. The Rev. Bhola Nath Ghose is the Native pastor. The last-named reports of his work:— Karachi.

A Native pastor's work.

The following is my routine of work:—The Sunday morning and evening services; daily (morning) prayers, with expositions of Holy Scripture three days in the week; the Thursday evening service; the Saturday evening prayer-meeting and Bible-class; teaching one of our catechists three days in the week; preaching to the heathen one evening in the week; teaching Scripture in the High School one hour daily; and visiting the Christian families of my congregation. The women's Bible-class has been conducted by Mrs. Heaton and Mrs. Bambridge. My daughter has had charge of the Native Christian Sunday-school for children.

Mr. Bambridge writes of the evangelistic work under three heads—vernacular preaching, English lectures, and village and district work. The vernacular preaching is carried on in Sindhi, Gujerathi, and Urdu. The people listen quietly and attentively as a rule, but occasionally abusive language has been endured, which more than once has culminated in actual assault on the preachers. Twenty-nine English lectures in the Max Denso Hall have been delivered to attentive audiences of educated Natives, averaging eighty-seven in number.

In his report of the High School, with 124 boys on the roll, only one of whom is a Christian, Mr. Heaton mentions the following incident:— High School.

This is the second year that a prize has been awarded for good conduct. The holder of this must be voted for by the boys themselves. This year a Jew was selected out of 124 boys. This fact is significant as to the breaking down of caste and race prejudice. In the school we have only four Jews, the remainder are Hindus and Mohammedans.

HYDRABAD.

The Rev. A. E. Ball has been at this station during the Hydrabad.

Rev. J. Redman's absence on furlough. He was much struck by the number of educated young Natives who were manifestly more or less under the influence of Christianity. The arrival of the Rev. R. Heaton in November, by doubling the force, made it possible to attempt some English evangelistic meetings, and large and thoroughly interested audiences were got together during the winter, week by week, in the schoolroom.

Nearly 10,000 Scripture portions and tracts were sold in several vernaculars during the year.

Visit to Umarkot.

In January Mr. Ball, accompanied by a Christian munshi and a catechist, made an Evangelistic tour, on camels, to Umarkot, the birthplace of the great Akbar. Many opportunities for private religious conversation and for public preaching occurred on the journey to and fro. In Umarkot he met a police subadhar who had served in the 3rd Beloochees, and had seen the Rev. G. M. Gordon on the march to Kandahar, "toiling along, apparently very tired; he offered him his horse, but Gordon, shaking hands with him, thanked him and declined the offer." Another, a constable, was met who had known Mr. Shirt. Yet another who had received from a Padri Sahib, probably Mr. Shirt, some Hindi tracts, which he had preserved, and one of which he showed to Mr. Ball. Mr. Ball thus summed up the experiences and opportunities of the visit in a private letter:—

> Thus did our visit to Umarkot end. We have much to be deeply thankful for; large bazaar audiences, innumerable opportunities of conversation with shopkeepers and others, an almost constant stream of all kinds of people at our bungalow, and thus an almost constant opportunity of teaching and reading. Very few, I fancy, in the town have not heard of us, and many for the first time heard the glad tidings of salvation through Christ from our lips. A goodly number of Gospels in Sindhi, Hindi, Gujerathi, and Urdu have been sold and given away, besides religious books of all sorts and kinds.

SUKKUR.

Sukkur.

The Rev. A. W. Cotton continues to labour with much zeal and self-denial at this station of Upper Sindh, some 200 miles distant from Hydrabad, and nearly 300 from Karachi. Bazaar-preaching, lectures, and tract distribution have been carried on, as in former years, in Sukkur, and out-stations have been regularly visited, but the encouragements have not been many. Mr. Cotton concludes his report by referring to some difficulties, and suggesting a few remedies, of which latter the first is, "a larger staff and more liberal C.M.S. grant." He adds, however:—

"The pressing need."

But these are only surface remedies, whereas the disease is more than skin-deep. "The soul of all improvement lies in the improvement of the soul." The pressing need in Upper Sindh is the pouring out of God's Holy Spirit upon both those who speak and those who listen.

This is the need of our missionary staff: We are utterly weak. We want the instinct for souls. We need the anointing, the fire, the power, the unction of God the Holy Ghost.

This is the need of the Native Church: It is but half alive. It presents to the world a dead and deformed Christ, instead of a living Lord and Saviour, who is altogether lovely.

This is the need of the Hindus and Mussulmans: They will not take the guilty sinner's place, neither will they claim the guilty sinner's Saviour. "Why, what fools you missionaries are!" said a Shikarpuri to us not long ago. "You offer us the bread of life, and the water of life, and we do not take it because we are full of other things. We do not hunger and thirst after righteousness, but we do hunger and thirst after money. Take my advice, and do not try to accomplish the absurd and impossible task of feeding a man who hungers not."

European Ordained Missionaries, 31; European Lay Missionaries, 7; European Female Teachers, 3.

WESTERN INDIA MISSION.

Bombay, 1820; Nasik, 1832; Junir, 1846: Malêgam, 1848; Aurungabad, 1860.

THE boundaries of the Society's Indian Missions are determined, not by the political divisions of the country, but by those of the dioceses. On this account the Sindh Mission is connected with the Punjab, because the province of Sindh is in the diocese of Lahore, although its Civil Government is under the Bombay Presidency. But in the Western India Mission exceptions to the usual rule are found in the cases of Aurungabad and Buldana, which are neither within the same civil nor ecclesiastical borders as the other stations, both being in the territory of the Nizam and in the diocese of the Bishop of Madras. The population of the British territories and Feudatory States, excluding Sindh, is about twenty-three millions, of whom nearly one-half are Hindus; Mohammedans, Aborigines, Jains, Parsis, Jews, and Christians (mostly Romanists), in various proportions, make up the rest.

Corresponding Committee.

The Corresponding Committee which administers the Society's work in this Mission, consists at present of the Bishop of Bombay, the Hon. H. M. Birdwood, C.S., Colonels F. W. Major, D. V. Shortland, and T. Walker; and Messrs. A. F. Cox, C. E. G. Crawford, G. Jacob, and J. Jefferson.

Retirement of the Rev. H. C. Squires.

The Rev. H. C. Squires, after nineteen years of devoted missionary service, during eleven of which he was the Secretary of the Corresponding Committee, has been obliged to retire from the Mission in consequence of ill-health. He has been appointed to succeed the Rev. F. J. Chavasse in the important incumbency of St. Peter-le-Bailey, Oxford, the parish of which the devoted Canon Linton was Rector, whose presidency, so sympathetic and so spiritual, at the weekly meeting during term-time for intercession and supplication in behalf of Missions, several now in the Mission-field remember with peculiar pleasure. Mr. Squires came home in August, and his brother, the Rev. R. A. Squires, has succeeded him in the secretaryship of the Mission.

The Rev. H. A. Bren, whose return home invalided was mentioned in last year's Report, has been appointed to home work in connexion with the Society as an Association Secretary in Yorkshire. The Revs. J. G. Deimler and A. Manwaring have returned to the Mission; and the Revs. A. A. Parry and C. W. Thorn, Islington students, who were admitted to the Diaconate by the Bishop of London on Trinity Sunday, June 16th, have been added to the staff. Mr. Parry was designated to reinforce the Mohammedan Mission, but the medical authorities at Bombay have not sanctioned his residing in that city, and he has been located at Nasik. On the other hand, Mr. Manwaring has been detained at Bombay because the climate of that city is considered better for his health than that of the Deccan, whither he expected to return.

The Bishop of Bombay admitted the Rev. W. C. Whiteside to Priest's Orders, on March 2nd, at Christ Church, Bycullah.

BOMBAY.

The Marathi pastoral and evangelistic work has been under the Rev. A. Manwaring since his return in December, (previously a Native catechist, Mr. M. Goray, had been responsible for this work); the educational work at the Robert Money School was under the Rev. J. A. Harriss from May till the end of the year, and now, owing to his removal to Poona, is again temporarily under Mr. J. Jackson; the evangelistic work among the Mohammedans has been conducted by the Rev. W. St. C. Tisdall, and the Rev. J. G. Deimler is devoting himself to the no less useful work of translating books into Hindustani for the followers of Islam; Girgaum Church, with its numerous associated benevolent institutions, is under the charge of the Secretary of the Mission, assisted during the past year by the Rev. J. M. Macdonald.

Mohammedan Mission.

The Mohammedan Mission has been vigorously prosecuted by Mr. Tisdall, assisted by the catechist, Mohammed Husain. To the street preaching large numbers frequently listen with attention and apparent earnestness, and Mohammed Husain has had much encouragement in his weekly visits to the smaller towns around Bombay and places on the lines of rail from Bombay to Poona and Nasik. An Urdu service is held at 8 a.m. on Sunday mornings, and a Persian service in Mr. Tisdall's own house in the afternoons. At the Urdu service the congregation, though small, frequently numbers among it men of many nationalities. One Sunday in July is instanced by Mr. Tisdall, when there were present: one Kurd, one Armenian, one Arab, two Turks, one Kashmiri, two Gujerathis, two Dakkhinis, two Marathas, one Persian, one Chaldean, one Negro, two Eurasians, and two English!

Two converts have been baptized, one the Gujerathi servant of Miss Davies, a missionary of the I.F.N S., to whose teaching his conversion was, humanly speaking attributable. His former name being Jivan ("Life"), he received in baptism the name of Muktajivan ("Redeemed Life"). The second was also a servant, named Husain, who had been sent to Mr. Tisdall from Junir by Mr. Whiteside. He was baptized by the name of Yuhanna on September 29th. One of those baptized in 1888 by Mr. Tisdall was thought to have relapsed, but he had returned to his home in Persia, and there he was found by Mr. Carless when he visited Shiraz last autumn, as a quotation from his letter in this Report (on page 79) shows. Mr. Tisdall says of him:—

In my last Annual Report I mentioned a Persian tailor whom I had baptized after careful training. This man walked well for a considerable time, and submitted to many privations and much persecution. But he had a wife in Persia, who wrote to implore him not to leave her to starve; and his old acquaintances here told him his troubles were owing to his sin in accepting Christ instead of Mohammed as his Saviour. At last the poor fellow disappeared, and news came that he had relapsed. If so, may God give him grace to come back. However, I have recently received a letter from Persia, from which I learn that this tailor, Ibrahim Khalil Ullah, is living at Shiraz, his native city, and apparently professing Christianity openly; so I have good hope that the story of his relapse was a Mohammedan invention. When he left Bombay he told me he was going to Shiraz, but would never deny his newly-found Saviour.

A Mohammedan convert at Shiraz.

Among the inquirers of the year, Mr. Tisdall mentions four more particularly; a Turk who earns his livelihood by selling ice-cream, two Sayyids (descendants of Mohammed), and a Moulvie. Mr. Tisdall says:—

Inquirers.

At present I have three men reading for baptism and regularly attending our services. One of these is a Turk, who gains his living by selling ice-cream. He has taught himself to read since he came to me, and was greatly delighted at being given a copy of the Turkish New Testament on Christmas Day. Another is a young man, a Sayyid, from near Delhi. He brought a reference Urdu Bible and a commentary on Matthew with him, and he seems to have carefully studied both. I have great hopes of him, but as I have had him in training for only about a month, it is too early to speak with certainty. The third is likewise a Sayyid, who speaks Arabic and Turkish as well as his Native Persian. He has travelled over a great part of the East, and has moreover visited Paris and Moscow. He seems in earnest, and is now endeavouring to obtain work as a teacher of languages, so as to support himself in Bombay, living meanwhile in our inquirers' room in this compound, and reading with me for baptism. A fourth inquirer is a Munshi, who speaks English well, and is able to teach Urdu, Marathi, and Gujerathi. He has read several Christian books, and since our first earnest conversation has purchased and is reading the New Testament very carefully.

Mr. Tisdall examined, during the year, in Hebrew for the Bombay University; and among his literary works were a grammar and reading-book for the Punjabi language, a grammar for Gujerathi students, and a Greek-Urdu-Persian annotated edition of St. John's Gospel.

The number of pupils in the Robert Money School reported by Mr. Harriss is less than the previous year by nearly forty, being 243; the number of Protestant Christian boys, however, is nineteen against thirteen in 1888. Twenty names were on the books as hostellers at the end of the year.

NASIK.

Nasik. The past year was a somewhat unsettled one as regards the European workers in this important town and district, where the Society is practically the only missionary agency. The Rev. W. A. Roberts was absent at Poona during the rains, assisting in the recommencement of the Divinity School, and the Rev. E. J. Jones was absent at the same time at Buldana. Mr. J. Jackson during these months took temporary charge of the educational work, a serious illness of Mrs. Jackson rendering this change from Bombay desirable.

"Larger and more attentive audiences than ever" gather together at the public preaching of the Gospel in Nasik, Mr. Roberts says. Of one out of several inquirers, he observes:—

A Sikh student of the Gospels. A man, a follower of the Sikh religion by birth, came to me last month, together with his wife and child. He unrolled a well-worn book, which proved to be a copy of the Gospels in Hindi, which had been given to him years ago in North India. He had, he said, read this book for years, and was fully persuaded that Christ alone was the Saviour, although he seemed to have had but little teaching apart from his reading. The immediate cause of his coming was to request me to baptize his child, as his wife had, he said, been instructed in a dream to have this done, or it would not be well with them, and they had not saved one out of ten previous children. They themselves were also desirous of being baptized. I told them I could not baptize them at once, but would send a catechist to their village.

The Bishop of Bombay confirmed twenty-nine candidates at Nasik in October, and on the following Sunday eighty partook of the Holy Communion.

Sharanpur. Six liberated African slave-girls have been received into the Orphanage at Sharanpur. On their arrival, as they were not acquainted with English, it was impossible to converse with them, but they have since made fair progress in Marathi, and their conduct has given little occasion for anxiety. Only three boys were in the Normal Class last year, but the present year began with nine. Mr. Roberts made a preaching tour at the commencement of 1889, visiting the villages lying between Nasik and Igatpuri, an outstation twenty-eight miles distant. Mr. Jones also made a two months' preaching tour in the district about the same time, in the course of which he and his Native companions preached in ninety-six villages, giving 295 addresses; large audiences collected when the magic-lantern was exhibited. Mr. Jones remarked that he never saw people so quiet and attentive anywhere. In one place a Brahmin priest interrupted with the remark that Christ is the Saviour of the English, but not of the Hindus, and he added, addressing Mr. Jones, "You have got the rule in India, can't you be content to leave us our religion?"

Attractive audiences

Poona Divinity School.

The Rev. R. A. Squires resided at POONA from May to December, though obliged to make frequent visits to Bombay for the work of the Secretariat. With the assistance however, of the Rev. W. A. Roberts, he saw the Divinity School successfully re-opened in a hired house. Twelve students were admitted, but that number, which Mr. Squires thought appropriate for a class of disciples preparing to become apostles to their countrymen, was soon reduced by the death of one of them. Three have matriculated at the Bombay University, two of whom are sons of Native pastors; and several are converts from heathenism. The conduct of all the students was "all that could be wished," and Mr. Squires regards the class as a most hopeful sign for the future of the Mission. The Rev. Appaji Bapuji gives instruction in the vernacular class in the Scriptures, Church history, and the evidences of Christianity. The Marathi Congregation now meets for worship in the Divinity School chapel, and the number has increased to eighty. A monthly missionary meeting, which is held by Mr. Bapuji, has been addressed by the divinity students, who have interested the people very much by accounts of the work they were engaged in before joining the school.

Junir.

The Rev. W. C. Whiteside thinks "the almost forgotten JUNIR" is a just description of the scene of his labours as regards the interest felt in it by friends at home. His interesting letters will doubtless do much to make a place for Junir and its little company of seven baptized Christians in the memories and intercessions of many. Good attendances have encouraged him at the daily bazaar preaching in Junir. A number of inquirers are mentioned. A Rabbi of the Beni-Israel community, a pleader who had formerly borne a specially bad character, frequently attended the services. This man lately died at Bombay, and on his deathbed desired to be baptized, but was hindered by his family. He said that, though he could not have the outward rite, his "heart was baptized into Christ." A servant of his, a Mussulman named Husain, who was first taken to the services by his master, continued to attend after his death, and, as he seemed to be a sincere inquirer, Mr. Whiteside sent him after awhile to Mr. Tisdall, at Bombay, by whom he was baptized, as already mentioned.

A Rabbi desiring baptism on his deathbed.

When itinerating in the district, Mr. Whiteside has met with attentive audiences. At Otur, where he stayed ten days in November, the people listened "with a sort of soul-hunger" which rejoiced his heart and loosened his tongue. One hundred and fifty-five books were sold, of which about ninety were Gospels, in those ten days. During this tour pictures which Mrs. Whiteside had painted in oils on rough canvas were used, and with more satisfactory results, Mr. Whiteside considers, than with even lantern pictures.

Soul-hunger.

MALEGAM.

This station is the headquarters of the Society's work in the district of Khandesh, which covers nearly 13,000 square miles; and has a population of 1,227,000. The C.M.S. is the only missionary agency at work in this extensive district, and the occupying force consists of one European missionary and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. F. G. Macartney, and eighteen Native Christian teachers engaged in eight schools! The number of Christians is 143, and of communicants sixty-five. Mr. Macartney, with four Native helpers, went up the river Mosam, on which Malegam is situated, to its source in the Western Ghats, which separate Khandesh from the Baroda State, in the itinerating season, visiting every village and hamlet within five miles of the river bank. He found the Bheels particularly eager to understand all that was told them in their simple language of the Gospel. In April Mr. Macartney went to the great annual fair at Suptashring, and Christ was preached daily while the fair lasted, and many books were sold. And, towards the close of the year, Nandgaon and Manmad and neighbouring villages were visited. The "triple chain of caste, custom, and debt" holds the people, especially the Maratha cultivators, who form the majority of the people met with, in bondage, and keeps them from Christ.

Malegam.

A triple chain.

Buldana.

Buldana is in the Nizam's territory, but the Native catechist and teachers there are under Mr. Macartney's superintendence. During several months of last year, however, it had the rare privilege of a resident European missionary and his family, the Rev. E. J. Jones having made it his centre for evangelizing the district. Mrs. Jones had a thankworthy escape from being bitten by a deadly serpent in the autumn.

There are at Buldana 101 baptized Christians and fifty-one communicants. The Bishop of Madras confirmed thirteen candidates here in November.

AURUNGABAD.

Aurungabad.

Since 1870 this station has been under the superintendence of the Rev. Ruttonji Nowroji, who, before his conversion in 1856, was a Parsi. His co-labourer, the Rev. Lucas Maloba, had the sorrow of losing his wife in August. Forty-four adults were baptized during the year, chiefly, as Mr. Nowroji remarks, from the lowest class; and Bishop Gell confirmed fifty-seven candidates in November. More than one half of the whole number of baptized Christians in the Western India Mission are in this district.

SOUTH INDIA MISSION.

MADRAS, commenced, 1814; TINNEVELLY, 1820; TELUGU MISSION, 1841.

THIS Mission comprises the work in the City of Madras, in the Telugu country, and in Tinnevelly. It is administered by the Madras Corresponding Committee, which is at present composed of the Bishop of Madras, Archdeacon Browne, and the Revs. W. W. Elwes, S. Morley, C. H. Pelly, and J. W. Walker. The Rev. E. Sell returned in December, and resumed his duties as Secretary.

Ordinations.

The Bishop of Madras ordained the Revs. E. T. Pegg, E. S. Carr, and Marumudi David to Priest's Orders, on February 15th, at Masulipatam.

The Church Missionary Gleaner has been localized at Madras, and has taken the place of the Madras Record, which for many years was a valued means of diffusing information regarding this Mission.

I. MADRAS.

Madras, 1814; Ootacamund, 1870.

THE Rev. W. G. Peel, who discharged the onerous duties of the secretaryship during Mr. Sell's absence, came home with Mrs. Peel on furlough in March last.

The Madras staff.

The small European staff in Madras has been increased by the appointment of the Rev. Theophilus R. Waltenberg, M.A., of Exeter College, Oxford, late Curate of St. Peter's, Preston, to reinforce the Mohammedan Mission. Mr. and Mrs. Waltenberg arrived in November. In consequence of this help, the Rev. Malcolm G. Goldsmith, who is now an honorary missionary, looks forward to having more time for itineration among the populous Mohammedan communities scattered over the Presidency. Mrs. Vickers continues her labours among the women of Blacktown; and the Rev. Samuel John seeks to commend the Gospel to his Indian fellow-countrymen, especially those of the educated classes. There are three Pastorates in connexion with the Madras District Church Council (the Mount Pastorate has not been formed, see last year's Report, p. 141). The Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan is the Chairman of the Council and Pastor of the Southern Pastorate; the Rev. D. A. Peter has succeeded the Rev. J. Kohlhoff, who, the Committee regret to learn, has joined the Salvation Army; and the Rev. J. Gabb has been placed at Poonamalee.

Divinity Class.

The Divinity Class has been in abeyance since April, when the Rev. Henry D. Goldsmith came home on furlough.

Success of students in theological examination.

The success of the first three of Mr. Goldsmith's students who were presented for the Oxford and Cambridge Theological Examination in 1888 was mentioned in last year's Report. In October last three others were presented, and the results were equally praiseworthy. Marumudi Devanandam, a native of the Telugu country, sent to the class by the Ellore Church Council, and John Samuel Peter, B.A., who gave up Government service prospects in order to become a minister of the Gospel, obtained a first-class; and John Satthianadhan, eldest son of the Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan, was placed in the second class.

Mohammedan Mission.

The bazaar-preaching to Mohammedans has been less systematic than formerly, owing to the impossibility of renting a suitable shop or room for the purpose, the Hindus conspiring with the Mohammedans to prevent the messengers of the Gospel from obtaining a footing in Triplicane, the Mohammedan quarter of the city. But when public preaching has been impossible, "conversational preaching" has been resorted to. Mr. Goldsmith says:—

> We have, however, always found opportunities for conversational preaching, and, on the invitation of a Native doctor, have had long talks and a fairly good audience in a side street. Masih Dyal is ever ready to accompany me, and stands well the abuse that is often showered upon him: he does not, outwardly at least, lose his temper, even when his turban is knocked off! Such indignity is only occasional, and is always strongly resented by the more respectable part of our hearers, who beg us not to take it too much to heart.

Harris School.

There are now two Christian graduates, one being the head-master, on the staff of the Harris School; Masih Dyal, moreover, the Native evangelist alluded to in the above quotation from Mr. Goldsmith's letter, has qualified himself by study for teaching the Word of God in the Hindustani language; being a Rajput by birth, he could already speak it fairly well. The general conduct of the boys has been particularly satisfactory, Mr. Goldsmith says. The baptism of a brother-in-law of Masih Dyal, Dhan Singh, was mentioned in last year's Report; in January (1889) another young brother-in-law and also his mother-in-law were baptized. In September an intelligent Hindu youth from Nagercoil, a friend of Dhan Singh's, was baptized by the Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan, and gave a bright testimony to his faith in Christ before the congregation, which contained several of his old Hindu friends.

Mr. Goldsmith visited Bangalore, Arcot, and Bellary during the holidays. From Bangalore the Rev. E. P. Rice, of the London Missionary Society, took him for a tour of 100 miles round his district, and a great many Mohammedans were met with. The magic-lantern drew large audiences, and the story of the Prodigal Son, told by Mr Rice in Canarese and by Mr. Goldsmith in Hindustani, had a marked effect.

Work among educated Hindus.

The Rev. Samuel John visits the Educated Hindus at their own houses, and at the offices, shops, &c., where they are employed, distributing tracts and holding religious conversations. These visits are usually made in the morning, between the hours of seven and eleven. His evenings are spent in holding evangelistic meetings in Triplicane and Black Town. The attendance at the preaching-hall in the latter place has improved, and Mr. John's addresses—in English, Tamil, and Telugu—have been listened to without interruption. Mr. John is the Secretary of the Madras Christian Students' Prayer Union, which was established by Bishop Poole. The monthly meetings, he says, are fairly well attended.

Southern Pastorate.

Of the Native pastors in connexion with the Native Church Council, only Mr. Satthianadhan has forwarded a report of his work. In the Southern Pastorate there are 610 baptized Christians, of whom 209 are children, and, of the rest, 301 are communicants. In the High School at Chintadrepettah and the Primary Schools 776 are under instruction, and 182 are taught in the Sunday-school. Rs. 1486 was contributed during the year, of which Rs. 1218 was forwarded to the Council Fund.

Among the signs of progress in the extensive district of Palaveram, which is attached to the southern pastorate, Mr. Satthianadhan mentions the erection of two preaching-halls; the growing willingness of the people to contribute towards their Church and ordinances, which is shown by a comparison with the year 1881, when the district was first connected with the Council, the amount having grown from Rs. 77 to Rs. 500; and the increased attention paid to evangelistic work. In writing of the agents, he pays a tribute to the Tinnevelly Church:—

Tinnevelly agents in Madras.

> Most of our agents are drawn from Tinnevelly. In fact, the Tinnevelly Church of the C.M.S., which has been for years under the episcopal oversight of Bishop Sargent, just gone to his rest and reward, supplies agents, not only to the C.M.S., but to almost all the Missions in Madras. In this little station three different Missions are labouring, and most of the agents were originally from Tinnevelly, a fact which speaks volumes in favour of the missionary character of the Tinnevelly Church. The two C.M.S. pastors in Madras and the one in Poonamallee are all Tinnevelly men.

In November meetings were held at Chintadrepettah and at the Mount for "lyrical preachings" by a young Tinnevelly poet, the son of a Vellala convert. Mr. Satthianadhan says of one of these meetings, held at the Mount:—

A Native lyrical preacher.

> The hall was overcrowded, and many were obliged to stand outside and listen through the doors and windows. A large number of Hindu women also were present, and listened to the music and preaching with great interest. The meeting lasted three hours, and yet the interest did not flag throughout. The preacher is only twenty-five, and yet he has composed original poems on almost every variety of Christian subjects relating to doctrine and ethics. He also handles the violin in a masterly manner. He thus combines in himself the rare qualifications of composer, player, singer, and preacher. The subject he dwelt on here was the shortness of life and the importance of attaining its object by coming to the foot of the Cross and accepting Christ as "the Way, the Truth, and the Life."

OOTACAMUND.

The Rev. Samuel Vores, of Ellore, has succeeded the Rev. J. Gabb as the pastor of the congregation at Ootacamund. The work is under the direction of the Madras Corresponding Committee, and is not connected with any Church Council. It is largely supported by English residents. The agents and agencies consist of several catechists and Bible-women, a boys' school, and two girls' schools—viz. the Hobart Mission Girls' School and the Kinloch Girls' School.

II. TELUGU MISSION.

The Revs. A. E. Goodman and J. C. J. Pavey, students of Islington College, who were ordained deacons by the Bishop of London on Trinity Sunday, June 16th, were appointed to reinforce the Telugu Mission; they sailed in the autumn, Mr. Goodman going to Dummagudem to prepare for his future work among the Kois, and Mr. Pavey to Masulipatam. The Rev. L. W. Jackson has retired from the Mission. It is an incidental example of the domestic trials which form a not inconsiderable part of the cross willingly borne for Christ's sake by missionaries in foreign lands that, out of ten married Europeans on the staff of this Mission, while nearly all have experienced in some degree the trial of separation, three have been called upon to lose by death one of their children during the past year, and one has watched for six anxious months by the couch of his wife, whose life trembled in the balance. The Committee were indeed thankful when they heard at length that Mrs. Stone was permitted to embark at Madras for the homeward journey, and especially when, with her husband, she arrived safely in this country in May, much restored by the sea breezes, and by the few weeks' rest en route at Malta.

Progress of the Mission in ten years.

In an early issue of the Madras C.M. Gleaner, an article by the Rev. W. G. Peel drew attention to the progress of this Mission in several particulars during the ten years from 1879 to 1889. During that period the adherents have increased from 3998 to 8755, and the communicants from 696 to 1345. In 1879 there were 42 adults baptized, in 1888 the number was 321. During the ten years 2353 adults were baptized. In 1879 the Native Christians contributed Rs. 1079, in 1888 the amount was Rs. 3919. Mr. Peel remarks very forcibly :—

> It is most interesting to find that, even in these days of active opposition to Christianity in India, there are indisputable tokens of a far quicker rate of progress than was discernible in one of the most promising fields of missionary labour in South India as far back as 1849. In that year the Tinnevelly Mission reported 23,994 Christians as being in connexion with the C.M.S., and 816 baptisms, adults numbering 224. Observe carefully that, though the Church had on its rolls nearly 24,000 Christians, there were only 816 baptisms, including children. Now turn to the figures given above. In 1888 the Telugu Christians numbered 8755, while the baptisms amounted to 811,—321 being adult baptisms. That is, for every 30 Christians in the prosperous Tinnevelly Church in 1849 one was added; while in 1888, in the Telugu Church, one was added for every 10 Christians. In other words, we have a rate of progress three times as quick as in 1849.

MASULIPATAM.

The Revs. C. W. A. Clarke and H. J. Tanner are the Principal and Rugby-Fox Master respectively of the Noble High School; the Rev. J. E. Padfield has charge of the district, in which he is assisted by the Rev. M. N. S. Atkinson; Mr. Padfield has also charge of the Preparandi Institution, the Rev. E. T. Pegg's health having rendered it desirable that he should leave the relaxing climate of Masulipatam, and he having consequently taken the Rev. J. Cain's place at Dummagudem during the latter's furlough. The Rev. A. Sabbarayudu assists in the Preparandi Institution; the Rev. D. Anantam is connected with the Itinerant Mission; and the Revs. T. Ephraim, M. David, and K. Peter—the last-named transferred from Ellore—have charge of pastorates under the Masulipatam District Church Council.

No report is to hand of the Noble High School. The Committee have sanctioned the standard of the school being raised to that of a College preparing students up to their B.A. degree.

Preparandi Institution.

The scope of the Training Institution has been considerably enlarged. It will now be called the Preparandi Institution, and will consist of a normal class for the training of teachers, a theological class for the instruction of agents in Christian doctrine, &c., and occasionally of an ordination class. Mr. Padfield reports five students in the theological and five in the ordination class.

Girls' Boarding-school.

The Bishop of Madras visited Masulipatam in February and confirmed sixty-four candidates; of these, thirteen were pupils of Mrs. Padfield's Girls' Boarding-school. The Bishop was present at the annual distribution of prizes, when the following facts, among others, were referred to in the report which was read:—

> The numbers are now higher than they ever have been, viz. seventy-six boarders, with fourteen day-scholars, making a total of ninety. For the first time in the history of the school we have had to refuse admission, although the parents came with money in their hands offering to pay. The elder girls belong to a Prayer Union, and daily read a portion of Scripture together, one girl offering up an extempore prayer. Thirteen girls were confirmed by the Bishop, and thus added to our number of communicants. The whole of the house-work is still done by the girls in rotation, and specimens are exhibited of beautiful fancy work done by some of them in spare time.

Itinerant Mission.

The Itinerant Mission was commenced by the Rev. J. Stone and the Rev. D. Anantam, after the latter's ordination in March. Owing to various causes the station at which the itinerant missionaries should reside, whether Kummamett, Bezwada, or Ellore, was not finally determined when Mrs. Stone's illness obliged her husband to accompany her to Madras in October, and to bring her home in March. A report has been furnished by Mr. Anantam of four preaching tours, which he made in company with G. P. Venkatachalam Garu during the six months from April to October. The tours were in different directions, and some seventy villages were visited; a large number of Brahmins and Vellalas were met and conversed with. Much curiosity was excited by the report that two Brahmins (Mr. Anantam and his friend having both been of this caste before their conversion) from Masulipatam who had become Christians were in the neighbourhood, and they were generally listened to with civility and apparent interest. The following are extracts from Mr. Anantam's journal:— Two ex-Brahmin evangelists.

May 17th.—Visited Nizampeta in Masulipatam, Spoke to some Komatees and Brahmins for one hour and a half at the house of a Brahmin friend who offered me a beautiful carpet to sit on. After my address, one person said that what I said was all true; but he wanted to know why some Christians regretted having become Christians. I asked them why they thought that we regretted so; for who could regret having given up thirty-three crores of gods and goddesses to worship and love the one true God? Who could regret having found a loving Saviour in Jesus Christ, who has laid down His own life for our sins? Who could regret having the Holy Spirit to dwell in his heart, teaching and purifying him? "Who could regret?"

June 5th.—Preached at Chinnakara. One Brahmin questioned me why I should have abandoned my own caste and joined the pariah caste! I replied that I had joined no caste, but gave up all caste, as it was inconsistent with real "Gnánam."

June 27th.—In the morning started for Pittala Lanka, and while in the ferry crossing the Kistna, I spoke to an old Sudra of Christ being the great Ferry to carry us across the ocean of sin, and to land us safely in heaven. All the day we had people coming to speak to us, and in the evening I had a long talk with some Brahmins who listened attentively while I explained the plan of salvation through Christ, contrasting it with the cheerless doctrine of expiation of sin by transmigration and other Hindu doctrines.

The Rev. F. W. N. Alexander writes of these two evangelists:—

Mr. Anantam and his companion, Paul Venkatachalam, go on foot for ordinary distances, and only have a bandy when the way happens to be very long. He told us a story that incidentally shows the hardy way they have to live. One day he and his companion went to an out-village belonging to Bezwada. It was the rainy weather, and waters covered the country. They trudged along in deep mud and water up to their knees, and thorns wounding their feet, and arrived at the village. They could only find one deaf man to speak to. They did all they could to tell him of the Gospel, then returned through mud and water as before. In this way the Gospel is carried to villages which are practically never reached by existing agencies.

BEZWADA AND ELLORE.

The Rev. J. Harrison is stationed at Bezwada, and the Rev. F. W. N. Alexander continues at Ellore. At the latter place Mr. Tabor Davies is the Acting-Principal of the High School. The Rev. S. Vores has been transferred to Ootacamund, which is his Native district, his health having lately somewhat failed. The Rev. G. Krishnayya assists at the Ellore School. The Rev. K. Peter has been transferred to Masulipatam.

Bezwada. The number of baptized Christians at BEZWADA is 674, of whom 182 are communicants. Twenty adults were baptized in the year. Mr. Harrison says he has found the caste people far more willing to hear since his recent return from England than they used to be. One young man in a good position is under instruction for baptism.

Ellore. In the ELLORE district Mr. Alexander says that the only check to the spread of the Gospel is the want of good agents to carry it among the people. He reports 102 adult baptisms during the year. Upon these accessions he says:—

> Comparing the statistics with last year's report, there is only a trifling net gain of 21 persons under the head of adherents, but the baptized Christians are 167 more than last year, and there is an increase of 138 baptisms. Baptisms have been much more numerous than for years past, and since the beginning of 1890 I have had 53 baptisms not regarded in this report. 261 persons have been taken off our list, viz.:—Dropped, 158; dead, 54; gone, 31; excommunicated, 18; total 261. It is this loss that makes the net gain appear so small. The utmost care is taken to enumerate only worthy inquirers, but with all that, there is a considerable loss every year, and when new inquirers happen to be few, as they do this year, it tells heavily against the net gain. But there is no real loss by pruning the lists of unworthy members, and the list of baptized and communicants steadily grows year by year. Communicants are 331, as compared with 273 the previous year. This is the largest gain we have ever had, I believe, in any one year, and as there were no confirmations the gain is the more striking. I always steadily press on an increase of the communicants, but it is not easy to bring them up to the standard fixed in this district.

Increase of communicants

RAGHAVAPURAM AND KUMMAMETT.

Kummamett. No Annual Letter has been received from the Rev. H. W. Eales, who is at Raghavapuram. KUMMAMETT was, until 1888, an out-station, the most distant one, of the Raghavapuram district, having two resident Native catechists, and being visited by a European missionary at the most three times in a year. It is situated well within the Nizam's dominions, and is on the river Muniyeru, an important affluent of the Kistna. The Rev. J. B. Panes took up his residence there in July, 1888. Of the two catechists labouring with him in the city Mr. Panes says:—

Influence of a Native catechist.

> In Khammamett itself W. J. Silas Garu, the first to take up his abode here, continues to do the work of an evangelist. He preaches regularly in the bazaar, near the Taluqdar's offices, and outside the station, where many people congregate, and is active in house-to-house visitation. He is heard with respect and much attention, and has gained considerable influence with the inhabitants. He knows colloquial Hindustani, and so is often conversing with the Mohammedans concerning the things of the kingdom. Our second evangelist for the poor people has also been very busy, both at home and in the villages around, where we have several inquirers.

In the district, two catechists, six evangelists, and four schoolmasters are engaged, and there are, in twenty-four villages, 365 baptized Christians. Twenty adults were baptized in the year. Mr. Panes echoes the statement of Mr. Alexander regarding the preparedness of the people and the pressing need of suitable agents. An illustration of the readiness and plenteousness of the harvest is shown by an example given by Mr. Panes. He says:—

A ready and plenteous harvest.

Rather more than a year ago a man, who had been baptized in Mr. Darling's time in Ramakrishnapuram, and been lost sight of afterwards, having wandered far away to the north, beyond Khammamett, came and begged for a teacher in Sadhanagudem, telling us that his neighbours were also desirous of being instructed. Fortunately, we were able to give them one (through a fund kindly supplied by a congregation in Montreal), who, in addition to instructing the little band of inquirers, found also quite a large circle of villages around, in which he does the work of an evangelist, visiting them as often as time allows. I have been there twice, and on the last occasion found some of them ready for baptism. Nine adults and three children were received into the visible Church of Christ, while others inquiring were encouraged to give themselves to prayer and the study of the Word. This, I think, may rightly be regarded as the firstfruits of evangelistic extension in these parts, and signs are not wanting that more will follow soon, if we continue to sow the seed in faith.

DUMMAGUDEM.

Dummagudem.

The Rev. J. and Mrs. Cain were at Dummagudem until March of this year, when they left to take furlough in Australia, the Rev. E. T. Pegg succeeding to the charge of the work. The Rev. A. E. Goodman arrived at the end of last year. The Rev. I. V. Razu has had several attacks of illness, and his weakness and the infirmities of increasing age prevent his labouring beyond the limits of Dummagudem, where, however, he finds abundance of quiet work to do. Of the congregation in this town Mr. Cain says:—"If greater regularity in attendance at all the services is a sign of progress, we have much, very much, to be thankful for." The Girls' Boarding-school in Dummagudem is attended not only by the Christian boarding-girls, but also by twenty-four caste girls as day-scholars. Mr. Cain, in his Annual Letter, reviews the events of the seven years from 1883 to 1889, and the following example of extension in the Malkanagiri Taluq will recall to readers of former Reports many incidents of interest:—

Growth of the Church in the Malkanagiri

As will be remembered, the result of a tour of three illiterate evangelists sent to the Malkanagiri Taluq by General Haig in 1882, was a visit from Nadigotla Lingayya to Dummagudem for further instruction. Early in 1884 he came again, but was not baptized until Easter Sunday that same year, when he paid the third visit. In February, 1885, we travelled out to Bejjikavada, in the Malkanagiri Taluq, and there were privileged to receive twenty-four into the Christian Church. In 1886 we reached Chitrakonda, 100 miles from Dummagudem, and admitted twenty-six into Christ's fold. Thus the Church in that taluq has steadily grown until it now numbers more than 100.

Mr. Cain's account of the spread of the Gospel in the Rampa Taluq in last year's Report (page 149) is continued as follows:—

and Rampa Taluqs.

This last Christmas (1889) P. Baleshudu came again with some friends and sought a bride for one of those baptized last year (1888), and the young man's proposals were most favourably received by one of the elder girls. So the bonds between Dummagudem and Rampa are increasing steadily. One of the visitors was an old man who has for some two years past been carefully reading the life of our Lord, and last year made up his mind to accept Him as his Saviour. His younger son determined to follow his example, but his elder son resolutely refused to become a Christian. They arrived on a Saturday afternoon, and were present at the Sunday services. In the afternoon Mrs. Cain (as I was down with fever) was speaking to the small congregation, gathered together in our large room, on the gifts of the Magi to the infant Lord at Bethlehem, when something or other touched the heart of the elder son, and he left the room resolving to enter Christ's Church with his father and brother. The three were baptized the following Friday, and no one could think that I acted hastily when I yielded to the pleadings of the old father and admitted him, two days later, to share the privileges of those who gathered around the table of the Lord. It may be the only opportunity he may have in this world. Thus there is now a small Church of fifteen in Rampa, without any resident teacher, and only visited once or twice a year by an evangelist. But they can nearly all read the New Testament, and carry on religious worship amongst themselves.

The Kois.

The work among the Kois, especially Mrs. Cain's work among the Koi women, has been encouraging. Three of the latter were baptized in October. At Nallapalli a school of fifty children, of whom over thirty are Kois, is taught by three Christian Koi teachers.

III. TINNEVELLY.

The year 1889 will be painfully prominent in the history of the Native Church in Tinnevelly on account of the numerous bereavements with which it pleased God to visit it. At the beginning of the year three of the Native pastors were removed, two others died in June, and yet another in December; making six within the year. But the imminence of a still greater loss was rendered evident by the perceptibly declining strength of their aged Bishop, who had returned at the close of 1888 from England to end his days, as he touchingly said, among his own people. Bishop Sargent died on October 11th. The Committee, upon receiving intelligence of his departure to his heavenly rest, recorded in the following words their sense of his character and work :—

Death of Bishop Sargent.

In the long roll of honoured missionaries whom the Society has been privileged to send into the mission-field, few have surpassed Bishop Sargent in cordial attachment to the Society and its spiritual principles, or in general missionary efficiency and successfulness in the various posts to which he was successively called. His thorough knowledge of the Tamil language, his complete understanding of the feelings and ways of the people, and his great affection for them; his power of sympathy; his thorough belief in the Gospel of Christ as the power of God unto salvation to all that believe; his earnest yearning for souls; his large-hearted sympathy with all engaged in the great design of making known Christ's salvation; and his strong grasp of the great missionary principles of the Word of God, place him in the first rank of distinguished missionaries of the Society.

Bishop Sargent's connexion with the Society dated back to 1835, when he commenced his missionary labours as a young layman at Palamcotta. Shortly afterwards, by the Committee's invitation, he came to England and spent some time at the Society's Islington College. In 1841 he was ordained deacon, and priest the following year, by Bishop Blomfield. He returned to the Mission in 1842, and after several years spent at Suviseshapuram, he was located at Palamcotta and appointed to the work of training agents, to which the Church in Tinnevelly owes so much. More than 500 young men, many of whom are now in the ministry, passed through the Palamcotta Preparandi Institution, while he was the Principal. At Calcutta, on March 11th, 1877, Dr. Sargent and his friend and fellow-missionary of the S.P.G., Dr. Caldwell, were consecrated to be coadjutor Bishops to the Bishop of Madras for the district of Tinnevelly. During the twelve and a half years of Bishop Sargent's episcopate he had the joyful, and oftentimes the anxious, privilege of watching and tending and guiding the pastorates and Councils which he had been instrumental, with many other honoured missionary brethren, in forming. At the close of his life he could look back through the years of the Church's growth and progress from less than 9000 to over 55,000 adherents, and to the increase of the Native clergy from one to over sixty. His last hours were calm and peaceful. The Rev. T. Kember wrote :—

> The last words he spoke to me were in answer to the question, "Are you quite happy?" To which he replied immediately, "Yes; happy in Jesus—blessed Jesus!" Almost the last thing he asked to be read to him was the hymn, "Safe in the arms of Jesus," the sentiments of which were a great comfort and joy to him. The Bishop breathed his last in the solemn stillness of the night of Friday, October 11th, an hour before midnight.

Of the funeral early next morning Mr. Kember said :—

Funeral.

> The whole European community came together for the funeral, and every Native Christian who could possibly get in time was there to testify by his presence his esteem and sorrow for the dear departed Bishop. Before leaving the Tamil Church the girls of the boarding-school sang the hymn, "Shall we gather at the river?" in English; and at the grave, after the benediction, they sang, "Safe in the arms of Jesus," with peculiarly solemn effect. For more than an hour a continuous stream of people, entering the churchyard by one gate, came to take a last look into the grave, and then passed out at the gate on the opposite side. The Bishop's body is laid next to Mrs. Sargent.

Deaths of six Native pastors.

The following were the Native clergy who died during last year. On January 9th, the Rev. D. Védanáyagam died from cholera. He was ordained in 1876. For the last two years of his life he suffered from paralysis and was on the retired list. The Revs. Abraham Rasentiram, of Kongarayakurichi, and David Rasentiram, of Zereb, both in the Panneivilei district, who were ordained in 1869, died early in the year, but the dates have not been stated. The Rev. Periyanáyagam Arumanáyagam died on June 5th. He was ordained in 1859, and had been connected as a lay agent with the Mission for more than twenty years before he entered the ministry, so that his whole period of service was fifty years. He was pastor of Asirvadapuram. The Rev. Thomas Védanáyagam died June 23rd. He had laboured about forty-four years; first for twelve years as a schoolmaster in the Elliot Tuxford School, then for a like period as a catechist, and since 1869 as a pastor. The Rev. Jesudasen John died on December 14th. He was the oldest of the Tinnevelly clergy, having been ordained in 1847, and was seventy-one years of age at the time of his death. He was a son of the well-known Rev. John Devasagayam, the first Native ordained to the ministry of the Church of England in South India (in 1830). For the fourteen years previous to his death he was pastor of the Palamcotta congregation.

The all-important work of deepening and developing the spiritual life of the Native Church, and superintending the Native Church Councils, was one which, in view of Bishop Sargent's increasing infirmities, had been much under the Committee's consideration, and they had invited the Rev. John Barton, Vicar of Trinity Church, Cambridge, early last year to go out to render temporary assistance to the Bishop in his onerous charge. Eventually, with the Bishop of Ely's consent to his leaving his important parish for twelve months, he was able, at the cost of not a little self-sacrifice, to respond to the invitation; the Committee's views were communicated to him in July; and he sailed at the end of October, a fortnight after Bishop Sargent's death. After a careful inspection of the work, Mr. Barton, in conference with the Madras Corresponding Committee, and with the Tinnevelly missionaries, has submitted a scheme providing for the better organization of the Native Church on the lines of the Regulations previously approved by the Committee, and for the more thorough evangelization of the extensive heathen portions of the district, which is receiving the Committee's careful consideration.

Visit of Rev. J. Barton.

One of the points on which the Committee laid stress in the views they expressed to Mr. Barton was that the band of itinerating missionaries in Tinnevelly needed to be strengthened. Mr. Barton had the satisfaction of taking out with him in October two young clergymen for this work, and the Rev. E. S. Carr returned to the Mission a few months later. The two recruits were the Rev. E. A. Douglas, M.A., of Christ's College, Cambridge, Curate of Hendon, Sunderland; and the Rev. Arthur N. C. Storrs, B.A., of Queen's College, Cambridge, Curate of Swanage, son of the Rev. W. T. Storrs, Vicar of Christ Church, Sandown, and formerly missionary to the Santals. A third recruit for this Mission was also one of Mr. Barton's party, viz. Miss E. C. Vines, daughter of the late Rev. C. E. Vines, for many years missionary at Agra. Miss F. E. Thomas returned to the Mission in November. The Rev. V. W. and Mrs. Harcourt have come home on furlough.

Reinforcements.

A few days after Mr. Barton's arrival at Palamcotta opportunity was taken of Prince Albert Victor's passing Tinnevelly town to give him, the heir-prospective of the Indian Empire, some idea of the work that is being done for the spiritual welfare of the people. An assemblage of about 3000 Native Christians was brought together, and Bishop Caldwell informed his Royal Highness that these represented a community in connexion with the Church of Prince Albert Victor.

England (C.M.S. and S.P.G.) numbering 95,000 souls under Christian instruction, to whom 113 ordained Native clergy minister in spiritual things.

Confirmations.

Bishop Caldwell, the venerable and much-respected head of the S.P.G. Mission, confirmed over 1500 in February at Panneivilei, Nallúr, Parappadi, Satankulam, and Mengnánapuram.

Special services by Rev. G. C. Grubb.

Very opportunely the Rev. G. C. Grubb and three lay friends visited Tinnevelly at the time of these confirmations, and special Mission services were held at Palamcotta and Mengnánapuram. Writing from the latter place, Mr. Barton said:—

> It has been a most impressive sight to see this grand church filled day after day by an immense congregation, and to watch the sea of upturned faces and the rows of gleaming black eyes steadfastly fixed upon the preacher. Splendid listeners, truly, these Tamils are, and very thorough, too, when thoroughly instinct with the Spirit of God.

And again, on March 10th, Mr. Barton wrote:—

> We have just said good-bye to our dear missioner brethren, Mr. Grubb and his colleagues, who have left for New Zealand. We thank God for their visit. Both here and at Mengnanapuram there was marked blessing; as also at Edeyengudi (S.P.G. station), to which place they went for two days at the special request of Bishop Caldwell. A large number of persons, of all ages and both sexes, definitely yielded themselves up to Christ: some of them very striking cases indeed. Of each place it may be said, "There was great joy in that city."

"Great joy in that city."

The various agencies directly supported by the Society in this Mission, as distinguished from those which are subordinated to the Native Church Councils, are the Itinerant Mission, carried on by the Revs. T. Walker, E. S. Carr, E. A. Douglas, A. N. C. Storrs, and P. G. J. Simeon; the Training Institution at Palamcotta, under the charge of the Rev. T. Kember; the High School in the same town, under Mr. E. Keyworth; the College in the town of Tinnevelly, under the Rev. H. J. Schaffter's charge, assisted by Mr. R. F. Ardell: and the Elliot Tuxford School at Mengnánapuram, conducted by Mrs. Thomas and her daughter, Miss F. E. Thomas. Since the return home of the Rev. V. W. Harcourt, the C.E.Z.M.S. has kindly undertaken to appoint, from the ranks of their missionaries, ladies who will superintend the Sarah Tucker Institution, and the numerous branch schools, under the direction of the Madras Corresponding Committee, and Miss Askwith and Miss Swainson, two lady missionaries of that Society, have taken up the work.

The long illness of Bishop Sargent made considerable demands on the Rev. T. Walker's time, and to that extent interfered with the work of the Itinerant Mission. Numerous tours were made, however, in the districts of Suvisé-shapuram, Pannikulam, Surandei, Dohnavúr, Nallúr, and Palamcotta, and everywhere quiet and attentive audiences were met with. Mr. Walker says:— Itinerant Mission.

One little incident may serve to show that this broadcast sowing is not in vain. Not long ago I received a letter from a Native friend, a Christian pastor, who had found occasion to visit a village where we had been preaching some months before. He was accosted there by a young man, a sort of demon-priest, with some such words as these:—"Sir, some months ago a band of preachers came to our village and held some meetings. I was angry with them for it, and opposed them. But what they said made me uneasy. I felt that it was truth. Ever since they left I have been unhappy in my mind, and now I want to be a Christian and be baptized." After some hours' interesting conversation, this man was committed to the care of the local agent for suitable instruction. Here is another illustration of the attitude of some towards Christianity, and a proof of the leavening influence of itinerating work. A man, after listening to a catechist's address, came forward and said,—"Yes, what you preach is good, and, doubtless, true. I am $\frac{63}{64}$ parts convinced." "$\frac{63}{64}$ parts convinced."

Several other inquirers have been, as in the above instance, referred to the local pastors and catechists for instruction. Two adults of good family were baptized during the year, the fruit of Mr. Walker's labours. One of these was a youth who had placed himself under instruction two years before, but had been won away by his mother's entreaties. He associated, however, with the Christians of his Native town, and confessed his convictions by word and deed, and in the summer of last year he was baptized by the Rev. H. J. Schaffter, he having been a student in the College. Baptism of a high-caste convert.

The number of girls in the Sarah Tucker Female Institution is 185, and in 39 branch schools there are 1394. Several new schools were opened by Mr. Harcourt last year, one entirely for Mohammedans.

No report has been received of the Training Institution.

Mr. Keyworth again sends an excellent account of the Scripture knowledge of the boys of the Palamcotta High School. He says:— Palamcotta High School.

For the "Cator" examination as usual twenty other schools competed, and sixteen prizes were given. Our boys obtained three of these. For the whole Presidency fifty per cent. of the candidates passed. We sent up twelve, of whom eleven passed. They were competing with Europeans of their own age in English, and the teachers, especially of the two highest classes, deserve great credit. Mr. John Devasahayam, our science graduate, has been one of the most successful teachers of religious knowlege in the whole country Knowledge of the Scriptures.

Excellent results were also obtained in the various secular examinations. Eight gained places in the Matriculation Examination; fourteen, out of seventeen presented, passed the Middle School examination, two being in the first class. All the teachers and nearly all the 126 boys are Christians. The head-master, Mr. Martin Luther, has held a fortnightly prayer-meeting and Bible-class since the Winter Mission of 1887-8.

Tinnevelly College.

The Tinnevelly College has a strong rival in the Hindu College in the town, which has a Cambridge M.A. as Principal. The numbers are 496, two hundred more than in the Hindu College. Mr. Schaffter refers to the baptism of the youth already alluded to in connexion with Mr. Walker's work in the following interesting quotation:—

"Never had such attentive Bible-students."

> The seventh high-caste convert of this College was baptized three weeks ago, and he is the first-fruits of dear Walker's itinerancy. We have a small band of earnest inquirers who come regularly to church and Sunday-school, and show openly to the heathen that, when they come of age, they will confess Christ. I never had such attentive students at the Bible-class every day as I have now during my twenty years' experience of educational work, and the very slight excitement caused by a high-caste boy being baptized is surely a sign of the times. Not one of our boys has left us after this last baptism, Hindu College and Hindu preachers notwithstanding.

A remarkable movement.

Writing in March last Mr. Schaffter described a truly remarkable movement among the boys, which had resulted in the conversion of one of them. He said:—

A Juvenile Society for the study of the Scriptures.

> I am thankful to say we are having many signs of blessing in the College. About eight months ago a goodly number of my upper class boys started amongst themselves what they called "A Juvenile Society for the Study of the Scriptures." All the members were heathen high-caste lads; several friends of theirs joined them. They started a subscription among themselves, rented an upper room in one of the large car streets, elected one of their number as president, and commenced with having a class every Sunday afternoon lasting for two hours or more of Bible reading. Then a little library began to be formed of Christian books; then a daily prayer-meeting in the evening, that God the Holy Spirit would show them how and when to confess the Lord. After a while it attracted the attention of the Hindu preachers, and they fell on them with all their unlimited powers of abuse. This only encouraged the real inquiring ones to come out more boldly, so that several of them have been removed from the College and sent to the Hindu College. When Mr. Grubb and his friends were here they visited this society at the boys' request, and they were much pleased to see the number and the earnestness shown. Several have applied for baptism, but my invariable answer is, "Have you told the whole of Tinnevelley that you mean to be baptized?" One of them, I am thankful to say, has done so, and has been well thrashed and abused, but last Sunday, before a large number of heathen who were most respectful and silent, he was admitted to the Church in baptism.

Mengnánapuram.

The Minutes of the proceedings of the several District Church Councils are regularly sent to the Committee, but it has not been usual to send a report of the year's work. The Mengnánapuram Council, however, has sent a report for the year 1889, describing the work under the three heads, pastoral, educational, and evangelistic. In the pastorates connected with this Council there are 16,422 adherents and 4004 communicants. Twenty Native pastors and sixteen catechists minister to them. The contributions for all purposes amounted to Rs. 9285; viz. Rs. 4761 to the Native Church Fund, which is administered by the District Council, and from which the salaries of agents are paid; Rs. 1691 for church repairs; Rs. 982 for lighting churches; Rs. 383 to Poor Fund; Rs. 300 to Bible and Religious Book Societies; Rs. 133 to Native Church Missions; Rs. 270 Communion offertory; Rs. 259 school fees; &c. A boys' boarding-school contains 60 boarders and 30 day-scholars; and a girls' boarding-school has 64 boarders and 5 day-scholars; while 2393 boys and 1010 girls are taught in 114 day-schools. Sixteen catechists and two Native pastors are engaged in evangelistic work in the district in connexion with the W. C. Jones Fund. Of the work in Mengnánapuram itself, Mr. Barton wrote in December:—

Lasting fruit of good work.

I have been pleased, and I may say agreeably surprised, at what I have seen thus far, especially in Mengnánapuram, where I have been spending the last six days looking into everything, meeting all the clergy and agents, and visiting such of the pastorates as are within easy reach. Old Mr. Thomas' good work of a previous generation, 1837-68, is still bearing fruit. There is a wonderful amount of life and activity here, and this district has for many years supplied agents to every part of the Mission-field, and will, I hope, do so to a still larger extent hereafter.

A pleasant allusion to a leading Native Christian in the Dohnavúr district is contained in a subsequent letter of Mr. Barton's, written in January. Referring to the church in the village (Parappedu), Mr. Barton says:—

A lowly-minded and generous Native Christian.

The church cost altogether Rs. 1500, about 120*l.*; a nice substantial structure of stone, with tiled roof. Bishop Sargent gave about 12*l.* towards this from some Mission fund, and all the rest, or very nearly all, was given by one man, the head-man in the congregation and village magistrate. He was once a fierce opponent of Christianity, and his brother, who once joined him, has gone back; but he has stood firm for the past twenty years, and done his utmost to advance Christ's kingdom in his village. He is a plain, homely man in appearance, wearing nothing but a loose cloth on the upper part of his body. Bishop Sargent brought him out a nice cloth as a present, with a gold band in it, but he never wears it; he says it is much too grand for one like him. When I asked him where the money came from to build the church, he said Bishop Sargent gave him 12*l.* and God gave the rest! His great desire is to have more European missionaries living in the districts to supervise the agents and pastors properly. I told him Native Christians must not always be children, depending on their mother's milk, but should learn to walk alone. "Ah!" he said, "did not God leave Adam and Eve in the garden, and what a bad business they made of it!" His earnestness and simplicity were indeed delightful to witness.

North Tinnevelly

The Rev. A. K. Finnimore, whose continuance at his work in North Tinnevelly has been more than once forbidden by the medical authorities at Madras, had a serious illness in January, and he has been ordered to the hills. As Chairman of the Church Council, he visited last year the congregations, several of which cluster round each of the 80 stations at which agents are located. He reports a growing interest in Sunday-school work among the Christians, and there are 39 voluntary evangelists. 287 adults were baptized, and the Bishop of Madras confirmed 160 candidates in January (1889).

The poor driven into the Church by oppression

Mr. Finnimore says that the poorer heathen are being driven into the Church by the oppression of their more wealthy and powerful co-religionists. He gives the following as an example:—

> In December, 1888, the agents of the Zemindar sought to impress the inhabitants as labourers on a new road in the estate. The villagers objected to being taken away from their agricultural pursuits, and refused to work. A number of them were accordingly laid hold of, and unjustly submitted to ignominious punishment, being made to bend with their fingers to their toes, whilst stones of great weight were placed on their backs. The poor persecuted people sought protection from further cruelty by attaching themselves to the Christian Church in their neighbourhood, knowing that no one would dare to treat Christians thus, as they had a European missionary as their protector. They applied to the pastor for admission, and eighty persons were accepted for instruction.

It is necessary, in order that this Report may be faithful and complete, to record the fact that the Salvation Army, passing over wide districts still unoccupied in South India, has fixed on Tinnevelly as a field for its missionary efforts, and that, passing over numerous heathen towns in Tinnevelly itself, where no missionary is at work, has fixed its headquarters at Palamcotta, the centre of the C.M.S. Mission. But the Committee prefer not to comment upon this action, and they are thankful to hear that the divisions which were feared in the Native Christian community have not occurred to any serious extent.

TRAVANCORE AND COCHIN MISSION.

Consecration of Bishop Hodges.

The Rev. Edward Noel Hodges, D.D., was consecrated to the Bishopric of the missionary diocese of Travancore and Cochin, in succession to Bishop Speechly, on St. Mark's Day, April 25th, at Lambeth Parish Church. Dr. Hodges will go out (D.V.) in the autumn. His selection by the Archbishop of Canterbury in 1889, twelve months before his consecration, gave such complete satisfaction to the workers in the field that, as one of them writes, they have scarcely realized that they were bereft so long of the presence of a chief pastor; they have been able with entire freedom and confidence to correspond with him, and to rely upon his sympathetic and intelligent appreciation of their circumstances and needs.

Addition to the staff.

Dr. Hodges strongly feels the importance of strengthening the educational agencies in his diocese, and in October the Committee cordially sanctioned his making an appeal for two University men of some experience in teaching to accompany him to the Mission. In March the Committee gladly accepted the offer of the Rev. Alfred J. French Adams, M.A., of Balliol College, Oxford, Rector of Foscott, Buckinghamshire, for the Principalship of the Cottayam College. Mr. Adams' father was for fifteen years a Wesleyan missionary in the Friendly Islands and Australia, and his uncle is the Lowndes Professor of Astronomy at Cambridge.

A former Principal of the Cottayam College, the Rev. E. Johnson, M.A., was removed by death in June. Mr. Johnson went out to India in 1843 as Principal of Jay Narain's College, Benares. He was transferred to this Mission in 1848, and retired in 1858.

Miss Mary F. Baker has returned to the Mission, and the Rev. C. A. and Mrs. Neve have come home on furlough.

COTTAYAM.

Cottayam.

Archdeacon John Caley and the Revs. C. A. Neve and J. Thompson were the missionaries who resided at Cottayam last year. Upon the first rests the supervision of the extensive Alwaye Itinerancy and of the pastorates connected with the Cottayam and Mavelikara Church Councils, of both of which he is at present the Chairman; Mr. Thompson conducts the Cambridge Nicholson Institution; and Mr. Neve, until he left in February, had the charge of the Cottayam College.

Cambridge Nicholson Institution.

The Cambridge Nicholson Institution has a Divinity Class with five students, of whom four are graduates; a Normal School, with twenty-five students; and a Model School, which serves as a practising-ground for the Normal School students, and has an average attendance of over ninety. The Tract Society connected with the Institution is publishing Dr. Murray Mitchell's Letters to Hindu Youth in monthly numbers, at a charge equal to about ½*d.* a month.

Cottayam College.

Mr. Neve mentions in his report that since 1880, when he took charge of the Cottayam College, the number of boys has increased from 214 to 381. During these years eighty-six boys have matriculated, of whose subseqnent history Mr. Neve gives some account. Eight have passed B.A., of whom four are now masters in C.M.S. and other schools, and some are in Government employ; three have appeared for B.A., the result not being known when Mr. Neve wrote; eight have passed F.A., of whom five are still prosecuting their studies; ten are now studying for F.A.; twenty-three are in C.M.S. service, one as a pastor, the others as readers or teachers; two are Divinity students in the Cambridge Nicholson Institution; five are engaged in the medical service; three are medical and engineering students; eighteen are teachers, writers, &c.; two are without employment; and four have died. Mr. Neve has cheering evidence, as he says, that his labours have not been in vain, in that many of his old pupils are now teachers of others and some are ministers of the Gospel.

Former students.

Alwaye Itinerancy

The Alwaye Itinerancy covers an area of about 1850 square miles, and has a population of 600,000. Archdeacon Caley says, "We are regarded in some places as meteoric babblers, who go there when we have nothing else to do," owing to the feebleness of the itinerating force, and the consequent infrequency of their visits. A book-depôt has been opened during the year at Alwaye, from which about fifty Bibles and Scripture portions have been sold monthly.

Missionaries regarded as "meteoric babblers."

Pastorates

In the Pastorates there has been an aggregate increase in the number of adherents during the year of 999—viz. from 13,799 in 1888 to 14,798 in 1889. In the same time the contributions have increased from Rs. 4455 to Rs. 5117. The accessions have been almost exactly equal in the two Councils. Archdeacon Caley gives an interesting summary of the reports of the several pastorates.

In connexion with the MAVELIKARA CHURCH COUNCIL are eight pastorates. Elantur, under the Rev. M. C. Thoma, is making substantial progress. The Y.M.C.A. and Sunday-schools are zealously conducted, and evangelistic efforts are made with much earnestness. There is an increase of 113 in this pastorate. Kodawalaniya does not show a large numerical increase, but there are tokens of spiritual growth, greater unity, more interest in the study of God's Word, and increased liberality. The Archdeacon says:—

Preaching and praying in delirium.

The pastor (Rev. T. K. Joseph) mentions one of his helpers in the work who is as regular as a paid agent; and another who lately handed over Rs. 2 to buy Gospel portions for distribution. A third young man, when laid up with a severe fever, was, in his delirium, preaching to the heathen and praying for their conversion. On St. Andrew's Day, when two young men were returning from the church, a thoughtful and influential Hindu asked them why they had been to church on that day. When they said it was to pray for the conversion of the heathen he seemed considerably alarmed, and said, angrily, "Why are you so covetous? are you not satisfied with preaching?" He thought little of preaching, as it was only man speaking to man; but he was afraid of the consequence of man speaking to God.

"Are you not satisfied with preaching?"

Kannit still suffers from the influence of the Justus Joseph party. "That dreadful wave of fanaticism," the Archdeacon says, "with its terrible physical manifestations, has burnt the people into cinders." In Mallapalli, the largest and most important of all the pastorates, there has been an increase of 285 souls in the year, the pastor of Mavelikara, the Rev. O. Mamen, mentions a pleasing case of a blind member of his congregation who was awakened through the Rev. B. Baring Gould's preaching during the special Winter Mission of 1887-8:—

A blind Christian and his heathen friends.

He lives in the old fort, where all his neighbours are heathen. As he desires to hear the Word of God, but cannot, of course, read it, two of his heathen neighbours kindly visit him daily and read the Bible for him. In this way the bodily and spiritually blind help each other.

The COTTAYAM COUNCIL consists of six pastorates. In respect to the condition of its Pulayan converts, the Cottayam Pastorate stands first in the whole Mission. Archdeacon Caley says:—

Pulayans and Europeans at the Holy Table.

During last year I saw in the Cottayam Church what I had never seen before in any church, viz. Pulayan Christians, Europeans, and other Christians all kneeling together in the order I mention at the Lord's Table. It was as it should be, but it could not have been a few years ago.

There were four adult baptisms in the Cochin pastorate during the year. This pastorate, being in British Cochin, is in the diocese of Madras; it is nevertheless connected with the Cottayam Council. The Rev. J. Chandy, of the Vallam Pastorate, and his churchwardens, have been obliged to undertake a costly work of church repairs, the roof having fallen in. It has been successfully accomplished at a cost of Rs. 1400, of which Rs. 350 had still to be raised in February. The enlargement of a school and the erection of houses for two agents have been simultaneously carried on.

Bribery by Roman Catholics.

The Roman Catholics and Syrians have given much trouble in the Olesha Pastorate by offering inducements to converts to join their communions. The Archdeacon says:—

> Now that we are pressing on towards self-support, we are bound to have scales of fees and methods of raising money, or we should soon be in confusion. Both the Roman Catholics and Syrians offer either to abolish or reduce the fees if our people will join them, and in some cases give presents to secure desertion. These are powerful arguments with some, but in the vast majority of cases they can be met. I am quite sure that a good Shepherd who provides for His people a rich spiritual pasture will keep all who are a strength to Christ's cause.

Melkavu is not connected with either of the Church Councils at present. The Archdeacon's testimony to the character and good work of its pastor must be quoted. He says:—

A wise and earnest Native pastor.

> The Melkavu pastorate, for solid progress and spiritual power compares favourably with the best work in the whole diocese. The pastor, the Rev. W. C. Kuruwella, has been greatly blessed in his ministry, and is deservedly loved by his people. While he is wise to counsel and guide them in their worldly affairs, he is keenly alive to what concerns them spiritually. No outward veneering will satisfy him. He believes thoroughly in the possibility and imperative necessity of a new heart and a new life, and will be satisfied with nothing less than this. During the last year I was with him at one of his out-stations, called Erumapara, which is the least satisfactory of all the places under his charge. Half a dozen people were not on speaking terms with each other; and the reason they gave for their conduct was, that if they spoke at all they quarrelled, so they thought it better to be silent. We eventually got them, not only to speak to each other, but take each other by the hand, and "confess their faults one to another." Before this was done, I said, after much speaking, "What can I do? What arrangement can I make to put an end to all these unpleasant matters?" One said, "If the pastor will come and live amongst us for a few months, all will come right." I felt at once that it was a nice testimony to the worth of the pastor; and had it been said of myself, I should very likely have felt proud to be held in such esteem. But not so the one of whom they spoke. He said, "The want is much deeper and more important than that. You need Christ to come and live amongst you;" and went on with burning words, which proceeded from his very heart, to tell them that nothing less than they in Christ and Christ in them would meet the case. As may be expected under such a ministry, the work prospers. Souls continue to be added to the Church. At the end of 1888 the numbers were 1386. At the end of 1889 there were 1469. On November 13th, 1888, the foundation-stone of a new church was laid at Coowapally. On New Year's Day, 1890, the church was opened for divine service.

ALLEPIE AND TIRUWELLA.

These stations are under the charge of the Rev. W. J. Richards. The Rev. C. E. R. Romilly has resided at Tiruwella during the year, eighteen miles away from the nearest European, for the quiet study of Malayalim.

At ALLEPIE two adults were baptized by Mr. Richards, the first town converts for the past five years. There are a few others who are "feeling their way." Sunday Bible-readings, which were started among the women after the Winter Mission of 1887-8, are still kept up; an average attendance of forty-two women meeting in four houses every Sunday under suitable teachers. Mr. Richards mentions the following instance of self-denying liberality on the part of a servant which came under his attention at Allepie last December:— Allepie.

I was touched last Sunday by a paper package in the Alleppey offertory. The wife of a servant had put in a savings-box during the past year about 136 coins, silver chuckrams thirty-six, and the remainder copper kash, equal at par to three shillings; and there they were, a week's wages of her husband's earnings. He, too, was consenting. Liberality of a Native servant.

At Kattur there are several candidates for baptism. Mr. Richards was allowed by the heathen headman of this place to remove from the small demon shrine the piece of sandstone grit, which was supposed to grow, and to which offerings were made as the embodiment of the local demon.

In the TIRUWELLA district twenty-one teachers are in charge of twenty-four stations. Mr. Richards baptized forty-two adults in this district during the year. There are numerous inquirers. Mr. Richards enumerates the following incidents from which he has derived encouragement:—

petition written on a palm-leaf. They spoke for 200. One man said, "I have eight sisters, and each has a family, and all will join." A third instance is that of a catechumen living six miles from a prayer-house. She came to give the Mission a plot of land, worth fully Rs. 100, on condition that we put a teacher there. Mr. Romilly and I met thirteen inquirers on the spot. This widow woman evinced such eagerness that I examined her (out of time), and found that her knowledge was good. Continuing, I asked, "Where is Jesus now?" "He is in my heart!" "I trust so. He is in every true believer. Bnt where is His throne?" "In heaven." "Will He ever remain there?" "No; He will come back again to judgment." "Then where will you, a sinner, go?" "My whole trust is in the mercy of God through Jesus." But I cannot write down her tone and manner. Her faith made her as shameless as she "of the dogs under the table." That very morning I baptized her in Tiruwella Church by the name of Elizabeth, and the place is Mepadam.

Rice collections.

Three prayer-sheds have been put up by the people in the places now spoken of. I was much cheered by the rice collection at Ayrûr. The Ayrûr people are building a stone church on the top of a lovely hill, in the midst of their settlements. The congregation of baptized is over 500. For their church-building the teacher tried the experiment of earthen pots. One hundred and forty were taken by the women. After harvest, handfuls of paddy (unhusked rice) were daily spared for these church pots, and the total so raised was 140 "bushels," or Rs. 63.

ARRIAN MISSION.

Mundakayam.

The Rev. A. F. Painter, who resides at Pallam, has charge of the work among the hill Arrians. The adherents in the Mundakayam district have increased from 1874 to 2304. Three new stations have been opened among Pulayans. Mr. Painter says:—

A great opening.

At one place, the chief of the Pulayans and the chief of the Pariahs have given up their devil-dancing instruments. A rich Nair gave us some land, and more was registered in our name by the Sirkar. There seems to be a great opening there. After much trouble the Poonyatt Chief has at last come to a fair settlement with most of the Arrians living at Mankompu and Ettamalla in his territory. He has now given them registered documents definitely stating what they should do, and confirming the rights which they enjoyed. These temporal blessings of peace and progress are not to be passed over. Four hundred and thirty men, women, and children have been gathered in.

COCHIN: TRICHUR AND KUNNANKULAM.

"Christianity in the air" at Trichur

"Christianity is in the air," writes the Rev. F. Bower, who has charge of the work in the Cochin State. He reports the baptism of fifty-nine adults, and states numerous facts proving that a spirit of inquiry is manifestly spreading among the upper classes of both Trichur, where he himself resides, and the district of Kunnankulam. A young Nair, who had been induced by a member of the Y.M.C.A. to attend a special service when the earnest lay-preacher from Mysore, Mr. Lakshman Rao, formerly a Brahmin, was giving an evangelistic address, on being asked what he thought of the discourse, said, "I never heard a Native preach like that before." He declared that he would read the Bible through at least three times. Mr. Bower describes an interview he had with a Namboorie Brahmin:—

A short time ago I was sent for by a Namboorie, as he wished to know more about Christianity. He also asked questions concerning Buddhism, Mohammedanism, and Judaism. He was an elderly man, and one of the most intelligent and gentlemanly Namboorie Brahmins I ever conversed with, though very infirm in body and almost blind. He appeared to be really anxious to know the truth, and wanted my opinion as to the method of expiating sin. Being well acquainted with their sacrificial system, contained in the Rig Veda, he readily understood the scheme of redemption. I read to him in Malayalim several passages of the Epistle to the Hebrews, on the subject of sacrifice, to which he listened most attentively. On hearing that Christianity was an experimental religion, and one which had more to do with the heart than the head, he asked me to relate my experience, for which I was most thankful. When I spoke of the joy and peace which flowed into my soul as soon as I believed with the heart in Christ as my Saviour, the poor old gentleman appeared to be greatly impressed. He confessed that he had no real peace of mind, and admitted that his future was dark and uncertain. Being on the borders of eternity, he as much as acknowledged to me, in the presence of several angry-looking Sudras, that he was about to take a leap in the dark. I could not help feeling extremely sorry for the poor old man, and prayed that the words which had been read and spoken might be the means of leading him to the Redeemer, in whom alone he could find rest for his weary soul.

A missionary relates his religious experience to a Brahmin.

In proportion as the interest in the Gospel spreads, the opposition on the part of the Temple Brahmins and Sircar officials increases; Hindu women in Trichur have been induced to wear necklaces of sacred beads instead of their usual ornaments, to guard them against the danger of being made Christians! In the autumn a "Society for the Preservation of the Hindu Religion" was formed, under the leadership of a Tamil Brahmin, a member of the Madras Hindu Tract Society. But the Native Christians in this part are equally zealous and courageous in making the Gospel known. Mr. Bower says:—

Safeguards against being made Christians.

The members of the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. have during the past year been most active here at Kunnankulam, and at Munkutti, in proclaiming the message of salvation to those living in their neighbourhood; and also in going out in small bands to villages a few miles from their homes.

Zeal of Native Christians.

The Rev. P. M. Wirghese, the pastor of Kunnankulam, has been unwell during the greater part of the past year.

CEYLON MISSION.

(Commenced 1817.)

I. Singhalese Mission: Kandy, 1818; Baddêgama, 1819; Cotta, 1822; Kurunêgala, 1880.
II. Tamil Mission: Jaffna, 1818; Colombo, 1852; Tamil Cooly Mission, 1855.

Of the burden of losses by death which have fallen upon the Society's Missions during the past year, the Lord has apportioned, in His sovereign and inscrutable wisdom, a heavy share to Ceylon.

Death of Rev. E. M. Griffith,

On March 13th the Rev. Edward Moule Griffith died of dysentery after a short illness at Jaffna, where he had laboured with the utmost zeal since 1882. Mr. Griffith was an Islington student, was ordained in 1867, and appointed to the Tamil Cooly Mission. He took advantage of a furlough in England to keep the necessary terms and pass the examinations for his Cambridge B.A. degree, which he took in 1879. He thoroughly understood the Native character, and successfully stimulated the Tamil Christians to self-denying efforts, both in support of their own Church and in evangelistic work among the heathen.

Rev. E. J. Perry,

And on April 2nd, by a distressing accident, a younger missionary, whose name has not before appeared in the Society's Reports, was taken from a work in which for six brief months he laboured with intense enthusiasm. The Rev. Edward John Perry, M.A., of Worcester College, Oxford, had been Cooke's Scholar at that College, and, after graduating first class in theology, had won the Pusey and Ellerton and the Kennicott Hebrew Scholarships, and subsequently was a master in Merchant Taylors' School, and Curate of Clerkenwell. He offered his services to the Society for the Principalship of Trinity College, Kandy, in April, 1889, and he arrived in the Mission in October. During the Easter vacation, he, accompanied by two of the College tutors, visited the Veddahs,—who live in some of the forests and inaccessible mountain tracts of the central part of the island, and are probably descendants of the primeval inhabitants of Ceylon,—an invitation to do so having come from an old Trinity College pupil who is resident, as a Government official, among these almost savage people. Mr. Perry's hope was to organize a Mission among them connected with Trinity College. Two or three days were spent in the country, Mr. Perry preaching to the people and

Mr. S. Perera interpreting. On the return journey, about three miles from Aluthnuwara, some buffaloes approaching through the jungle were mistaken for elephants, and in the confusion one of the party fired his revolver, shooting Mr. Perry through the heart. His mortal remains were conveyed to Kandy, where, on Easter Eve, April 5th, in the presence of a large concourse of people, they were laid by the grave of the Rev. John Allcock, awaiting the resurrection.

and Rev. I. Wood;

A former labourer in this Mission, the Rev. Isaiah Wood, died in September at the house of his son-in-law, the Rev. H. J. Schaffter, of the Tinnevelly Mission. Mr. Wood was educated at the Islington College, and was ordained deacon by Bishop Blomfield in 1846. The following year he went to Ceylon. He laboured at Cotta from 1849 to 1881, when his own and Mrs. Wood's ill health compelled him to retire from the work. For several years after his retirement Mr. Wood was Incumbent of Bourne End, in Hertfordshire. The wife of the Rev. W. E. Rowlands has also been called to her heavenly rest during the past year.

also of Mrs. Rowlands.

Reinforcements.

There have been sent out to reinforce the staff, in addition to Mr. Perry, as mentioned above, the Rev. J. W. Fall, B.A., of Cavendish College, Cambridge, Curate of Walcot, Bath, as Vice-Principal of Trinity College, Kandy; the Rev. Arthur E. Dibben, M.A., of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, Curate of St. John's, Chelsea, with a view to taking charge eventually of Galle Face Church and acting as Secretary of the Mission; and the Rev. Henry P. Napier, B.A., of Trinity College, Cambridge, Curate of Monkton Combe, Bath, who has been appointed to succeed the Rev. E. J. Perry as Principal of Trinity College. Mr. Fall sailed in October, Mr. Dibben in April, and Mr. Napier in May. The Committee are exceedingly thankful that, through God's mercy, the health of the Rev. J. Ireland Jones has so far recovered that the Society's Medical Board have sanctioned his going out once more, God willing, in the forthcoming autumn. Largely owing to his and Mrs. Ireland Jones' appeals, the Committee believe, the C.E.Z.M.S. has been persuaded to include Ceylon among the fields for its operations, and two of its missionaries, Miss Bellerby and Miss James, arrived in November, commissioned to open a boarding-school at Kandy for the daughters of the Kandian chiefs, who, with few exceptions, are Buddhists and devil-worshippers.

The Rev. J. I. and Mrs. Pickford returned to the Mission in November. The latter, however, had the painful duty of coming home the following April as the travelling companion of her sister, Miss Eva Young, whose state of health required this arrangement. Mrs. Pickford again embarked for Ceylon in May. The Rev. G. T. Fleming has also come to England, on furlough.

A criticism of the work by a Ceylon civil servant.

The Committee have frequently yielded to the pleasure of quoting the testimony of civil and military officers and others to the success wherewith God has blessed the work of the Society in Eastern lands, as well as elsewhere. It may perhaps be well, at the cost of some pain, to quote a few words of an adverse opinion expressed in an article in a popular periodical by a late member of the Ceylon Civil Service. Sir J. F. Dickeson, in the English Illustrated Magazine for October, after eulogizing Buddhism, wrote:—

> The Buddhist seeks not to make converts, but he will not be converted—certainly not by men who, in education and in self-denial, compare unfavourably with the celibate Buddhist monks, and with the celibate priests of the Church of Rome. Even Roman Catholics, with their devoted priests leading the life of the people, and living on less than one-tenth of the stipend of a Protestant missionary, make no converts, and indeed they seek to make none . . . but devote themselves to their hereditary flock. . . . So far the result of missionary efforts in Ceylon during the last fifty years has been to rouse the Buddhists from apathy, and to bring about a vigorous Buddhist revival.

The pages of this Report are not the place for discussing the question of celibacy, nor for vindicating the devotion and other qualifications of the Society's missionaries; but its readers will judge how far the words, "the Buddhists will not be converted," are justified, after perusing the quotations below from the letters of the Revs. J. G. Garrett, L. G. P. Liesching, and H. W. Senewiratna. The Rev. J. W. Fall, in a letter written a few days after his arrival at Kandy, alluded to the above criticisms, and gave some facts of which he had already become cognizant. He said:—

Refuted by facts.

> A writer in a monthly magazine has said that Christianity has not touched the strongholds of Buddhism; that, in fact, no real Buddhists have been converted. On the contrary, at the present moment there is in this house a devoted and proved Christian, who a year ago was a Buddhist priest; another priest I have seen only to-day; and a third devoted Buddhist and missionary of a form of Buddhism is to-day in Kandy listening intently to the words of Mr. Grubb and his companions in their Mission just started.

But all engaged in this enterprise, which to the unenlightened intelligence seems as unnecessary as to the eye of sense it seems impossible, need to be constantly made to realize that it is by the Spirit of the Lord of Hosts alone that the great and blessed ends in view can be attained. Especially do those who are engaged in the forefront of the battle need to be kept in close and entire dependence on Him who is the Author and Giver of Life.

Visit of Rev. G. C. Grubb.

The Committee were thankful to learn that the Rev. George C. Grubb, whose visit with Colonel Oldham in 1888 was so greatly blessed to the humbling and encouraging and energizing of the Christians, both European and Native, of Ceylon, enabled by offerings contributed for the purpose by some who were present at the Keswick Convention of 1888 and 1889, was minded to go to them once more, "that they might have a second benefit." Mr. Grubb, accompanied by three lay friends, Messrs. Campbell, Millard, and Richardson, arrived at Colombo on November 12th. They remained on the island, conducting special services and holding meetings for the revival of spiritual life at Colombo, Cotta, Kandy, and Jaffna, until the end of January, when they sailed for Tinnevelly. In March they called again for a few days en route to Australia. One Missionary wrote after their visit, "It has been a time of quickening and refreshment to all of us Mission labourers." And another said, "I believe sinners were converted, backsliders reclaimed, and perhaps the largest share of blessing came again to ourselves and some others of God's children, showing us what was wrong in us, and enabling us to put it away with humble confession, so as to receive the floods of blessing in store for us."

I. WESTERN AND SOUTHERN PROVINCES.

COLOMBO.

Colombo.

The work at Colombo differs from that at most of the other stations in the fact that it comprises three branches, English, Tamil, and Singhalese. Every Lord's Day, services in each of these languages are conducted in the Mission Church, Galle Face. The Rev. E. T. Higgens, who is also the Secretary of the Mission, ministers to the English congregation, and superintends the Singhalese evangelistic agents labouring in the city. The Rev. D. Wood has charge of the Tamil work, Mrs. Wood, assisted by her daughter, Miss Wood, superintending the Girls' Boarding-school. The Rev. J. I. Pickford also laboured among the Tamils from the time of his return to the Mission in November until April, when the Finance Committee requested him to take temporary charge of the work at Jaffna.

Mission services at Galle Face.

Galle Face Church was the centre of the Special Mission conducted by the Rev. G. C. Grubb in November. Every morning Mr. Grubb held a Bible-reading in English at 7.30, which was attended by 100 to 150. From November 14th to 21st meetings for the Tamil Christians were held, the addresses being interpreted by the Rev. J. D. Thomas. These meetings were very largely attended. From November 22nd to 27th similar meetings for the Singhalese Christians were held, the Rev. S. Coles being the interpreter.

Work among Singhalese

The Singhalese Evangelistic work among prisoners has been somewhat hampered by the enforcement of a regulation at the principal prison that ministers or catechists may only speak to prisoners who belong to their own denominations. This rule effectually prevents evangelistic efforts in behalf of the heathen prisoners. Three catechists take part with Mr. Higgens in open-air preaching in the streets and lanes of the city, and a Bible-woman visits the houses and reads to the Singhalese women. Most of the 218 children attending the four Vernacular Schools belong to Buddhist families.

The Singhalese Pastorate is in connexion with the Cotta District Church Council, of which the Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin is the Chairman. Mr. H. John Perera is the pastoral catechist. The attendance at the two churches of St. Luke and Christ Church has improved.

and Tamils.

The Tamil Evangelistic work is carried on by Mr. Wood and his Native assistants by similar means and efforts to those used for the Singhalese. The lists of the Tamil Pastorates contain the names of 577 adults and 228 children, and there are 234 communicants. Thirteen schools, two of which are boarding-schools, one for boys and one for girls, give instruction to 580 children. The Native schoolmaster referred to in last year's Report (page 171), V. D. David, is now engaged as an evangelist. Mr. Wood says of him:—

"Such a joyful Christian."

> He is such a joyful Christian, and never seems to be weary in the Master's service. He will conduct two or three meetings in this neighbourhood in the evening, and between nine and ten o'clock we hear him singing in the road as he goes home, "It is well, it is well with my soul."

The Bishop of Colombo confirmed 41 Tamil candidates in October.

COTTA.

Cotta. The Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin sends, as usual, an interesting Annual Letter, giving a full report of the evangelistic, educational, and pastoral agencies among the Singhalese of Cotta and an extensive district around it. Three ordained pastors labour under the Singhalese Church Council, viz. the Revs. H. de Silva, G. S. Amarasêkara, and W. L. Botêju. The last is in deacon's orders.

Evangelistic work. The total number of adult baptisms in the year was thirty-five, but what proportion of these were the fruit of the Evangelistic work Mr. Dowbiggin does not mention. Within a radius of ten miles from Cotta there are some twelve or fifteen markets held for the sale or barter of garden produce, poultry, &c. At these road-side markets the Gospel has been regularly preached, and, as an example of the numbers who in this way heard the Word, Mr. Dowbiggin states that in one month as many as 2078 listened to the preaching, and 378 tracts were given away to such as could read. Catechists reside at Liyanwala, Nambapana, and Pallannoruwa. In the neighbourhood of Liyanwala a movement has commenced which has already yielded four converts, who have been subjected in consequence to much ridicule and abusive language and hardship. In August the Rev. G. S. Amarasêkara held a week's Special Mission services there, which were much enjoyed. Two thousand tracts have been distributed in the Pallannoruwa district and the neighbouring one of Horana.

Schools. The number of Schools under Mr. Dowbiggin's supervision is fifty-two, twenty-eight of which are for girls; 2691 children are on the rolls, of whom 1202 are girls. Increased grants-in-aid and a higher average of passes show that, from an educational point of view, this work is efficiently conducted. Mrs. Dowbiggin's work in the Girls' Boarding-school is brightened by many tokens of the love and gratitude of the present and old pupils. One wrote to her, "I pray my Heavenly Father to bless and spare you long, that you may be a blessing to many others as you have been to me."

English school. The English School, under Mr. William de Silva, receives no grant from the Society's funds; it is mainly supported by the fees paid by the pupils. For several years past its numbers have been gradually increasing; in 1886 there were 83 names on the roll, in 1889 the number was 113. Seventeen of these are boarders, of whom the majority are Christians. Six of the pupils were baptized last year. A large proportion of the boys who have continued in this school long enough to reach the upper standards have become Christians. Of the 19 boys in the three upper standards last year, 9 were sons of Christian parents, 9 were converts from Buddhism, and only one, a new boy, was a heathen. The assistant-masters carry on a Sunday-school, which has an average attendance of 36, among whom are some old boys of the English school who continue their attendance. The Head-master, Mr. de Silva, ministers on Sundays to a little congregation at Mirikana, in the Nugêgoda pastorate.

Boys in upper standards nearly all Christians

"Slow and steady progress," Mr. Dowbiggin says, characterizes the work of the Pastorates during the past year. Mr. Botêju, who was ordained deacon in March, is stationed at Mâmpê, twelve miles from Colombo, and about eight from Cotta. Total Abstinence Associations exist in each pastorate, with an aggregate of 231 members, besides 65 connected with Bands of Hope. The average attendance at 54 Sunday-schools was 800. The Bishop confirmed 81 candidates at different centres of the Cotta district in October, of whom Mr. Dowbiggin gives some interesting particulars. He says:—

Total Abstinence Associations.

Sure I am that these seasons are times of blessing, and the great question of personal religion and present salvation is brought home to many consciences. As an instance of what I mean, I may mention that when examining a class of seventeen candidates, whom a pastor had instructed and wished to present for confirmation, I asked the question, "How many of you have truly believed in Jesus, and are happy, knowing that your sins have been forgiven you?"—and the whole class stood up in answer to it. Only God knows its truth; but such a testimony made my heart bound with thankfulness and praise. A blind woman, who lately was spiritually illuminated, was a candidate, and when asked as to her personal knowledge and experience of religion, said, "I love Jesus Christ with all my heart, and I want to be His servant all my life." On the day of confirmation she had to be guided to where the Bishop sat; but she had already found "the way," and knew Jesus as "the Truth and the Life."

Confirmation candidates.

A blind woman.

The ages of the candidates is also an interesting study. The youngest is thirteen, and the oldest fifty-six, and two more of fifty-five, two of fifty, one of forty-five, forty-one, and forty years of age.

I have just referred to the lists of candidates in 1887, and I am thankful to observe that, through God's blessing, none have forsaken us, though some are "following Jesus afar off." Over very many we can rejoice with thankfulness, and mark their steadfastness and growth in grace, and some are our fellow-helpers in the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Of the seventy-six confirmed that year, one has died

Former candidates

(she was a boarding-school girl), and we feel sure that she has gone to be with Jesus, "which is far better."

Mission services at Cotta.

The Special Mission of the Rev. G. C. Grubb and his three companions at Cotta was from Thursday, November 28th, to Tuesday, December 3rd. Five services were held daily—at 6.30 and 10.30 a.m., and 2, 4, and 6.30 p.m.—and, in addition, some of the Mission preachers addressed audiences in the open air. Many of the agents and others from the out-stations were accommodated by Christian friends in Cotta. On Advent Sunday, December 1st, 140 gathered round the Holy Table, and "it was a blessed and holy time," Mr. Dowbiggin says. On the last evening of the Mission a meeting was held at which it was resolved:—(1) to form bands of Christian workers in each pastorate; (2) to hold a Special Mission twice a year at each centre, the Christians of each place to contribute the food expenses of those conducting the Missions; (3) to give more help in Sunday-school teaching; and (4) to give more support to the Native Missionary Association.

After-Mission Resolutions.

BADDEGAMA.

Baddegama.

In consequence of the absence of the Rev. J. W. Balding, prolonged beyond expectation, the Rev. S. Coles continues in charge of this station. Three Native clergymen minister to the Christians in as many pastorates; viz. the Rev. J. P. Kalpagé, at Baddegama; the Rev. H. Kannangar, at Bentotte; and the Rev. G. A. B. Perera, at Balapitimodara. The last-named has lately been called upon to endure much affliction in the loss of children and other relatives. Mr. Coles says of him:—

"Sorrowful, yet always rejoicing," he might truly take as his motto. In about eighteen months four deaths occurred in his house. First, his eldest son, Henry, was called by the Lord for the highest service of praise in heaven, just as he was prepared for the work of the ministry in the Lord's vineyard. Within ten months Mercy, the eldest daughter, was also summoned to be with her brother in glory, and a few months later the brother of the Rev. G. B. Perera and his daughter, within one week, received the call to pass into the presence of their Lord. These wonderful dealings of God towards His most faithful servants seem to be a stumbling-block to the surrounding heathen, who highly esteem our Native brother and his family for their undoubted goodness. They ask, "Why does the God of the Christians punish such a good man, who is so thoroughly devoted to His service?" Alas! they know not, and cannot understand, that afflictions like these need not be punitive, but corrective and sanctifying. I was present at the funeral of Mercy, and was greatly surprised at the sympathy evoked, both in the hearts of Christians and Buddhists. Mr. Perera and his family were, however, greatly comforted by God, and the burial service became an act of praise. We sang, "There is a better world, they say, Oh, so bright!" and, when the body had been committed to the grave, the father told the large assembly that he firmly believed his daughter had joined her brother in heaven, where both have the fulness of joy in the presence of their Saviour.

Mr. Coles writes in grateful terms of visits by the Bishop of Colombo, the late Archdeacon Matthew, the Rev. J. G. Garrett, and the Rev. G. S. Amarasêkara, who all assisted and encouraged him in his work of edifying believers and evangelizing the heathen. The holding of the Annunl Conference of the Missionaries at Baddegama in July, after an interval of about ten years since it last assembled there, was a real help to the work, as daily addresses were delivered by different missionaries to the Christians and others.

The number of inquirers was nearly double at the end of the year what it was at the beginning, and eleven adults were baptized in the interval. Mr. Coles says that his Native fellow-labourers are working with more cheerfulness and hopefulness than they were doing, because of the evidence they have that the Lord is working in and by them.

II. CENTRAL PROVINCES.

KANDY.

Trinity College, Kandy.

The report for the year of Trinity College was written by the Rev. E. J. Perry in December, after he had been only two months in the Mission. He found the school "in a most satisfactory condition," with 229 boys, and a balance in hand from fees, &c., of Rs. 2192, nearly 150*l*. The number of boys had increased to over 250 by February, but the balance in hand had been reduced by the erection of a swimming bath and improvements in other directions. Mr. Perry gave the following list, showing the percentage of Christians in the different classes of the school, Christians being two-thirds of the whole number of students:—

Education and heathenism.

The percentage of Christians in each class, beginning from the lowest to the highest, is—1, 46⅔ per cent.; 2, 57½ per cent.; 3, 65 per cent.; 4, 70$\frac{10}{13}$ per cent.; 5, 84 per cent.; 6, 68 per cent.; 7, 87½ per cent.; 8, 100 per cent. in the highest—which looks as if education and heathenism were not on good terms with each other, though here, as elsewhere, statistics may be misleading, even when made up indifferent to the results.

Of the Christian character of some of the masters and boys, Mr. Perry wrote:—

A libel exposed.

I was told by friends who had travelled that I would find Native Christians, almost without exception, time-serving, money-hunting professionists. This is a gross libel as far as Trinity College is concerned. Some of the boys and masters here are most real and genuine, without any show or excitability. Let me give two examples. I got up at 5.30 one morning, and went round the school, and found one of the elder boys having prayers with the servants when every one else was in bed. They jumped up on my appearance, and made feint of doing something else; but I believe this takes place daily, except when, as he told me afterwards, the servants are too lazy to get up at five. Again, I could not make out how one young man without any means could undertake a five years' training as a doctor, and only after breaking down an amount of fencing could I extract the truth that one of the masters was going to pay for him.

The Rev. J. W. Fall arrived at the end of November, and, after Mr. Perry's mournful death, carried on the College alone, with some assistance from the Rev. A. E. Dibben, pending the arrival of the Rev. H. P. Napier, the new Principal.

Pastorates

The Rev. H. Gunasêkara is Chairman and Treasurer of the Kandy Church Council, and has under his pastoral supervision,—in addition to the Kandy Singalese congregation, numbering 211 members, and sixty-five communicants,—small congregations at Katukele, Gaetembe, and Kaduganâwa. Gampola and Nâwalapitiya are under the Rev. H. W. Senewiratna (misspelt in the announcement of his ordination in last year's Report, see p. 169), who writes:—

A Buddhist priest disrobed by a Native pastor.

Eight adult baptisms during the year, of which two are connected with the itinerancy work of the Rev. J. G Garrett, and the rest are in connexion with my pastorate. Of the former two, one was a Buddhist priest, who was disrobed by myself, and provided with a suit of clothes which was purchased by subscriptions raised among the Native Christians at Gampola. A Kandyan youth, one born where I was cradled, is the firstfruit after my ordination. His relations are all heathens, and he is a "brand plucked out of the fire." At present I have five inquirers who are all Buddhists, one of whom is an intelligent person, and was a leading member and secretary of the Theosophical Society at Gampola. He gave up the secretaryship, but yet his heart is not wholly given to the Lord Jesus.

KANDYAN SINGALESE ITINERANCY.

The Revs. J. G. Garrett and L. G. P. Liesching have worked the itinerancy to the Singhalese villages in the mountain regions of the central provinces of the island. From May to the end of October, however, Mr. Garrett was in charge of Trinity College, during the interval between the departure of the Rev. E. N. Hodges and the arrival of the Rev. E. J. Perry. Itinerancy

Mr. Garrett speaks of "the general management of forty agents, scattered over 7000 square miles," as "involving a great deal of travelling." He gives an interesting account of some of the links in the chain of events by which the Buddhist priest, whose baptism is referred to above by Mr. Senewiratna, was drawn into Christ's Church. He had first heard the Gospel, immediately after putting on the robes of the Buddhist priesthood, about three years before, from the lips of John Edward Banda, who had just been baptized, having previously been a Buddhist reformer; and he was introduced to Mr. Garrett by another Buddhist priest, a direct descendant of the line of Kandyan kings, who had received a Bible from the late Rev. J. Allcock. John Herat is the name of the one who has received baptism. Mr. Garrett says of him:—

An ex-Buddhist priest working as a servant.

> He has proved his sincerity by renouncing his Buddhist robe, which carried with it the worship of his nation; and not only so, but he has done and does constantly, for the lowest cooly wages, the most menial work in our household, when asked thus to show his love to Jesus. The priest who introduced him to me is still as he was before. Oh, pray that he may receive grace to be found faithful!

Mr. Garrett refers to the baptism of another priest of the name of Stephen, "one of the best Pali scholars of his age in the island," and who was a greatly respected Buddhist in Teldeniya, which lies between Ammunugama and Urugala. He was much impressed by the sudden death of Mr. Allcock, who had spoken to him a little while before. Mr. Garrett proceeds:—

Other Buddhist priests convinced of the truth.

> When to this I add that another priest has sat all day in my room at Gampola, and there accepted Christ, that his whole face and manner seemed to prove that he was in earnest, as he expressed the joy he felt at the relief from the burden of sin,—although, set upon immediately after he left my room by 200 Buddhists in the streets, he was terrified, and recanted, denying the Lord that bought him,—that immediately after he got back to Kandy he came straight to our Native pastor, and told him that he did believe in Jesus, though the Buddhists had terrified him, and made him deny Him; when I add that another intelligent young priest came to my study in Trinity College the other day, and told me that himself and three others are quite convinced of the truth of Christianity, and only waiting for courage to come forward and confess Christ;—I think I have refuted certain statements in a recent publication of one whom I have the honour to know, and whose kindness I have experienced.

Under Mr. Garrett's charge are 38 vernacular schools with 1751 children; and the Sunday-schools have increased from 3 in 1888 to 17, with 332 scholars.

The convert of three or four years ago, mentioned above, John Edward Banda, is now a catechist labouring at Urugala, where he brought four Kandyan villagers to Mr. Garrett, prepared for baptism. One of them, Joseph, a carpenter, led the other three, Abraham and his son James, and Boaz, to seek instruction.

Mr. Liesching has charge of the work to the north-west of Kandy, which is usually called the Western Itineration. He has returned to reside at Kurunegala, having lived at Kegalle for the past four and a half years. The ex-Buddhist priest, baptized by him in 1888, died at the beginning of 1889. He was advanced in years and infirm in body when he confessed Christ in baptism. Mr. Liesching is persuaded that he possessed simple and genuine faith.

Baptism of a learned Buddhist priest.

Very remarkably, as Mr. Liesching observes, another ex-Buddhist priest came forward as a candidate for baptism just as the former was taken from the ranks of the Church militant. This latter is "a learned man in the prime of life, and gives proof of sincerity, and of the Holy Spirit working in his heart." He was baptized in December by the Rev. S. Coles, during the visit of the Special Mission preachers. Mr. Liesching says:—

Two other ex-priests.

> The man has been greatly influenced by two other ex-priests who are now Christians, one of them being Hunupola Nilame (i.e. the Kandyan chief of Hunupola), and the other Bartholomew, our evangelist.
> With regard to Bartholomew, the past year has been a happy one, for it has witnessed the answer to his many prayers in the baptism of his wife and all the remaining unbaptized children. The elder children had been previously baptized as adults, but the baptism of the younger ones was delayed on account of the mother. This woman was, I am told, at one time bitterly opposed to her husband, and used to scoff at him when engaged in private prayer. The old man, however, meekly held on his way, and after a time was able to assemble his wife and children for family worship. So the good work in their hearts went on, until the mother at length became a candidate for baptism, and has now been both baptized and confirmed.

A touching story is related by Mrs. Liesching of a young Christian Burgher girl who received much blessing, and the happy sense of pardon, during Mr. Grubb's visit. Two days afterwards she was horribly burnt by the bursting of a kerosene lamp. Mrs. Liesching says:—

On Friday at 10.30 I was sent for, and as soon as I went into the room she gathered her strength for a last word. "Mrs. Liesching, I am going; don't cry, I am so glad to go, to go to Jesus." I said, "Thanks be to Him that you are ready." "Yes," she answered, "He has done all," and then in a firm voice repeated several texts breathing of joyful hope and trust, every word evidently coming straight from her heart, and showing that she was simply trusting in the Saviour. "So glad to go."

After a prayer from me she seemed exhausted, and when another friend spoke, said, "Don't speak more, I cannot answer." She had told me that her sufferings had been awful, worse than she could tell, and she had found her only refuge in prayer. It was heart-rending to see her dumb agony, and the sorrow of her poor mother. On Saturday morning the final call came, and she passed quietly away.

TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

The same three European missionaries as in the previous year have superintended the work among the Tamil coolies during 1889. The Rev. J. D. Simmons resides at Ratagala; the Rev. J. D. Thomas has Kandy as his centre; and the Rev. H. Horsley works from Huputale. Mr. Simmons calculates that the whole length of his district exceeds 200 miles. But he gives a long list of European planters who are taking an active part in the promotion of the work, in some cases by supporting catechists, in others by engaging themselves in vernacular preaching. The effect of the example of these Europeans has given a great impulse to the efforts of the Native Christians. Mr. Simmons says:— Godly European planters;

The catechists and schoolmasters who have been in contact with these active English workers have been aroused to seek more spiritual life, zeal has been provoked and faith strengthened. The good influence has, I am thankful to say, spread beyond the paid agents to the independent Christians. There is much more work done now by Native Christians who are in places of influence. I know five or six conductors and several overseers who are heartily preaching the Gospel. Several of these are conducting meetings for the heathen coolies and services for Christians where no catechist is available. They are much more willing now to stand up and speak for Christ in the bazaars, &c. Several of them say, "We knew about salvation, we knew that Jesus died to save sinners, but now we know what salvation is, and we know that Jesus died for us." Their lives, too, testify to the change in them. their influence on the Native Christians and Mr. Horsley suffered from fever last year in the spring. The former reports three adult baptisms, and the latter thirteen. The Rev. P. Peter labours as a Native missionary under Mr. Horsley.

Mr. Simmons speaks very highly of some of his catechists, as "full of zeal, and untiring in seeking to win souls to Christ." Thirty-seven adults were baptized in his part of the district during the year. Both Mr. Thomas Catechists "full of zeal."

III. NORTHERN PROVINCES.

JAFFNA.

Jaffna. THE Revs. E. M. Griffith and G. T. Fleming laboured in the Jaffna Peninsula, the former until a few days before his death in March, and the latter until he came home on furlough in May. The Rev. J. I. Pickford has succeeded for the present to the charge of the work. The Revs. G. Champion, J. Backus, and J. Niles are the Native pastors under the Church Council. The past year has been one of much trial to this Northern Station. Fever, measles, and cholera have visited it in succession, and failure of the rainfall and consequent loss of crops, have added to the distress. The Native Christians connected with the Society were graciously preserved from the severity of the cholera epidemic, only three children being fatally attacked. The Chundicully Seminary was almost deserted for a time after the cholera had commenced its ravages in the neighbourhood, but Mr. Fleming thought it best to keep it open for such as would attend, the school life being, with its mental occupation and discipline, a better safeguard for the boys than any which their homes could provide. A graduate of Calcutta, an "old boy" of the Seminary, has been appointed headmaster. In spite of the somewhat broken year, the results of the Government examination have been almost equal to those of 1888. 199 boys are in the Seminary and its branch school at Kopay.

The other educational work is carried on in sixty-two Vernacular schools with more than 3000 children; a Girls' Boarding-school at Nellore, with fifty-four girls, thirty-nine of whom are Christians; and the Kopay Training Institution, with thirty-nine students, of whom ten were baptized during the year.

Pastorates There are in connexion with the Pastorates an aggregate of 1223 Christians and 557 Communicants. These pastorates are now five in number, Pallai having been during the past year connected with the Council. The other four are Nellore, Chundicully, Kopay, and Kokoville. Mr. Champion mentions among the seven adults baptized in his Pastorate one of the age of 108, and another aged 82, who had lived within sound of the Gospel for many years, and had always manifested active opposition when any of their relations had become Christians. Mr. Niles speaks of Christians at one village in the Kopay Pastorate uniting together every evening for Scripture-reading and prayer. And Mr. Backus refers to a female convert, who "always had a long and dry face before her conversion, but now is bright, cheerful, and happy." A visit paid by Mr. Wishardt, deputed by the Y.M.C.A. of the United States, infused new life, Mr. Griffith wrote, into the young men; and the mission of the Rev. G. C. Grubb in January was to all appearances a time of great blessing.

"A long and dry face before, now bright and cheerful."

MAURITIUS MISSION.

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies (Madras Branch), 1857; 2. Bengali and Hindi-speaking Coolies (Calcutta Branch), 1857; 3. The Seychelles Islands, 1875.

Bishop Royston was obliged by the state of his health to return to this country in the autumn. At a largely-attended meeting of members of the Indian Church, held at the Bishopsthorpe Training Institution before his departure, a respectful and affectionate address was presented to him, expressing the gratitude of the Native Christians for the unflagging interest taken in their welfare by himself and Mrs. Royston. The address mentioned the fact that during the seventeen years of Bishop Royston's episcopate the adherents and communicants of the Native Church, in the districts occupied by the C.M.S., have increased threefold.

Death of Rev. C. Kushalli.

The oldest of the Native clergy was taken to his rest in June. The Rev. Charles Kushalli was born at Barrackpore, near Calcutta, in 1826, and arrived in Mauritius when seventeen years of age. He was baptized in 1847, and eight years afterwards, in 1855, was engaged as a Mission agent by the late Rev. David Fenn, who was then on a visit to Mauritius from India for the restoration of his health. In a letter from Mr. Fenn in April of that year to Bishop Ryan, the then newly-consecrated Bishop of Mauritius, it was mentioned that the fund from which "Charles Couchealle" was for the time being to be paid was supplied by a "Church Missionary Juvenile Association," established at Fort George the previous August by Lieut. Gordon, R.E. The same letter said, "Including Charles, there are nine Protestant Christians (whom we know of), men and women, among the Calcutta immigrants." Mr. Kushalli was ordained deacon by Bishop Ryan in 1864, and priest in 1875 by Bishop Royston. He saw the little band of nine Christians grow into an organized Church with its duly ordained pastors and Church Committees.

Government "Moralization Grant."

The restless efforts of members of the Church of Rome succeeded during the past year in passing a bill through the Mauritius Legislative Council, of which the effect, if confirmed by the Home Government, would be to transfer to the Roman Catholic Establishment more than one half of the State contributions at present received for all the Church of England work in that island. As part of those contributions is given in the form of a "Moralization Grant" (designed for the benefit of the large population of Indian immigrants, and of which the C.M.S. efforts on their behalf have received a share), they would have a crippling effect on the Society's work, and the Committee have consequently felt it their duty to present a memorial on the subject to the Secretary of State.

The European staff consists of the Rev. H. D. Buswell, Secretary of the Mission and Chairman of the Native Church Council; the Rev. Nigel Honiss, who has charge of Plaisance Orphanage, and superintends generally the Society's schools in the Mission; and the Rev. C. A. Blackburn, whose sphere of work is among the North Indians scattered over the island.

Ordination.

The Rev. J. Ernest was admitted by the Bishop to priest's orders on July 25th. The other Native clergy engaged in the various pastorates in connexion with the Church Council are the Rev. Samuel Sunker Singh, and the Rev. J. F. Chorley.*

In pursuance of his work among the North India Coolies, Mr. Blackburn made ninety missionary journeys in various parts of the island during the year, each of which, he says, has been "full of incidents." At the races immense crowds of heathens and Mohammedans have heard something of the word preached, and numerous tracts have been distributed. Mr. Blackburn says that the priests and Brahmins are becoming more friendly, and that many are convinced, he is assured, of the truth of Christianity. Forty-three North Indian converts were baptized during the year. Among them was an educated high-caste man from Basti, in the North-West Provinces. He had been a student in the Mission school there under the Rev. H. Stern, and had left India to escape from his friends, who opposed his confessing Christ in baptism.

Plaisance Orphanage.

The boarders in the Plaisance Orphanage number forty-three. Mr. Honiss gives the following account of the daily life of the children :—

Daily life of children.

They rise with the dawn of day, when most of the boys are told off to work in the garden, others in the dormitories and cleaning the compound; while the girls do the same with their dormitories, and clean the schoolroom. At 7.30 the bell again calls them together, and there is a rush to the river, close by, and then swimming, plunging, splashing, and shouting, making old men wish they were boys again. After this come buckets of steaming hot tea, and rolls of bread. From nine to ten we have prayers and religious instruction; but before this, some thirty or forty day-boys arrive from the neighbouring camp, each with his little tin can containing rice and curry, for his morning meal. At ten o'clock the roll is called, and school begins. Nothing is now heard but English, while a little before there was nothing but Creole, and in the afternoon it will be all Hindi and Tamil. At stated times the girls do all the sewing and washing for the establishment, and take their turn helping in the kitchen.

Of former inmates of the Orphanage, Mr. Honiss says:—

Former inmates.

I have a list before me of 134 boys and 75 girls, who have passed through the Institution during the past nine years, exclusive of those who remain. Of these twenty are known to have died; three have gone to Australia; nine to India; one to Natal; and one, I regret to say, is in prison. Twenty-six we are unable to trace. One hundred and forty-nine we know are still in Mauritius, and most of these are doing well temporally, and also, so far as we can judge, spiritually. Most of them are members of the Native Church, though a large number of them attend the English services.

Mr. Honiss gives short extracts from the reports of the masters of the twenty-three day schools, which show that they realize that the chief object for which the schools are maintained is the spiritual good of the children. The total number on the rolls, including the Orphanage, is 1554, of whom 199 are girls.

Native Church Council.

The report of the Native Church Council is as usual full of interest. The work of the Council is carried on in three languages, Bengali, Hindi, and Tamil; Creole and Chinese are also used; but the report and accounts are published in English. In the year 1889 the Council disbursed Rs. 8500, of which Rs. 3014 was the Government "moralization" grant. The number of Christians on the registers of the pastorates at the end of 1889 was 2221, as compared with 2142 of 1888. 103 adults were baptized during the year, which number includes the North India coolies already referred to. Among these were some remarkable converts from Mohammedanism. Mr. Buswell says:—

Baptism of influential Mohammedans.

Daniel Abdul Wahid, one of the converts referred to, was born at Surat, and belonged to a Muslim sect called Wahabis. Ten years ago he came to Mauritius, and settled at Rose Belle as a maulvi, and soon gained a certain influence over his Mohammedan neighbours. In a short time he succeeded in gaining over an influential member of the Sunni sect, the chief Imam of the mosque, who, being a man of some means, helped him in his proselytizing endeavours, so that in a few months others were gained over to the Wahabis. The Sunnis, becoming alarmed, excommunicated them, and then did their utmost to get possession of the mosque, which was the property of the chief Imam. The matter was taken to law, and judgment was given in favour of the Wahabis. About the same time Abdul Wahid heard of the conversion of an old friend and teacher (a maulvi) at Bombay, which so distressed him that he wrote a severe letter to the new convert. The circumstance, however, led him to study Christianity for himself, and in this study he was encouraged and aided shortly afterwards by the Rev. F. Schurr, who made his acquaintance. Mr. Schurr gave him a Bible and some tracts in Urdu, and advised him to read them prayerfully. Abdul Wahid began to read them, with a view rather to criticize and to refute them; but the truth, after long resistance on his part, laid hold of him, and he could not shake off its grasp until it finally made him free.

Moses Durbaree Jaffir Khan, the Imam referred to above, joined his friend Abdul Wahid in his search after truth, as also did his brother Isaac Muhammad Shahadat. Being a well-educated man, Durbaree Jaffir Khan was able to study for himself the Bible and the other books which were placed in his hands, such as Mizan-ul-Haqq, Ijazi Koran, Tarik-ul-Hayat, &c., and to appreciate the truths brought before him by Messrs. Schurr, Susunkur, and others.

The three converts, with their wives and children, seventeen in all, were baptized in my church on June 30th, by Mr. Blackburn. There are other inquirers amongst the intelligent Mohammedans, and as the leaders are doubtful and anxious as to whereunto this may grow, they are purchasing Bibles and other books with a view to equip themselves for defence and attack. They are distributing, and have sent to the converts pamphlets against the Bible. Other Moslem inquirers.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Luckock labour on at Capucin, in the SEYCHELLES. In such an Institution as theirs there are few incidents to bring to notice, but the general results are encouraging, and reward their spiritual concern for their young African charges. These number 74, namely, 31 boys and 43 girls. Seychelles

CHINA.

Plans for extension.

SEVERAL schemes for the extension of the Society's operations in China have been under the Committee's consideration during the year. Bishop Burdon, accompanied by the Rev. J. Grundy, has lately made an important tour through the Province of Kwan-Tung, and far into the adjoining Province of Kwang-Si, starting from Canton and reaching the coast again at Pakhoi. The Bishop desires to see lay-evangelists engaged in these provinces. Meanwhile the itinerating staff has been increased, and it is hoped that, working from Canton westward and southward, and from Pakhoi eastward and northward, the sound of the Gospel will be made familiar in these regions, and that, by the Holy Spirit's grace, its power may be widely experienced. In the Fuh-Kien Province the Revs. H. C. Knox and H. S. Phillips have made tours from the Society's farthest north-western outpost, Nang-wa-Kau, visiting large cities and populous country districts, and sending home urgent appeals for an increase of labourers. The Committee have gladly sanctioned progress in this direction. And, thirdly, the Committee have invited home the Rev. J. H. Horsburgh, of the Mid-China Mission, and are conferring with him regarding proposals to send out a band of men into one of the interior provinces which are within the boundaries of the conventional diocese of Bishop Moule. The presence at home of several missionaries of long experience and of varied gifts has been a very material help to the Committee, and they earnestly pray that their deliberations may issue in well-considered plans, and that the Lord of the harvest will multiply the labourers for this plenteous harvest field.

SOUTH CHINA MISSION.

FUH-KIEN PROVINCE: Fuh-Chow, 1850; Fuh-Ning, 1882; Ku-Cheng, 1887.

THE Society's work in this Mission has developed from two chief centres, with a considerable space between. From the island of Hong-Kong it has spread across the southern half of the province of Kwan-Tung: and from Fuh-Chow it has extended, mainly in a northerly and north-westerly direction inland through the adjoining province of Fuh-

Kien. Other societies are in possession, more or less, of the interjacent country. It does not appear probable, therefore, that a junction will be effected by actual geographical contact between these divisions of the Society's work. They are practically two Missions united under the supervision of one episcopal head, Dr. Burdon, who resides at Victoria, Hong-Kong.

Reinforcements.

The reinforcements of the past year were mainly to the southern portion of the Mission. One only was added to the Fuh-Kien staff, viz. the Rev. Hugh Mortimer Eyton-Jones, B.A., of Jesus College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, Curate of St. Clement's, Nechells, Birmingham. The others were, the Rev. Edward B. Beauchamp, of the London College of Divinity, Curate of Wotton, Surrey, first cousin to Mr. Beauchamp of the China Inland Mission, appointed to Pakhoi; Dr. William Wriothesley Colborne, M.D., University of London, M.R.C.S., L.S.A., of Margate, for itinerating work in the Kwan-Tung Province; and Miss Mary L. Ridley, assigned to Hong-Kong. The Committee hoped to add another medical missionary, it might indeed be said two others, to this Mission, as they accepted in April, 1889, the offer of the services of Dr. W. P. Mears, M.D., of Durham, M.R.C.S., Professor of Anatomy in the Newcastle Medical School connected with Durham University, whose wife is also a qualified medical practitioner. But Dr. Mears' failure of health necessitated the postponement of his departure until next autumn. The rest sailed in October and November, except Dr. Colborne, who did not leave till January. In October also Dr. B. Van Someren and Mrs. Taylor sailed, to return to Fuh-Ning, and Dr. E. G. Horder returned to Pakhoi with his wife, who is a sister of Mrs. Ost, and daughter of the Rev. S. D. Stubbs, Vicar of St. James's, Pentonville. The Rev. J. and Mrs. Martin have come home on sick leave; and Archdeacon Wolfe has gone for a few months to Canada, in lieu of taking his well-earned furlough at home.

HONG-KONG.

Hong-Kong.

The Rev. J. B. Ost has the charge of the numerous agencies in Hong-Kong, many of which he has himself initiated, in addition to the work of the secretaryship of the Mission. Miss A. K. Hamper, having passed a good language examination, has commenced active work among the women and girls. Miss Mary L. Ridley arrived in December. The Rev. Fong Yat Sau is the Native pastor.

Evangelistic work.

Evangelistic work is carried on by preaching twice daily in one of the chapels, by visiting the homes of the people, and by a service held on Sunday morning in the Victoria Gaol. One who had been a fortune-teller; and the son of a mandarin, who had become interested in the Gospel at Canton, were baptized last year by Mr. Ost.

Schools.

The Educational agencies consist of the Training Class, having eight students during part of the year; the Girls' Boarding-school, called the Victoria Home and Orphanage, opened in March, 1888, with six girls, but having fifty-five at the end of 1889; a Women's Class, numbering ten; an Anglo-Chinese School, opened with funds contributed by well-to-do Natives, and carried on without expense to the Society, with an attendance of 240 boys; and thirteen Vernacular Day Schools, with about 800 children (including a few in schools on the mainland).

St. Stephen's Church has had to be pulled down, as the site was required by the Government. A good site for a new church has been secured, and meanwhile services are held in a chapel which has been built on a portion of the old church site which is retained. The attendance at morning service is about 150.

CANTON.

Tour of Bishop Burdon in Quan-Tung.

The journey of Bishop Burdon and the Rev. J. Grundy from Canton to Pakhoi, which has been already alluded to, was accomplished between the middle of January of this present year and the end of March. They travelled by boat and on foot, distributing much medicine en route, and they found the people to be perfectly friendly. Dr. W. W. Colborne arrived at Hong-Kong in February, to join Mr. Grundy in his evangelistic work.

Medical evangelistic work at Tsang-Shing.

The little companies of Christians at Hung-Shan, Hong-Moon, and Hok-Shan have been transferred to the care of the Rev. J. B. Ost, who also superintends the evangelistic work in the Tsang-Shing neighbourhood, carried on in connexion with the Hong-Kong Native Church Missionary Association. This last named district is a large tract of country situated some two days' journey from Canton on the East River. Mr. Ost says of this work:—

> Our work in this district has been most encouraging, and hitherto wherever our evangelists and Native doctor have gone they have been welcomed. I attribute this state of feeling on the part of the heathen under God to the medical side of our work. We have gone into the villages, hamlets, and towns prepared and anxious to attend to the sick gratuitously. This has touched their feelings and roused their sympathy, and they have in consequence been most kind in their offers of service and attentive when spoken to about the willingness of the Divine Physician to heal their souls. Our plan has been to visit a village and stay there from one and two to even ten days, according to the needs of the place. The sick are tended during the day, when the majority are too busy to come to Gospel preaching; then all opportunities are seized for quiet personal talk; but it is in the evening, and, indeed, frequently till late into the night, that the Gospel is preached to large numbers (often numbering from 100 to 300), whose interest and goodwill have been gained by the healing of their sick. In this manner during the last two years we have visited sixty-seven places, representing a population of about 100,000, and 10,123 persons have been treated. There have been eleven baptisms in connexion with this work, and in several places people have become so interested as to beg for a second visit. There have been abundant evidences of goodwill on the part of the country people. Gifts in kind have been numerous, and in most places houses have been placed (free of charge) at the disposal of our party.

WESTERN KWAN-TUNG.

Pakhoi.

Throughout last year the Rev. W. and Mrs. Light were alone at Pakhoi, except for a short visit by the Rev. J. B. Ost. The commencement of the year, however, brought back Dr. E. G. Horder, accompanied by welcome reinforcements, viz. Mrs. Horder, whose sister, Mrs. Ost, has done so valuable a work among the women at Hong-Kong, and the Rev. E. B. Beauchamp. Mr. Light's Annual Letter was written in June (1889). The number of baptisms up to that time had been twenty-two, viz. two during 1888, and twenty (seventeen adults) during the first six months of 1889. "One point about all the seventeen adults," Mr. Light says, "is that they can read well, and so are able to weigh matters for themselves." A preaching room has been erected in the busiest part of the town, which excited at first strong opposition from the shopkeepers and gambling-house keepers, who threw great stones into the rooms during the preaching. But inquirers came forward; the first being a Native doctor who had noticed the opposition, and heard the arguments of those who disputed with the catechist, and had arrived at the conclusion that Christianity is true.

The converts all able to read.

Hospital.

The Hospital was closed for six months after Dr. Horder left. But in November of 1888 a Native doctor, trained by Dr. Kerr, of Canton, was placed in charge, and his successful treatment brought an ever-increasing attendance. In the month of June, 1889, the number of visitors was 1000.

Work in the district.

Several evangelistic tours were made during the year by Mr. Light, one of which was to Cheong Lok, forty-five miles from Pakhoi, the home of the first convert, the old man of seventy-two referred to in last year's Report. This man's house, which is a large one, has been rented at a nominal rent. A house has also been rented in the city of Lien Chow.

PROVINCE OF FUH-KIEN.

District Councils in Fuh-Kien.

In this populous and extensive Province—although in area it is one of the smallest of the eighteen into which China is divided—the Society's work is administered by the Conference of missionaries. But in each of the eleven districts, which correspond with as many hiens or counties, District Church Councils exist, which employ and pay their own agents, and to the funds of which the Society makes annual grants which are reduced year by year at a fixed rate. European missionaries, appointed by the Committee, are for the present, so long as this subsidy is continued, chairmen of these Councils, and under the same missionaries' supervision the Native evangelistic agents in the respective districts who are engaged by the Society also labour. Archdeacon Wolfe is responsible for the Fuh-Chow, Lieng-Kong, Hok-Chiang, and Lo-Nguong districts. Those of Fuh-Ning and Ning-Taik were under the Rev. J. Martin throughout last year. Since February, when he came home, they have been under the superintendence of the Rev. Ting Sing-Ki, assisted by the advice of Dr. B. Van S. Taylor. The Rev. C. Shaw has charge temporarily of Ku-Cheng, Ping-Nang, Iong-Ping, and Kiong-Ning districts. And the Rev. L. Lloyd, as Principal of the Fuh-Chow College, superintends the Hing-Hwa district.

Provincial Council.

The meetings of the Provincial Council, which is composed of delegates from the several District Church Councils and their respective chairmen, was held at Fuh-Chow in November. Most of the paid agents and many independent members were present, about three hundred in all. Archdeacon Wolfe says of these meetings :—

> The various subjects were handled with great ability by the various speakers, and the evening devotional meetings were especially interesting and refreshing. As each stood up to speak, and gave utterance to remarks bearing on the subject before the meeting, one could not help praising and thanking God that such thoughts and ideas as were expressed existed in the minds of this once dark and heathen body of men. The accounts which they gave of their work from all parts of the provinces at the two missionary meetings were truly interesting. I never attended such deeply interesting missionary meetings. Many of the speakers thrilled the audience with details of their work, and nearly every speaker closed with an earnest request for prayer on behalf of himself and his own special work. There were two brothers from the Lo-Nguong district who had been, before their conversion, fortune-tellers, who frequently spoke at the meetings, and with such power and effect that the audience would have cheered them had it been an English one. One rarely hears such eloquence in English missionary meetings as is poured forth by our Chinese Christians on these occasions.

FUH-CHOW.

Fuh-Chow.

The evangelistic work in this city and the surrounding district is under Archdeacon Wolfe; so also is the pastoral work as Chairman of the District Church Council. The educational work, including the charge of the Theological College and Boys' Boarding-school in the city, and of the elementary schools throughout the Mission, is under the superintendence of the Revs. Llewellyn Lloyd and C. Shaw. The Rev. Ngoi Kaik-Ki is a tutor in the Theological College, and the Rev. Wong Kiu-Taik has been appointed, with the Bishop's sanction, to give temporary assistance. This Institution had thirty-three students at the beginning of 1889, but four were compelled to resign through ill-health, the sedentary collegiate life proving too great a physical strain; and three others left for other reasons. Thirty-four have been under instruction in the Boarding-school. Two left in the summer to become medical students, and several others to be schoolmasters. In the Bible-women's Class fifteen women were under tuition in the course of the year, and three were sent out to different districts as Bible-women. These women, besides receiving daily instruction from Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Shaw, and Miss Davies (C.E.Z.M.S.), visit the surrounding hamlets accompanied by some of the above ladies, or by Chitnio. Mr. Lloyd baptized a woman and her two daughters, who were the first-fruits of this work, at the close of the year. One of these girls, eight years of age, carried the good news to the day-school she was attending, and as a consequence the village schoolmaster was led to attend the services at the College Chapel, while a number of the inhabitants of the place were induced by him to do the same.

Theological College.

Bible-women's Class.

The Female Education Society has sent out a second lady, Miss Lambert, to assist Miss Bushell in the Girls' Boarding- school, which has fifty-one inmates, all, with one or two exceptions, daughters of Native Christians.

Mr. Lloyd has revised the translation of several of the books of the Old Testament in the Fuh-Chow colloquial, and has prepared Leviticus and Deuteronomy for a new edition of the Old Testament with references, which the Bible Society contemplates publishing.

Night preaching

Evangelistic Work in the city has been diligently carried on both by day and night. Night preaching in the three preaching-rooms in rotation for several months, and then in the South Street Chapel every night, have attracted large audiences. The literati tried to stop this work by exciting opposition, but their efforts, Archdeacon Wolfe says, only increased the zeal and preaching power of the Native preachers, both paid and voluntary.

The City Congregation has increased, which is mainly due to the success of Miss Davies' work among the women.

The Rev. J. S. Collins has resided at Lo-Nguong since August, while studying the language. Mr. Collins was married in February to Miss M. J. Johnson, a lady missionary of the C.E.Z.M.S.

LIENG-KONG AND LO-NGUONG DISTRICTS.

Lieng-Kong.

The work in the LIENG-KONG district has given Archdeacon Wolfe cause for much thankfulness during the past year. Fifty-five adults were baptized. The congregation in Lieng-Kong city now numbers nearly 200, but most of these live in the villages around the city. The Pwo-Kau Christians find the church inconveniently small, and contemplate building a larger one. Of one member of this congregation, the Archdeacon says:—

An earnest inquirer.

> A wealthy man from a neighbouring town regularly attends this church on Sundays. He has read through the entire Bible as far as the first Epistle of St. Peter. He is now engaged in reading the second Epistle and the following books. He seems evidently taught of the Spirit, but has not yet decided to make an open confession by being baptized. He preaches and professes before all that he is a Christian. Some time ago he walked forty miles on a visit to his two brothers, one of whom is a literary graduate, in order to tell them of the treasure he had found in Christianity. The elder brother abused and reviled him, but the younger, the literary graduate, read the Testament and received the truth, and promised to attend the church in his Native city belonging to the American Board. Very soon after this visit the elder brother died, still an enemy to the truth. I trust this man may soon have the courage given him to publicly and openly join himself to the Church by baptism.

A-Iong gives great promise, but the old station of Tang-Iong, which was once very promising, is now apparently dead, Archdeacon Wolfe says, owing to the bad conduct of a former catechist.

Lo-Ngnong.

The LO-NGUONG district is the poorer from the recent deaths of several of its most spiritual and active members. Among these was old Siek, of Lo-Nguong, who died last year full of years and faith in God, but without seeing the fulfilment of his prayers for the repentance of his prodigal son, Song To, who was baptized with his father in December, 1866. The son is wandering farther than ever, but one of his daughters is married to one of the College students, and it is hoped she may exert an influence for good over her father. Sia, the literary graduate of Achia, has been degraded from his rank and put in prison on entirely unfounded charges; and this form of persecution has been resorted to in several instances in this hien.

Death of old Siek.

HOK-CHIANG DISTRICT.

General lawlessness, sickness, and famine.

The people of this district are especially turbulent and lawless, and murderous clan fights are of frequent occurrence; but notwithstanding the general disorder and poverty, and the prevalence of pestilential sickness, aggravated by famine, the number of the Christians steadily increases, and their subscriptions to their Church fund advanced during the year $38 in excess of any previous year's increase. In the Hong-A pastorate, at a place called Tiang-Taing, where three years since there were only some half a dozen Christians, a church has been built, chiefly at the converts' own expense, capable of holding 100. Of the Keng-Kiang pastorate, Archdeacon Wolfe says:—

Growth of the Church in numbers and in liberality.

> During my last visit to this pastorate I was greatly cheered, and it would be difficult to convey in a report like this anything approaching the real state of the work, not only here, but all over the hien, as to its encouragements as well as its discouragements. In a small village not far from Ngiang Tau, where three years ago, when I first visited it, there were only two weak Christians, with whom I prayed and held some conversation, there are now over forty men, women, and children who have joined themselves to the Church, and have subscribed about 22*l.* towards the erection of a house of prayer in the village, besides the free gift of a site for the church.

HING-HWA DISTRICT.

The Rev. L. Lloyd visited the scattered bands of Christians in this district in September, and a meeting of the District Church Council was held at Sang-Pang-Taing, a village near Kieng-Sang at the extreme south of the district. Seventy persons at this place had joined the congregation during the year. Several of the delegates to the Council were provided with sleeping accommodation by a well-to-do heathen, and Mr. Lloyd found in this man's reception-room some Christian tracts, and on the walls was posted an illustrated life of Joseph. Of the Christians here Mr. Lloyd says :—

A friendly heathen.

> It was most gratifying to learn that this Sang-Pang-Taing congregation have subscribed a sufficient sum to wholly pay their catechist's stipend, rent and repair their chapel, and give $10 to the General Fund besides. Would that all our converts, north and south, might be endued with a like spirit of liberality !
>
> I was specially interested in an old man of seventy-five, whom I baptized last year. He is excessively poor, his whole income not averaging $1 = 3s.$ a month, and yet he gave $1 towards the catechist's support. He has no house-rent to pay, for he lives under the shelter of a friendly rock by the side of the road, being protected from the wind by rudely-plastered mud walls. I could not but rejoice that he had heard of another Rock beneath whose shade he might rest securely.
>
> Another member of this congregation, whose history is a striking proof of the power of the Gospel, specially struck my attention. His clean, honest face almost seemed to say that no unworthy motive could have induced him to join the Christian Church. On asking who he was, I found that until a few months ago he had shown great hostility towards Christianity, declaring, as an elder of his village, that any one joining the Church should be expelled the village. Now he himself is in his turn ridiculed and despised, especially by his wife and near relatives.

A month's income given by a poor man.

FUH-NING AND NING-TAIK DISTRICTS.

The Rev. J. Martin had charge of these two districts last year. Mr. and Mrs. Martin, who, as already stated, have come home on furlough, resided at Fuh-Ning, where also Miss Emma Goldie, Mrs. Martin's sister, and Miss M. D. Boileau live, working among the women and girls. Dr. J. Rigg was at Fuh-Ning until the close of the summer, when he visited Fuh-Chow for his first language examination, which he passed very successfully. He then proceeded to Nang-wa-Kau to the work to which he was designated by the Committee when he went out in 1888. Dr. B. Van Someren Taylor and Mrs. Taylor returned from furlough in December, and the Rev. H. M. and Mrs. Eyton-Jones, whom the Conference located at Fuh-Ning while studying the language, arrived a few weeks later. No report of the districts has been received from Mr. Martin. The number of baptized Christians is given in the returns supplied by Archdeacon Wolfe as fifty-eight and 697 in Fuh-Ning and Ning-Taik districts respectively, and the adult baptisms of the year as three in the former and forty in the latter.

Dr. Rigg, in his Annual Letter, refers to the medical students trained by Dr. Taylor at FUH-NING. He says :— Dr. Taylor's medical students.

> My experience of the students at Fuh-Ning, and generally elsewhere, is that the Chinese are a lovable people, and capable of great progress. To have produced such results as are manifest in the elder students at Fuh-Ning is a standing proof of the excellent training they first received in the College at Foochow, and then for four years from Dr. Taylor. What these young men are now doing, and will do all their lives, for the good of their fellows, is reason for deep thankfulness to God, and goes far to repay the labours and cares of those who trained them.

Miss Goldie's work, she states, has consisted chiefly in receiving visitors, in visiting, and in teaching the women and girls in the school. At special seasons, such as the New Year, many women visit the mission-house, and at other times there are occasional visitors. On two occasions widows of Mandarins have called, and their visits have been returned. Miss Goldie says :— Work among women.

> The women on all hands are most willing to hear, and press us to call again. One case to which I referred in my last letter as being hopeful, I rejoice to say still continues to be so, I allude to a woman who has been visited for some time by the Bible-woman; for the last year and more she has set aside a room in the upper part of her house for prayer, and there she and a friend daily retire. Within the last few months she has given in her name as wishing for baptism. She is a most intelligent inquirer. On Sundays she comes to service, previous to which she receives instruction from one of the Christian women. On Thursdays a Bible-woman goes to her house. While my sister was here she accompanied her, now I go. We have quite a little service with prayers, hymns, and explanation of Scripture. Some other women come up and join us, and her influence seems already telling on them. In several other houses women are interested, but too often the husbands or other relations stand in their way. An earnest female catechumen.

Some of the country stations in the NING-TAIK district were visited by Miss Goldie and Miss Boileau in July. In Ning-Taik itself they were regarded as great curiosities. Miss Goldie says :—

> As there are no resident foreigners, and ladies have seldom been there, we were considered great curiosities by the people, who turned out of their houses and just thronged us; but on the whole they were most civil, making the way for us to pass. It might be amusing to add, that the catechist afterwards told us that he had heard that it was reported amongst the people, that they had better keep clear of us, as with our large feet, if we should kick, we should send them many yards forward! We had so many invitations to enter houses, that the difficulty was where to go first. We were everywhere well Lady missionaries objects of fear, received. The outsiders pressed in after us in such crowds, that the master of the house generally let them in fifty at a time to have a look at us for about five minutes, and when some of them departed another set were let in. In the large houses the ladies were too scared at the sight of us to come forward and receive us, but kept peeping at us from behind the curtains of their private rooms.

They remained longest at a hill station named King-Se-Hung, near Ning-Taik, where there are about 100 Christians, and their visit was very greatly appreciated. Again quoting from Miss Goldie's letter :—

"Could not do enough for us."

They said they could not do enough for us, as we had come so far to see them. On Sunday it was refreshing to go into the houses of the Christians and see the members of the family, neatly clothed within their houses, keeping the day of rest, while their friends and neighbours would be at work on the hills.

KU-CHENG, PING-NANG, IONG-PING, AND KIONG-NING DISTRICTS.

The Rev. C. Shaw, during the Rev. W. Banister's furlough, has general charge of the work in these districts, and he visited them from Fuh-Chow in June and October, spending three or four weeks each time in inspecting the work of the pastorates. The Revs. H. C. Knox and H. S. Phillips, after residing a few weeks at Nang-wa-Kau in the spring, were obliged, on account of Mr. Knox's ill-health, to return to Ku-Cheng. They spent two months in the summer at Hwa-Sang, a mountain station, and returned in September to Nang-wa, where they were joined by Dr. J. Rigg. Miss Newcombe and Miss H. Newcombe, of the C.E.Z.M.S., have laboured at Ku-Cheng, where they have been the only resident Europeans. The Rev. Ling Sung Mi has, however, been temporarily transferred from Tong-Kio, in the Ping-Nang district, to Ku-Cheng.

Nang-wa-Kau.

The work at Nang-wa, which is in the KIONG-NING district, is very encouraging. At first, as was anticipated, the reception accorded by the people was by no means a friendly one. But the work of the two Native medical students from Fuh-Ning, who commenced their labours by opening a dispensary on March 26th, served greatly to disarm hostility. Mr. Banister wrote of these young Native doctors :—

Hostility disarmed by work of Native medical students.

We are filled with admiration at the skilful and business-like way in which these two medical students do their work, and we cannot be too thankful for their presence and help. Their work, demeanour, and spirit reflect the greatest possible credit upon their instructor, Dr. Taylor.

Mr. Phillips wrote in January :—

When we arrived in February (1889) the opposition was fierce, and it seemed for a time as if we must be driven out. Placards describing us as desperate villains were posted in the street, and rowdies constantly filled the place for the purpose of insulting us and our Native brethren. Now, all is changed, and when we walk down the main street everybody appears friendly. "Everybody friendly."

The work has been carried on mainly by Mr. Li, our catechist, a truly converted man, I believe, possessed of no ordinary powers. He is assisted by another junior catechist and the student doctors. Mr. Knox and I could do nothing save engage occasionally in simple conversation with visitors. Indeed, the dialect most largely spoken here is Foochow.

Mr. Knox has shown his lantern at prayers every night to the patients; a picture each night; and an address has been given on it. For several Saturday evenings, ere it grew too cold, we had lantern preaching. The first night we had some 400 people, who were wonderfully orderly, considering the great difficulty we had to get them within eyesight. Afterwards, though not so large a number came, as many as could hear, and more, were present, although we did not advertise it at all. Lantern preachings.

The Hospital had received 3305 patients by the end of the year, of whom 235 were patients to be cured of opium. As many as 50 in-patients have been in the hospital at one time. The students have taken a share in the addresses to the patients and in other Mission work. Hospital.

Messrs. Knox and Phillips took a tour northward during the winter, visiting Kien-Yang, Tsung-Ngau, Sung-Ki, and Ching-Ho, all cities with a considerable population, and all centres of populous districts. Mr. Phillips remarks:—

I mention none of the large number of villages we passed. I have not said a word about the Fu itself with its teeming population, nor have I spoken of other very large places on the south side of Nang-wa. But surely enough is said to justify the expression "awful need," as applied to this field, remembering that all these people are almost without exception "without God in the world," going they know not whither. We cannot say that all these places are open; to go and sell books a few days is one thing, and to live there is another; but I think we may safely say that it is immensely probable. An "awful need."

Our tour lasted a little more than three weeks, and was a most interesting one. We lived and flourished on about 150 cash a day, or about $4\frac{1}{2}d.$, including hotel (!) expenses. It is true we had to share a bed on two occasions, and several times had our load-carriers in the same room, but these are trifling matters. When tired, after a day's march, a bed of boards is as good as feathers, and even draughts and smells are less unpleasant after a little practice. $4\frac{1}{2}d.$ per diem, including hotel expenses!

Is it possible our wealthy English Church, with her thousands of clergy and sons burning with zeal and love, will suffer the needs here to remain unmet by that which alone can satisfy tired, weary, devil-driven souls—the Gospel of Jesus Christ? The Kiong-Ning district cries to England, rich in Gospel grace, to increase the dole of crumbs she sends hither, in the shape of men, women, and means, in the name of the King.

A church for lepers

Mr. Shaw has sent a careful report of the pastorates in the KU-CHENG and PING-NANG districts. At Ku-Cheng a small church for the lepers is being built at the leper village, outside the West Gate, with money contributed by private friends of one of the missionaries. Mr. Shaw believes the heathen have been much impressed by the fact of the Christian missionaries caring for these people whom all neglect and despise. At a village named Tio-Siong, in the Sang-Yong pastorate, there is a family of Christians, consisting of an old man, and his two sons and their wives. Mr. Shaw says :—

Household gods deposed.

> The old man has made his daughters-in-law unbind their feet, which is very wonderful considering the short time he has been worshipping. I visited this old man's house. A great crowd followed me, and we had a good opportunity of witnessing for Christ. Where formerly were his "household gods," now not a trace of idolatry is to be found. He has the Creed, Lord's Prayer, and Ten Commandments hanging up in the guest-hall, and all who enter his house have unmistakable proof that he is now a worshipper of the true God. The old man, looking so patriarchal, told me before a vast crowd of heathen how earnestly he had worshipped the idols; he had sought rest and peace from them, but had found none. Now, he said, he had found rest in Jesus, and he had experienced that Jesus was an ever-present Friend. Before, he said, unless he had the idol before him he could not worship it ; but now, wherever he sought Jesus he found Him. He was ever near to help, save and defend him. These are the things which send us on our way rejoicing. Surely there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth! This old man has lent his house, for two years rent free, as a church, and has provided all the furniture for the church and rooms for a catechist and his family to live in.

An earnest catechist.

The catechist at Lo Hwa is described as "an earnest little man." He frequently goes out preaching, carrying with him a flag and a gong. On the flag, in large characters, the Beatitudes are painted. He beats the gong to assemble the people to whom he preaches. At Tong Kio, Mr. Shaw baptized eleven persons in July, among whom was the young man from Pi Liang, whose persecution by his father was described by Mr. Banister in last year's Report. Mr. Shaw says of him :—

A steadfast young Christian.

> I am glad to say he stands firm, and although his father is very much opposed to him, yet I believe he is relenting a little, and disposed to treat him more kindly. Poor fellow, he has another great trial to bear: a little baby boy born to him since he became a Christian is blind. Of course his relatives and neighbours all say it is a visitation on him for following the "foreigners' religion;" but none of these things move him; he has been taught by God's Spirit, and he knows that these light afflictions work out for him an eternal weight of glory. "As many as I love I rebuke and chasten."

MID-CHINA MISSION.

CHEH-KIANG PROVINCE: Ningpo, 1848; Hang-Chow, 1861; Shaou-hing, 1870.

"OUR special need of prayer in Mid-China" is the reminder with which Bishop Moule closes the review of the year's work with which he favours the Committee, by way, as he says, of Annual Letter. The need is indeed very special. Of the sixteen male missionaries whose names appeared in last year's Report, two have been called to their rest, and six are now at home, leaving exactly one-half of the staff of male missionaries to carry on the work; and of this remnant, excepting the Bishop and the Rev. A. Elwin, not one has been five years in the Mission. The Bishop adds, "All my younger brethren will have to grow maturer if not older, and I more active if I cannot be younger, for the nonce; and all of us will greatly need a large increase and multiplication of our Lord's mercy."

Weakened Staff.

Three whose lives, long and short, had been devoted to this Mission were summoned in June, July and August to the presence of the Master Whom they loved and served: one who was associated with the earliest pioneers of the Mission; another who took a prominent part in the work of expansion twenty years later; and a third who bade fair to enter into and develop the labours of his honoured seniors in the work. On June 1st, at Wolverhampton, the Rev. F. F. Gough, having retired from active service; on August 10th, at Shaou-hing, the Rev. J. D. Valentine, in the midst of service; and on July 27th, at Bloemfontein, the Rev. J. H. Morgan, seeking health for further service; these now serve the Lamb where they see His face, and His name is in their foreheads, and they shall reign for ever and ever.

Deaths.

Mr. Gough graduated in 1847 with double honours (2nd class) at St. John's College, Cambridge, where, during his last term, he was contemporary with Mr. G. E. Moule, now Bishop of Mid-China. He sailed with Bishop Smith, first Bishop of Victoria, in 1849, and the following year joined the pioneer missionaries, Cobbold and Russell, at Ningpo. In his anxiety to get to work he hired a Native house in the heart of the city, but without taking the necessary sanitary precautions, and a speedy attack of fever was the consequence, and, soon afterwards, a visit on sick leave to England.

In 1860 he and Mr. J. Hudson Taylor, the honoured founder of the China Inland Mission, were associated in opening an opium asylum, Mr. Gough receiving the applicants into his house, and Mr. Taylor providing the necessary medicines. The toil resulting from these efforts—for no less than 133 were received and treated in the course of three months—told heavily on the health of Mr. and Mrs. Gough, and to save the life of the latter Mr. Gough again left for England in the summer of that year. But his wife died soon after reaching these shores. Mr. Gough spent the following seven years in this country, mainly in revising the New Testament in the Ningpo vernacular. He returned in 1867, and left finally in 1881. He had the joy of seeing his daughter offering herself to the C.M.S. for missionary work, trained at the Home and Colonial School for its service, then going to Fuh-Chow as the first C.E.Z.M.S. missionary to China, and then re-entering the C.M.S. ranks as the wife of the Rev. J. C. Hoare, of Ningpo.

Mr. Valentine went out to China in 1863, and worked for a few years at Ningpo and Hang-Chow, whence he was driven home by a severe illness. On returning in 1870 he was located at Shaou-hing, which had just been occupied by the Rev. H. Gretton, and there he laboured for nearly nineteen years, and there he died. Archdeacon Moule writes of him :— Rev. J. D. Valentine,

> Mr. Valentine's knowledge of the dialect was unique, and he laboured much, and with characteristic accuracy and method, both in reducing the dialect to grammatical arrangement and in preparing books in the colloquial. He was a powerful and eloquent Chinese speaker, and his sermons were highly appreciated by the Native Christians.
> By the Bishop, who shares with the writer the sacred memory of twenty-five years' friendship; by all his brethren in the Mission; by those dear departed friends whom he has joined now beyond the river —Bishop and Mrs. Russell and Mr. Gough,—Mr. Valentine was held in the highest esteem, and regarded with the warmest affection. His well-nigh exhaustless fund of humour and good-temper, his wisdom in council, and his sympathy in sorrow, made him an ever-welcome guest during his rare visits to the other stations, and an honoured and influential member of our Mission Conferences.

Mr. Morgan received his training at the Islington College. He was ordained and appointed to China in 1884. Pulmonary symptoms, however, made their appearance after four years' residence at Ningpo in co-operation with Mr. Hoare, and he was ordered home. By medical advice he and Rev. J. H Morgan.

MID-CHINA MISSION.

"OUR special need of prayer in Mid-China" is the reminder with which Bishop Moule closes the review of the year's work with which he favours the Committee, by way, as he says, of Annual Letter. The need is indeed very special. Of the sixteen male missionaries whose names appeared in last year's Report, two have been called to their rest, and six are now at home, leaving exactly one-half of the staff of male missionaries to carry on the work; and of this remnant, excepting the Bishop and the Rev. A. Elwin, not one has been five years in the Mission. The Bishop adds, "All my younger brethren will have to grow maturer if not older, and I more active if I cannot be younger, for the nonce; and all of us will greatly need a large increase and multiplication of our Lord's mercy."

Weakened Staff.

Three whose lives, long and short, had been devoted to this Mission were summoned in June, July and August to the presence of the Master Whom they loved and served: one who was associated with the earliest pioneers of the Mission; another who took a prominent part in the work of expansion twenty years later; and a third who bade fair to enter into and develop the labours of his honoured seniors in the work. On June 1st, at Wolverhampton, the Rev. F. F. Gough, having retired from active service; on August 10th, at Shaou-hing, the Rev. J. D. Valentine, in the midst of service; and on July 27th, at Bloemfontein, the Rev. J. H. Morgan, seeking health for further service; these now serve the Lamb where they see His face, and His name is in their foreheads, and they shall reign for ever and ever.

Deaths.

Mr. Gough graduated in 1847 with double honours (2nd class) at St. John's College, Cambridge, where, during his last term, he was contemporary with Mr. G. E. Moule, now Bishop of Mid-China. He sailed with Bishop Smith, first Bishop of Victoria, in 1849, and the following year joined the pioneer missionaries, Cobbold and Russell, at Ningpo. In his anxiety to get to work he hired a Native house in the heart of the city, but without taking the necessary sanitary precautions, and a speedy attack of fever was the consequence, and, soon afterwards, a visit on sick leave to England.

In 1860 he and Mr. J. Hudson Taylor, the honoured founder of the China Inland Mission, were associated in opening an opium asylum, Mr. Gough receiving the applicants into his house, and Mr. Taylor providing the necessary medicines. The toil resulting from these efforts—for no less than 133 were received and treated in the course of three months—told heavily on the health of Mr. and Mrs. Gough, and to save the life of the latter Mr. Gough again left for England in the summer of that year. But his wife died soon after reaching these shores. Mr. Gough spent the following seven years in this country, mainly in revising the New Testament in the Ningpo vernacular. He returned in 1867, and left finally in 1881. He had the joy of seeing his daughter offering herself to the C.M.S. for missionary work, trained at the Home and Colonial School for its service, then going to Fuh-Chow as the first C.E.Z.M.S. missionary to China, and then re-entering the C.M.S. ranks as the wife of the Rev. J. C. Hoare, of Ningpo.

Mr. Valentine went out to China in 1863, and worked for a few years at Ningpo and Hang-Chow, whence he was driven home by a severe illness. On returning in 1870 he was located at Shaou-hing, which had just been occupied by the Rev. H. Gretton, and there he laboured for nearly nineteen years, and there he died. Archdeacon Moule writes of him:— Rev. J. D. Valentine,

> Mr. Valentine's knowledge of the dialect was unique, and he laboured much, and with characteristic accuracy and method, both in reducing the dialect to grammatical arrangement and in preparing books in the colloquial. He was a powerful and eloquent Chinese speaker, and his sermons were highly appreciated by the Native Christians.
> By the Bishop, who shares with the writer the sacred memory of twenty-five years' friendship; by all his brethren in the Mission; by those dear departed friends whom he has joined now beyond the river —Bishop and Mrs. Russell and Mr. Gough,—Mr. Valentine was held in the highest esteem, and regarded with the warmest affection. His well-nigh exhaustless fund of humour and good-temper, his wisdom in council, and his sympathy in sorrow, made him an ever-welcome guest during his rare visits to the other stations, and an honoured and influential member of our Mission Conferences.

Mr. Morgan received his training at the Islington College. He was ordained and appointed to China in 1884. Pulmonary symptoms, however, made their appearance after four years' residence at Ningpo in co-operation with Mr. Hoare, and he was ordered home. By medical advice he and Rev. J. H Morgan.

went for a year's residence in South Africa, where his death occurred in July.

Reinforcements.

Mr. Arthur J. H. Moule, B.A., of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, son of Archdeacon A. E. Moule, with whom he has resided at Shanghai for the past four years, has become a missionary of the Society in local connexion, to study with a view to literary and translation work; and his brother, Mr. William H. Moule, has been engaged by the local Committee of the Shanghai Anglo-Chinese School as the master of that institution, in succession to Mr. G. Lanning, who resigned in 1888. Miss Elizabeth Milligan was sent out in the autumn to strengthen the staff of lady missionaries at Ningpo; and the Rev. C. J. F. S. Symons, having brought Mrs. Symons to England in June, returned to the Mission in October.

The following missionaries have come home:—The Rev. J. C. and Mrs. Hoare, in December on furlough; the Rev. J. H. Horsburgh, in January, by invitation of the Committee, for conference regarding his future work; and Archdeacon A. E. Moule and Mrs. Moule, in April on furlough. Dr. and Mrs. Duncan Main are on their way home.

Ordinations.

Bishop Moule admitted Nyi-Liang-ping to deacon's orders at Hang-Chow on September 22nd; on October 20th, Sing Tsae-sing was admitted to deacon's orders, and the Rev. Dzing Teh-kwong to priest's orders, at Ningpo; and the Rev. W. S. Moule was ordained priest in Advent. The Bishop writes of the examination of the Native candidates:—

> The examination, conducted by the Archdeacon, Mr. Hoare, and Wông Sin-sang, of Christ Church, Ningpo, was a thorough one, not to say severe; especially for men who had ceased, for from three to five years, to be students, and of whom two were engaged in evangelistic and pastoral work involving much travelling and absence from headquarters. But both the candidates acquitted themselves exceedingly well, showing a full acquaintance with the letter and spirit of Holy Scripture and the principles of the Church. The Rev. Dzing Teh-kwông was examined for priest's orders at the same time, and, though less facile with the pen, showed the same satisfactory qualifications.

Sing Tsae-seng is the eldest son of the senior pastor at Ningpo, the Rev. Sing Eng-teh, and Nyi Liang-p'ing is the son of one the earliest converts at Hang-Chow.

SHANGHAI.

"The Manchester of China."

In his speech at the Society's anniversary in May last, Archdeacon Moule described this great city as "The Manchester of China." He said, "Great manufactories stretch down for nearly five miles to the sea; water works, paper manufactories, breweries, and I know not what; and these almost all the upgrowth of commercial enterprise during the past four or five years. We have the electric light in the streets. Carriages are to be seen rolling along our crowded thoroughfares, while the street in which our mission-house stands, on a fine afternoon or evening, is more crowded than even Cheapside."

Archdeacon Moule superintended the work and discharged the duties of the Secretaryship of the Mission until he left in March, when his son, Mr. Arthur J. H. Moule, took up the work of the Secretariat, the Bishop kindly undertaking to carry on the official correspondence and to administer the Sacraments to the Native congregation, and the Rev. H. C. Hodges, chaplain of the cathedral, brother of the Bishop of Travancore and Cochin, to pay occasional visits to the preaching-rooms and schools.

The attendance at two of the four rooms which are open daily for preaching and for conversation has been very encouraging, less so at the other two. Six adults were the manifest fruit of the year's labours. There are several earnest inquirers. One of these is an elderly nun who went to the service at the Thorne Memorial Chapel in order to abuse and oppose, but "left it with praise and apparently intelligent faith."

In previous Reports reference has been made to Archdeacon Moule's efforts to excite an interest in missionary work in the European residents of Shanghai. These efforts have been continued, and on May 1st, 1889, what Archdeacon Moule describes as an "old-fashioned May missionary meeting" was held in one of the large public halls. The Consul-General of the United States presided on the occasion, and several missionaries of various English and American Societies, including the Rev. W. Muirhead, the veteran missionary of the London Missionary Society, and an English resident, Mr. W. Thorne, a member of the C.M.S. local Finance Committee, gave addresses on missionary work in different parts of the world. Before he left Shanghai Archdeacon Moule formed a Church Missionary Association among the European residents.

A May-Meeting at Shanghai.

Two volumes of "Gospel Sermons," and a collection of "Hymns of Praise," in Chinese, have been prepared by Archdeacon Moule and published at Shanghai. The Chinese Recorder, a missionary journal edited by Dr. L. H. Gulick, says of the latter:—

The esteemed author is distinguished for his poetical genius in his own language, and has developed a like talent in Chinese, more in the line of translation, however, than in the way of original composition. It is well that it should be so, giving us in a new garb the familiar and spirit-stirring thoughts of our home hymns. The book contains in all 220, forming a good collection, well calculated to promote the Christian life of the Churches.

Archdeacon Moule's literary work.

The Archdeacon has also prepared a tract regarding the origin and nature of the Bible, in Chinese, which the Religious Tract Society has accepted for wide circulation in China. The Anglo-Chinese School in Shanghai was closed during the past year, as no suitable master could be found for it. The post has been accepted tentatively by Mr. W. H. Moule, and the school was reopened in February.

PROVINCE OF CHEH-KIANG.

NINGPO.

Ningpo.

The Rev. J. C. Hoare was in general charge of the Mission until November, when he came home on furlough. Since then the Rev. Walter S. Moule, now in God's mercy fully restored to health, has had charge of the College, assisted by the Rev. T. H. Harvey, who also superintends, so far as is possible and necessary, the T'ai-Chow work. One of the newly-ordained deacons, the Rev. Sing Tsae-Seng, is a tutor in the College. The Native congregations are under the two Chinese pastors, the Revs. 'O Kwông-yiao and Sing-Eng-teh, Mr. Walter Moule presiding at the meetings of the Church Council. The Rev. C. J. F. S. Symons, who returned in November, has charge of the evangelistic agents; and Miss Smith and Miss Higginbotham conduct the Girls' Boarding-school.

The College.

Only from Mr. Walter Moule has an Annual Letter been received. Three students passed out of the College to become schoolmasters. Mr. Moule has specially tried to encourage a taste for mathematics in the boys, as their Native methods of instruction seem only to exercise their powers of memory, leaving the thinking faculties almost wholly undeveloped. This often shows itself in their way of repeating the passages of Scripture which have been committed to memory; but the first painful impressions of the hearer as to this are sometimes modified by closer observation, as some passages in Mr. Moule's letter show. He says:—

I do not think any one can appreciate the position the classics hold out here in the minds of the people till they have seen it for a year or two—it breaks on me gradually. "Long-suffering" is a fruit of the Spirit needed indeed when face to face with these classics and all connected with them, or with the ramifications of etiquette. But then the boy who almost brings tears to your eyes one day by his careless reeling off of Scripture repetition and confusion of the sense, the next day will bring tears of joy by earnest pleading with a villager for the Lord Jesus.

And again, writing of one of the day-schools, of which he sends a report seriatim, he says:—

The boys were repeating the 100 texts to me there, and the precious words slipping out of their mouths (apparently) carelessly, and as if it was Greek to them, gave me literally a pain at the heart. I questioned them, and lo! they knew very well what they were talking about, and gave me a perfectly clear account of the Gospel; so I was rebuked and lifted up. The Scripture had been very carefully taught, I rejoice to say.

The Theological Class has been disbanded until Mr. Hoare's return.

Mission Hospital.

The small Mission Hospital which was opened in 1886, known as the Hao-Meng-Fong Hospital, has been developed by the addition of a branch hospital for women, with accommodation for eight patients. The number of in-patients during the year ending March, 1889, was 177, and the out-patients 6261, more than three times as many as during the previous year. Dr. Daly, the doctor of the port, gives his services gratuitously.

T'ai-Chow District.

In May, Bishop Moule visited, with Mr. Hoare, the T'ai-Chow District. Of the experiences en route the following quotation from a letter he wrote in June gives an example:—

Travelling experiences.

Our day's march of seventy-five li, say twenty-five miles, brought us to the little town of Leo-k'ang, where we put up at an inn. We chose a room downstairs, and when one or two dirty-looking beds had been removed, and the dirty table covered with newspaper and a table-cloth over all, our quarters looked by no means so bad as they might have been. Dirty they were, no doubt, but not intolerable; and we experienced nothing worse than a certain amount of horse-play on the part of the street boys. They had had a full view of us—our window opening on the street—at dinner as well as during the preliminary wash. But when it fell dark, and we lighted candles and closed the shutters, they commenced, after trying to force them open, to practise upon us through the chinks of the board wall, thrusting straws through them, and finally spitting and squirting water at us, until we contrived to fortify ourselves by hanging mats over all the crevices.

The Bishop's account of their reception and of the baptisms, &c., must be given at some length. He says:—

a separate summer lodge of his, built by his father in his last years, apparently for the sake of retirement. It is a little out of the village; which, though inhabited by some substantial peasants, our friend amongst them, is as filthy and squalid as a Chinese village so easily can be. In the lodge we found quarters as airy and clean as we could well wish; perhaps even a little too airy after the heating climb which brought us up to our goal. Mr. Tsông was ready at once to give Mr. Hoare an account of the state of things. He sent a messenger down the hill, too, to let Dzing Teh-kwông Sin-sang know of our arrival; and before dusk Mr. Dzing came up to report and consult.

Examination of candidates.

The next day, Friday, after examining two candidates for baptism in Mr. Tsông's house, one of them his wife, who had hitherto been too shy to face either missionary or Native teacher, but who now joined with us in worship, and gave a clear and hearty account of her faith, we moved down—a fall of 800 feet—to Ky'i-nen, where the temporary church (in a believer's house) is, and afterwards a mile further to Ling-'ô, where Mr. Hoare has hired a house to serve as headquarters for his itinerants, including the deacon, Dzing Sin-sang, and for the lodging of missionaries visiting the place as we are doing. At the first place we were at once in mediis rebus, examining a dozen women for baptism and confirmation. I took little part, being somewhat disabled by sore-throat, and also glad to listen to the responses drawn by questions either of Mr. Hoare or Mr. Dzing, with whom they were more familiar. But what I heard was full of encouragement, whether one regarded the clearness of their Christian profession or the evident spirit of their personal interest in the Gospel.

After the examination we partook of an elaborate luncheon, at which five or six Christians sat down with us, being waited on by the women of the house, and by mine host himself, good Dzing K'eh-meo, who has hitherto lent his upper rooms as the place of worship for the Christians.

The outcome of the examination was fifteen accepted adult candidates for baptism (besides two at K'ong-k'iu) and four children, and (including the above seventeen) thirty-seven accepted candidates for confirmation.

We assembled in the "Upper Chamber" at nine on Sunday morning, a crowd of heathen looking on from the side rooms, whilst many female inquirers sat with the Christian women.

Baptisms.

First, Mr. Hoare baptized the nineteen candidates, children included. Then Mr. Dzing read Morning Prayer, shortened by the omission of the first lesson. The second lesson was read by the warden, Mr. Tsông. Then I confirmed the thirty-four candidates of the villages below the hill, and, having addressed them and the congregation from the Epistle, 1 Peter ii. 11, 12, proceeded to the Communion Service, in which Dzing Sin-sang assisted me. Including him and his comrade, Mr. Hoare and myself, and Mr. Tsing, we were thirty-nine communicants, a goodly number when one thinks how recently these beautiful valleys were totally ignorant of the name of Jesus.

Thirty-one Communicants.

The heartiness of the responses, the even too great heartiness of the singing, the friendliness, without any reserve or suspicion, of all the Christian men and women, and many of their neighbours, towards us foreigners, but especially their intelligent apprehension and appropriation (so far as I could judge) of Gospel truth, refreshed and cheered me far more than I can express. We returned after service to Ling-'ô, where I spent the rest of the day, Mr. Hoare returning to Ky'i-nen for afternoon service.

First Meeting of District Council.

Next morning we were there together for the first regular meeting of a District Church Council for the district. Four wardens were elected. They unanimously nominated Dzing Sin-sang as candidate for the pastorate, asking me to appoint him.

SHAOU-HING.

Shaou-hing.

The death of the Rev. J. D. Valentine at this station in August has been mentioned. The Rev. E. P. Wheatley, who only arrived the previous February, had administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper for the first time in the vernacular on the Sunday previous to Mr. Valentine's death, and since then the services have been regularly maintained. In October Mr. Wheatley baptized two men, Bishop Moule having previously examined and passed them, who, he says, are the fruit of Mr. Valentine's labours. Monthly visits have been paid by Dr. Main from Hang-Chow and some of his Native medical students, and to many who have sought a cure from physical ailments the Gospel has been preached. Mr. Wheatley was married to Miss McQuestion in December.

HANG-CHOW.

Hang-Chow.

On Bishop Moule, in the intervals of his visits to other stations, the pastoral care of the Native congregation has mainly devolved. The Rev. A. Elwin has charge of the work in the Chu-ki District; the Rev. G. W. Coultas superintends the nearer evangelistic work; Dr. Duncan Main and Dr. H. Hickin conduct the Medical Mission; and Miss M. Vaughan and Miss A. L. Wright labour among the women.

A full and interesting report (especially doubtless to a medical reader) of the Hospital for 1888 was received last September. Of out-patients 8494, and of in-patients 551 were received; of the latter 103 were patients admitted to the Opium Refuge to be cured. Dr. Main says:—

> Into hearts ploughed by much sickness, harrowed by much pain and broken up by many days, months, and often years, of suffering and distress we sow the seed of the kingdom, and not only do we sow the seed, but also, thank God, reap the fruit; not yet a glorious harvest—that's coming—but sufficient to encourage and convince us that our work is not in vain in the Lord. There is daily preaching to the out-patients, daily preaching in the wards, a daily service for Christians, a daily service for all in-patients who are able to attend, a weekly service for inquirers and those interested in the Gospel, a weekly class for Bible study; and all the patients who are interested in the Word of God or show any concern for their salvation while with us are visited at their homes, no matter at what distance they should live from the Hospital.

Miss Vaughan and Miss Wright send encouraging Annual Letters, describing their visits to the women at their homes and in the hospital, and their classes for instruction.

Chu-ki District.

The accounts of the work in the Chu-ki District have not been very cheering for the past few years, but now Mr. Elwin is again able to write more hopefully. In April he spent sixteen days in the district. Part of the time was spent at Dyke Head, which he had never visited before. The people of this neighbourhood have a bad character for violence, which Mr. Elwin's letter shows is deserved. He says that more murders are committed in this district in one year than are committed in twenty years in Hang-Chow. They have, however, a great fear of foreigners, on which fact the catechist accompanying Mr. Elwin made a thoughtful remark :—

Why foreigners feared.

"Why do the people seem so afraid?" He answered at once, "God has ordered that it should be so; if the people were not afraid it would be quite impossible for you to come into this district at all."

But the Gospel had found its way to Dyke Head. A schoolmaster, named Yang Sze-t'ai ("Peaceful-times"), who was a vegetarian, met Luke Chow, and heard the good news from him. He thereupon broke his vegetarian vow, and began to preach Christ to his family and friends. Mr. Elwin spent Easter Day here, and he says :—

On Easter Sunday, before a great crowd of heathen, no less than eighteen boldly knelt in prayer to the true God through Jesus Christ. Before, they had worshipped many gods, in future they would only worship the true Shang-te, the Lord of heaven and earth. I have mentioned the excitement by the way, but what shall I say about the excitement at Dyke Head, when it was reported that a foreigner (or foreign devil) had actually come to spend a couple of days in their midst? The people came in such crowds that evening prayer with the Christians was out of the question until the early hours of Sunday morning.

Candidates for baptism.

The services were held in Peaceful-time's house, and after the address he was baptized by the name of Sin-tsen ("True-faith") at his own request. Nine candidates for baptism, most of them related to True-faith, were enrolled.

The Bishop visited Chu-ki in November, and baptized ten adult converts, nine of whom were at Dyke Head, and confirmed sixteen candidates. About the same time Miss Vaughan paid a visit of three weeks in the neighbourhood. She writes :—

Miss Vaughan spends a fortnight at Dyke Head.

I had a warm welcome from the Christians, and found the people generally very ready to listen. They would come in and sit by the hour listening to the Gospel story. I need not describe the place, as Mr. Elwin has written about it. It is singularly beautiful and the air invigorating. Two days before I went there the Bishop had been there, and had baptized and admitted to communion nine converts, six men and three women, so that I found them in all the freshness of their new life in Christ, eager to know more of the Bible, and anxious to tell their heathen neighbours of the Saviour. I stayed in the house of some of the Christians, and left them at the end of a fortnight with much regret. I am persuaded that the way to know the Natives is to do as I have done, staying in their houses, eating their food, and sharing their daily life.

JAPAN MISSION.

Nagasaki, 1869; Osaka, 1874; Tokio, 1874; Hakodate, 187 ; Kumamoto, Fukuoka, Horobetsu, Kushiro, Tokushima, 1888.

The Annual Conference of the missionaries took place this year in March, from the 6th to the 12th, two months earlier than usual, and consequently the able General Review of the Mission which was presented to the Conference by the Secretary, the Rev. C. F. Warren, is available to assist the Committee in preparing the present Report. The political changes which were referred to in last year's Report, have not immediately worked for the manifest progress of Christ's Kingdom. Mr. Warren says :—

Political excitement.

> The recognition of the right of every subject of the Empire to enjoy religious liberty under the Constitution is a fact which cannot be gainsaid; but the consequence, perhaps altogether inevitable in the case of a people like the Japanese, who are carried away by novelties, has been a ferment of political excitement which has for the time largely diverted the minds of men from the study of Christianity. Whilst in some cases the very recognition of the rights of Christians to profess and propagate their faith, has aroused bitter and determined opposition. Then treaty revision has again collapsed, notwithstanding the actual conclusion of treaties with the United States, Germany, and Russia, and when we seemed to be within a measurable distance of complete success, and now the recent Ministerial crisis makes it uncertain when the long-desired settlement will be obtained, and I am told on very good authority that we may expect the Japanese authorities stringently to enforce the passport regulations.

Baptisms.

The number of baptisms in connexion with the twenty-six Protestant Missions in the country was considerably less in 1889 than in the previous year: viz. of adults 5007, as compared with 6959 in 1888; and of children 535 as compared with 728. The number of adults baptized at the C.M.S. stations and out-stations was 242, and of children 99. The total number of baptized Christians on the Society's roll is 1524; of whom 663 are men, 499 women, and 362 children. The total number of Protestant Native Christians in the country is given at 31,181.

Instances of progress.

Several encouraging facts in the development and expansion of the Society's work are referred to by Mr. Warren. The first is that the Christians have grown in liberality. Excluding school fees, their contributions for religious purposes during 1889 averaged $1 : 50 each individual, as against $1 : 12 in 1888. In this crucial matter the C.M.S. Christians, the Committee observe with regret, are still somewhat behind the general average of Protestant Christians in the country, which was $1 : 71. Other features of encouragement are the progress made in Church organization, and the increase of well-instructed Native agents. During the year District Church Councils have been established at Fukuoka and Nagasaki, in Kiu-shiu, and at Hakodate and Kushiro in the northern island; while several students, having completed their course at the Divinity School, have been placed in various spheres to labour for their Lord. Lastly, Mr. Warren refers to the completion of the Girls' Boarding-school at Osaka, erected in memory of Bishop Poole. This was formally opened during the Sessions of the Conference, on March 10th.

As regards the staff of European missionaries, Mr. Warren justly says the year has been "one of trial and loss." Owing to death and sickness, the missionaries at the Conference were "fewer in number, and much weaker in speaking power" than they were in 1888, notwithstanding the reinforcements sent out. These reinforcements were the Rev. F. E. Walton, transferred from the North India Mission; the Rev. J. Hind, B.A., Queen's College, Cambridge, Curate of All Souls, Langham Place, London; and Miss Gertrude Ellen Cox, daughter of the Rev. F. Cox, formerly Vicar of Holy Trinity, Chelsea. Miss Porter reached the Mission in October, Mr. Walton and Miss Cox in December, and Mr. Hind early in the present year. The Committee also planned to send out in the autumn the Rev. R. R. Bell, who laboured in the North India Mission from 1882 to 1888, and Miss Sarah Louisa Barker, but circumstances prevented their going. The Rev. A. F. Chappell, who went out independently in 1888, and has laboured since then at Gifu, has been accepted as a missionary of the Society in local connexion; and Mrs. Goodall, who has laboured many years at Nagasaki, and was for a time on the roll of the C.E.Z.M.S. as an honorary missionary, has been appointed an honorary missionary of the Society.

Reinforcements.

On the other hand, two have been removed from the staff, one by death and the other by retirement; and four have come home, three of them on the sick list. News of the death of the Rev. W. J. Edmonds on July 1st was received while the pages of last year's Report were passing through the press. Mr. Edmonds was ordained from Islington College in 1882, and was appointed to the East Africa Mission. He was one of the party which accompanied the Rev. James Hannington in his first journey to the Nyanza in 1882. After a few months spent at Uyui, he was obliged to return home through failure of health. In 1885 he went to Japan, and was stationed at Osaka. He was arranging to take up his residence at Matsuye when his fatal illness occurred. His widow, who had acquired some knowledge of the language, has been, by her own request, permitted to remain in the Mission to labour among the women.

Death of the Rev. W. J. Edmonds.

To the Committee's regret the Rev. W. Weston has been obliged, by the partial failure of his eyesight, to abandon the study of the Japanese language, and he has consequently resigned his connexion with the Society. At the beginning of 1889 he left Kumamoto to reside at Tokio, in order to undergo a course of electrical treatment; but after several months under a specialist in that city, he was strongly advised to abstain from the strain involved in reading the Japanese characters. Bishop Bickersteth has appointed him to a chaplainacy at Kobe, where he will have valuable opportunities of promoting, directly and indirectly, the missionary cause which is dear to him.

The Rev. G. H. Pole came home on furlough in July last year; and Archdeacon H. Maundrell, the Rev. J. Batchelor, and the Rev. F. E. Walton, the last after only a few months in the Mission, have come home during the present year by medical orders.

On April 20th and December 22nd, 1889, Bishop Bickersteth admitted the Revs. G. Chapman and J. Batchelor to priest's orders; and on March 2nd, 1890, he admitted the Rev. B. H. Terasawa, to priest's orders, and Mr. Makeoka to deacon's orders. The Bishop remarked, after Mr. Chapman's ordination, that he had seldom met with a candidate better prepared. Mr. Terasawa was the first Japanese to receive priest's orders.

I. THE MAIN ISLAND.

OSAKA.

The Osaka staff.

In this great city of nearly 400,000 souls, the Society's staff consists of the Rev. C. F. Warren, who, in addition to the onerous duties of the Secretaryship of the Mission, with the heavy correspondence, both with the missionaries and the Committee, which it entails, has the charge of the evangelistic work in Osaka; the Rev. P. K. Fyson, transferred to Osaka from Tokio to take charge of the Divinity School during the Rev. G. H. Pole's absence; the Rev. G. Chapman, giving assistance at the Divinity School; the Rev. T. Dunn, in charge of the Boys' School which has been opened pending the erection of the High School building,—a serious and protracted illness of Mr. Dunn, however, led the Conference to contemplate closing the school; and the Rev. H. Evington superintends the work of the out-stations in the districts or provinces of Bingo, Iwami, Idzumo, and Hoki. Miss K. Tristram is the Lady Principal of the Girls' Boarding-school, assisted by Miss A. M. Tapson; and Mrs. Edmonds and Miss G. E. Cox are mainly employed in studying the language. There are now two ordained pastors under the Osaka District Church Council; the Rev. B. H. Terasawa, who received priest's orders in March at Holy Trinity Church, and the Rev. Makeoka, who was ordained deacon at the same time, at the Church of the Saviour.

Except one Bible-woman the Society has no native paid agents for the Evangelistic work in Osaka; Mr. Warren's fellow-helpers are the students of the Divinity School and members of the two Native congregations. Every Sunday evening, at three different preaching-rooms, services for non-Christians are conducted by the students, and on three stated days in each month similar services are held at the Church of the Saviour. Two special efforts, moreover, known in Japan as "great preachings," with frequent services day by day for several days, were made during the year to reach the heathen of this city. In connexion with the two Pastorates, thirty-five adults were baptized during the year. Both the pastorates, especially the one of which Holy Trinity Church is the centre, have considerably increased their contributions to the Council Fund, and the Committee meetings, Mr. Warren says, evidence an earnest desire to grapple with the financial needs which have to be met. Mr. Terasawa in his Annual Letter, translated by Mr. Warren, referring to the baptisms of the year, less than those of the previous year, very candidly says:—

Evangelistic work.

City pastorates

> The chief hindrance to progress has been doubts in the minds of some members of the congregation as to the fitness of their pastor for his work, destroying to some extent the spirit of unity in the congregation, a fact which has caused me inexpressible shame and distress as reflecting on my sincerity and kindness. But the help and guidance of the Holy Spirit has been with us, and when the seeds of despair were about to fall, and we were on the verge of an abyss of anxiety, we have had consolation given just suited to our need, making us feel the importance of calling on the Lord and of committing everything to the goodness of the Almighty, and not to trust in any device of man. And so when about to choose the Church Committee, or when the congregation seemed to be falling off, or when the financial state of the church was not satisfactory, daily prayer-meetings were held, either in the morning or evening, and the Lord has done beyond our expectations in all things that we have laid before Him (Phil. iv. 6, 7). Thus the spirit of unity has been restored, some who were absenting themselves from church have come again, and in spite of some diminution in the number of the congregation, the money raised has not only not decreased, but has considerably increased, for which we give thanks.

Daily Prayer-meetings.

Miss Tristram makes very grateful mention of the cooperation of Miss Boulton, of the F.E.S., in the work of the Bishop Poole Memorial Girls' School. There were thirty-three boarders in the school during the last term of 1889, and they were looking forward to the enlarged accommodation of the new school, capable of holding 100 boarders. She writes of the Japanese girls as "so charming and lovable, and yet with the national failings that appear strongly as one gets to know them better." The work of chief importance both for Miss Tristram and Miss Tapson during their first year was the study of the language. They very successfully passed the first examition early in November. Miss Tapson writes:—

Girls' Boarding-school.

The trial of silence.

I suppose a good many missionaries in Japan have known what it is to pray nearly in despair, "Lord, open Thou my lips;" but as it is just that we may show forth His praise, we may and do claim it from Him. Only those who have been through it can know what the trial of that time of silence is, when one has gone out to bring a message and has not a chance of giving it, of bringing hope or comfort to anybody, and at times the temptation has been strong to look back with longing to old days of happy work in Whitechapel.

Out-stations.

Mr. Evington reports on the work of the Out-stations. At Hamada, the chief town in the province of IWAMI, the Christians have been disunited, but a change of catechists has done much to smooth matters, and decided signs of progress now appear. At Masuda, twenty-six miles to the west from Hamada, the bulk of the Christians belong to the Sumurai class, and Mr. Evington thinks the desire to recruit only from the noble and wealthy families has been the cause of the slow growth of the Church there. Three were baptized and eight confirmed during 1889. Miss Hamilton, of the F.E.S., spent a month at this place, and did good work among the women. The present catechist is one of the fourth-year students from the Divinity School.

"Great strides" at Fukuyama.

In the province of BINGO, Fukuyama has made "great strides," largely owing to the influence of Miss Hamilton and Miss Julius, the latter of the C.E.Z.M.S., who resided there for a time at the close of 1888 and in the summer of 1889. Miss Tristram also visited Fukuyama during the Easter and summer vacations. Special Mission Evangelistic Meetings were held in July by Mr. Warren and Mr. Evington in one of the theatres of the town. Miss Tristram sent home the following account:—

Several of our young Christian men have been working most diligently in preparation for the Mission. Fourteen of them and the catechist met on the Monday of the week before it began, to fold up, put into envelopes, and address notices and special tickets to be taken round to the houses of the upper classes and to arrange for the methodical distribution of notices throughout the town and the country round. They went out two and two during the week for this purpose. There was a prayer-meeting every night during the same week in preparation for the Mission, and these young men took great part in it.

A theatre closed in consequence of Mission services.

Mr. Warren and Mr. Evington arrived on Saturday, and on Sunday night the first Mission service was held in a theatre. So widely had the news of the Mission spread, that the managers of another theatre in the place closed it for the week, expecting that the services would entice every one away from it. The theatre is a very rough wooden building, with roof ventilation, admitting rain as easily as air, clumsy, unsafe-looking galleries, and the pit sunk about four feet, merely a mud floor partially covered with thick mats. Japanese in the country are utterly regardless of time, sometimes arriving an hour and a half too early for a meeting, sometimes as much too late; so after the preliminary prayer-meeting there was a wait until 8.30, half an hour later than the advertised time. There was then a fair assembly, which increased before the close to about 800. Every night there were either three or four addresses, the Japanese always coming first and the last two being given by our missionaries. There was often talking going on, but on the whole there was very attentive listening, especially to the foreigners, and there was never an approach to the uproars attempted at the Tokushima Mission. This possibly may have been prevented by a notice posted up forbidding any questions during the services, though inquirers were invited to go privately to the foreign missionaries. The subjects of the addresses and the names of the preachers were also posted. For instance one night they were as follows:—"The True Ideal of Man," Mr. Mikami (a student from the Osaka Divinity School); "The Forgiveness of Sins," Mr. Evington; "How to know God," Mr. Warren.

Thirty-nine were baptized and ten confirmed at Fukuyama. At Matsuye, in the province of IDZUMO, the Rev. Nakanishi Yoshiyua labours earnestly, although sixty-four years of age and far from strong. This place contains 40,000 people. Mr. and Mrs. Evington spent October and November in the town, and Miss Bassoe, of the C.E.Z.M.S., who accompanied them thither, has remained there without any European companion. The Governor is a bitter opponent of Christianity. The out-stations in the province of HOKI are worked from Matsuye. Many of the Christians there were originally members of the Church of the Saviour in Osaka. At Yonago, with a population of 17,000, a judge and his wife are among the regular attendants at the Sunday meetings, and the wife of the public prosecutor is a catechumen.

TOKIO.

Tokio.

The Rev. P. K. Fyson's temporary transference to Osaka, already mentioned, has left the Rev. J. Williams once more the only C.M.S. missionary at the capital of Japan. The St. Paul's Congregation continues to manifest a liberal spirit, but Mr. Williams says, "the zeal and fervour of the Christians is not what it was two or three years ago." They contributed $508 during the year. Three new centres of work in the country have been opened, namely, Kisai, Miyogi, and Minagawa. A Native gentleman at the last of these, whose name is the same as that of the district, viz. Minagawa, is under instruction for baptism. His family belongs to the "Hatamoto" class, which ranked next to that of the Daimio in the days of old Japan.

II. THE ISLAND OF KIU-SHIU.

It has been found difficult to work successfully, as was contemplated, a Church Council for the whole of Kiu-shiu, or rather for the congregations connected with the Society in this island. District Church Councils have therefore been formed for more limited areas, one for Nagasaki, one for Kumamoto, and one for Fukuoka. All these have held their first meetings.

NAGASAKI.

Nagasaki. Archdeacon Maundrell and the Rev. A. R. Fuller have resided at Nagasaki, the latter studying the language. Mrs. Fuller joined her husband in the autumn. Since February, when the Archdeacon came home on account of his health, Mr. Fuller has been the only missionary of the Society in this important town.

The Congregation has met for worship in the Deshima school, as the church has been taken down for removal into the city. At Kagoshima the progress is still very slow. The Christians are few and poor, but "they seem full of confidence," the Archdeacon wrote. In September a successful public meeting for proclaiming the Gospel was held in a theatre, when about 400 were present.

FUKUOKA.

Fukuoka district. The Rev. A. B. Hutchinson has charge of the North-Western district of Kiu-shiu, and resides at Fukuoka, which is the principal town. He describes the district and its Christian workers as follows:—

Imagine an opened fan lying on the table. The screw pivot, being at the top, would represent Fukuoka on the sea-shore, and the sides right and left would roughly indicate the coast-line of forty miles east and west; whilst the semi-circle with a radius southwards of forty miles would fairly indicate my sphere of work. In this are contained about a million and a half of our fellow-men, for the most part ignorant of saving truth. What is being done by Christendom towards the spiritual enlightenment of these poor heathens? Our own Church sends one solitary Englishman, with his family, to reside at Fukuoka, with three Native preachers, one here and one each at Saga and Oyamada, as assistants. Two laymen from America reside at distant and isolated spots, as witnesses for Christ as opportunity may be afforded in the intervals of their teaching English. A missionary from each of the Presbyterian, Methodist, and Congregational Churches pays one or two brief visits annually to the various spots at which reside their converts. The same Churches also provide nine or ten Native workers, ordained and unordained, which with ourselves make altogether say fourteen evangelists available for the said million and a half of people! Add to this a large girls' school (Methodist) at Fukuoka, with one resident mistress and about 100 pupils, of whom some twenty are boarders, and we have at a glance the whole provision made by all the Churches for spreading Gospel light through this thick darkness. Adequate? Why, a dozen electric lights for the smallest county in England would be a sorry contrivance for turning night into day, but it would be grander far as an attempt than our hitherto sadly inadequate endeavours to shed the "true light" over the area I have indicated.

"What is being done to enlighten it?"

The town itself presents great contrasts: the business quarter and port, called Hakata, contains about 28,000 people, all eager in the race for wealth; while the old feudal town is pervaded by a "quiet and decorous appearance peculiar to old cathedral towns." A condition of residence in this non-treaty port is that Mr. Hutchinson must engage in teaching English at the Native High School. The New Testament always forms a part of the lessons, and some of the students attend classes for the special study of God's Word out of school hours. Indeed several high officials, who had been among his students in English, sent a special request at the close of the year that Mr. Hutchinson would give them weekly lessons in the English New Testament, that they might become acquainted with the tenets of Christianity. Preaching to the heathen at a central preaching-place attracts audiences of from 40 to 150.

Town of Fukuoka.

Mr. Hutchinson has been greatly hampered in visiting the Out-stations by the rigorous enforcement by the officials of the regulations regarding passports. One of these is required if he sleeps out of the town, and as they can only be procured at and for the terminal vacations, Mr. Hutchinson's visits to the more distant places have been both rare and brief. Saga can be visited in a long day, as the railway from Fukuoka goes within eighteen miles. Mr. Fuller spent the summer months at this place, and the Christians greatly endeared themselves to him. In November he visited Oyamada, by Mr. Hutchinson's request, to administer the Lord's Supper. He says of this visit:—

Out-stations.

Prayer meeting at Oyamada.

I think I may say no visit to any Mission station, whether in China or Japan, has given me the pleasure which my visit to Oyamada afforded me. I arrived quite unexpectedly on a Saturday evening, and found no less than sixty Christians assembled to ask God's blessing upon the coming Sabbath-day. Both morning and evening on the following day, evidently, every one who could possibly be present for worship had not failed to come. The heartiness of the responses was all that could be desired.

The number of communicants in the district has more than doubled in the year. Mr. Hutchinson says:—

Last year we had but sixty, now we have 142 brethren, with whom it is indeed a delightsome privilege to break bread at the Lord's Table. I doubt whether there are many communities at home where the communicants number half the total of the baptized members young and old.

Kumamoto.

The Rev. J. B. Brandram was married in March to Miss M. G. Smith, the lady missionary who was added to the staff at this station in 1888.

The chief difficulties of the year in this district are the same as are mentioned by several of the other missionaries; but at Kumamoto they seem to be more pronounced. One is the increased activity of the Buddhists, and another is the prevalent political excitement; and these have on occasions co-operated to oppose the Gospel. Mr. Brandram, writing in December, said:—

Buddhism and politics.

Since the beginning of the year politics have been engaging the attention of the people to an unprecedented extent all over the country. In the province of Kumamoto especially, political feeling is very strong. The Conservative and anti-foreign party, chiefly to gain the Buddhist vote and as a party cry, call their opponents "Christian." The Progressive party are, of course, hampered by this, and so beg the Christians who are with them not to show their colours. At the same time, all are unanimous in declaring that it is unpatriotic to take no part in politics. And so the Christians and inquirers are between two fires. Quarrels and free fights have taken place. Men have, in many cases, divorced their wives for being opposed to them in politics. Not only has the opposition been considerable, but these things have preoccupied men's minds.

Refractoriness of young men.

But a more painful trial has been the disposition which has manifested itself among many of the young Christians. Mr. Brandram wrote:—

Since the beginning of the year there has been a spirit of dissatisfaction amongst our young men. It is difficult to find the cause. They seem to dislike any kind of form or order. For instance, at times when we are accustomed to stand in the services, they would show their liberty by sitting down. They seem to desire something new and scientific, and are hardly patient at the limited scope of a foreigner's power of expressing himself in Japanese. In reality, I fear, they are weary of Christ and of Him crucified, and God forbid that one should leave off preaching Him to satisfy them!

A thankworthy set-off, however, against these trials is found in the increased zeal and earnestness of the leading Christians who form the Kumamoto Church Commitee, and the number of catechumens and inquirers. Thirty-four adults were baptized during the year.

III. THE ISLAND OF SHIKOKU.

The Rev. W. P. Buncombe reports a year of many encouragements at Tokushima, on this island, where he resides. He says:— Tokushima.

Last year, the only Japanese who publicly spoke and testified for Christ was Mr. Makioka, the catechist. Now, thank God, in our church there are, besides the pastor and three catechists, five young men who more or less regularly go to the preaching-places and plead with voice and lives for the Master; and of the Presbyterian brethren, there are two catechists, and several active Christian workers. Last year, there were but 25 Christians (including children) in Tokushima, this year there are 80 baptized Christians (both churches included) and perhaps 20 or 30 promising catechumens. Under God, most of this increase can be traced, more or less, to the eight days' "Mission" which was held here last February, an account of which I have already forwarded to you.

The Rev. Torato Terata has been transferred from Hakodate to this station on account of his health, and Mr. Makioka, the catechist, has been ordained deacon and located at Osaka, as already mentioned. The Native Christians at Tokushima made great efforts to raise funds for the purchase of land and the erection of a church. With help obtained by Mr. Buncombe a suitable piece of land, with a good house upon it, was purchased in the summer. In October, a few weeks after they had obtained possession, this house was burnt down. The same evening the Christians met and decided to do all in their power to rebuild the house, and promised to contribute $80 before the end of the year. This they faithfully did, and, European friends assisting, the house has been rebuilt. At some of the Out-stations the work is very promising. There are 28 Christians, 24 belonging to five families, at Tomiska, and at Muya there are several catechumens.

In February meetings for non-Christians were held, when great opposition was experienced. Mr. Buncombe wrote :—

Meetings for non-Christians

The meetings began on February 2nd, and continued till February 9th. Three meetings were held every day—for women, conducted by the female workers under the direction of Miss Hamilton, a second for the students of the school, and a general meeting in the largest theatre every evening. These last meetings were exceedingly noisy, organized opposition being raised with the object of forcing us to cease from the work; speaking was very difficult, and at times almost impossible. The mission-house was stoned for three successive nights, and but for the interference of the police would have been seriously damaged. But the Lord enabled us to carry through the programme we had arranged, and we doubt not the witness so emphatically given will result in many being added to the Lord. The Christians behaved very well and with perfect good temper under the somewhat trying circumstances, the Lord being their Keeper. It is too early yet to speak of results.

IV. THE ISLAND OF YEZO.

THE Rev. W. Andrews is in general charge of the work at Hakodate and the outstations. The Rev. J. Batchelor, who left in January on sick leave—his furlough was, however, due—conducted the Mission to the Ainus. Miss Payne is engaged in school work at Kushiro, where she lives alone. Physical obstacles are those on which Mr. Andrews lays stress, and some of them at least are peculiar to this one among the islands of Japan. They are, the great distance between the towns, the condition of the roads or the absence of roads, and the expense of travelling. The use of a bicycle has surmounted the last of the difficulties mentioned; but, in the face of the bad roads, sometimes it must be feared at a heavy cost of labour and discomfort to the missionary.

Hakodate.

There are five congregations in the island, at considerable distances apart. The one at HAKODATE consists of nineteen men, thirteen women, and twenty-one children. At Tate, forty miles distant, there are fourteen baptized adults. At HOROBETSU, which is the headquarters for the Ainu work, the congregation consists of seventeen adults. At Kushiro most of the Christians belong to the official class, they number twenty-eight adults.

Mr. Batchelor sends an interesting report of the AINU MISSION. He says :—

were able to do a good deal of itinerating amongst the Ainus. The full congregations and rapt attention of the hearers, the keen interest shown in the magic-lantern exhibitions, and the telling questions asked and intelligent remarks made by the people, have been very encouraging features in the work; and these features have, we are happy to say, been noticeable in every village we have visited. Many times this summer have I been asked to continue preaching, even after speaking for upwards of an hour, and the invitations to go to other and distant villages have been warm, earnest, and frequent. But being single-handed, what could I do in a district nearly as large as Ireland? Work among Ainus.

One Ainu only has been gathered into the Church. He is a lame lad, aged nineteen, whom we have taken as pupil-teacher in our Ainu school.

Two services were held by Mr. Batchelor in Japanese and one in Ainu every Sunday, the former attended by fifteen, the latter by six.

Translations of the Book of Jonah and of St. Matthew's Gospel in Ainu, by Mr. Batchelor, have been printed at Tokio for the British and Foreign Bible Society. Translations.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

I. Diocese of Auckland. II. Diocese of Waiapu.
III. Diocese of Wellington.

Archdeacons S. Williams and E. B. Clarke.

The Committee had the pleasure of welcoming in July Archdeacon S. Williams, of Te Aute, in the diocese of Waiapu, and Archdeacon E. B. Clarke, of Waimate, in the diocese of Auckland.

Archdeacon Samuel Williams was on his first visit to England since his early childhood, after sixty-six years' continuous residence in New Zealand, and forty-three years as an Honorary Missionary of the Society. In replying to the Committee's welcome, he contrasted the attitude of the Maories in the south-east districts, where he labours, with those in the other parts of the Northern Island, the former having remained loyal to the British Government, and having never abandoned Christianity. They have maintained daily services in every village, while in the principal villages churches have been erected.

Archdeacon Clarke, with Mrs. Clarke, came to England at the special invitation of the Committee for a much-needed rest and change, after an interval of thirty-three years since his former visit. He is responsible for the superintendence of all the Maori work in the diocese of Auckland, where the Native Church, though still in its infancy, is considerably organized. The Archdeacon referred to the Kingites and Kooti-ites, who renounced Christianity when they repudiated allegiance to the British Government. A great change is taking place among them, and the Archdeacon is now treated with respect, and invited to repeat his visits where a few years since he was met with insults. He also stated that many are now renouncing Hauhauism and Mormonism, and are rebuilding the churches which had been deserted.

Archdeacon and Mrs. Williams returned to the Mission in January. The Committee deeply sympathize with Archdeacon and Mrs. Clarke in the trial of Mrs. Clarke's serious ill-health; they hope to return in July.

I. DIOCESE OF AUCKLAND.

THE European staff consists of the Rev. R. Burrows, Secretary of the Land Board, the Rev. F. T. Baker, residing at Waitara, and the veteran retired missionary, the Rev. J. Matthews, who lives at Kaitaia.

Visit of two Native pastors to the King Country.

In May and June the Rev. Wiki te Paa, and Hone W. T. Papahia, native pastors of Waima Maku and Whangaroa respectively, visited the King Country, south of Auckland, in the Waikato valley. The following extracts from their journal illustrate the statement of Archdeacon Clarke to the Committee referred to above, regarding the attitude of the Kingites and the Hauhaus of this region :—

On Tuesday, the 30th, we left for Parawera. There we found a large gathering (chiefly Hauhaus). At first our hearts were very dark, as we could not see any opening whereby we could preach the Gospel to these Hauhaus; but we talked with them day by day until Sunday, June 2nd, when the people had become more friendly, and were much softened. At the morning service there were sixty-seven present. We had the same number in the evening. We stayed here over Sunday, the 9th. At the services on that day a much larger number attended. We saw their doubting as to their belief in their Hauhau worship. They had ceased their evil-speaking and ill-feeling towards us.

Hitiri te Paerata, a chief of Ngatiraukawa, said to us, when wishing us good-bye, "that he would give up Hauhauism and the other false systems of worship, and that his worship should be according to the worship of the Church of England." Although we were much cast down the first day or two, afterward, up to the time we left, we were much gladdened, and we left with joyful hearts. We spent here (Parawera) ten days.

On Monday, June 10th, we went to Otorohanga, and on Tuesday paid a visit to Te Kuiti, to see Taonui, one of the chiefs of Ngatimaniapoto. These are the words of this aged man. He told me that his great desire was that ministers should come often to preach the Gospel to Ngatimaniapoto. We stayed here two days, and then returned to Otorohanga. Here we spent Sunday, June 16th. At the morning service there were sixty-seven present, and fifty-eight at the evening service. All the time we remained here (Otorohanga) we had service every day at 4 p.m. in the building in which the Land Court was being held. All the people who attended the Land Court came also to our services.

On Wednesday, June 19th, we arrived at Pukekawa, the residence of Tawhiao. There were about 100 people at this place; they were taking up the bones of the dead, but they gave up sufficient time to come to our service; but during the time we were there, until we were leaving, we did not find anything encouraging. What we heard was bad, proud speaking, relating to the body only. We were both much grieved, and our thoughts were, "When will these men see the light?"

On Friday morning, the 21st, we preached to them the word from Genesis vii. At the close of that service some men stood up and spoke well of the portion of Scripture from which we had preached. By this we saw that a door was opened to us, and we showed them from the Scriptures the error of all teaching which is contrary thereto, and the correctness of the teaching that is in accordance with God's Word. We talked together about an hour. After a while one of the Hauhaus turned round and spoke evil of their worship. He said, "They now saw their worship was not of God; indeed, that it was no worship at all." On our leaving many wished us good-bye, and said, "Go, friends; return again soon; our hearts have been cheered." Here our hearts were cheered also, for we saw that our visit to that settlement had "borne fruit."

II. DIOCESE OF WAIAPU.

Archdeacon W. L. Williams supervises the most of the Natives Pastorates in this diocese, residing at Gisborne. His son, the Rev. H. W. Williams, B. A., of Jesus College, Cambridge, has been appointed to succeed the Rev. E. Jennings, as tutor at the Theological College, Mr. Jennings having accepted the Mastership of a Native Boys' School at Warragrahika. The Rev. G. Maunsell has charge of Opotiki, the Rev. W. Goodyear is at Maketu, where the Rev. S. M. Spencer, on the retired list, also resides; and Mr. J. W. Duffus labours at Tauranga.

Theological Class

There were eighteen students in the Theological Class during the past year. The health of several of these proved unsatisfactory, and their return after the Christmas vacation was not sanctioned; but Archdeacon Williams expected to have sixteen students when the class reopened. The Rev. H. W. Williams, who has been appointed tutor by the Mission Board, gave assistance in the class during 1889.

Pastorates

The Pastorates on the eastern coast, worked by eleven Native clergymen, are reported on by the Archdeacon. One of these pastors, the Rev. M. Pahewa, of Tokomaru, is nearly blind from cataract. "It is surprising," the Archdeacon says, "how much he accomplishes even now, through having committed to memory many passages of Scripture, and various parts of the Prayer Book."

At the beginning of last year a considerable amount of political and religious excitement was aroused in the neighbourhood of Opotiki by an effort on the part of Te Kooti (who was one of the most powerful of the insurgent chiefs in the war of 1860) to visit Gisborne with a large number of armed followers. Mr. Maunsell and the local constable had much difficulty in preventing a resort to arms on the part of a loyal tribe in the neighbourhood, who resolved to intercept Te Kooti by force. Troops from Auckland to Gisborne arrived opportunely on the scene, and most of Te Kooti's followers were put under arrest. He himself, after making his escape, was secured and conveyed to Auckland, but was subsequently released on bail. A meeting of the new Native Church Board for the diocese was held at Opotiki during the year. Archdeacon Williams presided in the unavoidable absence of Bishop Stuart. The Te Kooti-ites held aloof, but the Church people showed great interest, and entertained the visitors with much hospitality.

Te Kooti under arrest.

In the MAKETU district the attendance at the services has improved. Mr. Goodyear says, "The questions asked, the Scripture difficulties solved, all point to a closer convergence of the Maori mind upon the things of Christ."

The Rev. A. F. Williams, whose charges are borne entirely by Archdeacon S. Williams, has superintended the Maori work at TE AUTE since the Archdeacon came to this country. He has made good progress in the language, and his visits to the Native villages are warmly welcomed. The services are hearty and well attended.

Commentaries on St. Mark's Gospel and on the Epistle to the Galatians in the Maori language, which have been for some time in manuscript, are now being printed by the S.P.C.K.

III. DIOCESE OF WELLINGTON.

ONLY at Whanganui and Otaki are there European missionaries in the diocese of Bishop Hadfield. The Rev. Alfred O. Williams is at the former place, and the Rev. James McWilliam and Mr. N. Jennings at the latter.

Mr. Williams, of WHANGANUI, had a severe attack of typhoid fever in the spring, which laid him aside for several months. The fact of his being thus disabled from taking his usual active part in the work seems, he says, to have drawn out the Maori Christians. He gives an interesting example of their missionary zeal :—

> About two years ago the Rev. Arona Te Hana and myself succeeded in gaining over a large pa, called Awahuri, where until then all the Natives had been Hauhaus. Last January the Bishop of Wellington confirmed about thirty-five candidates from that place, and we have met with much encouragement; but it was not until August last that they took any very decided steps towards spreading the Gospel to others. At the end of August a letter reached me from them asking me to come down (about sixty miles) and hold a "Mission," and one of their lay readers came to see me, and the gist of his talk was as follows: "We had a large meeting, and came to the conclusion that we were greatly to blame. Some of the speakers reminded us that we had now enjoyed the privilege of hearing the Gospel preached for two years, and yet we had done nothing towards bringing our Hauhau friends, and those who have no religion, to the Truth; so after a long discussion we decided that we would hold a large meeting and invite all the Mormons, Hauhaus, and those who made no profession of religion, and then ask you and the Rev. Arona Te Hana to come and preach to them. We then separated, half of the tribe setting to work to build houses for the expected visitors, and the other half preparing food for them. This is the meeting which you are now invited to attend."

Efforts of Native Christians to recover the Hauhaus.

I need hardly say what delight it afforded me. I went down, though only strong enough for the morning service, and I have never seen anything like the earnestness manifested. It would have done friends of the Maories in England good to have been with us. We had most hearty services, and no less than 121 communicants, and as the result of the meeting every Maori between Whanganui and Palmerston has now joined us. Our services in this part of the district are a great treat.

On the other hand, some sixty of the Maoris of the Whanganui River have left the Mission and joined Te Kooti.

In the Otaki district also a sad secession has occurred, the majority of the inhabitants of a small village near Porirua having gone over to the Mormons. Mr. McWilliams says:—

I am glad to say, however, that those who were really, and not merely nominally, Christians and Churchmen have remained faithful to the Church, and will no doubt in time, by their consistent example and arguments, win the more intelligent and spiritually-minded of their brethren back again. When I was last there I was shown a copy of the "Book of Mormon," which has just been published in the Maori language, and which had been lent to our lay-reader in hopes that it would turn him to Mormonism. But it had no such effect. Fortunately he is very intelligent, thoughtful, and, for a Maori, well-read man. He characterized the book as "a jumble of platitudes and nonsense, intermixed plentifully with cribbings from our Holy Scriptures with the sense altered and the names of persons and places changed." He said, had it come to them before the Bible, it might have been some improvement on their former condition of heathenism and constant strife to have followed its teaching, but to attempt to introduce it now, as an advance upon the teaching of the Bible, was like trying to make them believe that fern-root was better food than bread and mutton; but yet numbers of unstable souls have been attracted and drawn away by its novelty and pretentiousness.

The influence of Te Whiti in this neighbourhood is on the wane. The Maori Christians at Otaki collected 12*l.* towards an outfit for a young man who went up from that district to the Gisborne Theological Class, and a further contribution of 7*l.* was sent towards the expenses of the class.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

I. Dioceses of Rupert's Land and Qu'Appelle.
II. Diocese of Moosonee.
III. Dioceses of Saskatchewan and Calgary.
IV. Diocese of Athabasca.
V. Diocese of Mackenzie River.

The above enumeration of the divisions of the North-west America Mission embraces all the dioceses in the ecclesiastical Province of Rupert's Land. Dr. R. Machray, D.D., Bishop of Rupert's Land, is the Metropolitan, during whose episcopate of twenty-five years all the other dioceses have been formed. Of the other five Bishops, the three oldest were, and indeed still are, missionaries of the Society, viz., Dr. Horden, Bishop of Moosonee, Dr. Bompas, Bishop of Mackenzie River, and Dr. Young, Bishop of Athabasca. The remaining two are Dr. Anson, Bishop of Qu'Appelle, in whose diocese the Society is represented by only one clergyman; and Dr. Pinkham, Bishop of Saskatchewan and Calgary.

The Committee observe with thankfulness the increasing interest in missionary work which the Church of England in Canada is manifesting. In July last they had the pleasure of replying to a letter addressed to them by the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Canadian Church, regarding the best way to undertake and support foreign missionary work.

I. DIOCESES OF RUPERT'S LAND AND QU'APPELLE.

1. Red River district, 1823; 2. Touchwood Hills, 1857; 3. Fort Alexander district, 1864; 4. Rainy Lake district, 1874.

Ordination.

The Bishop of Rupert's Land visited several of the distant stations in his diocese in July, and confirmed candidates. In August he admitted Mr. J. G. Anderson, who had been labouring at Long Sault since September, 1888, to deacon's orders. Archdeacon Phair, upon whom the general superintendence of the Indian work in the diocese now devolves, returned, with Mrs. Phair, to the Mission in December. He has been appointed joint secretary of the Mission with the Rev. A. E. Cowley, who also resides at Winnipeg.

St. Peter's Indian Settlement to the North of Winnipeg has been under the spiritual charge of the Rev. B. McKenzie; the Rev. James Settee, who retired from active work in the Saskatchewan diocese in 1884, also resides in this settlement; on the Winnipeg River further east are the stations of Lansdowne and Islington, at the former of which the Rev. W. Owen is stationed, the Rev. B. Spence being at the latter; still further east the Rev. J. G. Anderson, the newly ordained deacon, has commenced his labours at Lac Seul, in succession to the Rev. J. Irvine, who has taken a charge in the Algoma diocese; while in the opposite direction, to the north-west from Red River, the Rev. G. Bruce has charge of the Fairford district, and the Rev. A. Cook is at Stagville.

St. Peter's.

The number of Church families in the Indian Reserve which forms the parish of ST. PETER'S is 240, three-fourths of whom are Swampy Crees, and the rest Soto. Mr. McKenzie has been much encouraged by the active interest shown by the vestry and congregation in repairing the church. There are still a few heathen (Soto) in the district, but their number is being gradually reduced. Four were baptized during the past year, one of whom died soon afterwards, pressing the claims of the Gospel upon her husband and children with her dying breath. At Muckle Creek in the north-west corner of the reserve, there are sixteen families, who meet for worship in the school.

Fairford.

Each of the different groups, or "bands," of Indians in the FAIRFORD district has a school-house in which Divine Service is conducted. There are four such buildings, which form a chain of out-stations extending over forty miles eastward from Fairford. The Indians' contributions are given willingly, notwithstanding great poverty, which in consequence of the depletion of white fish in the lakes and rivers becomes greater year by year. White traders are becoming familiar at Fairford, and their influence is too often against sobriety and morality, not to say spirituality. In some instances, however, the Indians have stood firm. Mr. Bruce mentions a case in which heathen Indians protested against the impure life of a so-called Christian trader. He says:—

Protest against impurity by heathen Indians.

Last October a French-Canadian (a trader), with an outfit of merchandise, &c., landed at an Indian reserve for the purpose of trading with the Indians. As yet, in this reserve, there is only one "praying family" Protestants. The Indians, finding out after a few days that the trader was not lawfully married to the woman who accompanied him, objected to trade with him, and in the meantime reported the case to the Government, and appealed for his removal from their reserve, which was recently carried out.

It must be observed, however, that the majority of the above band of heathen Indians are able to read in the syllabic characters, and are acquainted to some extent with the Holy Scriptures. The Bishop confirmed thirty-five candidates at Stagville in June. Mr. Cook holds services fortnightly at Ebb and Flow, and quarterly at Sandy Bay, as well as weekly at Stagville where he resides.

Lansdowne.

The number of baptized Christians at LANSDOWNE is 274. The Bishop confirmed 59 in January last. Archdeacon Phair, who had accompanied the Bishop, translated the addresses sentence by sentence. Two voluntary helpers at this station are referred to by Mr. Owen. He says:—

> One of our Christian Indians, a man who has been of great help to me from the beginning, is coming forward to meet this want, and I believe he will give general satisfaction, as he has led a very exemplary life for many years, and is much respected by the band. He has considerable influence, and exercises it invariably for good. Hitherto he was not able to read the service, but this winter, by great perseverance, he has mastered the morning and evening services, and has about half a dozen chapters in the New Testament which he knows perhaps by heart better than by sight. I was very much struck by his perseverance on one occasion this winter. One stormy evening, about seven o'clock, here comes Joseph Kent to the Mission, with his book under his arm. He puts on his spectacles, opens his Testament at the second chapter of the Epistle to the Ephesians, and asks me, "What is this word?" and when I told him, he shut the book, put his spectacles in the case, and was going home right away, feeling quite satisfied, after having walked more than a mile and crossing the river. He did not wish to intrude that evening, as it was not one of our appointed evenings for reading together; but on my requesting him to stay, he did, and we read the whole chapter through together.

A persevering student.

Mr. Owen received five into the congregation, of whom four were Roman Catholics. The fifth was a young woman who was led to desire baptism through the death of her infant child, who had been baptized, the husband being a Christian. She said "she wanted to go to her little baby when she died." The grandmother of this young convert told Mr. Owen a story which touchingly illustrates the power of the domestic affections among these Indians. Mr. Owen quotes her words from his diary:—

> "I buried," she said, "some twenty years ago, a grown-up son; and a fine young man he was. On his death-bed he wished very much to see the minister and be baptized. We sent a man to ask the minister to come to see my son, but the minister refused to come; but as my son wanted so much to see the minister, we sent the second and the third time for him, but he refused to come again and again, and my son died unbaptized. If my son had been baptized then, I would have been a Christian long ago; very likely I would have taken the religion along with my son, because I loved him so much. But now I cannot come in and leave my son outside." Some time after, I found out that this old widow's husband, who was a great medicine-man—the head-man in the long tent—and one of Mr. Phair's most troublesome enemies in those days, went out of the wigwam after the Indian who was to carry the dying young man's message to Mr. Phair, and told him not to go near the minister, but to smoke outside the wigwam for about as long as it would take him to go to the Mission and back, and then come in and say that the minister had refused to come; and the messenger dared not to disobey this great old medicine-man, but did as he was told. Even the third time, when the young man begged of the Indian, with tears in his eyes, to bring the minister, the father played the same cruel deception on his dying son. This old wife stands very much in need of our prayers.

"I cannot come and leave my son outside."

Mr. Anderson at LAC SEUL has baptized three adult Indians, and received four from the Church of Rome.

TOUCHWOOD HILLS, in the Qu'Appelle diocese, was visited by Archdeacon Phair in February. The Manitoba Finance Committee are making provision for the Rev. G. Cook to reside nearer to the Indians to whom he ministers.

II. DIOCESE OF MOOSONEE.

BISHOP HORDEN left England in May to return to his diocese, his purpose being, after visiting York Factory and Churchill, to come back to England as the shortest way of getting to his home at Moose. He travelled viâ Quebec and Montreal to Winnipeg; thence by steamer through Lake Winnipeg to Norway House, where he met and preached to a large number of Indians; by lake and river he then proceeded to Oxford House, where he remained eighteen days, devoting the time to instructing residents and Indians; from this place, again by boat, a week's travelling brought him to Fort York. Thence he went on two hundred miles north, through an ice-bound sea, to Churchill, "the outpost of civilization." He missed meeting Mr. and Mrs. Lofthouse, who arrived at Churchill on August 22, a few weeks after the Bishop had left to return to Fort York. The Bishop was, by a wholly unexpected and almost unprecedented opportunity, enabled to proceed to Moose direct. For the first time during a period of twenty years, a vessel from Moose visited Fort York for supplies, by which Bishop Horden's return to Moose.

Bishop Horden returned, and arrived at Moose on September 13th. He spent the winter at Rupert's House.

The Bishop's letter closes with anticipations of further journeyings. He says:—

> Next summer there will be great journeyings; every clergyman in the diocese will be on the move; every district will be visited throughout, and we trust God's gracious blessing will crown our exertions with success. I myself go along the East Main coast, going first to East Main station, and then going on to Fort George to the faithful Pecks, taking Peck himself with me on my way farther north to the Whale Rivers.

Ordination.

On Sunday, August 11th, at Fort York, the Bishop admitted William Dick, a Cree Indian, to deacon's orders. Mr. Dick was born at Fort York, where his father was a trapper of great repute for the Hudson Bay Company. "Truly marvellous," the Bishop says, "were some of his trips, for he was by far the best walker in the country." He died a respected Christian man in 1888. His son was baptized by Mr. Mason. He has done a good work as a catechist at Trout Lake and Severn.

The Rev. J. and Mrs. Lofthouse sailed in June for Churchill.

The Rev. H. Nevitt had charge of the Albany district last year, Archdeacon Vincent of that of Moose, the Rev. John Sanders of Matawakumma, the Rev. E. J. Peck of Fort George, the Rev. E. Richards of Rupert's House, the Rev. W. Dick, since his ordination, of Trout Lake, and the Rev. J. Lofthouse since his return in August, of Churchill.

Archdeacon Vincent has diligently ministered to the people at Moose and its out-stations. The people contributed 54*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.* to the offertory. Two of these, whose success in hunting had been very moderate, yet contributed 2*l.* 8*s.* and 2*l.* respectively.

"Not a single person who does not attend church."

In the whole district of York Factory, Archdeacon Winter says, there is not a single person who does not attend church. He adds that "the majority would travel a great distance on Saturday, and even through the night, so as to be in their places in the house of prayer." He instances a boat's crew which arrived from Churchill on the Sunday before he wrote his Annual Letters, who, after several days' exposure on the coast, did not go home to rest until they had first attended the afternoon service at the church. The Bishop confirmed 72 candidates while at York, a few of whom were from Severn. The country around Fort York is becoming more impoverished every year. Archdeacon Winter says:—

During the winter there was but one continuous cry, coming from wives and children of the poor unfortunate hunters—"Give me something to eat; I am very hungry." Many a time the men returned to their camp, threw themselves down in their tents, after roaming about for a whole day, and there lay until relief came to them. On one occason the relief party found the inhabitants of a tent perfectly helpless—the dear children, to whom had been given the last morsel of meat a day or two previously, crying bitterly. On another occasion the same household, or rather tenthold, subsisted on four squirrels for about a week. The family consisted of a grandmother, father and mother, and seven or eight children. And even during the present summer some of those same children have not been able to come to school, as they have had no breakfast. But amid all these terrible privations they leave themselves entirely in God's hands, and say, as one of old, "Let Him do what seemeth Him good." The father came to see me as soon as he came in last June, and gave me a sad account of all that had taken place, but his face beamed with gratitude when he referred to the preservation of all. This man, I believe, has never used his gun on Sunday, but with a sorrowful heart he told me that he had been obliged to visit his hooks on Sunday—his poor children were crying for food. He got some fish, and took them to his tent, but his heart smote him; then he ventured to say grace, but he was afraid that God would not bless that food; and his conscience would give him no rest until he had come to the missionary. I had no scruple in telling him that he had done perfectly right, and that God was pleased to grant him His blessing.

A family subsisting for a week on four squirrels.

A conscientious Indian.

Mrs. Winter gives assistance daily in the school. Her knowledge of Cree, the Bishop writes, exceeds that of any European lady he has met with in the country.

No Annual Letters have been received from Mr. Nevitt or from Mr. Peck.

Of CHURCHILL the Bishop wrote:—

The Gospel has made good progress here, and all the Crees and Chipewyans are Christians, and almost every one of them can read in books in their own tongue of the wonderful works of God. The Eskimo are not yet brought in, but many of them are inquirers; and I trust it will not be long before the greater part of them will rejoice with ourselves in being inheritors of the Kingdom of Heaven. I did not see the Rev. J. and Mrs. Lofthouse, as they had not arrived from England. They have worked indefatigably, for I could not have found Churchill as I did had they not been instant in season and out of season labouring for the welfare of their flock.

The Bishop at Churchill.

The Bishop states that he baptized and married many, and confirmed forty-five candidates at this station. Mrs. Lofthouse was very weak on arriving at Churchill, but had much recovered at the date of Mr. Lofthouse's last letter in January.

III. DIOCESE OF SASKATCHEWAN AND CALGARY.

Cumberland and Devon, 1840; Stanley, 1850; Sandy Lake (Asisipi), 1875; Battleford, 1876; Prince Albert, 1879; Fort McLeod, 1880; Grand Rapids, 1881; Blackfoot Crossing, 1883.

Visitation tour by Bishop Pinkham.

BISHOP PINKHAM, accompanied most of the way by Archdeacon J. A. Mackay, made a tour of visitation to nearly all the C.M.S. stations in the diocese of Saskatchewan (Fort McLeod and Blackfoot Crossing are in Calgary Diocese) in the summer, confirming 290 Indians. The distance travelled in the course of this tour was between 5000 and 6000 miles, chiefly by water, but a good distance also in wagons on the prairies.

Ordinations.

At Battleford, on St. Barnabas Day, June 11th, the Bishop admitted the Rev. R. Inkster, and on August 24th, at Prince Albert, the Rev. John Badger, to Priest's Orders; and on September 8th he admitted Mr. D. D. McDonald, who was a student at St. John's College, Winnipeg, also at Emmanuel College, and had laboured as a teacher at Fort Pitt, since the Rev. C. Quinney left. The Rev. J. W. Tims, during his stay in this country, saw through the Press a grammar and dictionary of the language spoken by the Blackfoot Indians, which the S.P.C.K. has published; and that Society has also generously undertaken to publish a translation by Mr. Tims of portions of the Old Testament in the same language. Mr. Tims returned to the Mission in March.

Devon.

Beginning from the east, the first Mission district is that on the lower course of the Saskatchewan River, of which the Rev. J. Hines is in charge, residing at DEVON, where he was rejoined by Mrs. Hines in the summer, on her return from England. Here the Bishop confirmed 43 candidates. There are 700 baptized Christians in the district, and 214 communicants. Below this station, near where the river falls into Lake Winnipeg, is the Grand Rapids, where the Rev. J. Sinclair, a Native clergyman, labours under Mr. Hines' superintendence. In the same neighbourhood, some distance north of the river, is Moose Lake. Archdeacon Mackay visited this station in the summer, and he writes:—

Improvement at Moose Lake.

> At Moose Lake, I was struck with the marvellous work that has been accomplished there, chiefly through the instrumentality of the Rev. J. R. Settee, now at Sandy Lake. When I first visited those Indians, twenty-six years ago, they were the hardest heathen that I have ever met with, and, until within the last few years, work among them seemed utterly hopeless. Now they are among the most earnest in seeking the way of life.

Ascending the Saskatchewan, PRINCE ALBERT is reached, where the Society's Local Finance Committee for the Diocese of Saskatchewan meet, and where, at Emmanuel College, the Indian Divinity Students receive their training. Archdeacon J. A. Mackay resides here. He is the Secretary of the Mission, and has the general charge of the College, which had five Native students on the Society's list at the end of the year, one preparing for Holy Orders, and the others for work as teachers. Near to Prince Albert, and under Archdeacon Mackay's supervision, are several other stations. Nepowewin, where the Rev. J. Badger resided until April, 1889, in October was placed under the Rev. A. H. Wright by the Finance Committee, a student of Emmanuel College having occupied it during the interval. The Rev. J. Badger is now stationed in the district of St. James, where the baptized Christians number 257. Sandy Lake is under the Rev. J. R. Settee's charge, "a most earnest and faithful pastor," the Archdeacon says. Lake Assiniboine is seventy miles distant from Prince Albert, and a Native teacher trained at Emmanuel College is stationed among the Indians, who "though recent converts, are earnest in following the way of truth." Sturgeon Lake has only lately received a catechist. It is described as "the last stronghold of heathenism in the district," and the Indians had previously refused to allow a teacher to reside on their reserve. Stanley is on the English River, some 300 miles to the north, and has been superintended from Devon by Mr. Hines. But it has been arranged that it and Pelican Narrows shall be superintended from Prince Albert by Archdeacon Mackay, a new road having rendered these places more accessible from Prince Albert than from Devon. The Bishop spent a Sunday at Pelican Narrows in June, and he wrote that "he never enjoyed a Sunday more anywhere;" he also expressed thankfulness "for the staunchness of these poor people, who only receive occasional ministrations, to the principles of the Gospel, notwithstanding the efforts made by the resident priest to draw them away from the truth."

Prince Albert.

An enjoyable Sunday at Pelican Narrows.

Staunchness of the people at Pelican Narrows.

Again ascending the Saskatchewan River, BATTLEFORD is reached, where the Rev. R. Inkster is in charge, residing at Red Pheasants' Reserve. The Romish priests have been exceedingly aggressive in this district, and "have devoted their time," Archdeacon Mackay says, "to undermining our efforts with considerable success." In order to strengthen Mr. Inkster's hands, the Rev. D. D. McDonald, who was ordained deacon in September, has been transferred from Onion

Battleford

Lake to Thunderchild's Reserve. By this means the encroachments of the priests have been at least temporarily checked.

Still higher up the river, where it nears the boundary of the Diocese of Calgary, is FORT PITT, on the Onion Lake, where the Rev. I. J. Taylor labours. The Bishop confirmed four men and six women here, the fruit of Mr. McDonald's labours.

Fort McLeod.

At the south of the Calgary Diocese are the two stations of BLACKFOOT CROSSING and FORT MCLEOD. To the former the Rev. J. W. Tims has returned from his furlough. His work was carried on during his absence by the Rev. S. Stocken and Mr. F. Swainson. Mr. Trivett cannot speak of converts at Fort McLeod, but he finds the Indians when he visits their camps (and his travelling averages over 100 miles a week) very ready to attend the services he holds, in some camps as many as three-fourths of the population being present. The old belief, he is persuaded, is passing away. Last year the Sun Dance was a complete failure, and the annual festival for dedicating children to the sun was not held at all.

IV. DIOCESE OF ATHABASCA.

Fort Chipewyan, 1867; Fort Vermilion, 1876; Fort Dunvegan, 1886; St. Peter's, Lesser Slave Lake, 1887; Christ Church, Shaftesbury, 1888.

As stated in last year's Report, Bishop Young has taken Archdeacon Reeve's place at Chipewyan during the latter's absence on furlough. The Bishop visited during the year all the Mission stations except Lesser Slave Lake, and saw all the missionaries. Perils and adventures on these journeys were frequent. The Bishop says:—

Travelling perils encountered by Bishop Young.

> On one occasion a huge block of ice, piled some fifteen feet above the water, fell with a heavy splash a few feet ahead of the canoe; a few moments later, and canoe and occupants would have been crushed. It was with thankful hearts that two or three days later we left the ice-piled banks behind, which we were forced to hug to avoid the strength of the current. We were, however, still not without our adventures, being upset in a strong current and forced to abandon the canoe and swim for shore. Our canoe started down stream like a runaway horse who has thrown his rider, leaving us in no enviable position; wet through, no food, no means of getting a fire, and quite fifty miles from the nearest help. We, however, providentially recovered it by means of a couple of logs torn from a stranded raft, some six miles below the scene of our upset.

Fort Dunvegan, towards the Rocky Mountains, is occupied by the Rev. A. C. Garrioch; Vermilion, the Bishop's station, is temporarily under the charge of the Rev. M.

Scott; the Rev. G. Holmes is on the Lesser Slave Lake; and the Rev. J. G. Brick has commenced an agricultural station by the help of liberal contributions from Canada, at Shaftesbury.

Mr. Scott's Annual Letter is dated April, 1889. He relates the following incidents of his work:—

One day a Beaver Indian came and said, "I have heard the priest's words; now I want to hear your words: I wish to know the difference." I entered but little into "the difference," except on Mariolatry, images, and beads, feeling that it was all that he could comprehend. Then I proceeded to tell of the love of a Heavenly Father, and of a Saviour who died for him. After speaking for some time on this theme, I paused, fearing I should tire him, as it is difficult to keep their attention for any length of time. "Why do you stop?" he asked, "go on, go on; I am hungry, I am starving to hear such words. I have never heard them before." I proceeded, and when I again paused he urged me with the same words to proceed. But soon it got late, and he had to return to camp that night, as they were "pitching off" the next day. He left, saying that when he returned for the spring trade he would come again.

"I am starving to hear such words."

Among others who came for relief during this winter, was a Cree, Charlo, and his wife Caroline; both baptized Romanists. They had a little boy, Michael, in the Eirene Training School, but who died of consumption about the end of December, trusting, as we have cause to believe, in the Saviour. The parents arrived about a fortnight before his death. I immediately went to visit them. Caroline was alone in the tent. I spoke to her of her need as a sinner, of her hopeless condition, and of the love of the Lord Jesus. She was deeply impressed, and wept much. She said that she was utterly undone; she had been a great sinner; but that she wanted to trust in the Saviour. At another time she said, "I only see myself a sinner yet. I cannot see God's Son." Then she added, speaking half to herself, and clasping her hands over her heart, rocking to and fro,—"Oh, would that I could see Him! Would that He would look upon such a sinner as I am. I pray day and night to Him when I sit at my work, or when I lie awake. Oh, that He would wash me in His blood!' Shortly after this I was enabled to bring her to see Jesus. I told her of His great love to sinners—to her—that He had already washed her sins away, and all that He now wanted her to do, was just only to thank Him. After a little, the light broke very gently upon her, and with very quiet joy she told me, "Now I believe He has done it all; now my heart is full." Both she and her husband were constant attendants at our service on Sundays, and always listened attentively to our teaching.

Deep contrition of an Indian woman.

V. DIOCESE OF MACKENZIE RIVER.

Fort Simpson, 1858; Fort McPherson, and Rampart House (Tukudh Mission), 1874; Fort Norman, 1871; Forts Resolution and Rae, 1875; Fort Liard, 1887; Nuklakayit, 1888; Buxton, 1888.

Bishop Bompas spent the winter of 1888-9 at Fort Norman. During the summer he visited Fort Wrigley and Fort Resolution, and he wrote in November from Fort Simpson, where he purposed to remain for the approaching winter, the Rev. D. N. Kirkby having removed to Fort Norman.

Translations.

Archdeacon McDonald has sent home by Archdeacon Reeve translations of Genesis, Exodus and Leviticus in the Tukudh language, which the latter is seeing through the press.

The Rev. W. Spendlove is at Fort Resolution, on Great Slave Lake; Mr. A. Hardisty, a Native catechist, occupies Fort Rae, also on Great Slave Lake; and Forts Liard and Wrigley are unoccupied at present. In the Tukudh Mission Archdeacon McDonald continues at Peel River, having La Pierre's house also under his charge; the young builder, Mr. Hawksley, was also at Peel River, engaged in building operations, when the last news was sent home; the Rev. C. G. Wallis is at Rampart House; the Rev. T. H. Canham has the charge of Nuklakayit, on the Lower Youcon; and the Rev. J. W. Ellington is at the Buxton Mission. In November, 1888, Mr. Wallis visited the Netsui Kwitchin Indians at their village about 130 miles from RAMPART HOUSE. The following are extracts from his journal:—

Visit to the Netsui Kwitchin Indians.

Nov. 29th.—To-day, reached the village about noon. All the people were delighted to see me. Many of them had not seen a missionary for five years. This evening, held service in the largest camp. It was crowded with earnest worshippers. The hearty way in which they rendered the responses made my heart rejoice. Their singing was something worth listening to: it came from hearts filled with the joy of the Lord. After service brought out a parcel containing New Testaments, Prayer-books, &c. These were eagerly sought after. None were given away, but all were eager to purchase them. The fatigue felt on the journey was repaid by the kindness which they showed me. May God bless my visit to them, for Jesus Christ's sake!

Books eagerly purchased

30th.—This morning married ten couples. They were all most attentive during the service. This afternoon held a Bible-class for men. Many came and enjoyed reading together the Word of God. Held service as usual this evening. The largest camp was again filled. Their devotion is marked. The way in which they listened to a few simple words spoken to them from God's Word was very striking. May the Holy Ghost bring the Word home to their hearts, and may it have a practical influence in their daily lives!

Dec. 1st.—This morning, after writing out several copies of "Hark, the herald angels sing," I baptized twelve children. Again this afternoon held Bible-class for young men. This evening the catechist gave an address, to which they listened with great attention. After service had an earnest conversation with the chief. He longs to know and realize more of the love of Christ in his heart. He was much moved when telling me of his desire to serve Jesus.

4th.—This morning a young Indian came to me and told me of his desire to go to his own people on the Youkon, and tell them what joy and peace he had found in Jesus. This evening a most blessed time; more than one hundred present, and the power of the Holy Spirit was felt during a most stirring address given by the Native catechist. He pleaded with them to come to Christ now, and to give up sin. Many shed tears, which I trust were tears of repentance. At the conclusion of the address we knelt down to pray; but instead of praying I started the hymn, "Come to Jesus, just now." During the singing many completely broke down, and sobbed aloud. Truly the Spirit of God is working mightily among this people! "A most blessed time."

5th.—This day has indeed been a Sabbath Day. After morning prayers fifty-two gathered round the Lord's Table to commemorate our Saviour's dying love. Their joy was great in thus being enabled to fulfil their Saviour's last command, "Do this in remembrance of Me." During the evening many gathered to the chief's camp, and I described to them the second coming of Jesus, the doom of the wicked, and the eternal bliss of the children of God.

6th.—This morning said good-bye, after spending a very happy week amongst them. Many of them accompanied me on my journey for some distance, and then returned home. I promised to visit them again if God permits me to do so next winter. After a journey of five days, again reached Rampart House.

There are about 500 baptized Christians at Rampart House.

NORTH PACIFIC MISSION.

Metlakahtla, 1862; Kincolith, 1867; Massett, 1876; Alert Bay, 1878; Hazelton, 1880; Kitwanga, 1882; Aiyansh, 1883; Kitkatla, 1887.

Since his return to the Mission in May, Bishop Ridley has been almost continually on the move. At the end of June he visited the Skeena; in July he went to Alert Bay; the autumn and early winter months were spent at Metlakahtla; in January he went to Kitkatla, and on to the Nass fishing, where he remained till the middle of April. He then contemplated visiting Hazelton and the Lower Skeena. The steamer Evangeline, of which the Bishop is his own captain, and often his own engineer, is of course an indispensable auxiliary for the effectual oversight of a Mission where the communications are necessarily by water. Bishop Ridley's journeys in the Evangeline

The Bishop admitted Mr. A. E. Price to Deacon's Orders on September 1st. Ordination.

The Rev. J. H. Keen, formerly of the North-West America Mission, and more recently for some years Curate of Spitalfields under the present Bishop of Bedford; and Mr. A. W. Corker, a student at the Society's Preparatory Institution, have been added to the staff of this Mission. The latter sailed in June last year, and Mr. and Mrs. Keen sailed this year in April. Miss Eleanor G. Dickenson has also gone out to work as an honorary missionary under Bishop Ridley, though not in official connexion with the Society at present. Reinforcements.

The Rev. J. Field, who came to this country to consult an oculist last year in June, returned the following month.

The missionaries stationed at Metlakahtla are the Rev. R. W. Gurd and Dr. Vernon Ardagh. Mrs. Ardagh had an illness at Victoria, en route to the Mission, and after her arrival was seriously unwell; but the Committee are thankful that her health has since much improved. No Annual Letters from these brethren are to hand. The Government has opened an industrial school at Metlakahtla. Metlakahtla.

The Rev. W. H. Collison went to Kincolith, on the Nass River, in May, after the Bishop's return to Metlakahtla; and Mr. A. E. Price continued also at Kincolith until September. During April, Mr. Price spent most of his time at Stony Point, thirteen miles up the river from Kincolith, where the Indians gather to fish oolachans, from which they extract the grease which is one of their chief articles of food. At this place there is a small mission-house and a church. From the end of April until September is the busy canning season, carried on at the Kincolith.

mouth of the Nass. During this time, when a large number of Indians from other tribes were assembled at the station, engaged at three large canning establishments on the river, services were regularly held. The increased demand for Indian labour in connexion with these establishments has led the majority of them to abandon their old life of hunting, but the association with heathen Indians and Chinese, and, too often, with ungodly whites, proves the reverse of helpful to the Christian Indians. The winter months, however, afford opportunities for quiet influence and instruction, which Mr. Collison endeavours to improve. In November the sister of the first convert to Christianity among the Nishgas was removed by death. Mr. Collison says he has never known, amongst the Indians, such a thirsting after spiritual things as she manifested towards the last.

A dying Indian woman's thirst after spiritual things.

A few days before her death she sent me an urgent message, begging that the Holy Sacrament of the Lord's Supper might be administered to her. She enjoyed it greatly, and informed me on the following day that she was very happy. A few days after, immediately before death, when labouring for breath, she exclaimed, "Tell me more of God and heavenly things;" and when her mother began to speak of her husband and children, and of her effects, she reproved her, and requested that we might not occupy too much of the short time remaining to her in speaking of the things of earth. Her end was perfect peace and joy in believing.

During last year the Christian Indians were greatly interested in the erection of a new church at Kincolith, towards which they contributed $515. Mr. Collison says:—

Liberality of Indians.

They have done what they could. One, a poor blind girl, brought me in fifty cents, which she had earned in mat-making, and spoke so cheerfully and encouragingly that it quite stirred me up to renewed effort at a moment when I almost despaired of getting it covered in before the severity of the winter set in. Several who were unable to contribute in money have given their labour instead, the value of which, if added to the above, would raise their offerings to some $550, or about 120*l*.

Higher up the Nass River is AIYANSH, the sphere of Mr. J. B. McCullagh's labours. He testifies to a great change in the general disposition and bearing of the Indians. He says:—

Improved conduct of the Indians.

There is no hostility manifested now on our entering a heathen house to preach. Formerly, on such an occasion, if the inmates had nothing real to do, they would at once find some pretence at noisy employment in order to drown the speaker's voice. Now, if they are doing anything, it is put aside. Formerly not one of the group sitting round the hearth would make a sign of welcome; now a seat of some sort is quickly improvised, and the preacher is invited to "li-da," while those who may be sitting round the pot lay down their spoons and cover up their food. Formerly one man after another would sullenly catch up a blanket, draw it around him, and stalk out; now I am astonished to find the invitation to li-da accompanied by a taking off of hats and a general preparation to listen.

The work of instruction and edification is rendered most difficult by the people's inability to read. Mr. McCullagh is endeavouring, with some success, to remedy this, and, by the help of the Nishga Primer, which the S.P.C.K. printed last year, all the pupils were making good progress when Mr. McCullagh wrote his Annual Letter in December. Among the children eight, and among the adults ten, including an old chief, Abraham, who is "a very encouraging example of successful plodding," have acquired this art. The Indians have some measure of prejudice against the use of their own vernacular, and are generally anxious to acquire a colloquial knowledge of English. Mr. McCullagh explains how he has tried, while humouring their prejudice, to teach them their own Native language in spite of themselves. He says:—

Prejudice of Indians against their own vernacular.

I concluded that by making the vernacular a means of access to English, I should remove this prejudice, and thus secure a "free course" for such portions of God's Word as the S.P.C.K. may have the goodness to publish in the Native tongue. To this end I have composed a Nishga-English Grammar, consisting of fifty graduated lessons (Ollendorff's method), with exercises in both languages, paradigms of verbs, vocabularies, &c. It is now in typo-script and ready for printing. The first twelve lessons I had printed for use in the school this winter, and am happy to find that those children who can read Nishga are able to use it with ease and profit.

Medical work has been done, as in previous years, by Mr. McCullagh. His efforts and arrangements also for the care of the Native Christians are interesting. He says:—

All sorts of difficulties and disputes are brought before the missionary for adjustment, not only by the Mission adherents, but also by the heathen around. It is, however, a curious thing that if I have a fixed hour of the day for the hearing of anything of this kind I have very few applicants; but if I am accessible at all times, I may count upon quite a run of business. I used to think that one's influence would be extended for good by an indulgent attention to these complaints, but, with the exception of very special cases, I now regard it all as a waste of time which might be better employed. I therefore endeavour to make the Indians take care of themselves in a small way by appointing stewards from among themselves.

Church officers.

I have also appointed a worthy man to the duty of taking in hand and smoothing down such little asperities as may from time to time crop up between individuals; these are the "little foxes that spoil the vines," and need looking after.

I have also appointed our chief, Abraham, to see that family prayers are held regularly in every house, not owing to any unwillingness on the part of the people to hold them, but for the reason that in the domestic hurry incidental to their mode of living there is a great temptation to set this sacred duty aside.

Another's duty is to visit and pray with the sick, of whom there are always four or five in the village.

By the Committee's request, Mr. McCullagh has presented himself to the Bishop as a candidate for ordination.

On the Skeena River, which is a little to the south of, and a much larger river than, the Nass River, the stations of Hazelton and Giatwanga are situated. The Rev. J. Field is at HAZELTON. After the troubles in this neighbourhood referred to in last year's Report, a magistrate, Mr. Fitzstubbs, was sent to reside at this station, which he did, from August, 1888, until October, 1889. Mr. Field writes most gratefully of his friendliness, and of the effects of his presence:—

Influence of a godly magistrate at Hazelton.

The firm, just, kind, and generous policy of this gentleman was soon felt. He was not merely a magistrate; he was also a friend. At the cost of much personal convenience and comfort he devoted a good deal of time in trying to raise the condition of the people. The void which he has left behind absorbs much of the cheerfulness to which we had all grown used.

The new, or rather restored, order of things was nowhere more apparent than in the mission. It seemed as if good were the natural offspring of evil. The people, in acknowledging submission to the law of the land, returned to the church, accompanied by others who had not been before. Our congregations grew larger than ever, and evinced an interest beyond any that had hitherto been seen.

Two married couples were baptized, one in April and the other in September. One of the men, "Hakiwagash," was a candidate in 1887, but was induced by his heathen friends to attend a "potlatch." He publicly acknowledged and expressed sorrow for his conduct on that occasion; he had during the intervening two years been regular in attending church, even walking with his wife three miles during the fishing season, carrying their children on their backs, in order to be present at the services. Mr. Field's visit to England has been referred to. He arrived again at Hazelton in September. During his absence, Mrs. Field, with the assistance of Mr. Fitzstubbs, the magistrate, and a Native helper, held the services regularly and carried on the school work. In October, as the school needed repairs, the heathen chief was applied to for the use of his house for the Sunday services, Mr. Field says:—

Services conducted during missionary's absence.

The request was very graciously complied with, and we had the privilege of delivering Christ's message in the sanctum sanctorum of a heathen of heathens twice every Sunday during five weeks. The congregations were good, and the people most attentive and civil. The chief himself acted as doorkeeper, and all seemed anxious to please. A heathen chief lends his tent for services.

GIATWANGA was vacant until September, when the Rev. A. E. Price, after his ordination, was requested by the Bishop to proceed thither. At Christmas many of the people left the place to attend a "potlatch" in the neighbourhood. Mr. Price followed them after the services of New Year's Day, accompanied by an Indian. He says:—

A missionary attends a "potlatch."

Our arrival in the village caused some little excitement. They ordered us to return at once; but, having walked twenty miles through a rough trail to preach the Gospel, they could scarcely expect us to comply. The Indian who accompanied me knew no fear, and told them so when they informed him; he also was in danger of being killed for bringing me there. The reason they wished me to return was because the constables sent to arrest a murderer (a native of Giatwinlthkol) a year or so ago shot the man as he was trying to escape; and they threatened to kill the first white man who should come to their village. Three of them talked of killing me, but I suppose they forgot it.

We had services every evening from house to house, and were generally well received. Oftentimes we received encouragement from some of the well-disposed, who told us we were doing right, and would have joined us only they were afraid. On Sunday we tried ringing the bell for services, but it was quite a failure; only one boy came in the morning. We had service in the house in which we were staying with a few of those who lived there. In the evening it was more encouraging, about fifty present. We had service in every house but one, and that one belonged to the relatives of the murderer. They requested me not to enter it. It was difficult to keep warm in their large houses. The thermometer registered 34° below zero at this time.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S ISLANDS: HYDAH MISSION.

The Rev. C. Harrison has been in charge of the station at Massett, "the most isolated," as he says, "of all the C.M.S. stations in this part of the world." During the past year two of the chiefs, both Christians, died. One of these was the catechist George Cowhoe, of whom Mr. Harrison says:—

Death of George Cowhoe.

Many years ago Captain (now Admiral) Prevost saw Cowhoe, then a youth, and gave him a copy of the New Testament, with these words written on the fly-leaf, "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days" (Eccles. xi. 1). George was very proud of this book, and whenever he preached to his fellow-countrymen he generally alluded to this copy of the New Testament as the Light to guide his feet into the paths of righteousness. He said that the giving of that book was the commencement of his Christian life. Captain Prevost told him to strive and lead a Christian's life, and his words found a sure resting-place in the young man's heart, and brought forth fruit abundantly.

VANCOUVER'S ISLAND: KWA-GUTL MISSION.

The Rev. A. J. Hall is stationed at ALERT BAY, and Mr. Corker at FORT RUPERT. The former visited several tribes in February and August, Mrs. Hall accompanying him on the latter occasion. "Nothing," he says, "could have been more encouraging than to see how all the people, young and old, came to our meetings." "In every village, directly our boat touched the beach and we were recognized, crowds ran down to salute us, and, each one carrying a bundle or cooking utensil, the procession marched to our host's house."

The following instance of loyalty and courage is given by Mr. Hall:—

A loyal Indian.

On the Queen's birthday, a band of disloyal Indians roughly handled several of our converts. On inquiry, I found that our people had defended the character of the Indian Agent, the Queen's representative. One of them, whose clothing was torn, said, "I remembered your words, that we were always to say what was right because it was right, and, when appealed to, I contradicted what I knew to be false; and then a man seized me, saying, 'You are one of them!'"

Translations.

A grammar of the Kwa-gutl language, by the Rev. A. J. Hall, has been printed by the Royal Society of Canada; and a Nishga primer by Mr. J. B. McCullagh, has been published by the S.P.C.K. The same Society has in hand the Gospel of St. John, in the Tsimshean and Nishga languages, also the Nishga Prayer Book.

REPORT OF THE WILLIAM CHARLES JONES INDIA NATIVE CHURCH FUND.

THE interest of this Fuud is available for assisting the Native Church Councils connected with the Church Missionary Society in India to employ more evangelistic labourers among the heathen. Two important conditions are imposed regarding grants. It is necessary, before an application for a grant can be entertained, for a Native Council to show that the Christians whom it represents have actually engaged in aggressive evangelistic work through a Native Missionary Society, or that they are prepared so to do. It is necessary also that the Council be able to show that at least two-fifths of the cost of maintaining religious worship and pastoral work in its district has been raised from purely local sources; and that a definite sum has been contributed towards Missionary work. The scheme also provides that the amount granted from the Fund to a Council shall not exceed the amount set apart by that Council for purely evangelistic purposes, or the amount raised by the Native Missionary Society in connexion with that Council.

Grants were made during the year to the following Church Councils:—

	Rs.
Calcutta Native Church Council	100
Santhal „ „ „	150
Punjab „ „ „	800
Madras „ „ „	570
Palamcotta „ „ „	750
Mengnanapuram „ „	1000
Suviseshapuram „ „	400
Dohnavur „ „ „	300
Panneivilei „ „ „	400
Nallur „ „ „	500
Vageikulam „ „	750
Cottayam „ „ „	350
Mavelikara „ „ „	450

The agents whom these grants have helped to support are engaged in making the Gospel known among the heathen residing within the boundaries of the respective Councils by which they are appointed and supervised. At the suggestion of the Committee of the C.M.S., the question as to the feasibility and expediency of sending the agents to further-off parts of India has been considered by several of the Councils. Although some practical difficulties are apprehended, some of them, notably the Krishnagar, the Madras, and the North Tinnevelly Councils, have expressed a willingness to attempt a movement in the direction suggested; indeed, the Krishnagar Council has actually appointed an agent to go as its missionary to the Santals.

The following extracts from the summary of the eight catechists engaged in connexion with the Nallur Church Council, Tinnevelly, by the secretary of the Council, Mr. T. Simeon, gives a good general idea of the work which is being carried on by the agents in various parts of India. Mr. Simeon says:—

The number of agents in the list supported by a grant from the Jones' Fund is eight, which is the same as in the previous year, and the work carried on by them has been actively maintained throughout the year. All the villages and village-towns are visited in their turn, each morning and evening, conversation held with the people, and Christian tracts and handbills distributed. The Gospel is also preached to the people who attend the weekly markets and annual festivals. Hitherto each agent had to work in his own range alone; but lately the President of the Church Council suggested the desirableness of the agents going out two by two, and visiting each of their centres in turn, and this is carried on now with great success.

During the latter part of the year the agents of the Tamil Itinerancy visited this district, and these Jones Fund evangelists worked along with them whenever they visited their centres. It is the opinion on all sides that their visits have been a great stimulus to the agents and people.

The agents have visited, as usual, the great festivals (at Pávanásam, Courttalam, Pottelpudhur and Thirupuramadattur), where very large concourses of people annually assemble, and they have been much encouraged in the distribution of tracts and books. In Pottelpuhur, however, the agents have met with much opposition, and one of them had a severe hurt, caused by the violence of the audience, which laid him aside for some days. This is a pure Mohammedan festival, but thousands of Hindus as well resort to it with offerings of various kinds. From this it may easily be concluded that the heathen have not sufficient belief in their own faith, and that, in their troubles, they seek the protection and favour of any god by means of their offerings.

There has been a little advance this year in the sale of books. The total sales consisted of 3271 tracts and books, realizing Rs. 48:1:2, against 2348 for Rs. 30:7:5 in the previous year, showing an increase of 923 books and Rs. 17:9:9 in the proceeds. This is very gratifying, especially when we take into consideration the activity of the Hindu Tract Society in circulating cheap tracts opposed to Christianity.

On the whole, it is pleasing to observe that the results for the year under review are fairly in advance of those of its predecessor, as will be seen from the following comparative summary:—

REPORT OF THE HENRY VENN NATIVE CHURCH FUND.

From this Fund grants are made to (1) Native Church Councils to assist them in maintaining and developing their pastoral work; and (2) to Native Missionary Associations to assist them in carrying on missionary work.

Under the former head grants have been made to the Church Councils of Madras, Tinnevelly, Travancore, and Mauritius. The grant to the last-named Council is larger than that of previous years on account of the trying circumstances of the Mauritius Church through the apprehended diminution of the Government grant.

Under the latter head grants have been made to the Missionary Associations of the Sierra Leone, Lagos, Punjab, Cotta, and Jaffna Churches, and to that connected with the Tamil Cooly Mission in Ceylon.

The following were the amounts granted during the year :—

THE objects of this Fund are (1) to promote the translation and publication of Miss F. R. Havergal's works in the languages of India; and (2) to encourage the employment of female evangelists in India. Six Bible-women have been employed during the year; and altogether, since the Fund was formed, fifteen translations of Miss Havergal's works into six of the Indian and Ceylon languages have been produced which are now in circulation.

REPORT ON HOME OPERATIONS.

[The following Notes refer more especially, though not solely, to the work of London friends. As the Committee desire in future years to report briefly on the work throughout the Kingdom, they would be grateful if friends would send particulars of new or extended work.]

In the Report for 1885-6 it was written, "Three prominent characteristics have marked during the past year the Home operations of the Society: (1) A wider diffusion of the spirit of prayer for Missions; (2) steps have been taken, chiefly in London, for drawing missionary workers closer into fellowship; and (3) effective impulse has been given, also chiefly in London, to efforts for spreading missionary information and interest, and for collecting funds." If we omit the words "chiefly in London," the above paragraph might fairly stand as descriptive of the Home operations of the past year; for, since these words were printed, interest in and enthusiasm for the work of the Church in Foreign Lands has not ceased to grow; not only in London, but in many other parts of the kingdom.

County Unions.

Giving the first place among the Unions to those which were the first in the field, it is gratifying to be able to report that, although no absolutely new ones have been started during the past year, the counties of Bedford, Cambridge, Hunts, and Herts, which hitherto have been satisfied with a joint Union, have felt that they might extend their work in their respective districts, and have, after due consideration, agreed to start five district Unions, one each for Beds, Cambs, and Hunts, one for East Herts, and one for West Herts, each with its own district officers and its own meetings, while, in addition, they will have an united meeting once a year at Cambridge. Although this is the only change in the year's list, several other counties, at present without Unions, are considering the desirability of starting them. It may not be amiss to quote here an opinion recently expressed by the Rev. G. A. Allan, of Puckington, Hon. Sec. of the Somerset County Union, in a paper on the subject read at a Conference on "Unions," in January last. He says:—"In the future, even more than in the past, these Unions may be instrumental in increasing the returns from Associations; in developing what may be called 'the almost unworked mines' of remote country parishes; in maintaining a constant current of sympathy, information, and influence, in places where the Society's own Association Secretaries and Deputations can rarely be expected, and would seldom find it possible, to go; in effecting actual and valuable intercommunication between the rural members of the Society (a thing formerly little known); in promoting the same between the rural and the County Unions.

London members of the C.M. Committee; in making known to the Committee in London the special wants, views, and circumstances of the various counties for which the Unions are formed." It may be added, that the Somerset County Union has during the past year sent a Delegate to attend the General Committee in Salisbury Square, and that it considers the expense "more than repaid by the manifestation of sympathy and mutual confidence which has been thereby maintained."

Other Provincial Unions.

All the Association Secretaries report gratefully the work of the Unions of various kinds, now in operation, and almost daily being added to, as having been the means, under God, of quickening the interest and organizing the labours of many friends. Additional Unions for the Younger Clergy have been formed during the past year at Wakefield, Swansea, and Bristol, bringing the number of such Unions up to eight; while two more Ladies' Unions have been started at York and Leeds, making their number up to 16. Lay-Workers' Unions remain at 5. In addition to these, there are in several provincial towns bands of young men, formed for the purpose of prayer and study of the missionary subject, upon the lines of the Mpwapwas of St. James's, Holloway. In many cases they call themselves, in similar style, by the name of one of the Society's Mission stations or districts. They differ from the various Lay-Workers' Unions, in that (1) the number of members is usually limited; (2) every member is bound to give a missionary address before his fellow-members, if called upon; and (3) each member has assigned to him some definite part of the Mission-field for his particular study. The results of these studies are put to practical use, in the shape of addresses to Sunday-schools and other gatherings. As a sample of the work done by them, it may be mentioned that "the Santals," in connexion with St. Peter's, Tunbridge Wells, provided speakers for seven schools in that district on Sunday, March 9th, and that the members have given many addresses to adults in the mission-halls of the town and surrounding villages.

Missionary Bands in the Provinces.

Hull		The Yorubans.
Lowestoft		,, Chaggas.
Birmingham		,, Moosonees.
Tunbridge Wells		,, Santals.
Barnsley		,, Tamils.
Cambridge		,, Diokontes.
,,		,, Kandyans (Ladies).
,,	Holy Trinity	,, Singhalese (Men).
Durham		,, Bugandas.
Nottingham		,, Soudanese.

A list of the Ladies', Younger Clergy, and Lay Workers' Unions will be found on pp. x., xi.

It should be added that the missionary spirit at the Universities, referred to in previous Reports, is maintained; at Cambridge, in addition to the C.M. Union for the University, with its weekly meetings during the October and Lent terms, there are, in several Colleges, clubs or bands such as are described above.

London Unions.

The three Unions, meeting in Salisbury Square, have continued their work with unabated vigour; and, by the blessing of God, all are able to show good work done and progress made.

Ladies' Union for London.

(1) The Ladies' Union in its last Report gives the number of members as nearly 1200, while it has no less than 37 District Secretaries at work. The attendance at the monthly meetings has been very good. In addition to the regular monthly meetings, two courses of lectures have been given by Mr. Stock, one on "China and its Missions," and the other on "The South Indian Missions of the C.M.S." In practical work, the Union can point to much help given locally in arranging prayer-meetings and drawing-room meetings (in some cases supplying the speakers from among their own members), and in conducting working parties. In one district the Secretary, finding that working parties were a little distasteful, started a missionary "at home," at which there is music for an hour, during which the members work or not as they choose; and this is followed by an address and prayer. It is almost needless to add that the music is of such a character that it is in harmony with the purpose of the gathering. Twice during the year the Union has entertained bands of female Sunday-school teachers at Salisbury Square, with a view to increasing and spreading interest in the work; a party coming in March from the North of London, and another in May from the districts of Camberwell and Brixton. Several members have rendered valuable help to the cause in copying letters from the Mission-field, to be read at some of the many working parties which meet from week to week.

The Report of the Union further adds:—

"In drawing a picture of the work of the Union during the past year, the Sale of Work which was combined with the Loan Exhibition arranged by the Kensington Ruri-Decanal C.M.S. Association naturally stands out in bold relief. It had long been the wish of the members of the Union that they might have it in their power to give to the C.M.S. substantial help, and this opportunity was afforded them when it was decided to unite a Sale of Work with the Missionary Loan Exhibition. The happy plan being devised that each stall should represent one or more of the districts of the Union, the members in the various parts felt special interest in sending to the particular part allotted to them, and when the days of sale arrived an incentive to purchase was given when the names of the districts were plainly seen over each of the pretty repositories for articles rich and rare, useful and ornamental, that were to be disposed of. The sale-room alone and the entrance thereto would have attracted large numbers; nevertheless, its connexion with the Loan Exhibition added greatly to its success. The largest room in the Kensington Town Hall was appropriated to the latter, and everything was done that care, forethought, and arrangement could devise to give some idea of the religions, modes of life, manufactures, and other characteristics of the peoples and languages among whom the C.M.S. labours.

The various countries were represented in the courts that surrounded the hall, and these were filled with objects of wonder and interest from those parts of the world whose names they bore. Woman's work in India was represented by the Zenana Court, which had been prepared with great skill and care; and the Bible Society furnished a stall for Bibles and Testaments, where they lay displayed, in many languages of the Mission-field, translated in numerous instances by C.M.S. missionaries, who were obliged to reduce the language to writing before ever their translational labours began. The Missionary Leaves Association was not forgotten, and a stall was to be found in the sale-room specially bearing the name of that Society. The prayer that was made daily at noon in the Vestry was answered, for the totals of the money increased each day, and at the end the sum of 544*l.* 3*s.* 5*d.* was presented to the C.M.S. from the Sale alone."

Another development during the year has been the opening, by the Committee of the Union, of a depôt for work, for the purpose of supplying articles, useful and fancy, for selling at C.M.S. Sales of Work; and as each of the 1200 members are asked to make two saleable articles during the year, there should be no lack of work. Parcels of goods, with carriage prepaid, should be addressed, "Ladies C.M.U. Depôt, 72, Prince's Square, Bayswater, W.," and a card should be sent to Miss Gilbertson, care of Miss Fry, 55, Chepstow Place, W., notifying the despatch.

The Reading Union (Miss Fry, Secretary) grows steadily, and has been the means of arousing the interest of many in Missions.

The Committee thank God for the good work done by their sisters at home, and are most grateful to be able to add that at least five members of the Union have gone forth into the foreign field during the year.

Younger Clergy Union for London.

(2) The Younger Clergy Union can also speak of progress; their last Report stating that forty-six new members joined the Union, bringing the number of members to a little over 300, while the average attendance at the monthly meetings exceeded the previous year's by ten. But, best of all, three more of the members have gone forth to the Mission-field, the Rev. I. W. Charlton, Curate of St. Benet's, Stepney, to India; the Rev. James Hind, Curate of All Souls, Langham Place, to Japan; and the Rev. A. E. Dibben, Curate of St. John's, West Chelsea, to Ceylon. But if, not three, but thirty members would go forth each year, then would the Union grow and flourish. Much good work as Deputations at home has been done by the members, lightening the labours of the Rev. H. P. Grubb, the Metropolitan Association Secretary.

(3) In its seventh Annual Report, the Lay Workers' Union is able to chronicle progress all along the line, more members elected during the year (bringing the total for the seven years to 620); larger subscription list; a larger average attendance at the monthly meetings; and more members offering and being accepted for work abroad. London Lay Workers' Union.

In addition to the ten monthly meetings, at which the attendance three times exceeded 100, there were held fourteen classes and extra meetings with an average attendance of thirty-four members.

It is impossible to mention all the work done by the members of the Union. The half-yearly Sunday School addresses given on Sundays and now arranged in Islington, South London (nine deaneries), Paddington, Spitalfields (including Whitechapel), Marylebone, and Kensington have been given in the majority of cases by members of the Union, while numerous week-night addresses, illustrated by the magic-lantern or curiosities, have been given all over the metropolis, generally both speaker and lantern operator being members. Perhaps of even more importance were ten addresses, papers, or training-lessons on missionary subjects, given during the winter months before various Associations of Sunday-school teachers, as follows:—

Paddington	A. H. Cæsar	Papers: "How to increase the missionary interest in our schools."
Marylebone	G. M. Tait
Spitalfields	A H. Cæsar
Mildmay Park	W. A. Walker	Training Lesson: "The great missionary, St. Paul."
Clapham	H. N. Prentice	Training Lesson.
S. W. Wandsworth	E. M. Anderson	Paper: "How to create and sustain in Sunday-schools an interest in Missionary work."
Newington	"
Sydenham	"
Buckhurst Hill	"
Holloway Islington	Joint Meeting, C. E. Cæsar	Model Address: "Arabia."

One piece of work, however, undertaken by the South London Auxiliary of the Union, must be mentioned. Fired by the success of the Missionary Exhibition at Kensington, arranged by the Ladies' Union, this branch determined that the inhabitants of South London should enjoy the same advantages as their richer fellow-citizens. A committee of members of the Union and Local Clergy was formed, and the result of their energetic action was shown in an admirable Loan Exhibition, which was held at the Brixton Hall, and which, during the three days it was open, attracted crowds of visitors. Missionaries and members of the Union were in attendance to explain the curiosities from all parts of the Mission-field, and in addition lectures, illustrated by the lantern and by curiosities, were delivered at intervals in an adjoining room. The Clapham Ladies' Association held their annual sale of work simultaneously in the Smaller Hall. Although the amount realized for admission to the Exhibition and lectures was not great, much good work was done in increasing the interest of friends of the Society in the neighbourhood, while it is also certain that the Exhibition brought the cause vividly before many who had previously little interest in it, and perhaps less knowledge of the extent and variety of the work.

Its branches.

As in the provinces, so in the metropolis, there has been an extension of branches or bands of young men, as before described, while the Committee of the Union has recently appointed a Sub-committee with a view to taking action for the further extension of such branches, in the parishes which support the Society. The following is a list of such bands at present in existence.

It only remains to add, that during the year the following members of the Union went out to the field; the Rev. H. J. Hoare to the Punjab; and Mr. J. V. Dermot, of St. Mary's, Whitechapel, at two days' notice, to East Africa, both to work in connexion with the Society; and also Mr. F. Swainson, to the Diocese of Saskatchewan.

The Gleaners' Union.

The Gleaners' Union.

This Union is that which has made the most marked progress during the past year. In June, 1889, the number of members enrolled during the three years of its existence had reached 17,080, while during the past year 7914 have been enrolled. This is due in great measure to the increase of Branches; which were no part of the original plan of the Union, but have arisen spontaneously all over the country, the Clergy feeling that such an organization would be a great help to the promotion of missionary interest in their parishes. There are now no less than fifty-three of these in London and the suburbs, and 167 in the rest of the United Kingdom. The following is an example of the benefit they have been in many places :—

"We only began to think of mission work in December, 1880. We began meetings, and at our mission room in the past year we have collected 3*l*. 16*s*. 6½*d*. In gifts we have had 2*l*. 5*s*. In the month of June I gave out several C.M.S. boxes; our people most kindly came forward, and even quite small children took the boxes. We opened the various boxes the other day, and the boxes produced 7*l*. 0*s*. 2¾*d*. Of this 2*l*. 11*s*. was in pennies, halfpennies, and farthings. This was the result of only seven months' collections. When I tell you that ours is a very scattered parish, and that we are now fifty-two Gleaners, I am sure you will feel the work has been a very encouraging one. Besides giving and collecting, the people make a great many things for N. W. America (Rupert's Land), as I am the auxiliary helper for Archdeacon Phair. They have made such pretty things for the Christmas tree for the poor Indians, and the great interest and kindness of my people has been most encouraging. There was no Foreign Mission work here eighteen months ago. I would say to every one who lives in a country place, 'Start a GLEANERS' UNION, and the people will meet you more than half-way. It widens their interest, and helps them to realize the great power of the Gospel.'

St. James's Hall having been so well filled at the two former Annual Meetings of the Union, it was determined to take a bold step on the occasion of the third, and to have Exeter Hall, a proceeding which was entirely justified by the result, the Large Hall being filled from end to end on the evening of November 1st, the President of the Society taking the chair. There had been, in addition, in the Lower Hall, an Afternoon Conference, which was also presided over by Sir John Kennaway, and was well attended, and at which much practical discussion took place. Another Conference of Branch Secretaries and Clergy was held at the C.M. House on the day of the Society's Anniversary, when seventeen practical speeches were made in an hour and a half.

GENERAL.

The Valedictory Meeting to take leave of out-going Missionaries, on October 3rd, was for the first time preceded by a service at St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, when an address to the departing missionaries was given by the Rev. Canon Ripley, and nearly three hundred friends partook of the Holy Communion. The Meeting was held at St. James's Hall, which was crowded; and as the number of departing missionaries, more than ninety altogether, was the largest ever taken leave of, only two or three from each field of the Society's work could be chosen as spokesmen for their sisters and brethren. Very pathetic were their words and very high was the spiritual tone of the meeting. Farewell

The Valedictory Meetings.

Meetings were arranged for in the provinces, little bands of the missionaries, accompanied by one of the Secretaries, going to Bath, Birmingham, Bristol, Cambridge, Coventry, Cheltenham, Derby, Dorchester, Gloucester, Hull, Leamington, Leeds, Liverpool, Manchester, Salisbury, Southampton, Southsea and Sunderland. The following are a few of the testimonies received after the Meetings:—

"This was a very solemn occasion. The deepest interest was manifested throughout."

"Marked throughout by deep feeling and sympathy."

"It cannot be doubted that the Missionary cause will be much quickened in the neighbourhood."

"The presence of God's Spirit was realized at both meetings, which were very solemn."

"Since the F.S.M. we have had none to compare with them."

"One of the most solemn and interesting ever held in the city."

One more gathering must be noticed, as showing the increasing interest in the work, that of January 20th, when Exeter Hall was crowded, to bid a solemn farewell to the two bands of missionaries proceeding to East and West Africa.

Interest and enthusiasm have been thankfully reported; a sign that in some measure the Church of Christ is awakening to its duty with regard to the evangelization of the heathen; but how little, after all, is being done, how much land yet remains to be possessed! In connexion with this thought, the Committee would quote the Rev. F. N. Eden, late of Hartlepool, who recently went out to labour in the Niger Mission, accompanied by his Curate:—

"I have been particularly struck during my voyage for the last fortnight, how one's eyes are opened more and more to the needs of the heathen world. At whatever place we touch at along the coast, there we find the heathen still in utter darkness; or what little Mission work there is seems only but to touch the fringe of the great gloom. I feel as I have never felt before the widespread and terrible power of Satan in this land, and how little—how very little—the Church of Christ is doing to cope with it. Our Lord says, "The Gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached as a witness to all nations, and then shall the end come." Have we to wait until the Church is stirred up to make a real and an united effort to preach the Gospel before we can hope to see our blessed Lord again?"

Lastly, many and hearty thanks are tendered to all those friends who have assisted in Deputation work throughout the country. During the year 6785 sermons have been preached and 2828 meetings have been held; of these the Society's Association Secretaries have preached 1686 sermons and spoken at 1607 meetings, and although a large number of the remainder must be put to the credit of the missionaries of the Society who have been upon the Deputation staff, yet it will be readily apparent that a great number of both sermons and meetings must have been taken by local friends of the Society, whose help has been greatly valued.

NOTE ON SPELLING OF NATIVE NAMES.

THE following system for spelling NATIVE NAMES is recommended to the Society's Missionaries generally for adoption in their letters and reports, unless any of them should prefer a still closer approximation to the more elaborate scheme of Professor Lepsius. This system should not be applied, of course, to those well-known places of which the spelling has become so fixed that it would be mere pedantry to disturb it; as, for instance, Travancore (Travankur), and Lucknow (Laknau). Other well-known names, spelt correctly according to this method, are not pronounced accordingly by English residents. For example, the a in Lagos is always pronounced by English residents, when speaking English, as in the word make.

The powers of the vowels are as follows:—

â usually as in '*f*ather' (in North-Indian words as in '*a*ll').
e as in '*p*en.'
ê as in '*f*ête.'
i as in '*th*in.'
î as in '*p*ique.'
o as in '*n*ot,' or as in the French '*b*onne.'
ô as in '*n*ote.'
u as in '*f*ull.'
û as in '*tr*uly.'
ai as i in '*th*ine.'
au or ou or ow as in '*b*ough.'

It needs only to be noticed further that—

y always sounds as in '*y*ou.'
g „ as in '*g*o.'
j „ as in '*j*oin.'
gn as in 'poi*gn*ant.'
ng as in 'thi*ng*.'

h has always a separate sound, except in ch as in '*ch*urch,' and sh as in '*sh*e;' th and dh should, therefore, not be used in South Indian names to express the dental t and d.

c whether for k or s, being superfluous, is not used.

ae represents a sound intermediate between a in 'm*a*t' and e in 'm*e*t.'

The above Rules are not adopted in the N.-W. America Mission.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

THE COMMITTEE of the Church Missionary Society beg to remind the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations that the Society's financial year ends on the 31st of March.

All Moneys belonging to the year should be received at the Society's House by that date, in order to ensure their being included in the accounts for the year then closing.

The Committee would also strongly urge for universal adoption, the practice of making early remittances after the 1st April on account of the year's receipts in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This course would tend to equalize in a greater degree the Income and Expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial year, and save the Society a considerable yearly sum. They are glad to observe that the suggestion has been partially carried out during past years, but they are desirous of seeing it more generally adopted.

Sums remaining unpaid on the 31st March are no longer shown in the Accounts as Balances. The Contribution Lists should therefore agree in total with the amounts actually paid to the Parent Society to that date.

Lists and Accounts (if not sent with the money) must be forwarded not later than April 15th. If not so sent the lists are liable to be excluded from the Report. The date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, and the names of the Local Officers, should be specified. Should no names be given it will be assumed that they remain the same as in the previous Report, and the List will be so printed. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

The Lists and Accounts should be written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report. A Form of Account may be had on application at the Society's House.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the date for forwarding the Accounts of that Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

Branch Associations should in every case, where practicable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society. If sent direct, the Association or District with which such Branch is connected should be specified.

Particulars of Contributions to Special Funds are printed with the lists to whch they respectively belong, and the totals only transferred to the accounts of the Special Funds. In cases where the lists are received too late for the transfers to be made in the accounts of the current year, they will be made in, and the amounts deducted from the Contributions of, the succeeding year.

II.—ENGLISH ASSOCIATIONS.

XIX.—TABLE OF CONTRIBUTIONS, SCHOOL FEES, GOVERNMENT GRANTS, &c., RECEIVED IN THE VARIOUS MISSIONS OF THE SOCIETY DURING 1889.

This Table has been compiled with a view to giving to the Society's friends the best statement possible of the sums received (in connection with its work throughout the world) in addition to the Contributions to the General Fund, and to the income derived from Special Funds in the Parent Committee's hands.

The following figures are therefore assumed to be exclusive of the sums shown in the General Account of Receipts and Payments on pp. 260 and 261.
